CONSERVING ENERGY Tips From Whirlpool Home Economists

When the proper laundering steps are followed, hot, warm, or cold water can each give good cleaning results. But for energy-conserving home-makers, cold water for washing will save the most energy. It's important, however, for good cleaning results, to know that special pre-treatment of soils and stains is necessary when using cold water.

Use a liquid detergent or make a paste of detergent and water to pre-treat the soiled area. Rub gently and then wash as usual. Heavy duty liquid detergents are recommended for cold water washing. Powdered detergents do not dissolve easily in cold water, so if you use this type, dissolve it in warm water first and then add it to your cold wash water.

Will trade for acreage, one commercial building with approximately 3,000 square feet on Sutton Ave., Black Mountain, N.C. Would consider other real estate swap.

Miller FUNERAL HOME Dear friends, The ceremonial customs at military funerals derive from ancient military expediency. The use of a caisson as a hearse, for example, was obviously improvised in combat. The flag draped casket memorializes occasions when there was nothing but a flag in which to enshroud a dead soldier. Today these, and similar practices, are hal- lowed in military tradition. Respectfully, Bob Miller
