

Highland Farms thrift sale brings out a crowd

by Cynthia Reimer

Highland Farms annual thrift sale for residents and friends brought out a crowd of treasure hunters Feb. 26 and 27.

The sale has provided funds for wheel chairs, oxygen tanks, grocery carts, a piano and library books for the residential section of Highland Farms. It has also made possible an annual donation from Highland Farms to the Swannanoa Valley Medical Center.

This year's sale netted about $1,900, according to co-chairmen Hazel Jerrett and Katherine Ward.

Items for sale included bake goods, jewelry, clothing, bedding, kitchenware, furniture, books, and other items.

Bill Light uses his friendly sales technique on customers in the book and game section.

Discussing the merits and uses of a small grater are (left) Mildred Hunter and Matsu Crawford.

Co-chairman of the Highland Farms thrift sale Katherine Ward points out the merits of a glass, uh, well, terrarium?

By far the most popular section of the thrift sale was the jewelry department, where customers searched for valuables and decorations. Saleslady (right) is Helen Black.

You may consider your cat as fully grown after he reaches nine months of age.

Intern program for seniors

U.S. Representative Bill Hendon announced that his office is now accepting applications from residents of the 11th Congressional District interested in participating in the 1982 Congressional Senior Citizen Intern Program. The week-long program will take place May 17-21.

Applicants for the program must be 65 or older. Applications must be at Hendon's Washington office no later than March 20. The successful applicant will be notified by April 1.

Interns spend one week in Washington attending a series of briefings and lectures on subjects of special interest to the elderly. They also spend time in the Congressional office and familiarize themselves with the federal government and how it operates, especially in the area of aging.

Applicants should write to U.S. Representative Bill Hendon, 212 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515. Further information is available by phoning the toll-free district office number in Asheville at 1-800-222-5840.

Black Mountain Shopping Center

9:30—9:00 Mon.-Sat.
Sunday 1:00-6:00

Assistant

Runs Wed. the 10th thru
Sunday the 14th

Flex Shampoo
Flex Conditioner

1.67

White Rain
Hair Spray

1.22

Jergens Soap

5/1.00

Charmin 4 Pk.

Reg. 1.27

1.19

6.4 oz. Crest

1.18

Oil of Olay

3.36

Roses Aluminum Foil

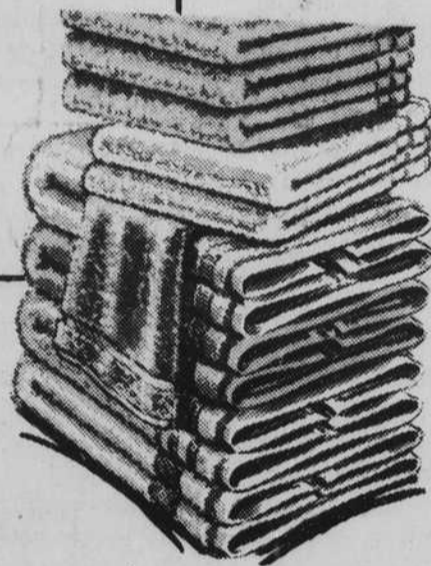

Reg. 54¢

44¢

Reg. 1.68

1.17

Towels

1.66

Reg. 1.99

Marcial Towels

2/1.00

Reg. 68¢

1.19

Reg. 1.29

Whoppers
Malted Milk Balls

Reg. 1.17 99¢

Garan Striped Shirt

8.88

Reg. 11.97

Cascade

2.29

Reg. 2.43

Coaches' Jacket

7.88

Reg. 9.97

Rump Jeans

6.88

Reg. 9.88

22 oz.

Reg. 1.37

1.27

49 oz.

Reg. 2.09

1.87