SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE best of people ask me every day if I think they could learn to ride one of "them things," meaning the Hickory B. I often doubt their sincerity, because a man with two eyes can readily see that any one could ride, and with but little practice; however, it takes all kind of people to make a world, or the "Hickory" to go.

—HOW IS THIS?—
Andrews sells a bill of furniture to a party in Baltimore.

Yesterday I gave you my views on advertising. I didn't say that in order to profit by your advertising you must be able to meet competition, but recognizing this to be a fact I have made such arrangements with the manufacturers that I can compete with the world.

You Charlotte people don't fully realize that you can buy furniture as cheap here as anywhere, but it is a fact.

This may seem to be a pretty strong statement, but in confirmation read this letter:

A CANNIBAL AT LARGE.

He Talks of His Former Life—Salisbury Happenings.

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE.
SALISBURY, N. C., July 4.—A full fledged cannibal from the interior of Africa invaded our happy old town yesterday and will give a concert in the Lutheran church Friday night in behalf of foreign missions. He is coal black and about 40 years old. He claims, having been born from cannibal parents and eaten roasted human flesh for his breakfast and dinner. He is quite a curiosity in this part of the world. His entertainment, it is said, will be devoted entirely to a rehearsal of acts, songs and gestures imitating his native tribe. He comes from Lipoolin University, Pa., where he has been studying the gospel, preparatory to returning to the Congo Valley, in Africa, filled with Bible truths to instruct his people in the true and righteous way. His native name is Bander Kinder, but the American interpretation is, George Johns.

A select crowd of Salisbury were highly entertained last night at the home of Joseph Horah. Sherbets, ice cream and other delicate viands were elegantly served. The entertainment was given in honor of Miss Lillie Bell, of Morehead City.

Walter Jones, of Washington, D. C., spent this week with friends in and around the city.

Mrs. Alice Coogan is paying a ten days' visit to her sister in the capital city.

Miss Carrie Thomas is spending a few days in Greensboro.

Editor Whitchard left this morning for Morehead City to visit his wife on a message informing him of the illness of his little son.

Yesterday Ernest Thompson, a twelve year-old boy, was driving his father's team when the horses became frightened. At some plank he was hauling and the coupling pole broke and left the hind wheels standing in the street. The boy became entangled in the driving reins and was dragged some distance over rough ground. He was badly stunned, being bruised both on his legs and head. It is thought his case is not serious but it was a narrow escape. The wagon was torn all to pieces.

Charlie Bingham, accompanied by his niece, Miss Jennie Bingham, left yesterday evening for Statesville, to be at the bedside of his dying sister, Mrs. Judge D. M. Furobes. They reached there just before her death, which occurred at 5:30 p. m.

An unknown negro who has been knocking around here for several days, stepped on the north-bound train last night just as it started and either jumped or fell off below the freight depot. He was picked up later in a semi-conscious condition by agent Webby, and carried to the house of Geo. Murphy, col., where he was examined by Dr. Whitehead, who pronounced him dangerously hurt. It is thought he got on the train for sport with the above result.

A ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

The Sea of a Winston Tobaccoist Marries a Lovely Jewess.

WINSTON, July 9.—A telegram was received here this afternoon stating that Mr. Whit Wood, son of W. W. Wood, Esq., a prominent manufacturer and president of the Winston Tobacco Board of Trade, was married in New York to Miss Mamie Leopold, a beautiful and accomplished Jewess, and daughter of Mrs. R. Leopold, who recently resided in this city. The affair was quite romantic. The newly married couple will arrive here today or tomorrow to make Winston their future home.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Notwithstanding the abundance of money available for speculative purposes together with bright prospect for the coming season there seems for the present no disposition to enter into any ventures in the stock market and dullness, narrowness and general stagnation still mark trading. Today there was a reversal of yesterday's movement and fractional losses was the rule though only among a few stocks was there any perceptible tendency in prices. Louisville and Nashville was attacked and sold down by traders who thought they detected foreign selling. Grangers, especially St. Paul and Burlington were also hammered. The remainder of the market from the opening to the close was as a rule devoid of feature. The opening was dull and heavy and the net result is that three or four leaders are down in the neighborhood of one point. Sales 119,000 shares.

Revenue Officer Shot.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 9.—Near Edmonston, Ky., Monday, special U. S. Beliff Cutliff was shot on ambush as he was passing along the road about dusk and seriously wounded. It is supposed his assailants were violators of the revenue laws whom he had been pursuing.

Relaxation in Passport Regulations.

PARIS, July 9.—The German Government has informed the minister of foreign affairs that the relaxation of the Alsace-Lorraine passport regulations which was ordered at the time of the recent Swiss railroad disaster in order to enable friends and relatives of the dead, wounded or missing to seek for or attend victims, has been made permanent.

THE SYLLABLE CUT SHORT.

THE DOCTORS DECLARE THAT DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS.

NO MORE AWKWARD HANGINGS.

Criminals Will Suffer Death, But Death Will Come Without Pain.—A Step Forward in Civilization.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9.—Dr. Southwick and Dr. Daniels, both of whom witnessed the Kemmer execution returned today from Sing Sing, where they witnessed the electrocution of the four murderers. "The executions were a success in every way," said Dr. Southwick, "and there was not the slightest hitch. The electric execution has come to stay. These executions have demonstrated that the method is humane." "Do you say all four died instantly?" "Yes sir. They died instantly. That current reached them. It was absolutely painless death." "Why was the second shock given?" "To prevent the muscular exhibition that was noticed at Kemmer's execution."

"Was there any burning of the flesh?" "There was not. There was a slight scald, raising a white blister and that is all."

He denounced the Evening World's statement that Smilers body, when it reached New York showed burns, as downright lies.

"How can you be sure, Doctor that the men died instantly?" "I'll tell you one very satisfactory test. Slocum was praying when he died. So was Wood. The others said nothing. But I particularly observed Slocum. He was saying 'Lord have mercy on my soul,' when he received the shock. He had just said the word 'my' and started to say 'soul.' The sibilant sound of the 'S' was made, but the word 'soul' was never uttered. The syllable was cut in two."

"Another indication," continued Dr. Southwick, "was the appearance of the men's features at death. I suggested that they should close their eyes so that the salt water from the electrode on their foreheads should not run into their eyes and cause them needless pain. They did so. That action made a certain contraction of the features. That contraction was there after the men were taken from the chair. There was not a single person who saw the execution but said the deaths were instantaneous and the method a painless and humane method of producing death. 1,600 volts were given."

"The executions were an unqualified success in every way," said Dr. Daniels. "The men had no sensibility of pain and they died instantly. The execution demonstrated that the electric method is quick, painless and humane."

"There were no sounds, no burning, no odor of burning flesh, nothing whatever that would revolt any spectator."

Dr. Daniels also spoke of one of the men praying and reaching the hissing sound of "S" when the shock came. "It cut the syllable in two," he said. "Not another sound came from him. I look upon that as a supreme test."

THE EMPEROR IN ENGLAND.

He Receives Deputations With Gracious Courtesy.

LONDON, July 9.—Although it was 2 o'clock this morning before the Emperor of Germany, after enjoying last night's magnificent performance at the Royal Station Opera, went to bed at Buckingham palace he arose at 7 o'clock and soon after left his apartments for a long, bracing canter in Rotten Row, the famous "Swell" ride in Hyde Park.

The Emperor's ride lasted until nine o'clock, when he returned to Buckingham palace and in company with the Empress, and received deputations from various German social and benevolent societies of London. The Emperor received three deputations in the most courteous manner, patiently listened to their addresses of welcome and briefly replied to them. After this ceremonial portion of the visit had been gone through satisfactorily, the Emperor chatted freely and pleasantly with delegates who were charmed with the young ruler's frank, open behavior.

Later in the morning the Emperor received a deputation consisting of a number of German army reserve officers who are engaged in business in this and other cities of England and who consequently make their homes in this country, while remaining loyal to Germany and willing to obey a call to rejoin their standards should the war trumpet summon Germany to arms.

These German officers were all attired in full uniforms of their respective corps and presented a somewhat strange and unusual appearance in the halls of Buckingham palace. The Emperor received his soldiers as cheerfully and pleasantly as he had previously received his citizen subjects and exchanged a few words with each officer in the deputation having something to say to all in regard to their regiment, brother officers in Germany, changes in service and the like.

The deputation from the anti-slavery society was next ushered in. Again did the Emperor listen and agreeably while the address of the usual dry order was read to him. The Emperor, in replying showed that he had a good knowledge of the subject and referred to the inhumanity of the Arab stealers and the suffering of the slaves.

Hardly had the anti-slavery despatches left the palace when a deputation from the old and important Fishmongers Company was introduced blushing and bowing, and again did the German Emperor courteously stand the fire of a long winded address as if nothing in the world gratified him so much as to listen to and dried sayings of the Fishmongers Company as recently drawn up for his especial benefit in the Fishmongers hall.

The diplomatic corps in full uniform was next received. During the afternoon the Emperor made his second appearance on Rotten Row.

This time he was dressed in the uniform of a Prussian General. The Emperor was mounted upon one of his own horses brought from Germany with an aide de camp. Crowds of fashionable people were present on the Row and from them the Emperor received general salutations.

VALUES HIGH.

A Land Sale in Winston.—Three New Manufactories.—A Bustling Town.

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 9.—Over $30,000 worth of Winston dirt was sold at public auction today. The property lies beyond the city to the east and while it is far out, will in the near future be among the most valuable property in the suburban city. Some of it brought $17,000 per acre and over.

Owing to the telegraph facilities being limited on the 4th of July very little has been said of the fire that occurred in this city in the afternoon of the 4th. At one time it looked probable that an entire block would be consumed by the flames. The Winston Salem fire companies worked diligently however and the fire was under control in an hour's time. The flames were first discovered in the second floor of Levi's store, corner Main and 4th streets. Goods were moved from two or three adjoining stores and the damage was great. Entire loss about $15,000.

Arrangement are being perfected every day for the Free Convention in August. It will in many respects surpass any convention ever held by the North Carolina Association. The Salem Academy will tender the editors a grand reception during the time and much regret is expressed that the time of the convention is only two days, instead of three as was first published. George Hoge, the oldest citizen of Forsyth County at the time of his death, died at his home in Salem yesterday afternoon, aged 81. His wife survives him aged 81. Mr. Hoge is an old Bourbon democrat, loyal to true and undesigning principles and was highly respected by all who knew him. He has never had any children.

It is stated that three new manufacturing industries will be located in Winston in the near future. Negotiations are pending and definite announcements will be made in these columns later.

Last Saturday Lakeside property was sold at public auction in lots. This property contains a beautiful villa site all purchasers for each lot purchased were given a chance for this villa. The drawing Henry Shult was the fortunate man.

The passenger train from Greensboro was nearly three hours late today occasioned by a break down on the main line between Richmond and Danville this morning.

There was sold at the Orinoco warehouse yesterday the first new leaf for 1891 in North Carolina this year. It was a large tierce of tobacco shipped by W. F. Clawson, of South Carolina. It brought a high price.

The Board of Aldermen in regular session last night declined to buy the Winston water works five per cent bonds.

Wilkesboro is a coming little town. Everything is progressing in its limits looking to a solid and stable foundation. The new hotel ordered 87 sets of bed room furniture from this city today.

Very little has been said about the size and capacity of the new Zensendorf Hotel. It will be interesting to note that it will contain 108 bed rooms alone for guests, besides several for the proprietor, clerks etc.

The Street Car line is extending every day. It is now beyond the Washboro Brook in the land of the Winston-Salem Land Improvement Company.

A keen interest is felt here in the reported financial crash in Charlotte. Charlotte is a city and must and will go ahead and no danger and undue apprehensions are felt. It will come out alright without a doubt. The Board of Aldermen would do well to issue bonds, however, with the present improvements in a course of progress.

ITATA RESIZED

Upon New Legal Processes—A Nice Little Scheme of Escape Defeated.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 9.—A penalty of $500, which the Treasury department has demanded of the steamer Itata for leaving port without clearance papers has not been paid yet but will probably be paid soon. Marshal Gard resized the Itata yesterday and placed an officer in charge. This act was necessary in connection with the libel proceedings commenced by the United States District Attorney. It is now understood here that their attorneys had advised Captains Maussen and Tejada to pay the fine at once, get the vessel released from custody of the custom officers, and before Marshal Gard could resize the Itata to get out of San Diego harbor as quick as steam would carry her. Upon receiving this advice it is reported that Maussen returned from Los Angeles and telegraphed to Tejada who returned at noon yesterday.

Maussine Maussen and other officers of the Itata had returned to the vessel. None of the crew have been allowed ashore. At 10:30 in the morning, however, Marshal Gard and the deputy stepped aboard the Itata and seized the vessel for violating neutrality laws and carrying off a U. S. officer. Maussen is said to have been crestfallen upon the appearance of the marshal, and awaited Tejada, who hastened to the ship immediately upon the arrival of the train and held a consultation with Maussen. No further steps were taken in regard to leaving the harbor.

Had the Itata got away before the reefer much delay would probably have resulted before the Charleston could get under way to chase her again and by that time the Itata possibly could have escaped.

THE NEGRO IN THE NORTH

Bullied and Outraged by Iowa Miners.—They Make a Brave Resistance.

OKLAHOMA, Iowa, July 9.—Considerable excitement exists at Evans, five miles West of here, over the advent of colored miners to take places of white strikers. Yesterday a constable, also a striker, attempted to arrest a colored miner, Chas. Johnson, for disorderly conduct, when Johnson picked up a car link and proceeded to resist the officer, inflicting serious wounds. He was arrested by others, tried and bound over to the grand jury. Thereupon Johnson's friends took possession of the court and held the officers until Johnson escaped. Twenty five or thirty shots were fired, no one was hurt. Johnson is still at large.

A YOUNG MAN'S DELUSION.

KEEPING UP THE SOCIAL COURSE AT THE EXPENSE OF HONESTY.

SUDDENLY FINDS HIMSELF IN JAIL.

The Odd Fellows' Asylum.—An Addition to the Yarbore House.—

Raleigh Notes.

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE.
RALEIGH, N. C., July 9.—This morning your correspondent had interview with Clarence Busbee, the young man now in custody here, charged with embezzlement. He says that he was acting in the capacity of treasurer and confidential clerk for the Buena Vista Saddle and Harness company. His salary was small, and in order to keep up what he deemed a proper social course, he occasionally took small sums varying from $1 to $5, which, in some cases, he charged to himself, and in others he failed to do so. Upon examination of the books it was found he had embezzled the amount due him, between $150 and $300. He notified the president of the company of the fact, stating that he could not state the correct sum. He hurriedly left for New York, with a small sum of money, hoping to obtain employment, and thereby make restoration. He failed in his object and started homeward, getting as far as Norfolk, Va. Here he met with John H. Winder, Superintendent of the Seaboard Air Line, and his wife, who treated him with the utmost kindness, aiding him in getting home. Young Busbee seems deeply penitent, and rather apprehensive to return to Buena Vista, without the formality of a requisition. It is expected that an officer from the place will be here today.

The members of the committee to select a site for the proposed Odd Fellows Orphan Asylum, left here today on a tour of inspection of the sites offered in different parts of the State. They will make a most careful investigation as to the locality, health, surroundings, etc. It is thought that the claims of Raleigh will meet with much favor.

The great sale of lots which commenced yesterday afternoon will be continued today commencing at 4 p. m. They have thus far aggregated $16,000. A considerable number of northern men are in attendance who manifest much interest.

There is no abatement in the race on the clerk of the Superior Court for certificates to parties claiming direct taxes. At the Governor's office all is bustle, and the private secretary and executive clerk are overwhelmed with business. Treasurer Bain thinks that nearly all the claims will be called for within the time allowed by law. Nothing has, up to this writing, been heard from Mr. Busbee, relative to the check for the remaining balance of $36,000. It is expected in any event, that the Governor will decide to commence payment on Monday next.

Judge Thos. C. Butler, of the United States Court of Claims, arrived home this morning from Denver, Col., where he has been to attend the organization of the court. He says the first session will be held next fall at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The new addition to the Yarbore House will be ready for occupation some time before the opening of the Exposition. Various houses in different parts of the city, are undergoing repairs and changes, so that there may be no apprehension that Raleigh will fall to accommodate all who visit the "big show."

A committee of colored persons are going the rounds here today soliciting contributions for the Colored Agricultural and Mechanical College, with a view of its establishment in Raleigh. Several of our citizens have subscribed, and the outlook for success is good.

Up to this writing, Grand Sire Busbee is holding his own, having rested quietly during the morning.

The McCarthy Victory.

DUBLIN, July 9.—The Parnellite press is exceedingly down cast over the result of the Carlow election. Freeman's Journal says that there is now no more chance of getting Home Rule for Ireland than there is of getting the moon. The Elector's Journal adds, the Irish have abandoned their independence for the British party yoke. The Conservative Dublin Express says that the English will learn from the Carlow result that "The Irish tenant farmer, when not stunted by insane land hunger, is a puppet in the hands of the Roman Catholic priests, and is as unfit to be an elector as if he were an infant or lunatic." The McCarthyites are jubilant.

End of a Great Strike.

BRUSSELS, July 9.—A great strike of Belgian miners which has been in progress for the last seventy days was brought to an end today. A Council of Knights of Labor has decided in favor of general resumption of business and 4,500 men went to work this morning. The remainder of men who have been on the strike will resume their employment tomorrow.

France and Chilean Ships.

PARIS, July 9.—The court of appeals has annulled the decree of sequestration issued by President Auberger, of the Civil Tribunal of the Seine in regard to Chilean war vessels which have been constructed in France by Societe Des Forges Echantiers for the Chilean Government. The court, in annulling decrees that the vessels were ordered by the Government of President Balmaceda, which is the only legally constituted authority in Chile recognized by France.

Disturbances in the Argentine.

Buenos Ayres, July 9.—There have been fresh revolutionary disturbances in several parts of the country. The government is taking vigorous measures to quell the threatened revolt in the province of Entre Rios, Cordoba and Catamarca.
