Letter To The Editor

The Editor
 Black Mountain News
 Black Mountain, N. C.

Dear Sir:

As Chairman of the Advisory Board of the Black Mountain Day Care Center for Handicapped children, I want to thank you for the very good article in your issue of June 5 in regard to the Center. The picture accompanying the article too, is unusually good.

There is one correction I would like to make, however. There are more workers than Mrs. Corrie Rutherford, Mrs. Frances Hoffman, and Mrs. Alie Lou Palton. Mrs. Rutherford is the only worker who is there every day. No other worker is there more than once a week, as we have a Monday group, a Wednesday group, and a Friday group, with enough on the list to allow an occasional break for all the volunteer personnel.

The other workers, at the present time are: Mrs. Barbara Baltin, Mrs. Eleanor Bridgeman, Miss Helen Drawing, Mrs. Margaret Goodman, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. Sarah Moseley, Mrs. Blanche Patrick, Mrs. Dot Thomas, and Mrs. Cora Whiteside. We also have some substitutes who will help out in a pinch.

I would like to say that no worker has ever quit except for reasons of work, illness, or other good reasons.

Thanking you again for your very warm and appreciative article, I am,

Cordially yours,
 Bessie E. Hodges

Thank you, Mrs. Hodges! Our deepest apologies to those who were omitted.

The average age of the 14, 660,000 World War II veterans is 49.3, the VA reports.

At our Animal Shelter off the Leicester Highway in West Asheville wonderful things DO happen daily! Lost family pets are reunited with their owners! Cruelly-treated animals are given protection! Unwanted pets become wanted ones again! Stray animals are given refuge! "The Reader's Digest!"

It happened at our Shelter... Mrs. S. S. Cooley's little dog Lobo, while shopping with her in Asheville broke away from her, leash and all. She frantically tried to trace his pursuit but in seconds he was lost in the crowd.

She advertised in the paper and over the radio, but to no avail. Then she contacted the Shelter. No dog of his description had been brought in. Two weeks or so later she visited the Shelter, herself, hoping, and there in the run was Lobo. He had been brought in only a few hours earlier. It had been reported he had been "hanging around" a home up on Beaucatcher Mtn., his leash still dragging behind.

The Shelter had only a description of the dog, but it fit this little dog perfectly. They were about to contact Mrs. Cooley when she appeared. She delightedly exclaimed, "That's my dog." The caretaker smiled, "You know lady we don't go half as fast as the people saying "That's my dog" as we do by the dog saying, "That's my people."

It is so important to tag your dog, but this story proves what the alert dedicated personnel at the Shelter can do, do with only a description of a lost dog. The Black Mountain Humane Society is having a booth at the widely advertised Fair on the grounds of the Baptist Church on Montreat Road, July 4th and 5th. We hope all humane minded folk attending will do their part in supporting our cause by subscribing to a yearly membership (one dollar, fifty cents for children), and will make a purchase of two of the interesting oddments we will have for sale.

S/Sgt. Kenneth E. Martin, who has just returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam, spent last week with his mother, Mrs. Bea Martin, Blue Ridge Road. He is now with his wife and two sons, Edwin and Gary Wayne at Rockledge, Fla.

Mrs. J. C. Sams and daughter, Mary Beth, of Hazelhurst, Ga., are visiting Mrs. Sam's mother, Mrs. Nell Ensley of Swannanoa, and Mrs. Bill Gilbert, Black Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Logan, formerly of Raleigh, are spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Logan and family. They are enroute to Seattle, Washington, where Mr. Logan will be employed by Boeing Aircraft.

Mrs. Owen Joyner of Concord, N. C., is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Wade and Mr. Wade.

Cindy Gilbert honored Dru Monroe with a going away party in the form of a cook-out Monday, June 2. Those attending were Carol Hille, June Bencivenga, Joyce Lamb, Pa-

Some 7,500 checks worth about $655,000 were returned to the Veterans Administration last month because of the failure of veterans to notify both the VA and the Post Offices of their change of address.

In some instances, W. R. Phillips, Manager of the North Carolina VA Regional Office, points out that failure to receive a monthly pension or compensation check from the VA creates a hardship for the family or individual involved.

Veterans or their dependents in receipt of VA benefits should include zip codes with their address changes, Phillips said. VA offices will be found listed in the white pages of telephone directories.
