

Marcus Garvey Now Held For Swindling

Marcus Garvey, self-styled "Provisional President of Africa," is on trial in a Federal district court in New York on charges of swindling in connection with Black Star Steamship line, which he undertook to promote several years ago for the purpose, as a said, of taking negroes back to Africa.

Incidentally there are stationed about the court room some twenty armed plainclothes policemen, who are there to prevent any serious trouble growing out of threats made by Garvey's negro friends of death to certain persons who might be responsible for the conviction of the defendant. Among those threatened by anonymous letters are the presiding judge, the prosecuting attorney and the jury. One of the letters pointed out that "a negro parson who opposed Garvey was laid low in the south."

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health Worcester, Mass. "I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends, and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial, as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness." Mrs. DELIA HICKEY, 4 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass. Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. LARGE PRESERVE BUSINESS GROWS OUT OF CLUB WORK When home demonstration work was first started in Charleston, S. C., ten years ago, Mrs. Julia Townsend, of Martins Point, became keenly interested in preserving and pickling, and made rapid progress under extension direction. For the thirteenth year she canned locally abundant fruits and vegetables for home use only. In her third year of club work she began to market in a small way such products as Dixie Relish, pineapple peaches, grapefruit preserves, mixed pickles, watermelon rind preserves and pickles, peach preserves and sweet pickles, ginger peaches cucumber rings, plum preserves, blackberry jam, artichoke pickle and relish, canned shrimp, grape jelly, green tomatoes to pickle, pumpkin chips, fig preserves and palmetto pickle. Five years ago her annual output was not over a hundred containers a year. About this time a new home demonstration agent came to the county and assisted Mrs. Townsend in enlarging her market. In 1920 she added a small canning kitchen to her home and began to employ her niece and sister to help. She increased her output to 4,000 containers. A field agent of the United States department of agriculture visited Mrs. Townsend in 1921 and found that she had built a factory, and put up over 12,000 containers, necessitating the employment of from six to ten of her neighbors daily. In 1922 her output was even greater, but she invested the entire proceeds in another factor twice the size of the first, with proper commercial equipment. The establishment is a great benefit to the community, as it furnishes employment to many who otherwise have only a few sources of income.
