GOVERNMENT CHEATED

Senator Lewis Claims That Government is Cheated Out of 300 Millions Income Taxes.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Charges that the government has been defrauded out of $300,000,000 in income taxes evaded by the wealthy were made in the Senate today by Senator Lewis of Illinois, who declared the treasury department had the proofs.

Senator Lewis was speaking in support of Senator Gerry's amendment to the war tax bill to greatly increase taxes on great incomes.

"There has been inconceivable ingenious lying on the income tax schedules before the finance committee that would in other forums, subject those responsible to perjury," said he.

In the treasury department at this hour is proof of $300,000,000 swindled out of the government by fraud, perjury, deception and other different forms of commercial trickery on the income tax returns. If it had not been for a certain set of men, who prating loudly about patriotism and crying for war there would have been no necessity for levying the heavy burdens of this bill.

Senator Lewis also said that had this set of very wealthy men shown fidelity and honesty in making their income tax returns, the government would in past years have had ample funds for preparedness.

THE UNION PATRIOTIC

Prominent Farmers Union Man Dislikes Attitude of President Alexander in Time of War.

To the Editor of The Star: Our regular quarterly Farmers Union meeting came off Thursday and we had with us our president, Dr. Alexander who made a good talk in so far as he gave advice as to the duties of the Farmers Union, but in the wind up, he swung off into condemning the acts of Congress and the injustice of the selective draft which the best informed and law abiding element resent in so far as he abused our government. We want it distinctly understood that the best element of the Farmers Union in Cleveland county is going to stand by the administration and Woodrow Wilson.

Dr. Alexander advised the people to stand by the law, but what is the difference in violating or using language calculated to influence the passions of others which would make it irksome for others to abide by the law. We fail to see the consistency in the doctor's position. He seems to be laboring under symptoms of hallucination of the brain. Now we are informed by our ex-president of our county union who is now a resident of Rutherford county who heard him in his abuse of our president accusing him of being in league with the bankers in regard to the financial position he has taken in regard to the Federal Reserve act and the Farmers Loan Association. Now the doctor is not so ignorant but that he knows that laws enacted in regard to our financial system have been more in the interest of the poor farmer than all presidents since Washington and no one knows this better than Dr. Alexander. What is the matter with him? He rather has the ear marks of a straddler.

No man dreads war more than I do and hates to see our boys go into it, but we must abide by the laws of the land and since the war has come and we are in it, we must come out victorious by all means. The better we stand together, the sooner it will be over. It is not now the time to be quarreling among ourselves. There are only two ways to get out, one is to fight out, another is to run out. Which shall we do? We must be loyal to our government.

A dyed in the wool member of the Farmers' Union.

A Proclamation by the Governor

North Carolina is about to send twenty-five thousand men into battle. These men are making the supreme sacrifice that forever hereafter the wisdom of the many shall determine the decrees of nations. They go to make war on war. They go to destroy with the sword the government that maintains that the sword is, and of right ought to be, the final arbiter of a nation's rights.

When the government that defies war shall perish in war then war will come no more upon the earth.

It is fit that these guarantors of the world's peace should be sustained by the love and prayers of all good men:

Now, therefore, I, Thomas Walter Bickett, Governor of North Carolina, do request the people of the State: First, to assemble on Saturday, the first day of September, in township and school district meetings, and hold patriotic exercise in honor of the men we are sending to the front;

Second, on Sunday, September 2, let special religious services be held in all the churches in the State, and let all good men pray for the safety and success of the men who are going into battle that lasting peace may come upon the land;

Third, that on Labor Day, September 3rd, appropriate patriotic exercises be held in every county seat in the State and let the men who have been drafted into the public service be the guests of honor at these exercises.

Done at our city of Raleigh this the twenty-fifth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and in the one hundred and forty-second year of our American Independence.

T. W. BICKETT, Governor.

GREAT CROWD AT PATRIOTIC MEET

ESTIMATED ATTENDANCE WAS 1,500—ROUSING SPEECHES BY FIVE BRILLIANT SPEAKERS—COMFORT BAGS AND SUPPER FOR SOLDIERS.

About 1,500 people attended the patriotic rally on the court square Saturday night when an appropriate program was rendered, after a bountiful feed to the soldiers, supper being served by the ladies of Shelby. The boys were so well fed that the watermelon cut was postponed until yesterday. Judge J. L. Webb presided and the speaking was done from a platform erected in front of the Confederate monument where red, white and blue and large American flags were in evidence. Judge Webb referred to the fact that before war was declared there was time for discussion and opposition to the war, but since the President and Congress, the official representatives of the people, had seen fit to uphold the nation's honor, the chapter is written and it behooves every man to stand by the flag and be loyal and patriotic to the last degree. He introduced Congressman E. Y. Webb who said that the constitution is the rule and guide of this free people; that the president is the commander-in-chief of the army and navy and that Congress is invested with the power to declare war and was opposed to war and voted against the declaration, he thought he was representing the sentiment of his constituency and most certainly was voicing the conviction of his own conscience. Since the majority in Congress had seen fit to declare war, he has closed his mouth and stood by the administration in doing everything possible to bring the conflict to a successful termination. So he pleaded that there be no shirking of our duty to our country but go ahead and discuss the right and wrong of the war after it is over. He expressed the hope that none of the soldiers in his hearing would ever head the whiz of a bullet. He referred to what Congress has done for the comfort and protection of our soldiers at camps and hoped that the boys would shed glory and honor on the flag and themselves.

Hon. C. R. Hoey, assistant district attorney said we are standing by the flag that has never dipped before any flag on earth. The United States has entered this war with no malice, no idea of conquest, no disposition of aggression. We will drive Prussianism, her brutality and diabolical meanness forever from this earth. To the soldiers he said a noble death is preferable to an ignoble life and our nation will be refined by suffering and sanctified by the sacrifices we will make.

Mr. Gardner said this nation is the beacon light of liberty. We must renew our devotion to the flag because there never was a time when to be an American means so much. If you can't support this flag my admonition to you is to keep your mouth shut. The Kaiser's hand is dripping with blood from his murderous attacks upon helpless women and children and when the United States emerges from this war, his outrages will have been stopped and peace will have been established between nations. Then, Mr. Gardner presented the "comfort" bags made by the ladies of Shelby. These bags are for the soldiers and contain toilet articles which they will find of use when in camp. Into them the ladies have poured the deepest affection and tenderest love.

Dr. J. L. White said: we stand in the shadow of a monument representing the bravest men the world has ever seen and these boys who go forth to battle for liberty and humanity and justice are admonished to follow the splendid example set by our forefathers. Mr. White said there is not room enough in America for a disloyal citizen. With one mind and one heart we should support the war and bring it to a successful end. We haven't been rushed into war. It was after due deliberation and prayerful consideration. Our entrance will hasten the end and will bind up the wounds the war has made and will make. Said he, "I have dedicated three sons to our country's call and if they shed their blood on foreign soil, I'll go, if God lets me live, kneel beside their graves and thank God that they died for the cause of humanity."

Col. J. T. Gardner surpassed himself as a speaker. For 27 years he has been identified with the city's administration and before him stood the trees that were set out during his first administration and behind him ran the paved streets and shone the electric lights that were given to the town during his last administration. He was proud to claim Shelby as the best town in the world. It has been his policy if he couldn't say something good about a person not to say anything. He assured the anxious mothers and fathers of the boys under his command that they would receive good care and would be required to write home often. Loved ones were asked not to write discouraging letters to the boys but cheerful news from "back home." As to the danger to be encountered he referred to the fact that only five per cent of those engaged in battle are killed and 92 per cent of the wounded recover. Three times has Col. Gardner bid farewell to Shelby in going off to war and during this time only three Cleveland men in his command have died. His regiment will be composed of 3,600 men and he assured his hearers that every precaution will be taken to safeguard their lives and health, wherever they might be called.

Rev. Lee White opened the exercises with prayer, while Rev. C. A. Wood closed the rally with a beautiful prayer. Mr. Jelks who lead the singing rendered two solos and his choir sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "America." Mrs. White presided at the piano.

MEETING CLOSES

Forty One Additions to Baptist Church as Result of Meeting—Sunday School Picnic Next Sunday.

As a result of the meeting at the First Baptist church which closed Sunday night after a run of two weeks, there were 41 accessions to the church, bringing the enrollment up to 600. Six additions were by letter and 35 on profession of faith. The meeting was conducted by Dr. Lee White of Miami, Fla., assisted by the evangelist singer, Mr. James Jelks of Macon, Ga. The attendance was the largest of any meeting held at the Baptist church here and the spiritual good wrought by Dr. White and his excellent singer would have been well worth while had there not been a single accession to the church roll.

The Sunday School attendance Sunday morning was 467, twenty more than last Sunday which was a record within itself. To the class of Mr. B. T. Falls was awarded the banner for the largest percentage of increase during the contest. To Mr. Falls was awarded a crisp $25 bill to defray his expenses next Summer to the Baptist Seaside Assembly at Wrightsville.

Next Sunday the Sunday school and morning sermon will be held at Cleveland Springs, after which a basket dinner will be served. The Sunday School and church attendants will go out in automobiles.

Mr. Decker in New Jersey

Our popular paint artist Walter S. Decker has returned from a two week's trip to his former home in Sussex, New Jersey. On the occasion of his visit there the Sussex Independent says: "Among the visitors in town Thursday night and Friday was Walter S. Decker of Shelby, N. C. Walter was accompanied by his former friend and partner, John Foster of Brooklyn. The pleasure of their visit was much enhanced by an auto trip on Friday through the kindness of the old scout, Captain Northrup, who toured them through some of the interesting points of Sussex and Orange. Walter is doing good business in Shelby, for which he is a traveling booster of the most approved kind. He has made his home there for ten years. If all Shelby's residents are as loyal as Walter, the town would need no publicity bureau."
