Dr. Miller to Omitte at the Installation of Rev. H. M. Dixon Tomorrow.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.]

MONROE, N. C., June 19.—Policeman Lindsay, from Matthews, was here yesterday on the track of a negro, Nelson Young, who stole a gold dollar and resisted arrest.

The gold dollar had been polished and initials engraved on it and was left on the counter on Lynch & Reid's store to be put on a watch. The negro took it and went out without attracting any attention. It was soon missed and the owner made inquiries and found that he was trying to sell it. He asked to see the coin and receiving it refused to return it to the negro who then began to curse.

Several were standing near and the policeman went to arrest Young, who drew a pistol and refused to be taken. He held his pistol on the crowd and backed off a few steps and ran. By this time some of the bystanders had produced pistols and fired on Young. He returned the fire and made his escape to the woods. The people at the store were not armed and considered it dangerous to attempt to take a desperate character well armed.

E. D. Worley, who died in Matthews the other day, is father of E. D. Worley, now in prison, who was 79 years old at the time of his death.

The walls of the school building are rapidly going up, and the house will be finished by August 20th, when school begins.

The stained glass doors and windows for the Lutheran church have arrived and are things of beauty. This church will soon be finished and will be the most attractive church here.

Rev. H. M. Dixon, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will be installed tomorrow. Everybody will be glad to hear Dr. Miller, who will be present on this occasion.

Formulating Plans to Build a Working Girls' Home in Winston.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.]

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., June 19.—The Forsythe Riflemen are looking forward with delight to the approaching annual encampment of the State Guard which opens next month at Writingsville.

That noble band of Christian workers, the King's Daughters, are having plans drawn for the erection of a building to be known as the "Working Girls' Home." The site has already been purchased.

Miss Fannie Roscoe and Mary Anderson, two talented young ladies of this city, have in contemplation the establishment of a school of music, instrumental and vocal on the conservatory plan. Such an institution deserves a hearty support, no matter where it is established.

Winston has a large bicycle club and the members thereof have decided to wear a mail and safety uniform.

Evangelist Fife, who conducted such a successful meeting in Charlotte recently, is booked to hold similar services in Mount Airy next month. There are a great many people here that would be pleased to have him come to Winston.

There is an old flax spinning wheel on exhibition in Salem that is 137 years old. It was brought over from Germany in 1754.

The Henderson base ball club will cross bats with the Winston team here to-morrow afternoon. A fine game is anticipated.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 19.—Great pleasure is expressed here at the election of John H. Sherwood, of Raleigh, as Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias. He was given a handsome reception here upon his arrival from Charlotte this morning. The uniform rank paraded and escorted him to Phalanx lodge. That building was decorated. The Grand Chancellor, thus escorted, was driven in a coach and four. At the hall there were some speeches.

"License" or "No License" appears to be the question of the hour at Morehead City just now. The hotel people want license for the sale of liquors. The temperance advocates are on the other side. Several went down here to fight the "license" men. The county commissioners have deferred action until the first Monday in July. Meanwhile there is displayed a good deal of feeling. Years ago there was a similar fight there, but in the end the license men came out ahead.

The collector of internal revenue today received information of the capture of an illicit distillery at a point 8 miles Northwest of Hillsboro. It was destroyed, with a quantity of beer and liquor.

Something badly needed here is a building and loan association. This evening one was organized. O. H. Edwards was made president, Ely Barrill vice-president, L. O. Long secretary and treasurer, W. N. Jones attorney.

The trustees of the A. & M. College have re-elected all its officers. Four new assistant professors will be chosen by the executive committee.

Inquiry was made this morning at the home of Grand Sire Busbee as to his condition. His mother stated that he was unconscious the greater part of the time. At intervals he recognizes his family and friends. He has no fever and his appetite permits him to take the milk and other nourishment offered. His physicians last night said there was a decided improvement in his condition.

Mr. Busbee is greatly esteemed here, and inquired as to his condition are nearly universal. He is receiving the greatest care. His physicians are among the ablest in the State.

It is said there are about 1,150 people at Morehead City. The east bound trains yet carry many sea breeze seekers past here. Raleigh is, as always, well represented at Morehead City.

The dreadful work of diphtheria in the family of Mrs. Glennan, of Washington, D. C., is a topic of talk here. Two children are dead and a third sick. People in the city are taking great care of their children. Raleigh has been very free from infectious diseases. These cases were brought here from Washington.

Late yesterday afternoon at the exposition grounds, a "boss" of a gang of carpenters, fell into a well, the plank over the latter having given away. He was given aid almost in a moment and it was found he had fallen 25 feet into the mud and water. He struck his head, and sprains to my was not hurt in the least. In two or three minutes he was laughing heartily at his mishap.

Through this section of the State from Durham to Waxhaw rain fell last evening. In some places it was heavy. It cooled the super-heated air, but if a temperature here today was quite high enough to satisfy any one. The crops are growing. Cotton is small, but it is waking up.

Raleigh is a busy place just now. Workmen of all kinds and teams are in demand. Much building work is in progress, and this in summer, when really that sort of work is quiet.

This morning at 11 o'clock the World's Fair board of control met with the State board of agriculture, in the executive office, Governor Ellis presiding. There were present Commissioners A. B. Andrews, Thos. B. Keogh and Elias Carr; lady managers, Mrs. George W. Kidder, Mrs. Charles Price and Mrs. E. R. Cotton; chairman, W. F. Green and the nine other members of the State board of agriculture. Col. Elias Carr, the president of the State Alliance, was elected president; and Mrs. Kidder vice-president. Mr. Thomas K. Bruner, who is secretary to the Board of Agriculture, was made secretary to the "State Board of the World's Fair Managers," that being the official title of the body which met today. The next business done was the election of the "World's Fair Executive Commissioner" for the State. Peter M. Wilson, of Winston, was elected. No better selection could by any chance have been made. It will be ninety days before the board again meets. President Carr will call it together.

The board discussed the matter relative to money appropriated by the Legislature, but reached no conclusion. It will consult the Attorney General relative to the use of funds and will act upon his advice. The board adjourned this afternoon to meet at call of President Carr, very probably October 21.

The State Board of Agriculture adjourned this morning about 10 o'clock, after several days of earnest work. It has re-elected all the officers of the Department of Agriculture. It meets again October 21st, during the Southern Exposition.

Testing the Right of the Government to Collect Duties on Disputed Goods.

Testing the Right of the Government to Collect Duties on Disputed Goods.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 19.—The jury in the suit of Meyer and Dickinson against the government to recover excess of duties levied on materials used at the Philadelphia Exposition, returned a verdict of $333 40 for plaintiffs. The government will appeal the verdict to the Supreme Court. By verdict of the jury in this case the government is made liable for from twenty to thirty millions of dollars that it has collected in duties from importers of millinery materials in various parts of the country.

The suit of Meyer and Dickinson was tested and was intended to test the right of the government to collect duties on goods in dispute. Other pending suits may be affected by the verdict and that is where a large amount of money and great interest by importers comes in. Taking it altogether importers claim goods in question to be hat trimmings and to be dutiable at 50 per cent ad valorem, duties on the suit of March 8th, 1888, which provides for hats, materials, braids, plaits, lace, trimmings, willow sheels, websters used for ornamenting hats, bonnets and goods composed of straw, chip grass, palm-leaf, willow hair, or any other substance or material not specially enumerated or provided for.

The government claims that they are dutiable at 50 per cent ad valorem under the clause of all goods, wares and manufactures of silk, or of which silk is a component material of chief value. The question arose by reason of the omission in the act of March 8th, 1888, of the word "vegetable" from hat material clause in the former case and was first brought before court in this jurisdiction on April 6, 1888, in case of Langfeldt vs. Hattran, in which common black ribbons were articles before court.

It was decided by Judge McKennan, that if the jury believed that the chief use to which ribbons were put up was for trimming hats and bonnets and no other than it was subject to 50 per cent duty. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff and Judge McKennan's ruling was affirmed by the supreme court. Under this decision $6,000,000 were refunded to the plaintiff. Afterwards in the New York jurisdiction a similar question was decided in the case of Edithoff vs. Collector, in which the articles imported were used as hat bands, and in that case also decision was in favor of importer, as its chief use was for trimming hats, and the decision was affirmed by supreme court.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF GREENSBORO SPEND A PLEASANT EVENING ON THE BATTLE GROUND.

Special to THE CHRONICLE.]

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 19.—Messrs. Walter Harris and Jno. Gilmer, of this place, gave a most delightful moonlight picnic last evening in honor of Miss Fagg, of Asheville. The young men gathered a car from the C. F. & Y. V. railroad, which was hitched on to the regular train, and left at the Battle Ground. There were about thirty couples in all, chaperoned by Mrs. Judge D. Schenck, who made, by the way, a most delightful addition to the party. The young people spent the time in strolling through the beautiful groves, visiting the museum, dancing at the pavilion and singing till 1:30 o'clock, when a special engine arrived from Greensboro to take the crowd in. A jollier and sleeper crowd could hardly have been found than those picnickers, when they arrived in the city at 3 o'clock. Everybody vowed it was the pleasantest occasion of their lives.
