BAPTISTS COLLECT $25,000,000 CASH

REDEMPTION OF PLEDGES. ENCOURAGING—SOUTH-WIDE PROGRAM IS LAUNCHED.

COMPLETE GREATEST YEAR

Reports to Southern Baptist Convention at Chattanooga Show Marked Progress Along Every Line of Organized Work.

DR. J. H. RUSHBROOKE
Baptist Commissioner For Europe.

Collections in cash totaling $25,103,424.64 have been made for general causes fostered by the Baptist 75 Million Campaign since the campaign was launched in 1919, according to a report to the Southern Baptist Convention, which has just adjourned its Chattanooga session, by Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director of the campaign, and chairman of the Conservation Commission. The fact that $12,924,943.60 of this amount was collected during the past year, under the most depressing conditions known in years, is very encouraging to the denominational leaders, they say.

Will Seek the Unsaved.
Feeling the need of conserving the spiritual interests of the people as well as the financial aspects of the campaign, the convention asked the Conservation Commission to seek to enlist, through the state and associational organizations, all the 27,000 local Baptist churches in the South in a larger evangelistic effort during the next twelve months, the aim being to induce as many individual members of the churches as possible to win at least one soul to Christ during the year.

Would Evangelize Europe.
One of the interesting actions of the convention was the decision to back up fully the Foreign Mission Board in its program for the evangelization of the new European territory of Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Hungary, Roumania, the Ukraine and Southern Russia. Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, of London, Baptist Commissioner for Europe, addressed the convention, telling how he had distributed the relief funds contributed by Baptists for the needy families of those countries and how the giving of this relief had opened wide the door of missionary opportunity.

Work on the older foreign fields during the past year was unusually successful, the board reporting successful of $2,404,938 for its missionary receipts and $278,000 for relief operations, as well as $100,000 worth of work, as 18 baptisms on the foreign field; 18,000 of the 611 churches self-supporting, with a total of 405 foreign missionaries and 978 native workers employed.

Home Mission Board Active.
The Home Mission Board reported 77,073 additions to the churches through its instrumentalities, and extension operations of $1,248,600, and 288 patients treated at the Tubercular Sanatorium at El Paso.

During the year the receipts of the Sunday School Board reached $1,147,721.73, and the board turned over in general work of the denomination the sum of $189,000.

Although only three years ago, the Relief and Annuity Board, which seeks to supply the needs of aged, dependent ministers and their families, has doubled the number of beneficiaries receiving aid from the denomination as well as the amount of relief given. It now has permanent resources in excess of $900,000.

There are 119 Baptist educational institutions in the South, with a total enrollment of 40,000 pupils, the report of the Education Board showed, and 2,185 of these pupils are preparing for special Christian service, such as the ministry, missionary and other special religious work.

The Woman's Missionary Union, representing the organized women of the South, reports a total of 19,485 organized societies of women and young people, while the cash contributions by the women to the various causes fostered by the denomination during the year amounted to $2,115,437.

THE MEDICINE BOTTLE.

"If you think my life is a pleasant one," said the Medicine Bottle, "I'll tell you from the start that it isn't."

"In the first place I was in the doctor's office. I saw the people quake and shake when they were told they had to take some bitter medicine. I don't suppose they really shook as much as I thought they did, but I was standing quite still at the time and they seemed to make a great deal of fuss."

"Then I heard someone say, 'Doctors give us horrible stuff. When we think we're sick enough. But after all they make us well. And this fact, too, I think we should tell.'"

"Then someone else said, 'I wonder if the doctor has taken the medicine bottle which must be shaken. It's hard to swallow it and he held it by the nose. While we get down the horrible dose.'"

"Such are the things I've heard," said the Medicine Bottle.

"Did all the people speak like that asked the little White Pills."

"They didn't speak in rhyme like that," said the Medicine Bottle, "but those were the things they said which I've changed into rhymes."

"A medicine bottle must have something to cheer it up at times. Yes, I'll tell you my life is not a pleasant one. I'm never greeted with a smile. Fancy that, White Pills! I'm never greeted with a smile. I'm always greeted with a scowl, and with tears and usually with a fumble."

"No one likes me! It is too bad! I'm an empty I am filled up again, but I have a horrid life."

"Now you're not bad to take at all. People take you very easily and without complaint in the least. You are so easy to take."

"You can be swallowed down with a drop of water and no one can taste you."

"I'd think, Medicine Bottle," said the White Pills, "when you're being taken folks can be pretty sure they're getting something whereas with tasteless pills, as we are, it doesn't seem as though we amount to anything."

"Oh," said the Medicine Bottle, "it is good of you to cheer me up. But I can't very well be cheered up."

"I sit on the mantelpiece and three times a day taken down and shaken as though they'd like to kill me. I do believe, and then with groans or tears or complaints I'm swallowed. Or rather, some of the medicine from me is swallowed."

"And the faces that are made about me! Oh, they're awful! Truly, awful faces are made up because of me!"

"Now you are taken without all that fuss. You do good even if you don't taste bad."

"But I taste so bad that no one can appreciate me, or rather the medicine in me."

"It's a terrible life that I lead! And when I am emptied I will be filled again. Or for a time I may sit about with a lot of other ugly medicine bottles, and we'll all be put on a shelf that sees very little life, and there we'll gather dust."

"We'll stay there, some of us with a little medicine left in us and outside of us as well, until we're wanted for refilling."

"I started from a doctor's office, and here I am in this house."

"Goodness only knows when I'll go back to the old shelf again. I wish the doctor would take me back. I never did the doctor any harm."

"I helped him all I could. All I knew how! But oh dear, life is very hard when one has to go through it and be scowled at wherever one goes."

"And the very worst thing about it is that I wouldn't really have a great deal of respect or admiration for any one who smiled at me, for it would show they had wretched taste. Yes, that is the saddest part of my sad story! I may do good, but oh, the medicine that I hold, tastes too horrid for mere words to describe!"

Wheat Gets Thrashed.
"Now, Edwin," said the Sunday school teacher to a member of the juvenile class, "which would you rather be—the wheat or the tares?"

"The tares," answered Edwin.

"Why?" asked the teacher in surprise. "How can you say that when you know wheat represents the good and the tares the bad?"

"Oh, that's all right," replied the precocious youngster, "the wheat gets thrashed and the tares don't."
