THE NEXT SENATE.

INDICATIONS POINTING TO A PROBABLE TIE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The Star this morning figures out a probable tie in the Senate after the 3rd of March. It says on the 3rd of next March the terms of sixteen Republicans and nine Democratic Senators will expire. Of the sixteen Republicans who will retire twelve will certainly be succeeded by men of the same party. Messrs. Sherman, Aldrich and Edmunds have been re-elected, and the Legislatures of Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin are Republican. The Democrats lose one of the nine whose terms expire—Fair, of Nevada—and are secure of the remainder, so that if the Legislature of California, Indiana and New Jersey prove to be Democratic, the result of the change in the Senate after the 3rd of March will be a net loss of three to the Republicans—a Democrat having been chosen to succeed Mahone from Virginia. The present Senate stands 41 Republicans, 34 Democrats and one Readjuster (Riddleberger), but Senator Van Wyck comes back from Nebraska as a people's representative. He made his fight before the whole people and won on an issue of opposition to corporations. During his present term he has not hesitated on occasions to antagonize his party, and under the conditions of his re-election he may be more independent still. Leaving Van Wyck and Riddleberger out of the count the next Senate will stand, provided the Democrats vote the three doubtful States mentioned, 37 Republicans, 37 Democrats. Thus Messrs. Van Wyck and Riddleberger would hold the balance of power in connection with this probably situation it is a fact worth mentioning that both Van Wyck and Riddleberger have given evidence of a kindly feeling for the administration. In the event of any conflict between the executive and the Senate the two votes from Nebraska and Virginia would determine the issue. Van Wyck and Riddleberger would have it in their power by co-operating with the Democrats to organize the Senate, or should Van Wyck vote with the Republicans and Riddleberger with the Democrats on the question of organization, there would be a tie and there is no Vice-President to cast the deciding vote.

GLADSTONE ENCOURAGED.

At the Outcome of Enthusiasm Displayed in His Favor in Great Britain Yesterday.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Mr. Gladstone is enjoying excellent health, and is buoyant spirits over the outcome of the Luds Conference and the unanimity and enthusiasm displayed at the convention of the Irish National League of Great Britain at Liverpool to-day. The Ex-Premier is firm in the belief that the convention is with him, and that another election would institute him in power. In some recent private communication he has expressed his conviction that the present government must collapse next spring, and that another election must then take place. Mr. Gladstone's wonderful vitality is attributed to the health-giving fluids of exercise, which he has always taken during his leisure moments. In his boyish days he was a good oarsman, and at one time he was a splendid and fearless horseman. There is a well known instance of his having a fierce contest with an animal of bad temper and high spirits in Hyde Park before all fashionable London. He made the horse jump, and jump, yet again over the railings which subtended its temper and made it obedient as a lamb. Mr. Gladstone continues daily, his exercise of tree felling. He has not remarkably strong arms, but his back and legs are very masculine. This accounts for the extraordinary fact, that even to this day, his back is straighter than any man's, old or young, in the House of Commons. The committee appointed by the Celtic League inaugurated, at the late Conference of Highland Associations, at Bonair Bridge Sutherlandshire to-day, submitted a draft of a constitution for the League to the Convention of the Irish National League of Great Britain, now being held at Liverpool. The committee consists chiefly of Highland, Welsh and Irish members of parliament. The general aim of the Celtic League is to organize joint action between Scotch, Welsh and Irish members of parliament on the Land and Home rule question. The promoters of the Celtic League by no means intend to limit their action to the Highland, Wales and Ireland, but will seek to gain the sympathies of the masses of the English workers, by acting as the van of advanced Radicalism. It is really doubtful at present whether the next session of parliament will not open amid circumstances which will direct attention, so far as that is possible from Ireland.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

OBSERVATIONS OF A CHRONICLE CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—The recent singular election contest has caused a great deal of talk among politicians here. They speculate as to a great many things. Among the most important is the probable successor of Mr. Morrison as the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. Usually the second man on the Committee is given the Chairmanship when there is a vacancy. But the Committee on Ways and Means is the most important in the House, and the Chairman of that Committee is regarded as the leader of his party on the floor. The second man on the Committee as it now stands is Roger L. Mills, of Texas. Abraham Hewitt is the third man, but he is now lost to Congress, having been elected Mayor of New York. Mills is not a man of sufficient ability for the place. Sunset Cox may be called upon to accept the Chairmanship. He is in accord with Mr. Carlisle on the tariff, and is the most conspicuous member of the fifth Congress.—Mr. Carlisle is elected by a bare majority, but he will undoubtedly be the next speaker.—The Secretary of the Republican Campaign Committee, Mr. Edward McPherson, is jubilant over the election returns. He thinks it foreshadows the triumph of the G. O. P. He even claims that his party will manage to get control of the next House.—Mrs. Cleveland, with other ladies will accompany the President to Boston Monday, where he goes to present at the Howard University anniversary.—Mrs. Senator Logan called on Mrs. Cleveland yesterday. There was a decided earthquake shock here to-day at 12.30.

WINTER SETTING IN.

The Cold Bleak North and Northeast Visited by a Snow Storm.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6.—There was a fall of snow here about 3 o'clock this morning.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—Snow has been falling at intervals all the morning. It melts as fast as it falls.

BUFFALO, Nov. 6.—Snow began falling early this morning.

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—One-half an inch of snow fell during the night at this place.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Snow has been falling here in large flakes since 10.30 o'clock this morning.

A Rumor About an Army Officer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—It is semi-officially announced that the President has offered the position of Surgeon-General of the army to Lieutenant-Colonel Moore, now stationed at San Francisco. He is said to be the only officer of the medical corps above the grade of major who has presented his application and also brought influence to bear upon the President in his behalf.

At Harvard College Yesterday.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 6.—Undergraduate's Day, the second of Harvard's quarterly millennium celebration, opened fair but before noon a steady rain had begun. The old town is a blaze of color with bunting. The front of the college buildings and the houses around Harvard square are hidden in masses of flags and designs in cloth.

Gifford's Majority in Dakota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 6.—A Canton Dak. special to the Pioneer-Press says: The Canton Advocate's summary of the official and estimated returns give Gifford 16,000 majority in South Dakota and 4,000 in North Dakota, or 20,000 in the Territory.

A Warm Reception to Mrs. Cleveland in Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Mason gave a large private dinner to Mrs. Cleveland this evening. The occurrence of the Harvard celebration at the same time prevented the acceptance of some of the invitations, but about 300 guests were laid. The guests, including Sir Lynn and Lady Playfair, Mrs. Leverett Saltentall, Mr. and Mrs. Brunner, Secretary and Mrs. Endicott and Mrs. Cleveland, will attend church Sunday, probably going to one of the back bay churches.

Telegraphic Sparks.

Louis Bival, the would-be assassin of Governor Beattie, in New York was turned over to the United States authorities yesterday. He will be called upon to plead on December 8th.

Miss Winnie Davis, the daughter of the Confederacy, was the cynosure of many eyes, in New York yesterday morning. She was enjoying her first breakfast in the city at the New York hotel.

What it Contested.

DENVER, Col. Nov. 6.—The Congressional election is still undecided. The Democrats claim the election of Reed by 1,500 majority, while the Republicans say that Symes is elected by 800 majority. It is rumored that the party defeated by the official count will contest the matter in the courts.

Was Afraid of Himself.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Dr. Ralph Stone, a young physician, attended to the Flatbush hospital at Flatbush, L. I. committed suicide by shooting himself with a pistol, yesterday. He had little confidence in himself and was fearful of making a mistake in his work.

Minnesota's Republican Governor.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 6.—The returns are in from all the counties, and A. R. McGill, (rep.) is elected Governor by a majority of 1,200. The Democratic State Central Committee, that was confident of success to the last, has closed its headquarters and departed.

Will Contest It.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—Hon. Martin A. Hayens, Republican candidate for Congress in the First district, will contest the election of Rev. L. T. McKelvy, Democratic, an account of alleged irregularities in this city.

In Respect to the President.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—As a mark of respect to the President the Custom House will be closed at 12 o'clock—noon—on Monday.

New Advertisements.

D. R. Harry—Wanamaker's clothing. Zera Segson—Royal Marionettes at the Academy of Music. Wittkowsky & Baruch—Grand introductory sale. Keesler & Co.—New and stylish dress goods.

Murdered a Man and Shot Himself.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Charles Babington, the Aster House chef, who was shot on Monday night last, by Joseph Ott, a waiter, who afterwards committed suicide, died to-day in Chambers Street Hospital.

Great Storm in England.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The storm which broke over the Lake district in England yesterday, has spread throughout Great Britain, and an immense amount of damage to property and shipping is already reported.

Report of Inspector of Steamer Vessels.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6.—The annual report of James A. Damont, Supervising Inspector General of the steamer vessels for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1886, was published to-day. During the year 38,019 newly manufactured life preservers were officially inspected and approved. During the year 5,744 steamer vessels were inspected and 27,780 masters, mates, pilots and engines were licensed—although the number of vessels inspected and other service was greater, the expense was less than during the preceding year. Forty accidents occurred to steam vessels resulting in loss of life, one was from fire, sixteen collisions, twelve explosions and eleven from snags, wrecks and sinkings. The resulting fatalities were 182 compared with 133 lives lost in 1885. The largest number of deaths, 62, were due to accidental drowning. Of the lives lost, 57 were of passengers and 125 of officers and employees of the steamers.

Care for Writer's Cramp.

Writer's cramp is an affection which, until a very recent date, has been looked upon as in most cases incurable. Fortunately, however, for those who suffer from this disease, means are now known to exist not only for its amelioration, but for its permanent cure. The difficulty is one which is not, as its name implies, confined to writers. It may occur in any individual whose occupation brings into constant play one set of muscles; thus the pianist, the telegrapher, and the ballet-dancer, may suffer from these cramps or from an inability to perform the acts peculiar to his occupation. The cramps are merely symptoms of a diseased condition, the exact seat of which is a matter of dispute; some locating it in the brain, others in the spinal cord, while there are those who regard the nerve-centers as in no wise affected, but trace the source of the affection to the nerves themselves. The method of treatment which has been found most successful consists in the application of gymnastics, combined with massage to the affected muscles. The rubbing, and sometimes a gentle striking of the muscles with a wooden car, together with regular movements of the fingers or other defective part, are continued for several weeks, during which time not more than one hour daily is devoted to these exercises.—Science.

Why We Are Gringos.

People often wonder and ask why the Mexican calls the American a "Gringo," or what the word means. That can be explained much easier than why the American calls the Mexican a "Grasser." When the Americans went to war with Mexico, a melody, every verse of which ended with "Green grow the rushes, O," was very popular. It pleased almost everybody's fancy, and was sung by old and young. While in camp the soldiers would sing it constantly, and all the Mexicans could hear was "Green grow the rushes, O." They immediately began to call the American soldiers by the first two words, as it sounded to them, "grin-grin-grin." They made it into one word, by which they will ever know the American—"Gringo."—Nelly Bly in Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Peculiar "Death Sentence."

Among the old papers in the county clerk's office in Freehold, N. J., is the death sentence of a negro named Caesar. It reads: "Therefore the court doth judge that thou, the said Caesar, shall return to the place from whence thou camest, and from thence to the place of execution, when thy right hand shall be cut off and burned before thine eyes. Then thou shalt be hanged up by the neck till thou art dead, dead, dead; then thy body shall be cut down and burned to ashes in a fire, and the Lord have mercy on thy soul, Caesar."—New York Sun.

WOMEN WHO LOVE WORK.

The Wisdom and Womanliness of Females Being Emphasized.—A Sensible Plea for Industrious and Independent Women. An English journalist says that the assertion which is frequently made, that no woman who earns her own living does so for the love of work, but merely because she is compelled to work, has as far as he is concerned, no certain basis in fact. He says that the chief difficulty in the way of the advancement of woman is not her want of intellect, but her want of independence. "But once more I would say what has been said again and again, that without thorough training no woman will ever succeed in doing her work to her own or to employer's satisfaction, and if this fact is once understood by parents and teachers of girls the chief difficulty in the way of the advancement of woman is removed. "All other difficulties may in time be overcome, and as the employment for women have during the last 30 years been, and still are increasing, the training and work need be no drudgery, there being a sufficient number of different employments open to every class of woman that each may choose a department for which she is best fitted by natural gifts and idiosyncrasies. "There are still a great many men and women who having never by experience known what it is to see life stretched out before them with but one clear fact standing out of the dark future that they must earn their living or perish, speak of some spheres of woman's work as unwomanly. "The only possible explanation of this assertion is that those who make it have no idea of the meaning of true womanliness. "A woman may break stones at the way-side all the days of her life; she may preach, lecture, or plead in court; may, indeed, engage in any work done by man, and yet be as true a woman as ever lived on earth. "And why, in the name of justice, is it more unwomanly to be a farm laborer (to take what has recently been much cited as an instance of extreme unwomanliness, who drives her cab to keep body and soul together, than to do as the woman of the world, who drives her fancy vehicle through crowded streets and parks, with only a tiny page at her back to represent the man? "There will be unwomanly women in high life and in low as long as the world stands, but no work will ever increase or diminish the numbers. "What the extension of work must needs bring about is the solution of one of the greatest social problems of our time—namely, that of the equalization of the sexes; and after the barrier of inequality falls, which now is put up at almost every step against women whose qualifications and capacities are second to none, the way is clear enough."

The South Carolina Fair.

The State Fair opens at Columbia Tuesday next. The Record says the whole people feel a lively interest in the State Fair, to be held in this city from the 9th to the 12th inst. The exhibit of live stock promises to be large and good in character. The art and home industry departments promise to be attractive, as the departments which are dependent upon contributions from the ladies usually are. The exhibit bids fair to be instructive in all of its departments. While every description of gambling will be rigidly excluded from the grounds, there will be unusual attractions for pleasure seekers. Besides the stock and general exhibits and the trials of speed on the race track, there will be other certain amusements for visitors. Whether one visits the Fair for substantial information or for pleasure, ample opportunities for gratification will be found. All of the railroads leading into the city have agreed to take both exhibits and passengers to and from the Fair at low rates.

What Frank Hurd Says.

MT. CLEMENS, Nov. 6.—Hon. Frank Hurd, who is here recuperating from the labor of his recent canvass for Congress, says he does not regard Morrison's defeat and his own as discouraging to the cause of tariff reform. Men are nothing—principles everything. So long as the agitation goes on the people will not wait for leaders. He regards the cause of tariff reform as really brighter now than ever before, and says that while the Democrats will have a reduced representation in Congress, the proper cause of tariff reformers will be larger than in the last one. He thinks the Democrats of the fiftieth Congress should place on the free list three or four articles which are necessary in the daily consumption of laboring people, and with the aid of the Administration, which he says is sincerely in favor of tariff reform, he thinks such practical measures could be adopted.

About Bulgaria.

BUDA PESTH, Nov. 6.—The Emperor Francis Joseph, in his address to the delegation to-day, declared that Austria was united with the other signatory powers to the treaty of Berlin in an effort to localize the Bulgarian disturbances; that the powers would find a way to re-establish law and order in Bulgaria, and that they hoped to restore the legal constitution to the Bulgars soon, making allowance for the lawful aspirations of the Bulgars, consistent with the interest of Austria.
