TURKEY SHOOT

Loyal Order of Moose, Black Mountain Lodge No. 2220, will have a turkey shoot each Saturday from November 19 to December 24 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. just below the North Fork watershed pump station on North Fork Road. A sign will be on the gate of Robincrest Ranch, Bob Black's home. Bring your own shot guns, and 22 rifles. Ammunition will be furnished by the lodge.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

An annual Community Thanksgiving Service is being planned for Wednesday night, November 23, at 7:30 p.m., at the Black Mountain United Methodist Church. This service is sponsored by the Black Mountain-Swannanoa Ministers Association. Members and friends of all the cooperating churches are invited to be present.

The speaker will be Dr. Heber Peacock. He is a translator of Goods News for Modern Man.

JWC GLASS COLLECTION

Another Clear Glass Collection by the Black Mountain Junior Woman's Club will be held on Friday, Nov. 18 from 5 to 6:30 p.m. A truck will be in the parking lot of the Black Mountain Bank of Asheville with members present to help unload. Labels do not need to be removed. Money received from Ball Glass Company will go toward helping a needy family have a nice Christmas.

ORA BLACKMUN TO SPEAK

Ora Blackmun, author, lecturer, teacher and research person of Asheville will speak at the Women Highlanders meeting on next Wednesday, November 23, at 3:30 p.m. in the Ladies Lounge of Highland Farms. Her subject will be "Stones That Speak." It will focus largely on the archaeological diggings in Ur of the Chaldees. Mrs. Hubert White, president will preside.

OPEN HOUSE AT ARC

The staff of the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center will hold an Open House, to be held Saturday, November 19, from 2:30-5 p.m. The Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center has recently undergone a change in policy and program. It is felt important to share these ideas with the communities who use this service. The public is invited.

Chamber Chatter

4. Our State recognizes the need for de-centralization of agencies, services and facilities, to be more responsive, to provide needed services throughout our vast State; and it practices this sound management principle through its other various facilities located here in Asheville and in other parts of our State. We dare say that the decision to de-centralize was based, more importantly if not solely, on providing services, with little regard to costs, except that the could be met.

5. The Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center is dependent upon Western North Carolina Hospital for medical support.

6. Our State has the overriding responsibility to administer to its people's needs.

This is the third time within the past years the Chamber has risen to the defense of Western North Carolina Hospital, twice now to ward off its closing, and once to seek necessary additional funding.

We here in Western North Carolina have strong feelings that:

1. Zero-base budgeting has reached us. We have justified the retention of Western North Carolina Hospital under the prior administration and are called upon to do it again under the present administration.

2. That less than acceptable high and rightfully expected standards of personnel management have been demonstrated in the relieving of three former directors of State agencies located in our Valley.

3. The above tend to again bring voice to the old fears that we in Western North Carolina are located too far from our State's capitol; and,

Bordner-Marrett to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Swan of Black Mountain announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Lynn Bordner, to Richard Bruce Marrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vadan Marrett of Black Mountain. A May wedding is planned.

Mumpower-Garrett wed

Debra Sue Mumpower and John Burke Garrett, both of New York, were married on Saturday, November 12, 1977, at three o'clock in the afternoon in the Swannanoa Free Will Baptist Church.

The Rev. Milton Hollifield Sr. was pastor performing the double-ring ceremony. The Rev. P.F. DeSaix gave the communion and the Rev. Ralph Mumpower, uncle of the bride, said the prayer.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mr. Mark Jones of Asheville.

Soloists were Miss Lorri Patton of Charlotte, and Mrs. Mary Norden of Lenoir.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eduard Mumpower of Swannanoa.

Garrett is the son of Mrs. John P. Garrett of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and the late Mr. Garrett.

Vows were spoken before an altar of baskets of yellow snaps and white mums with leather leaf greenery and a large fern on each side of four seven-branch candleabras-two draped with daisy garlands. The windows had yellow and white candles in crystal holders.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal princess-style gown of Champagne beige Quiana, with pearl scalloped trim on jeweled neck-line, tapered long sleeves and hem. Her cape of rose point lace with scallops fell into a chapel train. Her three-tiered fingertip veil of illusion and rose-point lace was attached to a bandeau of lace petals with seeded pearls.

Mrs. Jeon Mumpower, sister-in-law, was matron of honor. Her gown was of floral-print polyester on pink, princess-style, with a cape of shrimp color chiffon bordered with flowerlets that fell into a half train. The bridesmaids were Miss Rebecca Stevens, Swannanoa, cousin of the bride; Miss Barbara Neal, Myrtle Beach, S.C., and Mrs. Donna McIntosh of Ridgewood, N.J. Their gowns were fashioned after that of the matron of honor. Each carried a nosegay of peaches-and-cream carnations, yellow, light, and dark bronze daisies and white pom-poms with apricot and white lace streamers.

Renee Mumpower, niece of the bride was flower girl. She wore a gown of snrim-colored polyester-crepe with a chiffon, ruffled pinafore with flowerlet trim, and carried a basket with colors of flowers from the rehearsal dinner, nosegays, and the reception.

Mark Mumpower, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Edger McIntosh of Ridgewood, N.J., was best man. Ushers were Robert Piltner of Bloomfield, N.J.; Charles Mumpower, brother of the bride; and Richard Crew of Birmingham, Ala. Bryan Mumpower, nephew of the bride, was junior usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Monte Vista Hotel, Black Mountain. Hostesses assisting in serving were Mrs. Joyce Metcalf, Mrs. Anne Wilson, Mrs. Kea Lovic and Mrs. Clara Mae Ogle. Mrs. Debbie Simpson of Asheville presided at the guest book.

The bride is a 1970 Owen High School graduate, a graduate of Asheville-Buncombe Tech. and a 1974 graduate of Mars Hill College, with a degree in Business Administration. She is sales assistant with Merrill-Lynch International in New York.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Oklahoma State University. He is a member of TKE fraternity and is employed as assistant to the president of Merrill-Lynch assets management in New York.

After a Florida honeymoon the couple will reside at 1675 York Ave., New York, N.Y. 10028.

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday night 7:30 at the Hilton Asheville. Hostess was Mrs. John P. Garrett.

Happy Hearts Club

by Eunice Seaborn

The weather turned cool and crisp. The day was sunny and bright. A group from the club went out for a brisk walk. They returned with rosey cheeks and high spirits to let everyone know how great it is to get outside in this lovely fall air. Those left behind did many quieter exercises to loosen up their joints. It was fun. Games were played, too. Of course, bingo is a favorite, then Chinese checkers and Curt and Dick played cribbage. Now that Dick has gone for the holidays, Curt needs a cribbage partner!

The Rev. D.B. Martin led in the Bible study on Wednesday. 1 Corinthians chapters 7 to 10 were studied. Many gifts of the Spirit were given to the church but not one is above the other in value. They were given for the building up of God's church. God's gift of Love is the whole story of the Christian church. Also a gift is a gift only if it is received. The Bible studies are eagerly anticipated. Group singing with Hannah at the piano was enjoyed. Another day several harmonized with Hannah on some "oldtime" type of songs. There is the potential for some real good harmony with more practice.

Crafts are in evidence every day. The burlap flowers have endless variety, as was shown by Betty. Woven baskets and mats, and those cute dolls are showing signs of progress towards completion. Some coat hangers have been very attractively wrapped in nylon, too.

The weekly Friday bazaar sale is held from 10 a.m. until 12 noon. A different group is responsible for it each week. The baked goods canned and preserved foods and craft items are good for now and for holiday or other occasion, gifts. On Saturday, November 19, the club will have a table for the sale of club crafts from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Bethel United Women's holiday bazaar in the fellowship hall of the church. The proceeds will go for a very worthwhile project. During the Thanksgiving week-end, the club will not meet on Thursday and Friday, as that is a national holiday.

West's leave for Asia

Dr. Thomas Eugene West and his wife, Gene, of Ridgecrest, are once again leaving for a round of missionary world-hopping - but this time they don't plan to bring back their usual load of rare artifacts.

They are leaving next week for Singapore, Rangoon, Bangkok, Penang, Hong Kong, and Taiwan for a period of mission work in music and lectures in the philosophy of religion.

Dr. West recently donated two cases of artifacts he collected during 40 years of mission work to Judson College in Elgin, Ill. Included in the collection are a pure silver hand-beaten bowl supported by a three-elephant ebony stand, gongs, a silk umbrella, carved statues, and a cobra carved out of jointed pieces of teakwood.

Dr. West, who said he is weary of shipping crates of artifacts home, said he plans to limit his overseas purchases to a few dozen miniature elephants as gifts. While he was a minister in 81 different countries, he remained an American Republican.

The Wests will return in mid-April 1978.

Meet our new man in Black Mountain.

Maybe you already know Ken Haynes from his active participation in the Black Mountain-Swannanoa Jaycees. Or maybe you know him from the Bee Tree Christian Church. It's also possible that you've met him in our Swannanoa Office, where he has been manager for the past four years.

Well, Ken has moved his desk to our Black Mountain Office so he can better serve our many customers in the entire Swannanoa Valley, which has been his home for 17 years.

But if you haven't met Ken yet, stop in and say hello. You'll find him ready to help you with all your banking needs.

And if you're in Swannanoa, take a minute to meet Gail Pressley, who is now in charge of loan, deposit and other banking services at this office.
