Cecelia Music Club Shows Miss Dover

On last Thursday afternoon the Cecelia music club tendered one of their members, Miss Helen Dover, bride-elect, a very beautiful concert, when they entertained in her honor at a miscellaneous shower, Mrs. Lee White having tendered her attractive home for the happy occasion.

A beautiful color scheme of yellow and white was used in the decorations. An elegant collation being served in the dining room.

Much fun and merriment was the result of the pen and ink sketches the members made of the bride, these being rare works of art, indeed, but the most delightful feature of the afternoon was when little Miss White, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee White, daintily dressed in white lingerie, appeared in a most effectively decorated automobile this being laden with many lovely and useful gifts for the bride, and with each gift was found a clever toast and good wishes for the honor guest. Mrs. White was assisted in receiving by her house guest, Miss Summerlin of Monroe, Mrs. W. B. Nix, and Miss Mae Kendall.

Items of Interest About Various Matters.

The Wisconsin Legislature has sidetracked prohibition for the time. Cold storage houses held 54,834,191 pounds of frozen poultry June 1, 487 per cent, or nearly five times greater than a year ago, according to a Department of Agriculture report.

D. W. Fields of Brockton, Mass., paid $53,200 for a five-months-old bull calf at the Holstein-Friesian Association Convention auction sale at Worcester, Mass. The seller was Oliver Cabana, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y. Denying rumors that nearly 2,000 young Americans fled to Mexico City to evade military registration, American Ambassador Fletcher said there were not more than 20 Americans of military age in the Mexican capital.

D. Henry Van Dyke, former American minister to The Netherlands, says that conditions in France both in respect to men and food are not so bad as reported. "France has not been bled white," said Dr. Van Dyke, "but she needs our help."

When John L. Litz, prominent Republican politician and wealthy coal operator, charged with treasonable utterances, was taken before a United States commissioner at Coeburn, Va., for a hearing, his case was postponed and was later dismissed for lack of evidence.

The Federal Trade Commission has issued an order requiring the A. R. Dick Company of Chicago to cease placing licensing restrictions on its mimeographs requiring purchasers to use only certain supplies manufactured by the Dick Company or one of its subsidiaries.

A bill with drastic provisions against deceleration of the American flag or its use for advertising has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Pomerene of Ohio, who said Federal prosecutions in some cases had found existing laws not broad enough. Penalties of a $1,000 fine and a year's imprisonment would be provided.

A dispatch from Roanoke, Va., says desultory guerrilla warfare has developed in that section from harbored resentment against Federal enforcement of the draft. Mountain men have fired from ambush at National Guard patrols and Department of Justice agents sent into the section following disclosures of a widespread plot to resist conscription.

The House of Congress last week rejected the conference report on the $3,281,294,641 war budget bill because of a $3,000,000 appropriation inserted by the Senate for the purchase of the old Jamestown exposition site and buildings and the construction of a naval base and training station there. An effort to gouge the government in the price was charged. The report was returned to conference.

A loan of $3,000,000 to Serbia and an additional loan of $75,000,000 bring the total of loans to allies up to $923,000,000. The Serbian loan, the first made to that government, is payable in three equal monthly installments. It will be utilized mainly in improving railway lines constituting military communications of the Serbian army. Some of it may go for relief of the distressed population of Serbia.

The Italian war mission has virtually completed its conferences with American officials and will leave this week for a farewell tour of the South and Middle West. Although no formal announcement of the results of the conferences was made, it is understood there was a complete agreement for co-operation between this government and Italy, including unstinted financial and industrial aid from the United States.

COTTON SEED FOR FOOD

Cotton Seed Crushers Would Do Their Bit.

A committee representing the Inter-State Cottonseed Crushers' Association, in Washington a few days ago, offered to the government the entire facilities of the organization for the period of the war. They also called on Herbert C. Hoover and emphasized the possibilities of the cotton yield as a food crop, and declared the government had underestimated its value in the food growing campaign.

Mr. Hoover was told that the cotton crop was one of the nation's best food sources and that an ordinary acreage in addition to the cotton staple would yield approximately 1,450,000,000 pounds of cotton seed oil, 2,225,000 tons of meal, 1,200,000 tons of hulls and 1,200,000 hales of linters, the latter invaluable for ammunition. Besides the great value of the meal for animal food, it was stated that recent experiments had shown 20 per cent of cotton seed flour mixed with 80 per cent of wheat or corn would make a palatable and highly nutritious bread, thus greatly reducing the demand on the corn and wheat supply.

In the 14 cotton States, the committee told Mr. Hoover, a saving of 100,000,000 bushels of corn could be made by mixing two pounds of cotton seed meal in the feed of each horse or mule. This would replace four pounds of the 14 pounds of corn fed each animal daily. The meal they said, was less than half the cost of corn.

The crop of 1915, it was said, produced 167,000,000 gallons of vegetable fats and butters, of which 987,794,000 pounds was converted into edible oils, cooking fats and butters. If one-third the oil now going into soap and cheap industrial products could be diverted into food products it would add $400,000,000 to 500,000,000 pounds of the nation's supply of fats.

Death Occurred Tuesday Evening — Funeral Services Wednesday.

A death which will be a source of keen sorrow to her many friends here, where she has a large family connection is that of Miss Lou Webb, an aged maiden lady of Beaver Dam section, who passed away at her home in No. 6 township on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. KING OF GREECE LEAVES THRONE

ABDICATES IN FAVOR OF HIS SON — CRISIS IN HELENIC KINGDOM'S AFFAIRS DATING BACK TO BEGINNING OF WAR.

Athens, June 12, via Paris—The fall of Constantine, king of the Hellenes, has come. In response to the demand of the protecting powers, France, Great Britain and Russia, he abdicated today in favor of his second son, Prince Alexander.

The climax in the affairs of Greece was brought about through the agency of the French senator, M. Jonnart, who has held posts in several French cabinets, and who arrived at Athens only a day or two ago on a special mission as the representative of France, Great Britain and Russia. M. Jonnart had previously visited Saloniki and other points, and he lost no time in getting into conference with Premier Alexander Zaimis. The demands of the powers respecting the abdication of King Constantine also specifically eliminated Crown Prince George as his successor, the crown prince being included among those in official life who were considered strongly pro-German.

Both the former king and Prince George, it was announced today by Premier Zaimis, intend to leave the country immediately. It is reported that they will embark on a British warship and proceed to Switzerland by way of Italy. It is presumed that Prince Alexander will take up his kingly duties with full acceptance of the ideas which the protecting powers desire to be put into effect in the government of Greece during the present war. He is twenty-four years old and has been free from anti-entente proclivities.

Trouble Since War Began

Affairs in Greece, which several times since the outbreak of the war had seemed on the verge of a settlement, recently have taken on such an aspect of uncertainty that it became necessary for the powers to act with decision. M. Jonnart was selected to proceed to Athens for the purpose of laying before the premier the aims which France, Great Britain and Russia had with respect to establishing unity of feeling among the Greeks and greater security for the entente forces engaged in operations in the east.

M. Ziamis recognized the disinterestedness of the powers, whose sole object was to reconstitute the unity of Greece under the constitution, but he pointed out to M. Jonnart that a decision could only be taken by the king after a meeting of the crown council, composed of former premiers.

It was not until 9:30 o'clock this morning that the premier communicated to the commissioner of the allied powers the king's answer in the following letter:

"The Minister High Commissioner of France, Great Britain and Russia: "Having demanded by your note yesterday the abdication of his majesty, King Constantine, and the nomination of his successor, the undersigned premier and foreign minister, has the honor to inform your excellency that his majesty, the king, ever solicitous for the interests of Greece, has decided to leave the country with the prince royal and nominates Prince Alexander as his successor."

"ZAIMIS."

Prior to the announcement of the king's decision, many Greeks, loyal to the crown, gathered for the protection of the sovereign. Monday night two thousand reservists formed a cordon around the palace in his defense, if that should be necessary, and a delegation, headed by Naval Commander Mavrominchaelis was received by Constantine and pledged the devotion of the army and the people to his cause. The king's only reply was an appeal that they should remain calm.

All efforts of agitators to start a manifestation failed, and the army officers announced their intention to obey the order of the government and take no part in any demonstrations and to maintain peace.

Agitators were still attempting to operate the streets of Athens tonight, but here were no disorders and everything leads to the belief that there will be none.

MRS. PEGRAM DEAD

Sister of Mrs. T. W. Ebeltoft of This Place Dies in Charlotte.

The many warm friends of Mrs. T. W. Ebeltoft of this place will sympathize with her deeply in the sad death of her sister, Mrs. Miles P. Pegram who passed away suddenly at her home in Charlotte early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Pegram had been in ill health for a number of years, but her death was altogether unexpected as she was well as usual on retiring the night previous, but was found at the foot of the stairs at 4 o'clock in the morning, unable to speak, and expired soon after her husband reached her.

Mrs. Ebeltoft and daughter, Miss Elizabeth left for Charlotte that afternoon, the funeral taking place Wednesday afternoon.

Registered Men May Enlist

Richmond Times-Dispatch. General Crowder, provost-marshal-general, has cleared up a point about which there should never have been any confusion, in ruling that a man who has registered may, before he is drafted, enlist in any branch of the service he may select. Such confusion on the question as existed arose, perhaps, out of the theory that, after having registered, each man was subject to whatever duty he might be assigned to, and that his right to select was held in abeyance until after the draft. Out of the 10,000,000 registered, however, only a percentage will be drafted. There is no reason why a man should not be allowed to make sure of doing service to which it is only possible he may be called.

Vessels Sunk

The weekly report of the British admiralty concerning British shipping losses by mines or submarines says that 15 vessels of 1,600 tons and over and three vessels under 1,600 tons and five fishing vessels were sunk last week.

This report, compared with that of the previous week, shows a decrease of three in vessels of 1,600 tons and over sunk, but an increase of two in the category of less than 1,600 tons. The previous week's report announced the sinking of 18 vessels of 1,600 tons and over, and of one vessel of less than 1,600 tons.

The new report shows an increase of three in the number of fishing vessels sunk—five as against two the previous week.

Unmarried Men Will be First Selected for Army

Washington, June 8.—America's single men will be the first selected for the new army. That married men will be free from the initial draft is virtually certain, though President Wilson has not yet announced exemptions. This does not mean married men are to be exempted as a class. If the time comes, however, when more men are needed than can be readily made up for the single men then there will be no bar to drafting the married men too.
