Ruth Flannagan

A series of Lap Quilting classes will be taught by Ruth L. Flannagan of Black Mountain from May through August.

Mrs. Flannagan studied under Georgia Bonesteel and teaches using her techniques. This past winter, she has taught 31 women to quilt.

Her workshops, which generally will last only one day, will include making placemats, table clothes, decorator pillows, tote bags, quilted vests and quilts. The technique of cutting continuous bias will be taught at all of the workshops. How to cut, assemble and finish projects will also be shown.

All of Mrs. Flannagan's classes are listed on a master class schedule now available for the asking at the Depot. Classes in basket lining, chair caning, basketry, and chair bottoming are just a few of the classes also listed on that schedule.

Other classes in crafts may be arranged through the Depot. Mark your calendar: There will be a brunch honoring all the Depot's Volunteers on Monday, May 1, at 11 a.m. at the Depot. The Gallery will not be open to the public on that day until 1 p.m.

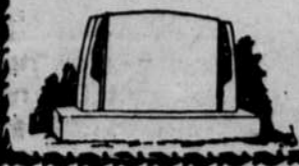

On Wednesday, May 11, there will be the Annual Meeting of the Old Depot Association at 7:30 p.m. in the Education Room of the Black Mountain Public Library. An interesting program and refreshments will follow the brief business meeting that will include the election of three new board members. Carpentry skills are needed to help with the construction of a permanent platform at Lake Tomahawk. This is a joint project of the Association and the Recreation Commission of the Town of Black Mountain. If you can help, contact the Depot at 669-6583.

Miller FUNERAL HOME

Black Mountain, NC

Dear Friends,

Youngsters, like adults, need to accept and express their grief in times of tragedy. Children are more vulnerable to loss, particularly the death of a parent. Because of their complete dependence on adults, they consider it a form of punishment for misbehavior. Children should be encouraged to express their feelings by talking about the death - to realize that death is natural and inevitable.

Respectfully,

Bob Miller
