SAM C. LATTIMORE, FOOD ADMINISTRATOR FOR CLEVELAND COUNTY ANNOUNCES WORKING STAFF

Every Citizen Ask'd To Meet In District School House Sat. Oct. 20th and Sign Pledge Cards To Conserve and Economise In Food - By Food and Fuel Shall The War Be Won.

To the Citizens of Cleveland County: "Not by blood and brains, not by shot and shells, but by food and fuel shall the war be won" said Mrs. Lemar, president of the Colonial Dames of America, Women's President of the National Council of Defense in her excellent address to the representatives of the County Councils of Defense in the State wide meeting held at Raleigh last week. Mrs. Lemar might have added that the women of America must solve the problem of food and fuel, for economy and conservation are peculiarly women's problems. Of course Mrs. Lemar meant by her statement that America and her allies have sufficient men and munitions to fight the enemy, but food and fuel must be obtained in sufficient quantities to enable the men to use the war material effectively.

In this fight for freedom the United States Government is calling upon every citizen to perform an extra amount of work and at the same time to consume less of certain foods. This can be easily done by substituting for certain foods easily transported in the trenches other foods not so easily transported to the trenches, yet containing necessary elements. The problem is clearly set forth in a card that will be given to every citizen of Cleveland County to be placed in the kitchen. Along with this Home Card, containing complete information and instructions, there will be handed every housekeeper a Pledge Card. After passing the Home Card you are urged to sign the Pledge Card and this is your bit for your country. When you have signed the Pledge Card you are required to place in a front window of your home the "Membership Card" which will indicate to all who pass your home that you have complied with the request of our government and that you are enrolled among those who are sharing the burdens of our nation at this critical moment.

Having been appointed Food Administrator for Cleveland County, I hereby call upon all the citizens to meet in the school building of their respective school districts on Saturday, October 20th, 1917, for the purpose of signing Pledge Cards which will be furnished then and there, also to discuss ways and means to increase and to conserve our food products. I also call upon all the ministers and Sunday School Superintendents of the county to lend their assistance in the several local churches in the matter of securing pledges. By the direction of the State and National Food Administrators, I urge you to reach upon this subject on Sunday, October 21st.

To the Chairman, both ladies and gentlemen, of all the Township Councils of Defense, I urge you to have one member of your Council at each school district on Saturday, October 20th, to assist the local committees in securing pledges. I also ask you to take up these pledge cards and forward them to me immediately at Shelby, N. C.

The following executive committee for Food Administration in Cleveland County has been named jointly by Henry A. Page, Food Administrator of the State, and myself: E. M. Gibney, Shelby, N. C.; Supt. Sixty doctors were present Monday at the meeting of the Seventh District Medical Society comprising the counties of Anson, Cabarrus, Cleveland, Gaston, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, Rutherford, Stanley and Union. Gastonia was selected as the next meeting place and Dr. W. F. Mitchell of Shelby was elected president, Dr. L. N. Glenn of Gastonia vice-president and Dr. S. R. Thompson of Charlotte secretary. Unfavorable weather somewhat upset the social side of the doctors' visit in Shelby, but an elegant luncheon was served in the Central Hotel dining rooms Monday night. The cool weather caused them to abandon the court house as a meeting place because of the shortage of coal and no heat, but they repaired to the school auditorium where a comfortable place was furnished for the several gatherings. At the conclusion of the program the visiting doctors gave a rising vote of thanks to the city of Shelby and the Cleveland County Medical Society for their royal hospitality.

The ceremony took place at five o'clock, Mr. Lassiter, the father of the bride, officiating, assisted by Mr. Moton, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church of Fallston. Immediately after the ceremony, refreshments were served which were enjoyed by all present.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lassiter of Fallston, and one of the most popular girls of the village. She is a graduate of Guilford College, receiving an A. B. degree at the commencement of 1916. The groom is an efficient employee of the Southern Railroad Company and is located at Walnut Cove, N. C. At six o'clock the bride and groom took a car for Shelby where they boarded the east bound Southern train for Walnut Cove, N. C., their future home. Speaking for the Liberty Loan
A country-wide speaking campaign by widely-known orators, including former President Taft, William J. Bryan, members of the cabinet and scores of other men prominent in public life, will feature the second week of the Liberty Loan campaign which began Monday.

Scores of members of both houses of Congress, stirred by Secretary McAdoo's appeal to enlist in the oratorical campaign for the loan, are making engagements for the vacation period of Congress. Most of them will appear in their own States and districts, feeling it their duty to point out the urgent need of the loan to their constituents, but many will accept outside dates. Billy Sunday has volunteered his services and will speak in California.

We are now selling four to six Favorite ranges a week. Better come now. Farmers Hardware Co.—adv.

ROB ROY QUARTETT

Splendid Lyceum Attraction Begins The Season—The Scotch Numbers Were the Features.

The concert by the Rob Roy Quartett, the initial number of the Redpath Lyceum course, given in the school auditorium Monday evening pleased a large audience. The young men who make up this quartet deserve the thanks of Shelby people for an evening of clean wholesome fun and out-of-the-ordinary music.

Some of the most enjoyed numbers were "The Lament" from Paganini and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" sung by Mr. Browne; the impersonations by Mr. Scott; several well-rendered quartettes; and especially the Scotch numbers, both quartets and solos. Everybody was charmed by Mr. McCallim's singing of "My Ain Folks" and other Scotch folk songs. Of course they gave "Annie Laurie," "Loch Lomond," and "Auld Lane Syne." Mr. McCallim is but recently come from his "Ain Country" and brings the breath of heather with him. His highland fling and other Scottish folk dances were perhaps the most popular numbers of the evening. The kilts and plaids brought to mind days of Rob Roy himself and made one wish to read again Sr Walter Scott's tales of Scotland. Did they not bring to mind also the regiments of Highlanders whose names have blazed with glory in the present war?

If the Rob Roy Quartet is a fair sample of the Lyceum course, holders of season tickets may congratulate themselves.

SUFFRAGETTE SPEAKER TOMORROW

Miss Younger of California to Speak on Shelby Court Square Tomorrow Afternoon—Speaks With Zeal and Enthusiasm.

By Miss Fendall: Miss Maude Younger of California, one of the most brilliant speakers in the suffrage movement, is making a speaking tour of the southern states in the interest of the National Woman's Party. She will come to Shelby on the thirteenth of October and address a meeting from the public square. Miss Younger is most democratic in her tastes and likes to speak before street meetings because in this way she is able to reach people who would very often not come into a hall, but will stop to hear what is being said on the street.

Miss Younger can not only give an account of what the women voters of her own state have done, but tells also of the political side of the suffrage issue as she has been in charge of the suffrage lobby before Congress of the Woman's Party for the past two years.

When the suffrage amendment was for so long a time held by the Judiciary committee, of which Mr. Webb is chairman, Miss Younger was regular attendant of the committee meetings so that she came to be known as the twenty-second member of the committee. This is only one instance of the zeal and enthusiasm which Miss Younger brings to the cause for which she fights.

Before coming to Washington to work for the federal suffrage amendment she had accomplished splendid things for the women in her own state. It was through her efforts that the eight hour law for working women was passed in California and through her tireless campaign that the women employed in restaurants in San Francisco secured the recognition of their union and secured better conditions under which to work.

As an orator also Miss Younger has won many laurels. She has spoken for suffrage in practically every large city in the country. She has on many occasions been chosen by great groups of women as their representative.

When the women voters came together to form the Woman's Party in 1916 she was the keynote speaker at the convention. She is the only woman who has ever made an address in the Statuary Hall of the Capital. This hall was loaned to the suffragists last Christmas to be used for the first time for any other than an official meeting to pay tribute to a dead president of high government official.

Miss Younger has a very charming personality which wins for her invariably the sympathy of her audience. She has a keen sense of humor which she displays in a delightful fashion when speaking. If there are any objections or questions asked in regard to what she says she is always ready and quick with a most convincing answer.

One of the leading suffragists in North Carolina wrote recently to the local organizer of the Woman's Party who has been arranging for Miss Younger's tour through the state, that she considered Miss Younger the finest speaker in the ranks of the organization.
