Her Liberal Distributions Among Her Relatives. A Liberal Heart Towards the Church. - Here a Millionaire's Millions are to go.

New York, Nov. 1. - The will of Mrs. Cornelia W. Stewart, deceased widow of the great millionaire dry goods merchant, was filed to-day in the office of the Surrogate for Probate. She gives her property, Charles P. Church, an annuity of $20,000; to her sister she gives an annuity of $10,000; to her niece, Sarah N. Smith, bequeathed $250,000; Cornelia S. Butler gets $200,000, and each of her children, Lawrence and Charles, $50,000; Kate M. Smith receives $200,000; Louise Ellen, Bessie and James, also children of Sarah N. Smith, receive $100,000 each; the deceased sister, Louise's children, each get $50,000. All the rest of her estate, real and personal, goes to Chas. J. Clinch now of Paris, and Henry Hilton as executors, who are directed not to pay any of the requests until three years after the final probate of the will. The above constitutes the original will and was made July 5th 1877, and was signed in the presence of Henry E. Davies, No. 49 West Fifty-Fifth Street, James Henry Work, No. 533 Madison Avenue and Edward B. Hilton, No. 1 West Thirty-Fourth Street, in a codicil dated May 27th 1878. She orders her executors to dispose of her estate in various ways. She revokes her bequest to Henry Hilton and gives to someone half part of the remainder of her estate to be used in completing, etc., the Stewart Memorial Cathedral at Garden City, to endow forever to build two seminaries to be attached to the cathedral and transferred to the Protestant Episcopal Church of Long Island. She gives her next of kin or legatees institutes an action or becomes party to any action to set aside the will, it will make null the bequests to them. An additional codicil was made July 2d 1878. In this instrument she orders Judge Hilton's bequest to be more than sufficient to pay for the various things she orders done. She directs that the residue among the legatees in such proportions as his judgment seems best. He may at will appoint a substitute, a trustee or trustees to act in his stead for each time, as he deems expedient, and may at any time revoke such an appointment. She further gives her niece, Sarah N. Smith and her heirs, one and half part of her property levied and bequeathed to Chas. J. Clinch, and to this one annuls the gift to Chas. J. Clinch to Lawrence Butler, child of Prescott and Cornelia Butler. She gives an additional $200,000 to her executors each. She gives $75,000 to be distributed to her servants. Her executors are also empowered to employ and furnish a secretary for learning the women near the Garden City Cathedral. The will is dated Nov. 20th 1885, and was signed in the presence of Henry E. Davies, Edwin Sterling and Herbert Onley.

REDUCTION OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Good Showing Contrasted to the Cleveland Administration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. - The reduction in the public debt during October amounted to $13,201,619. The decrease in the debt for the first four months of the fiscal year aggregates $34,788,435. The interest-bearing debt now amounts to $1,103,443,112, and the total interest bearing and non-interest bearing debt less cash in the treasury is $1,304,347,947. The net cash balance of the treasury to-day is $52,783,199 against $67,896,321 a month ago. This decrease in net cash during the month is accounted for by redemption of 3 per cent bonds. On October the last there were in round numbers $115,000,000 of the bonds outstanding, while to-day's statement shows $68,700,000 outstanding. The gold coin and bullion fund in the treasury to-day is $246,582,148 with liabilities; gold certificates outstanding amounting to $56,294,969, thus leaving a gold fund balance of $188,539,179. There are now $100,306,800 in silver certificates outstanding, or about $600,000 more than a month ago. The store receipts in dollars now held in the treasury amount to $182,851,851, an increase of one million and a half during the month. Government receipts during October were heavy, amounting from all sources to $29,538,497 or three-quarters of a million more than in October, 1885. Receipts were $9,479,658, nearly two millions less than in October a year ago. The large decrease in internal revenue receipts compared with October a year ago is almost wholly accounted for by an unusually heavy movement of bonded whisky in October, 1885, upon which tax was paid. Expenditures for October, this year, were $23,474,961 - about two millions more than in October, 1885. The total revenue for the first four months of the current fiscal year is $123,057,497, or about nine and a half millions more than for the corresponding four months of 1885. On the other hand government expenditures for the first four months in 1886 were $102,370,031, or nearly seven and a half millions more than for the corresponding four months.

Attempt at Highway Robbery.

Rome, N. Y., Nov. 1. - The sensation of the hour in this neighborhood is an alleged attempt at highway robbery by two lively young women, Hugh Dorsey and Esther James, over a dark night a month ago as they were driving along a lonely road, between here and Bronville, they were halted by two persons, who presented revolvers and demanded their money or valuables. They protested that they had nothing with them, and Dorsey lighted a match by the light of which he recognized Mrs. Susan Scoville, a young widow, and Miss Mary Dunn, a dashing girl of twenty. They were partly dressed in men's clothing. The travellers were allowed to pass only on promise to keep silent about the affair. The women have just been arrested on complaint of Dorsey. They are charged with having only one for a mark; that the only male attire they wore was their Derby hats; that they made no attempt to conceal their identity after halting the men; that they demanded that Dorsey light the match, and when he had done so they all exchanged greetings. The affair has created a great scandal.

An Italian Prince Falls at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. - Prince Napoleon called at the State Department this morning accompanied by Mr. De Forest, Secretary to the Italian legation, and his private secretary. He was received by Secretary Bayard in his private capacity only as a distinguished foreigner presented by an official of the legation, and after half an hour's chat the visitors departed, leaving Secretary Bayard at the President's.

Butchers on a Strike

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. - The men at Swift's dressed beef and Nelson Morris dressed beef works have gone on a strike. About 4,000 men are out. These concerns will now have to make the same fight that Armour & Co. pork packers did last week. The strike does not appear to be on account of laws, but on the question of pay. The butchers, it is reported, are willing to go back to the old system, but insist on having a material advance in wages.

Fire in Texas.

ENNIS, Texas, Nov. 1. - Solomon's dry goods store, Patterson's agricultural implement store, the Delmonico Hotel and several other buildings were burned at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. A Goldberg, a leading merchant, who boarded at the hotel, was burned to death by his clothes catching fire while he was trying to escape. Two other guests were injured by the fire. The loss was about $85,000.

Spoliation Claims

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. - The commission for the consideration of the French spoliation claims met to-day. About one hundred cases are ready to go before the court, involving from $500 to $400,000 each. Every day new claims make their appearance, and the total represented by those filed so far is more than $30,000,000.

More Shocks Yesterday Morning.

CHARLOTTE, Nov. 1. - Summerville experienced another shock of earth quake at 8:25 this morning. The shock was not severe. All is quiet here. The spring discovered in the Custom House yard yesterday proves to have been caused by a break in a water pipe.

THE VALUE OF A SON.

A NORTH CAROLINA TRIAL CARRIED TO SOUTH CAROLINA.

Suit Against a Railroad to Recover Damages for an Accident.

SPARTANBURG, Oct. 30. - The case of Bridger against the Asheville and Spartanburg road, has become a prominent feature of our court. In November, 1881, Bridger's son, a bright, active lad of eleven years with a number of other boys, was playing on a turn table at Hendersonville. This was not kept locked, and the boys of the town were in the habit of playing on it. Bridger's son was acting as conductor. Somehow or other his thigh got caught between the end of the movable track and the stationary part, and was badly crushed. He was confined to his bed for some time and a portion of the bone came out. The limb is considerably shortened, and he has very little use of it. Mr. Bridger first began suit for the recovery of damages in a North Carolina court, but for some reason or other abandoned that and renewed the suit in Spartanburg. In March, 1885, he brought suit to recover $25,000 damages for injury to his son. After a long and spirited trial the jury rendered a verdict for $5,000. At the following court he brought another suit to recover $12,000 for himself to cover losses of his son's services, until he was twenty-one years of age, and to pay for the trouble and expense of nursing him while confined to his bed. After the plaintiff's testimony was all in a motion was made before Judge Hudson for a nonsuit, and pending the consideration of this motion, the jury was dismissed and the trial stopped. At the extra term of court the case was called, but continued by the plaintiff. The trial is now going on. Duncan & Sanders, assisted by Pope Barrow, of Athens, Ga., represent the road, while Bridger is represented by J. S. R. Thompson and Judge Bigby, of Atlanta.

Terrible Murder in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 1. - A terrible and as yet unexplained murder was perpetrated at Rogers Park some time during the night. At daylight this morning the dead body of Henry Mungo was found in a vacant lot on the corner of Asbury Avenue and Rogers road, one and one-half blocks from his residence. There were a number of wounds on the dead man's head that looked as if they had been inflicted by some blunt instrument. So far there is absolutely no clue to the murderers and the exact hour when the crime was committed is unknown. The last time Mungo was seen, at 3 p. m. yesterday, when his brother-in-law, John Hyle, met him. Henry Mungo was a wealthy and one of the best known Germans in the township of Evanston, as well as one of the oldest settlers.

New York Vote Estimated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. - The Democratic managers to-day figure out a total vote for Mayor, $17,400. They give Hewitt 104,300, to Roosevelt 67,000, and to the Republicans 27,000. The Republican managers claim that they will have 65,000 votes, 70,000 having already been pledged to them. Mr. Roosevelt received 40,000, and Roosevelt 60,000. The betting continues largely in favor of Hewitt. The bookmakers have made combinations of three names on the Democratic ticket and county tickets, and are laying odds that all three will not be elected.

A Decision Against Smuggling.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1. - The Solicitor of the Treasury, Mr. McClintock, has rendered to the Secretary of the Treasury an opinion in the matter of the alleged attempt at smuggling by the officers of the Portsmouth and Saratoga. He decides that wines, etc. for use on board the vessel and clothing and other articles for the use of the officers themselves were not other means, and, therefore, not subject to the same penalty attached.

President to Visit Harvard College.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 1. - President Cleveland has accepted an invitation to attend the 25th anniversary of the founding of Harvard College. He will arrive here next Monday morning and attend the exercises at the college. If possible a grand reception will be tendered him. Farwell hall Monday evening. It is expected that he will be escorted to the hall by 1,000 students with torches.

Cornish, Demopolis; J. R. Ryan, Patton; A. J. Burk, Barber, North Carolina - H. T. Miller, Aron, W. C. Gower, Monticello; H. H. Bower, Monticello.

A False Report.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1. - Assistant Secretary Porter, of the State Department, says the report coming from Mexico that United States Consul Pough has been removed, is entirely without foundation. There has been no thought of recalling him.

A Column for Doctors.

NITRATE OF SILVER IN SWELLED TESTICLE. - At the Lock Hospital, Liverpool, the following method has been in use since 1869, each successive surgeon adopting it in preference to all others:

The affected testicle is painted with a solution of nitrate of silver, two drachms to the ounce of distilled water. Strict rest in bed is enforced, and the inflamed organ supported on a small pillow. Sometimes a second painting is necessary. The immediate relief of pain is marked. In a few days the testicle returns to its normal size. PNEUMONIA. - Six out of ten cases of acute pneumonia, in persons of previously good health, between twenty and fifty years of age, may be reasonably expected to die under the following plan of practice, viz: treatment from the start with twenty grains of quinine daily, half fluid ounce of whisky every two hours, and a quarter of a grain of morphine every six or eight hours. If any recovery under such treatment it is probably due to the large hot poultices applied to the chest.

Eight out of ten of the same cases will if before the third day a few ounces of blood be drawn from the arm in stronger patients, by cups or leeches in those of less vigor; a decided purgative dose of some mild saline, a saline diaphoretic every two hours; in the most violent cases, one or two ounces of tartar emetic every four hours during the first few days, not allowed to cause gastric distress; a warm poultice being kept over the whole front of the chest, till the worst is over.

How to Syringe the Ear. - 1. Don't do it; unless to remove cerumen or foreign substances. 2. Use warm water. 3. Use a Davidson syringe. (We say Davidson because we know no better name for the ordinary family syringe now used. Of course we do not mean to specify Davidson's make any more than Mattson's, &c.) 4. Be gentle. 5. Dry the ear thoroughly after you are through. - Medical World.

The Humé Doctor.

IVY POISONING. - The following are given as excellent treatment: Carbolic Acid, One drachm. Strong Ammonia Water 1. Olive Oil, Three ounces. Mix. Apply on compresses every two to three hours, an ice bag being super-imposed if there is much pain. Sulphate of Zinc, Half ounce. Olive Oil, Eight ounces. Shake thoroughly and apply on soft cloths, two applications being usually sufficient. Whooping Cough. - The following formula is given as an excellent remedy for whooping cough: Bisulphate of Quinine, One drachm. Simple Elixir (U.S.P.), 14 oz. M. A teaspoonful is given every three or four hours to children of 5 years and upwards, until cinchonism is produced; and the patient is then kept under its influence, according to the severity of the paroxysms, for two or three weeks. A lump of sugar saturated with lemon juice is given after each dose. - Med. Record.

VINEGAR IN DIPHTHERIA. - Engelmann of Kreuznach, has obtained remarkable results in experimenting with vinegar in diphtheria. Being neither caustic nor irritating, but wholly innocuous, it has many advantages over carbolic acid and other antiseptics. Engelmann used it undiluted as a spray, and as a gargle with three times its bulk of water added. He also painted it on the tonsils.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON NOTES AND COMMENT.

What the Chronicle Correspondent Observes Among the Movements of the People.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31. - Some of Mr. Blaine's intimate friends here earnestly assert that this writing, Mr. Blaine does not desire the nomination for President in 1888. Blaine thinks, they say, that there is no doubt about Cleveland's renomination and reelection, and that the "Plumed Knight" is unwilling to lead a forlorn hope. Blaine will, however, keep himself before the people, and if he detects any palpable error in Cleveland's course will make the most of it. - There have been a great many false rumors published about removing Eugene Higgins from his position as Appointment Clerk of the Treasury Department. I have it direct, that Secretary Manning says as long as Higgins performs his duty as he has heretofore done, he will remain where he is. - J. M. Leach, Jr., Esq., has gone home to vote. His brother continues to improve. - The train arriving at the Sixth street depot at 8:55 last evening brought here from New York, Prince Louis Napoleon and his secretary, Chevalier Schuchler. They were accompanied by Count Albert de Foresta, secretary of the Italian legation. The Prince walked through the depot without attracting attention, and with his companions entered a carriage sent from Wornley's and drove directly to the hotel, where, without registering, they were assigned in the elegant first floor parlors. The Prince appears to be quiet and sedate, but withal very dignified. He had little to say, his secretary doing all the talking for him. He was dressed in a gray traveling suit of modest cut. He wore a short black beard, which did not hide the Napoleonic look inherited from his famous ancestor. He is 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs about 160 pounds. The Prince would not receive any callers during the evening and left orders with the clerk at Wornley's that no cards should be brought to his room.

A Terrible Accident.

On Saturday afternoon Oscar Coley and two sons of Mr. Jesse Jones, were out squirrel hunting in the neighborhood of Stantonsburg. Seeing a squirrel enter a hollow in a tree one of the Jones' boys climbed the tree to scare him out. Just as the boy neared the hollow the squirrel ran out and Oscar Coley, in his eagerness, fired and killed him, and in his excitement, unfortunately, killed young Jones, who plunged head to the ground. The sad event has thrown gloom over the whole neighborhood, and none grieve more bitterly than the distressed Oscar Coley.
