FIRST NATIONAL BUYS MILLER BLOCK FOR ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Deal Is Largest In Business Property In Shelby's History—Home for First National on First Floor With Offices on Upper Floors.

For the sum of $100,000 the First National bank directors at a special meeting Saturday night decided to purchase the Miller block, corner of Warren and LaFayette streets on which will be erected a six-story fire proof banking building that will cost between $150,000 and $200,000, according to an announcement made yesterday by President C. C. Blanton of the First National bank. This is the largest deal in up-town business property in the history of Shelby and the building to be erected on the corner of the Miller block will be the tallest, largest and most expensive business property in Shelby, a building that will be a credit to the town and a monument to First National expansion.

Plans for the building have not matured and it may be a year or more before actual construction is begun, but Mr. Blanton states that the entire first floor will be used by the First National and be the last word in convenience and suitability banking purposes.

The upper floors will be made into offices which the bank will rent to lawyers, dentists, doctors and business men. The building will be fire proof, have elevator service, steam heat and everything else to make it strictly modern in every respect.

For some time this contemplated development on the part of the First National has been rumored, but no definite steps were taken until Saturday night when the directors voted unanimously to buy the Miller block and develop it as a home for this banking institution. The present quarters of the bank have been too small and for some time larger quarters have been needed. The First National is perhaps the strongest banking institution in a town Shelby's size in the south. It has a capital and surplus of a half million dollars and total resources running well over three and a half million dollars. Mr. Blanton, the president, as well as the entire personnel of the institution, are forward looking business men who see a great future for the bank and for Shelby and Cleveland county. President Blanton is a wide-awake business man who knows the banking business from A to Z and has gained a reputation far and wide for having built an institution with three and a half million dollars in total resources in a town the size of Shelby.

The Miller block was bought about three years ago by Chas. C. and George Blanton and Avery W. McMurry for $90,000 from A. C. Miller. C. C. Blanton first owned one-half while George Blanton and A. W. McMurry owned one-fourth each. Late C. C. Blanton purchased George Blanton's one-fourth interest, leaving him owner of three-fourths with A. W. McMurry one-fourth owner.

Just what space the new building will cover has not been decided. Officials of the First National have been visiting some of the modern banking homes in the Carolinas getting ideas on construction and architects have been consulted, but it will be some time before the details of the plan are worked out. Mr. Blanton, states, however, that the construction of the new six-story banking and office building will be commenced sometime next year.

SHELBY AND POMONA IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAME AT DAVIDSON

Shelby will meet Pomona at Davidson Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to play for the championship of Western North Carolina. A large crowd of Shelby fans will go with the high school boys in an attempt to bring home the western title. McKee or Dedmond will start for the locals.

Shelby has won four games in the championship series, scoring 55 runs to 6 scored by opponents, winning from Newton, Waynesville, Salisbury and Charlotte, in the order named. Pomona has defeated Greensboro, Trinity, Reidsville and Winston-Salem.

Thirty-two teams entered the western championship series. Pomona and Shelby are the only ones left and when the last half of the final game is over today one of them will have been eliminated. The other will have the title. Guley's underlings think Pomona will be the club to be eliminated.

Efforts were made to have the game played at Gastonia Wednesday, but Pomona would not agree to this.

Davidson is some further away but indications are that many Shelby folks will go along with the boys.

Golden McSwain Is Drowned In Well

Forest City Courier. Shockingly tragic was the death of Mr. Golden McSwain, young farmer of near Mt. Pleasant, when last Thursday morning he crashed through a well top into ten feet of water, 65 feet below. Member of the family saw him fall, but he drowned before assistance could be rendered.

The accident occurred about 7 o'clock in the morning. Mr. McSwain had gone to draw a bucket of water, and it is presumed that he swooned or suffered some fainting spell, when he fell against the well top, and crashed through to his death.

The alarm was hastily given and neighbors came to the assistance of the stricken family. The body was recovered over an hour later by fastening a rope to the lifeless form.

Mr. McSwain was well known in that section. He was unmarried and made his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Landrum McSwain. He was about 35 years old.

The untimely death of the young man is deeply deplored and cast a shadow of grief over the entire community.

Cliffside Boy Killed With "Unloaded Gun"

Forest City Courier.

Another tragedy was added to the long list attributed to the "unloaded" gun, when at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon Furman Hill was shot and instantly killed by Grant Duncan at the Hill boy's home, near Cliffside, while three boys were playing "police."

Grant and Glenn Duncan were visitors at the home of the Hill boy. Some one proposed that they play "police." The three boys entered into the game with Hill playing chief with a pistol and badge. The two Duncan boys were provided with shot guns. After playing a while, the boys put away the guns, but later resumed the game.

The Hill boy is said to have then locked the two Duncan boys in a room—aiming to have put them in jail. When later he opened the door to release them, the elder Duncan boy pointed his gun and pulled the trigger. To his horror, the gun exploded the full load of shot striking young Hill in the face, killing him almost instantly. The boys, of course thought all the guns were unloaded.

Furman Hill was about 16 years old, and the son of Mr. Mat Hill well known farmer of near Cliffside. Glenn and Grant Duncan, aged 8 and 12, are sons of Mr. Bob Duncan, an employe of Cliffside mills, living on Mill street.

There was no one except the boys at the Hill home when the tragedy occurred. The Duncan boys immediately gave alarm, but there was no help to be rendered, as young Hill's death was almost instantaneous.

The grim tragedy cast a pall of gloom over the entire community and is deeply deplored. Both families are well known and have the deepest sympathy for all.

A verdict of accidental shooting was returned by the coroner's jury. The burial of Furman Hill took place at Mt. Pleasant church in the presence of a large crowd Monday afternoon.

CHINA NOTIFIES BANDITS SHE ACCEPTS PROPOSALS

The ministry of communications received a message Sunday from its representatives at Lincheng, China, that the government has notified the bandits of its agreement to their terms. The bandits, therefore, propose to release half the captives, holding the others as hostages.

The American, French and Italian consuls have jointly notified their legations from Lincheng that they received a message from the bandit chief named Wen, dated 1 a. m., May 12, stating that if his terms were not complied with in two days, every captive would be killed.

The consuls added that the messengers from the Peking authorities were then with the bandits, having crossed the messenger on the way. As the terms include the drawing off the troops and the troops are not pressing the bandits, the consuls believe the captives are not in danger.

CHARLOTTE LOSES TO SHELBY, 9 TO 0

McKee Inevitable and Shelby Wins in a Walk-away—Two Charlotte Tossers Swamped.

Shelby won from Charlotte at Gastonia Friday afternoon, 9 to 0, and thereby gained the right to meet Pomona, who, on the same day, licked Winston-Salem, 4 to 2, for western championship honor.

The following verbatim account of the game, written by a staff correspondent, who was evidently either in a terribly big hurry or tremendously agitated over the results, appeared in the Charlotte Observer Saturday:

It is a sad and sorrowful tale that I have to unfold how Charlotte went down in utter defeat by the Shelby high, at Gastonia this afternoon, they were buried so deep that they will not sprout again during 1923.

Shelby outhit and outplayed the Charlotte boys in every inning of the game, and the agony finally ended with the score standing 9 to 0 in favor of Shelby.

The game was played on a dusty field with a high wind, before 80 spectators, and I believe 799 of these were from Shelby.

McKee was inevitable, and had the Charlotte boys eating out of his hand from the start, he gave up four small hits, and fanned 18 men.

Clontz was sent to the showers in the sixth, after he had given eight hits, and two men scoring on him and a man on second and third, they were sent in, when no one was out, rather than more clean hits off him and Ford gummed up the whole works by erroring a grounder which went through him, and out to the outfield fence, allowing a complete out by McKee with two men scoring ahead of him.

Charlotte made several desperate efforts to stage a battling rally, but could not connect with McKee's delivery. The best they could do was to get a man hit, but were unable to advance him.

Our hats are off to Dick Gurley's boys, they played an almost perfect game, only making two errors that were not in the least expensive, and were in no danger at any stage of the game, we have to hand it to them, though of course there was a feeling of disappointment when our boys did not win, but to the inevitable, an "only say that we hope that Shelby will keep the championship in this section of the state.

WATERING THE PUBLIC

Gastonia Gazette. Cleveland county commissioners and officials of the town of Shelby have agreed on a water that is of great civic importance. They are providing a public watering place on the court square, says the Star.

Visitors in town hesitate to go into stores and homes to secure water. There is no way to cool the city water during the hot summer months, consequently a deep well is thought to be the best and most satisfactory water that can be provided because it will always be fresh and cool with a constant flow.

No order has been passed to this effect by these officials, but it is understood that there is an agreement between them and the county will bore the well and the town will put in pump, build the cover and concrete walks. This is a splendid move on the part of the officials.

MOTHERS PRAISED AT KIWANIS MEET

200 PRESENT AT MOTHER'S PROGRAM

J. R. Dover in Charge of Program Praising Mothers in Song and Speech—Prizes Awarded.

The Mothers day program of the Kiwanis at Cleveland Springs hotel Thursday night was devoted to praising mothers in song and speech by Shelby's best singers and most eloquent speakers. John R. Dover, sr., was in charge of the program, and he received the plaudits of all present for his splendid leadership and originality of plans. There were fully 200 present, each Kiwanian bringing his wife or mother to hear the praises heaped upon mother and motherhood. As the guests entered they were presented with a white carnation, an emblem of "Mother's day."

A decided hit of the occasion was a solo rendered by Charlie Burrus being a song, the words of which were written by Mrs. Frank Sanders. He is gaining considerable note for his poetry. The title of the song was "The 1923 Mother."

Words of welcome were spoken by President Max Gardner, after which John R. Dover took charge of the program. J. H. Quinn told of the outstanding mothers in Biblical history, declaring that from time immemorial motherhood has been a badge of honor. Famous mothers in history was the subject of the address of W. A. Murray, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who spoke of the mothers of Wesley, Washington, Lincoln and others. Miss Mabel Quinn rendered at this point a beautiful solo entitled "Mother of Mine." The subject assigned by B. T. Falls was "Modern Motherhood" whom he praised for their untiring care in attending the multitude of complex problems of today.

The youths of today knowing more than the adults of several generations ago. Max Gardner paid a tribute to mother and home telling something of John Howard Payne who wrote "Home, Sweet Home," 100 years ago. This was a most eloquent tribute to home and mother which meant as much in the lives of all, whether rich or poor, high or low.

The musical numbers were greatly enjoyed, each speech being interspersed with some solo or quartet appropriate to the occasion.

The Prizes Awarded. The drawing of prizes was an interesting feature. Nice prizes were given by Forrest Eskridge who had charge of their award. A $10 gold piece given by John R. Dover, sr., was awarded to Mrs. Amanda McJannet, who had the largest number of descendants of any mother present, her descendants numbering 37. The next largest number of descendants were 33 for Mrs. W. H. Thompson, 29 for Mrs. E. B. Hamrick and 23 for Mrs. J. R. Moore, each of whom was awarded a dozen white carnations, given by the Kiwanis club. Then came the passing of a bundle of switches. The alarm clock was set and Mr. Eskridge announced that the one who held the bundle of switches when the alarm sounded, would be required to make a speech on the good results gained by the use of switches. Mrs. Charlie Burrus held the bundle when the alarm sounded, but instead of being required to make a speech, she was awarded a buffet set given by the T. W. Hamrick company. Each lady present had a number on her armation with corresponding numbers in a large basket from which these numbers were drawn for the award of the remainder of the prizes which were distributed as follows: Mrs. J. R. Dover a pedestal given by the Paragon Furniture company; Mrs. Line Weaver a pedestal given by John M. Best Furniture company, Mrs. J. F. Ledford, a comb given by the J. C. McNeely company, Mrs. J. A. Anthony a set of table napkins given by Campbell department store; Mrs. A. Weathers a box of Mother's day candy given by D. Z. Newton, Mrs. J. H.
