JERSEY SHOW AND SALE A SUCCESS

NOW 65 REGISTERED HEAD IN COUNTY

First Show and Sale of Jersey Cattle Breeders is Success From Every Standpoint

The Jersey cattle show and sale at W. H. Blanton's sale stables Saturday drew a large crowd of people and the bidding on the 11 head of registered Jerseys was very spirited, resulting in a most successful show and sale from every standpoint. The show and sale was promoted by the Cleveland County Jersey Breeders Association which is composed of prominent farmers anxious to place foundation cattle in the county so herds can be bred from the very best registered stock. The Jersey Breeders Association went to Lincoln and Catawba counties and purchased eight head which was sold at auction Saturday by Mr. Mike Austell, auctioneer. Some of the cattle sold were merit cows of the Hood farm of Meridale breeding.

Mr. J. A. Arey, state dairyman was present and judged the local cattle. Before the sale he told the farmers who filled the large lot at Blanton's barn how the registered cows can be made to produce revenue since the boll weevil is headed this way, reminding the farmers that the state of Wisconsin which is predominately a dairy state is the richest agricultural state in the union, made so by milk cattle. Cleveland county has two co-operative creameries which manufactured last year two hundred and eight thousand pounds of butter and since the boll weevil has been discovered in the county the farmers are showing much interest in securing better cattle that they might be prepared for the heavy loss which will likely be sustained from the weevil within the next two years.

The sale of the registered cattle resulted as follows:
Frank Cornwell, cow and calf $215.
Tom Cornwell, cow $170; heifer $75.
Cliff Beason, cow and calf $131.
George Patterson, cow and calf $135.
Oscar Wilson, cow $105.
Clint Wellmon, cow $97.
Cleveland County Home, bull $86.

Contributing to the success of the show, quite a number of local Jersey breeders had exhibits of registered stock which showed up well. The largest local exhibit was put on by Blanton Brothers who have a fine registered herd. Other exhibits were Lattimore Dixon, Lamar Davis, E. A. Dalton, W. H. Blanton, J. M. Gardner, Frank Cornwell, R. M. Gidney, J. P. Austell, making a total of 27 head of local Jerseys at the show.

KILLED IN A RUNAWAY IN FAR WESTERN STATE

Marion, Oct. 28.—Philip K. Lail, brother of John T. Lail, former prohibition agent of this county, was killed in a runaway accident near Spokane, Wash., one day last week. It seems that Mr. Lail was engaged in managing a farm in Washington and that a team which he was driving became frightened and ran away, killing the driver.

Mr. Lail was a young man, about 28 years of age, unmarried. He was a member of the American legion, and saw service during the world war. His untimely passing brought sorrow to the hearts of his relatives and friends in McDowell county and other sections. The remains are being brought to North Carolina and will be buried near Glen Alpine.

MONEY TO LOAN AT WASHINGTON

McLEAN ASKS BANKERS TO GET SHARE

Not Enough Applications for Loans from North Carolina to Aid Agriculture

By Theodore Tiller
Washington, Oct. 28.—In a memorandum of information prepared for North Carolina consumption today, Angus W. McLean, a member of the war finance corporation, shows that Tar Heel bankers and farmers are not yet fully availing themselves of the credit facilities of the federal government as an aid to agriculture and there still remains misunderstanding regarding the methods of making these agricultural loans.

As a Tar Heel on the war finance corporation, Mr. McLean is naturally interested in seeing that every legal and proper aid is extended to the bankers and farmers of his own state at the same time other states are receiving such benefits.

Independently of Mr. McLean's statement for the benefit of North Carolina banking interests, the war finance corporation made official an announcement today that it had approved an application for a $75,000 loan for agricultural purposes made by a North Carolina bank. This follows other advances recently made to Tar Heel banks and exporters.

Urging Them to Borrow
Mr. McLean said that he had mailed to every banker in North Carolina, the officers of the North Carolina Bankers' association and members of the state corporation commission pamphlets and information printed by the corporation showing how prospective borrowers should proceed to obtain advances from the corporation.

He explained that in North Carolina there still appeared to be the impression that this government aid could be extended only through banks that are members of the federal reserve system. This impression is entirely erroneous, Mr. McLean said, and the relief which Congress authorized the war finance corporation to extend to agriculture is in no wise connected with the reserve system. State banks may apply for loans as well as national banks and exporting firms.

Mr. McLean spoke of the danger of dumping cotton and tobacco on the markets because of the recent rise in prices. If these increased prices should cause a stampee of selling, he logically suggested, prices may be expected to fall and the tobacco and cotton producers will suffer through another slump.

Instead of heavy marketing, Mr. McLean says the marketing should be made to extend over a period of six to 10 months, and this orderly process of selling may be accomplished by extension of credits to banks and by banks to producers and dealers, with the war finance corporation assisting. The chief purpose behind the amendment of the finance corporation act was to make possible orderly marketing through the extension of long time credits.

Mr. McLean indicated the sympathy of the corporation with agriculture, its desire to extend every consistent credit to banks and exporters, and his own personal desire that North Carolina financial institutions shall not hesitate to apply for loans for agricultural relief purposes.

Under the law loans cannot be made by the federal government to individuals, but such loans can be obtained through banks, national and state, and exporting associations.

SOCIETY Club

The Two Literary Departments of Woman's Club to Meet Thursday

The afternoon division of the Literary Department of the Woman's club will convene Thursday afternoon with Mesdames Grover Beam and Z. J. Thompson at the latter's home on Morgan St., while the night division will meet with Miss Mattie Beam at her home on the Fullston road, the play, "The Merchant of Venice" being the study subject for both occasions.

Young Woman's Bible Class Delightfully Entertained

On Thursday evening at her home on South Washington street Miss Elizabeth Roberts was hostess at a combined business and social meeting of the Young Woman's Bible class of Central Methodist church. The guests upon their arrival were directed to the South parlor, which was tastefully decorated with lovely fall flowers, jack-o-lanterns, cats, witches, and other suggestions of Halloween.

One feature of the meeting was the reorganization of the class after the summer months. Mr. D. Z. Newton, teacher of the class, presided at the business meeting, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Elizabeth Roberts; 1st vice president, Mrs. Ethel Cline; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Edith Heymer; secretary, Miss Mary Harris; treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Hicks.

After the business part of the meeting had been dispensed with, the guests entered very enthusiastically into an attractive contest which had been arranged by the hostess. After which they found their appointed places at the tables scattered about the room for the merry game of "witches" by means of attractive Halloween score cards.

At the conclusion of the game the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. Frank Roberts, and Miss Carobel Lever served salad and fruit punch.

During the evening Miss Parrish delightfully entertained with a well rendered piano solo, and Miss Cline sang "Rosalie."

Delightful Dinner Party Given for Bride-Elect

One of the prettiest of the many lovely hospitalities that have been accorded Miss Frances McBrayer, a charming November bride-to-be was the six o'clock dinner party given by Miss Mary Griffin last Thursday evening at her home on South Washington street, the bride and her lovely maids being the guests.

The beautiful dining room was gaily decorated in the Halloween colors yellow and black, and the table was covered with yellow and black crepe table cloth decorated with witches, black cats and pumpkins. A large smiling pumpkin filled with delicious fruits and surrounded by candles formed the effective centerpiece.

Places were laid for eight at the elegantly appointed table, and a delicious five course dinner was served by Misses Marjorie Suttle and Eugenia Holland who were uniquely dressed in witches costumes. The bride, upon taking her seat at the table, found an interesting looking yellow package, which when opened was found to contain a handsome celery set, a gift from the hostess.

Those seated around the dinner board were the hostess mother, Mrs. J. C. Griffin, Mesdames Ernest Hoey and Charlie McBrayer, the bride and her maids, Mesdames Esther Suttle, Dorothy Dover, Sarah McMurtry, the hostess herself completing the number.

Mrs. Holland Hostess to Chicora Club

At her lovely home on North Lafayette street Mrs. L. P. Holland was a charming hostess to the members of the Chicora club at their regular meeting Friday. The rooms were thrown en suite and appropriately decorated in attractive Halloween symbols, black cats, jack-o-lanterns, and pumpkins being everywhere in evidence, as well as a wealth of beautiful chrysanthemums. The club, which has been making a study of Alaska for the past two meetings concluded this interesting subject at this session, the following program being splendidly carried out:

Roll call—current events.
Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes—Mrs. J. J. Lattimore.
Adventures of a Missionary in an Alaskan Gold Camp—Mrs. J. T. Gardner.

Cities: a—Sitka—Mrs. L. F. McBrayer, b—Nome—Mrs. E. O. Gee, c—Skagay—Mrs. Mary E. McBrayer.
During the social hour the hostess, assisted by her sisters, Mesdames L. F. McBrayer and S. A. McMurtry served an elaborate salad course and hot chocolate.

The invited guests beside the regular members were her mother, Mrs.

C. B. Suttle and Mesdames John and Julius Suttle.

Civic Department to Meet Thursday Afternoon in Rest Room

The Civic Department of the Woman's club will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Rest room at the court house, and all members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Mac Wilkins to Entertain Music and Art Department of Woman's Club

The Music and Art department of the Woman's club will hold its regular meeting with Mrs. Mac Wilkins on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Central Methodist Intermediate Sunday School Class Enjoy Delightful Halloween Celebration

In celebration of the Halloween season, Mrs. C. R. Hoey superintendent, and her able corps of teachers in the intermediate department of Central Church Sunday school, arranged one of the most delightful social affairs of the season for the pleasure of these young Sunday school workers last Friday evening in the Sunday schools rooms.

The rooms were gaily decorated in all the clever symbols of the occasion and pretty autumn leaves added their beauty to the Sunday school auditorium. Following the devotional exercises and program, many unique and fun making games had been arranged, among which was a shadow contest representing Biblical characters as well as the more modern ones.

At the conclusion of the evening's pleasure tempting refreshments were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Webb Hostess for Bride-Elect

Honoring her niece, Miss Frances McBrayer, charming bride-elect, Mrs. Carl Webb gave one of the most delightful of the many beautiful affairs of which Miss McBrayer has been the recipient since the announcement to Mr. Flay Hoey.

The Webb home, one of the handsomest in the city, was beautifully arranged in a color note of pink and green, the bride chosen colors. Pink dahlias and numerous handsome potted plants lending their beauty to the ensemble.

Six card tables were scattered about the rooms and progressive nook held the interested attention of the guests throughout the afternoon, each table being decorated with a dainty little fern. At the conclusion of the game, Mrs. Lena Gilman was found to have made the top score and was the recipient of a dainty handkerchief, while the honoree was presented two beautifully hand embroidered towels.

As souvenirs of the happy occasion each guest was presented a lovely rose cup filled with pink and green mints, the handiwork of the hostess herself. In serving an elegant and elaborate salad course the hostess was assisted by two sisters, Mesdames, C. R. Doggett, Charlie McBrayer and Mrs. Fred Morgan.

McBrayer - Hoey Wedding Invitations Issued

Invitations which read as follows have been received:
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coleman McBrayer invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter, Frances to Mr. Flay Henkle Hoey on Wednesday, November sixteenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one at eight thirty o'clock, First Baptist Church, Shelby, N. C.

This wedding of one of Shelby's most prominent and popular young couple promises to be one of the most brilliant social events in the history of our city.

Graded School Teachers Entertained by Tenth Grade

The pupils of the tenth grade of the Shelby Graded school were royal young hosts on last Friday evening, entertaining at the school auditorium in honor of the High School faculty and the new teachers in the other departments.

The halls and rooms were beautifully decorated in autumn flowers, and symbols of the season, black cats, jack-o-lanterns, pumpkins and yellow shaded candles presented the desired weird appearance to the ensemble. The receiving line consisted of the class officers, teachers and chairmen of the various committees.

As the guests arrived they were ushered to the punch table over which Miss Margaret King graciously presided, the punch bowl being a gipsy pot prettily arranged with ropes of ivy from which was dispensed this most refreshing beverage. In another corner, Miss Alice Moss costumed as a real gipsy fortune teller presided, foretelling good fortunes to all the guests.

Many interesting and exciting games followed and at a late hour a delicious course of refreshments were served.

WILL ASK NO. 6 TO VOTE FOR BOND ISSUE

TO BUILD HOSPITAL IN TOWNSHIP

Since Benefits are General, This Plan of Placing Burden on all is Recommended

A bond issue to be voted on in No. 6 township for a general hospital was decided on at a meeting of the canvassing committee together with several representatives of the other hospital committee on plans, etc. in the director's room of the First National Bank Thursday night. It was decided that this is the most feasible plan to build a hospital since the burdens and the benefits are equally distributed upon all classes. Chairman O. M. Mull was instructed to appoint a committee of five to decide on the amount of money necessary to build and equip a hospital and have the same introduced at the special session of the General Assembly in December this year. A new registration will be necessary and it is thought that an election can be held on the proposed bond issue, sometime in January.

The canvassing committee set to work early last week trying to get subscriptions for stock on the first plan outlined, and found plenty of zeal, but shortage of big subscriptions. So many of the men who are charitably inclined and make liberal subscriptions to all public affairs, declared that they had gone their limit on the Cleveland Springs project and thought it would be burdensome to call on them again for a hospital since they would receive no more benefit than other citizens. It was felt, therefore, that rather than burden two or three hundred subscribers, it would be fairer to ask the citizens of No. 6 township vote a bond issue and build the institution. In No. 6 township the property valuation is between seven and eight million dollars, so a tax of a few cents on the $100 property valuation would not unduly burden any tax payers and those most able to pay would pay the most.

The sentiment of many of the leading men in the township has been sounded and all seem settled on the bond issue proposition. Some feel that the county as a whole should vote for the hospital, but rather than ask other townships to join in and perhaps generate a bitter feeling toward the hospital by opponents of the bond issue, it was the sentiment of the dozen or more prominent ladies and men present that No. 6 would be generous enough to take the lead and build the institution.

It is felt that all of the churches, fraternal orders, Sunday Schools, etc. will pledge themselves in favor of the hospital and that the members will co-operate and work for the bond issue when the time comes.

Some of the biggest property owners outside of the incorporate limits of Shelby have felt this bond proposition is the better plan and have declared their support and expressed a willingness to work for the election.

DR. ONSLOW NOLAN IS LOCATED AT RANLO

Dr. James Onslow Nolan, one of the several brilliant sons of Shelby, is located at Ranlo in Gaston county for the practice of medicine.

Dr. Nolan has been there for several weeks and has made a fine start, being popular with the people of that community and regarded by some of the best equipped and best equipped young physicians in the county. He was graduated at Wake Forest College with a Bachelor of Science degree and later attended Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia which is considered one of the best medical colleges in the United States. His many friends in Cleveland will rejoice in the rapid advancement he is making at his new location, which is a fine opening for a young physician with the knowledge and personality which Dr. Nolan possesses.

REV. REINHARDT COMING TO THE BELWOOD CIRCUIT

Rev. B. H. Reinhardt of Maiden, N. C. is coming to the Belwood circuit to succeed Rev. Dwight W. Brown who has been sent to the West End Methodist church at Gastonia. The conference appointments showed that Rev. A. R. Surratt of Kannapolis had been assigned to this work, but Mr. Surratt could not come on account of the delicate condition of his wife's health and other reasons "not necessary to mention." This is important work and it is understood that Mr. Reinhardt is well qualified to follow in the footsteps of that splendid young man Rev. Dwight W. Brown who was so energetic and popular on this charge. Mr. Reinhardt is a young man with a family and will probably report this week to his new duties.

STRIKE ON ROADS IS CALLED OFF

NO MORE CUTS FOR A YEAR

Railroad Chiefs Tell Their Men Not to Stop—All Sides Seem Satisfied With Solution

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The official recall of the rail strike orders issued by the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen was dispatched today when leaders of the "Big Five" flashed code messages to their general chairmen. The chairmen will submit the messages to the locals and the official order recalling the strike will thus permeate the country in a few hours.

Similar orders probably will be dispatched today by the telegraphers' organization, the only other union that had voted to participate in the strike, scheduled to begin Sunday and which had threatened to tie up the nation's transportation facilities.

While these orders are being circulated the United States Labor Board which played an important part in the final decision of the unions, will today announce its findings as a result of the public hearing Wednesday, at which union leaders and railroad executives testified. This declaration, it was expected, would analyze the situation and its outcome, the Board, according to one member, feeling the matter was now out of its hands.

With the announcement this morning of the official resolution calling off the strike order, union leaders summoned here for the Labor Board's hearing and who remained to take the action ending the threatened strike, were preparing to depart for their homes.

The vote ending the strike came last night after the all-day sessions of the union leaders. Early in the day, general chairmen of each of the five organizations conferred separately. In the afternoon, a joint session was held which was addressed by Ben W. Hooper, of the Labor Board, Mr. Hooper's appearance before the Board is said by union leaders to have marked the turning point which led to the final decision.

No Cuts for a Year

Mr. Hooper is said to have stressed the Board's announcement that no further wage cuts for any class of employees will be considered until working conditions for that class of employees have been settled. He is also said to have emphasized the announcement of the rail executive made at Wednesday's hearings that no changes in either wage or working conditions will be sought, except through the Labor Board as provided by law. Union men said they construed Mr. Hooper's remarks as indicating that nearly a year must elapse before further wage cuts could be made effective, even if the roads should apply for them at once and the Board should eventually approve them.

Both points are said to have been highly instrumental in determining the final decision of the union men who adjourned the afternoon session to hold a long night meeting.

While the vote by organizations was said to have been unanimous, union men asserted today that the vote in the various unions was close and that the firemen, in particular, long remained obdurate.

MRS. J. R. SCROGGS WILL BE BURIED HERE TODAY

Mrs. J. R. Scroggs, widow of Dr. J. R. Scroggs, former presiding elder in the Western North Carolina Conference and pastor of Central Methodist church of this place will be buried in Shelby today, the funeral services to be conducted at Central Methodist church at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Scroggs died at her home in Asheville Monday morning at 4 o'clock following a protracted illness during which time she received several strokes of paralysis. The news of her death was received in Shelby Monday morning by Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hennessee, staunch friends of the family. Dr. Scroggs was buried here three or four years ago and his beside wife will be interred beside him. Both Dr. and Mrs. Scroggs had many friends here and her funeral will no doubt be largely attended.

Her body was taken upon its arrival last night to the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hennessee on West Marion street where it was reviewed by many friends. Surviving are three children, Mrs. R. W. Fortune and Miss Stella Scroggs of Asheville and Mr. Clarence Scroggs, city editor of the Winston-Salem Journal.

N. C. Bank Gets $75,000

Washington, Oct. 28.—Approval of an advance of $75,000 to a North Carolina bank for agricultural purposes was announced tonight by the war finance corporation.
