

KERLEE BAPTIST CHURCH VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT will be held Saturday evening June 26 at 7:30 p.m. This Bible School had classes for all ages. The morning sessions were for the youth, with the adults meeting in evening sessions. One hundred and twenty five were enrolled for the session, the youngest a six weeks old baby who's mother helped in the school. Mrs. O.Q. Surret most certainly has set some sort of record, this is her 26th straight year to work in Vacation Bible School. The pastor is the Rev. Charles Duyck and the school director is Charles "Chip" Moore. The public is invited to join them for the Commencement Exercises.

Bicentennial Celebration At Swannanoa First Presbyterian

Dr. Dean W. Colvard, Chancellor of UNC-Charlotte, will be the keynote speaker on Saturday, July 3rd, at the First Presbyterian Church of Swannanoa, where a combined Homecoming and Bicentennial Celebration will be held on the week-end of July 3rd and 4th.

The celebration will begin on Saturday, July 3rd, at 4:00 p.m. where all will gather on the church grounds for fellowship, music and a brief program before supper, which will be served at 5:30.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to attend. Bring along your picnic supper. The drinks, tableware and paper goods will be furnished.

After supper all will meet in the church sanctuary for the evening's main program where Dr. Colvard will speak. Others taking part in the service will be Dr. Jack Crawford, Professor of History, Montreat-Anderson College; Congressman Roy Taylor; and other area ministers and lay people.

Dr. Colvard is a native of Ashe County and holds a B.S. degree from Berea College, M.A. degree from the University of Missouri, and a Ph.D. and honorary doctorate from Purdue University. His first teaching position was at Brevard College; then he came to Swannanoa, in 1938 to manage the Mountain Experiment Station. After five years the Station was moved to Waynesville, N.C., where he remained three years before going to Purdue University for his Ph.D. After coming back to North Carolina he served in the Animal Husbandry Department of N.C. State College where, in 1953, he was appointed Dean of the School of Agriculture. In 1960 he resigned this position to become President of Mississippi State College at Starkville. After six years at Starkville, he returned to North Carolina to become Chancellor of UNC-Charlotte.

On Sunday morning, July 4th, the celebration will be concluded at the morning worship with the observance of the Lord's Supper.

Everyone is encouraged to wear Bicentennial clothing for the Saturday afternoon and evening events.

Warren Wilson To Start Term II Summer Classes

Warren Wilson College will begin Term II of its summer session of evening classes on Monday, June 28. Classes will end July 30. Adult area residents will find many of these courses appealing.

The following courses will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Principles of Archaeology will be taught by Michael Trinkley from UNC Chapel Hill. Mr. Samuel Henry will offer Concepts of Math, covering one half of the material generally studied in the regular course and dealing with basic mathematical skills, beginning college algebra and aspects of modern mathematics. Mr. Joseph Lowrey will teach Beginning Photography II for which Beginning Photography I is a prerequisite. A charge of $15 for materials will be made for this course. On Tuesday and Thursday from 7:30-9:00 p.m., Introduction to the Helping Profession, given by Aubrey Stone, will be held. It is designed to acquaint the student with the helping and human services professions such as social work, psychology, and counseling, and to encourage the student to formulate his own philosophy of helping and to develop a basic level of helping skills. The other course at this hour will be taught by Tom Showalter, America "Comes of Age"-Populist and Progressive Movements 1890-1914, a period of disillusionment with industrialism and materialism and of major social change. The following are non-credit courses and the meeting times will be arranged at the first meeting. Traditional Quilting, which will be taught by Ginny Callaway, will meet one night a week for 1½ hours. The class is limited to fifteen participants. For Warren Wilson students the cost will be $15, for all others, $25. Alma Johnson will offer Beginning Weaving one night a week for four hours. Warren Wilson College students will pay $25, all other, $25 plus $10 materials fee. Students should preregister for all summer courses by calling the registrar at 298-3325, extension 72.

Final registration will take place at the first meeting of each class. All classes will be held in Jensen Humanities and Social Sciences Center unless otherwise indicated at the time of registration. The standard fee for all courses is $65 per credit hour plus any lab fees or $25 auditing fee plus any lab charges.

The first United States President to broadcast a speech from the White House was Calvin Coolidge on Feb. 22, 1924 to commemorate George Washington's birthday.
