

WOMAN'S CORNER.

(By Mrs. Rosalind A. Redfeard.)

The Annual Summer School for Home Demonstration Agents was held at the State College for Women at Greensboro, July 18-30.

We found about 800 teachers in the regular summer school. Those from Anson county being Misses Phoebe Watkins, Julia Cameron, Lucile and Jean Lea Clarke, Louise Williams, Emma Little, Ann Little Massemore, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Nelle Ethridge, the Wadesboro Domestic Science teacher and her mother formed such an interesting picture of mother and daughter going to school together. It was pleasant too to see Mrs. Mendenhall who was a former teacher at Polkton.

They have a way at the college of teaching promptness at meal time. A bell is rung for ten minutes just before each meal and if you are not in the dining room within the time it is ringing or two minutes after it stops the doors are closed and you must do without. It was funny to see how everybody learned how to run, both maids and matrons.

Our class work consisted in lessons in Dress Designs, drafting of patterns, Landscape Gardening, House Furnishings, Dyeing, Millinery, Health, Pickling and Jelly Making. A class of 23 agents was taught by the agents from Anson and Lincoln counties, in canning. We gave a two hour lesson for five mornings in canning in tin, in glass, in preparing exhibits for State and County Fairs, commercial canning, in using steam pressure for canning and for cooking. At night lectures on literary subjects were given and recitals on the pipe organ and other instruments. The dress design lectures were given by Miss Brown from Pratts College, and were practical in every way.

What to do With Tomatoes. Soup Mixture—Five quarts tomatoes, two quarts, corn, 2 quarts okra, 2 tablespoonsful sugar, (level) 2 tablespoons salt (level). Scald and peel tomatoes, cutting out green or hard spots. Chop and measure. Cut young and tender field or sugar corn from cob. Slice okra in rings, 1-4 inch thick. Peel and quarter tomatoes. Place all in open agate kettle and boil until thick. Pour in No. 2 can while hot, seal and process one hour. Process a No. 3 can 1 1/2 hours. Process qt. jars 1 1/2 hours.

Tomato Ketchup—Select red-ripe tomatoes. The extra juice, small and broken fruit, which will not do for canning, may be used, if they are sound red. Use whole spices tied loosely in a bag while cooking, and remove before bottling to prevent darkening the product caused by the ground spices. Cook the tomatoes thoroughly, put through a colander or sieve, saving all pulp, and measure. For every gallon of pulp, use the following: 2 tablespoonsful of salt, 4 tablespoonsful of sugar, 1 tablespoonful of mustard (powdered), 1 pint of good cider vinegar, 1 level tablespoonful each of allspice, cloves, cinnamon, and pepper. 2 small red peppers, sliced and seed removed.

After putting tomatoes through colander, add the ground spices tied in bags, and cook for one and one-half hours, or until nearly thick enough, then add vinegar and cook until thick. Rapid cooking (being careful not to scorch the ketchup) will give better color than slow cooking. The finished product should have a fine, bright-red color. Sliced Green Tomato Pickle (Sweet). 1 gallon sliced green tomatoes, 6 large onions, sliced, 1 teaspoonful ground black pepper, 1 small red pepper, 2 tablespoons white mustard seed, 1/2 cup celery seed, 2 pounds brown sugar, 1 tablespoon allspice, 1 tablespoon cloves, pounded, and tied loosely in muslin bag. Sprinkle sliced tomatoes and sliced onions with salt. Let stand 4 hours in separate bowls, then soak in cold water 4 hours. Drain well, pressing out the water.

Put in porcelain kettle, mixing the mustard and celery seed, sugar and pepper, thoroughly with chopped ingredients. Cover with good vinegar to which the spices have been added. Boil slowly until quite soft and tender. This pickle is not good if removed from the fire before the tomatoes are tender. After cooking place in the jars with plenty of the prepared vinegar and seal while hot.

Mixed Pickles or Chow Chow. 3 large heads of cabbage, 1 quart of vinegar, 2 pounds of sugar, 1/2 ounce each of cloves, cinnamon, allspice and mace, 1 peck of green tomatoes, 1 dozen medium sized onions, 2 dozen cucumbers, 1 dozen green peppers.

Chop them separately and very fine. Mix all together and put in alternate layers of mixture and salt, using a cup full of salt. Let stand overnight. Then squeeze dry and cover with cold vinegar. Let it stand twenty-four hours and squeeze as before. Mix vinegar with snices, add sugar, boil for five minutes, then add vegetables and boil for five minutes. Pack in jars, garnish with strips of red pepper and cover with the boiling spiced vinegar. Seal immediately.

Dixie Relish. 1 quart chopped cabbage, 1 pint chopped white onion, 1 pint chopped sweet red pepper, 1 pint chopped sweet green pepper, 5 tablespoonsful salt, 4 tablespoonsful mustard seed, 2 tablespoonsful celery seed (crushed), 2 cups sugar, 1 quart vinegar. Chop all ingredients separately and measure the chopped cabbage, peppers and onions before mixing. Add spices, sugar vinegar and salt. Let stand overnight in enameled vessel. Next morning bring to a boil and cook five minutes. Pack in jars and seal while hot.

Spiced Tomatoes. 2 quarts tomatoes, skinned and sliced, 1/2 cup vinegar, 2 cups sugar, teaspoon of salt, 2 teaspoons mixed spices. Cook slowly until reduced 1/2. Seal while hot. This is good served with cold meats.

It is very necessary in making pickle, to use plenty of spiced vinegar. When filling jars, don't pack vegetables in tight, leaving but little room for the vinegar, as you will lose the fine pungent flavor. If the amount called for in the recipe should fail to cover all the ingredients, add enough to cover. Usually 10 minutes is long enough to cook the vegetables, as we wish to keep them crisp and brittle. Always seal while hot, using new rubbers, because when left in loosely sealed jars, the flavor dies out.

TO SHIP COTTON FOR MANUFACTURE UNDER TOLL PLAN IN EUROPE.

Mobile, Ala., July 31.—Announcement is made that the Warrant Warehouse company, operating large warehouses in Mobile, is prepared to handle 200,000 to 250,000 bales of export cotton out of this point this year to be manufactured in Europe under the toll plan.

Part of this cotton has already been shipped out of Mobile, two vessels having taken several thousand bales of staple. It is announced that the entire amount will be shipped to England before the end of the year and possibly half of it will be exported by September 1.

This arrangement was worked out, it is said, after the custom prevailing in the cotton states up to a few years ago when the farmer took his seed cotton to the ginner who ginned and baled it for him, and accepted as pay for this work a part of the seed cotton, usually about one pound in 15, or 100 pounds of seed cotton to the bale.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To my many patrons and friends who have heretofore favored me with their insurance business:

I wish to announce that I have accepted the General Agency for the Security Life and Trust Co., of Greensboro, N. C. The officials of the Security Life and Trust Co. were formerly officials of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co., at the time I was connected with that company as their local agent here. Due to my high regard for these officials and the pleasant relationship with them while they were with the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co., therefore when they organized the Security Life and Trust Co. I resigned my local agency with the Jefferson Standard and accepted the position of General Agent with the Security Life and Trust Co. I wish to say that I am better prepared than ever to serve all my friends and patrons and will be ready at all times to serve their needs.

For your information I wish to refer you below to a recent news item appearing in the Greensboro Daily Record, which gives a clear idea of the high estimation held by the home people of the officials of the Security Life and Trust Co.

SECURITY LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY

Organized a Little Over a Year Ago It Has Placed in Force Over Five Million Dollars Insurance. Growing Very Rapidly Under Direction of Insurance Men Thoroughly Qualified to Render the Best Service to the Public.

When an insurance company puts in force over five million dollars worth of insurance in a little over a year, it is an unmistakable indication of the worth of the company, of its soundness, of the business sagacity of the men at its helm and of the value it offers persons seeking the best in the most valuable article in the world—life insurance. Such an achievement could not have been possible unless the company showed from the very start of its organization that it offered the best in life insurance.

The Security Life and Trust company has made that record. Organized on March 22nd, 1920, its progress has been phenomenal. The youngest insurance company in the south, it is the fastest growing, and is adding at a rapid rate to the five million dollars insurance which it has already placed. It operates in North Carolina and has, within the last 30 days, opened South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. It has a capital of $150,000 and a surplus of $75,000 paid in cash. Its rapid gains are possible because of the highly efficient organization, made up of men long experienced in the insurance field and thoroughly acquainted with the principles of insurance and with the field in which they work.

George A. Grimsley is president of the company; C. C. Taylor is vice-president and general manager and W. T. Grimsley is secretary-treasurer.

George A. Grimsley was secretary and general manager of the Security Life and Annuity company, organized in Greensboro twenty-one years ago—the first successful life insurance company in the south not writing industrial business. In 1912 when the Security Life and Annuity, the Greensboro Life and the Jefferson Standard were consolidated under the charter of the Jefferson Standard, he was elected president of the consolidated companies and remained its active president until February, 1919, when he was elected chairman of the board of directors. During this time, C. C. Taylor was secretary of the Jefferson Standard. They sold their stock and resigned from their positions with the Jefferson Standard in February, 1920, to organize the Security Life and Trust company.

Mr. Grimsley has done more than any other man to demonstrate that life insurance companies can be built as well in the south as in any other place in the world. He was a member of the executive committee of the FORTY-THREE GALLONS OF CORN DUG UP WITH HOE Lexington Dispatch.

"Lend me your grubbing hoe, Mr. Bragg," suggested Prohibition Agent N. E. Ranes, of a prominent but perturbed citizen three miles east of Zebulon Sunday morning. Mr. Bragg didn't think much of lending grubbing hoes to prohibition agents, but he couldn't exactly refuse, and Mr. Ranes proceeded to grub up 43 gallons of as fine corn liquor as he has seen since he began still-busting.

Some of it was buried under a pig pen, some of it under the wood pile, some of it in one corner of the yard. Under another pig sty the volsteadizer found two excellent copper worms, and a little distance away from the Bragg house, 1,000 gallons of beer was found and destroyed. The liquor was stored in five gallon water bottles, and one keg that leaked a little. All of it was brought to Raleigh and poured in the sewer.

Mr. Ranes "Little Bird" sent him word that a visit to the Bragg house would be fruitful. Mr. Bragg was not a hospitable host, and when the officers arrived, he got out his gun and threatened to do some execution among them. They were firm, and the house was searched. Fourteen gallons were found concealed within the dwelling, and the rest of it was buried.

The officers were led astray by the find in the house, but the presence of so much beer brought them back and the grubbing hoe incident ensued. M. G. Bragg is a well known Wake county farmer. He was tried at the Spring term of Federal court and found guilty. Promises of a mending of his ways lightened the judgment, and he was let off with a fine of $50. He was cited to come again to the fall assizes and make answer for the 43 gallons.
