Isbping to Meet With Miss Ebeltoft.
The Isbping club will meet with Miss Ebeltoft at her home on South Washington street this afternoon (Friday) at 4 o'clock.

Don't Pay.
If you love a man, he isn't worth it. If you don't love him, you don't know what you want.

If you lead him on, you're a flirt. If you ignore him, you're heartless. If he has money, you're mercenary. If he hasn't any money, you're foolish.

If he's old, you're robbing the grave. If he's young, you're robbing the cradle.

If you stay at home, you're an old maid. If you don't, you're a rounder. For the love of Mike—what's a poor girl to do?

Ladies Night at Knight of Pythian Hall

The members of the Knights of Pythians held "Ladies Night" Monday evening of this week at their lodge hall in the J. E. Webb building on S. LaFayette, the members inviting their wives and sweethearts to enjoy the occasion. About 50 members and their guests. Attendance of guests and members numbered about fifty. The purpose of the meeting was to stimulate interest of this newly organized fraternal order which has an active membership of about 75. Miss Virginia Hamrick gave a recitation which was highly enjoyed, while talks were made by Ezra Moss, chancellor commander of the Cherryville lodge and Joe Nison, superintendent of the Cherryville schools. At the conclusion of the evening's entertainment, a delicious course of ice cream and cake was served.

Reception for Hardin-Hyde Wedding Party.

Mrs. R. L. Pinkleton was hostess at an elegant reception given at her home in Grover on November 23rd from 9 to 11 in the evening, in honor of the Hardin-Hyde wedding party. The Pinkleton home was beautifully decorated with pink roses artistically arranged in vases and white baskets. A large white wedding bell added to the beauty of the decorations. The guests were received at the door by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinkleton and were invited to register in the brides book by Miss Addie Moss. They were then received into the parlor by Mrs. C. F. Harry, where they were pleasantly entertained by vocal selections beautifully rendered by Miss Helen Hambrick of Greenville, S. C. who was accompanied by Mr. Robert Hartness, violinist and his sister, Miss Mabel Hartness of Shelby as pianist. She sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Perfect Day."

The guests were then invited to cut from a beautiful white wedding cake. Mrs. Frank Hambrick, a recent bride, drew the wedding ring. Mr. Hartness the diamond, Miss Terah Pinkleton the tumbler and Mr. Avery Hardin a brother of the bride, drew a button.

A very interesting contest was then engaged in, in which Mrs. Frank Hambrick and Mr. Donald Hyde the groom won the prizes. Mrs. C. F. Harry read a very interesting paper on the subject "How to be a Good Husband or Wife."

The hostess assisted by Misses Addie Moss and Louise Pinkleton served a delicious ice course and cake. The pink and white color scheme was carried out through the entire evening.

Pretty Compliment To Miss Dorothy Bridges.

A very pretty social event was a shower given at Grover for Miss Dorothy Bridges, bride elect, Saturday December 8th from 4 to 5:30 p. m. by Miss Bessie Turner assisted by Mrs. Oates and Mrs. B. P. Hambrick. Miss Turner's lovely home on Vance street, was beautifully decorated with ferns. The parlors and hall, where hung wedding bells were thrown ensue.

Miss Turner and Mrs. Hambrick received at the door. The guests were then met by Mrs. Charles Washburn of Shelby, a sister of Miss Turner, and directed to the table in the rear of the hall, where Mrs. J. B. Ellis presided. Each guest was asked to register in the bride's memory book of "Wedding chimes". Miss Meldonna Livingston had charge of the amusements of the afternoon.

A card was given to each guest who was asked to write "three don'ts for the bride". When these were collected, they were handed to the bride elect and she was asked to stand and read them. The various suggestions given on the cards caused much laughter and amusement. Next, small, red hearts bearing appropriate verses and numbers were distributed and each guest requested to find the "chair" which corresponded to the number which she held. They were then supplied with papers and pencils, filled in blanks in the poem "Hints to the Bride." Just at the close of this contest, with Miss Elizabeth White at the piano, little Jane Washburn of Shelby, dressed as a bride, entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, pulling a little wagon beautifully decorated in white and pink, and filled with presents which had been tastefully arranged by Mrs. Oates and Mrs. L. C. Hamrick. After the little "bride" had rolled her wagon into both parlors she found the bride sitting in the hall, where she left the wagon and the bride with gleeful heart untied the packages and the guests shared the joy with her of viewing the lovely gifts.

Miss Mittie Newton gave a toast to the bride to which she responded and expressed her appreciation of the glad day for her. The hostesses were assisted by Misses Lucy Turner and Mary Hambrick; serving cream and cake which carried out the color scheme of white and pink.

Mrs. Smith Gives Two Beautiful Parties.

Mrs. J. C. Smith, was charming hostess on Wednesday afternoon and again Thursday afternoon giving two of the loveliest parties of the season. The handsome Smith home on South Washington street was thrown open to a number of guests. Eight tables for six-hand rook were arranged in the parlor, library and sun parlor. Artistic Christmas cards designated the places and upon each table was a miniature chimney and Santa Claus. At the conclusion of the game the hostess threw open the doors to the dining room and invited the guests into a veritable fairy land. From windows and chandeliers, wreaths of holly and poinsettias, festoons of bright tinsel and streamers of red ribbons amid the soft glow of red lights made a beautiful Christmas scene, the dining table having an elaborately decorated small Christmas tree as its centerpiece. At either end of the table Mesdames Fred Morgan and T. W. Hamrick, poured tea. Assisting Mrs. Smith in serving were Mesdames W. L. Fanning, Chas. S. Young, Ernest Hoey and L. M. Hill. The Christmas idea was also accentuated in the refreshments, fruit salad served to form poinsettias, chicken salad, sandwiches, cheese straws and saltines formed the first course. The ice course consisted of individual creams in the shape of Santa Claus, turkeys and snow balls, fruit cake, macaroons and red and green bon-bons. Little red baskets filled with salted almonds were passed as favors. On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Oscar Suttle poured tea, while Mesdames Ward Arey, Lamar Gidney, Wells Hamrick and Misses Elizabeth McBrayer and Gussie Sisk assisted Mrs. Smith in serving.

Junior Red Cross Spreads Good Will Throughout World

Nearly 5,000,000 pupils in the schools of America are following the standard of unselfish service as members of the American Junior Red Cross, the annual report of the American Red Cross discloses. This valiant host is represented in 125,072 school rooms of 24,289 schools throughout the United States. With a service program that is local, national and international in scope, the American Junior Red Cross is working unflinchingly for health and happiness and in the promotion of activities among boys and girls wherever there is opportunity for usefulness.

Increased activity on the part of the schools enrolled and deeper recognition by school authorities of the educational values of Junior Red Cross have been significant features of the last year. Carrying on educational and relief work in France, Poland, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria and Rumania, the American Juniors have influenced the forming of Junior departments in the Red Cross organizations of these countries. American boys and girls wearing the "I Serve" button of the Juniors are proving apt messengers of the spirit of good will and mutual understanding through correspondence with pupils in schools scattered throughout the world. At the close of the school year in June 2,009 schools were engaged in correspondence with a like number of schools in Europe; 284 schools in our insular possessions and Alaska territory carried on an exchange of letters with schools in the United States and South Africa. In fact, nearly 2,700 schools with probably 100,000 pupils were busy in this fine act of cheerful communitarianism, while 8,347 articles passed through National Headquarters of the Red Cross in exchanges between the interested pupils here and overseas.

An incident of the year's advance was the beginning of activity which will eventually install Junior Red Cross in the Indian schools of the United States. From every section of the country reports of the tour of the unit of crippled children with their chorus which came from the Bakule school in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to show gratitude to the American Juniors for their assistance declare that nothing since the World War has done so much to awaken the Red Cross spirit in the communities visited by the unit.

The work of the American Juniors in foreign fields is emphasized in the advancement of playgrounds, scholarships in farm, trade and other schools, community and school garden work, and donations of cash and equipment to children's organizations. In these projects $12,660.17 was spent during the last year in ten European countries, in China and in the Virgin Islands.

"It is inconceivable that the Red Cross could have come thus far only to retreat; that it could have succeeded up to the present time only to fail."—President Coolidge.

Liberal to Ex-Service Men

YOUR QUESTION AND ITS ANSWER

Question—"I suffer with continual colds, first in my head, then in my throat and bronchials, and often the lungs are affected. If you can cure me, how long will it take?"

Answer—"You certainly owe it to yourself to have your spine so aligned that susceptibility to colds can no longer exist. The time required to bring about this change is dependent, not upon the severity, character or location of the cold, but entirely upon the time required to correct what is causing the cold. From experience we know that colds come only when the organs of elimination are not functioning properly. These organs include the lungs, skin, kidneys and bowels. Your susceptibility to colds will cease to exist when these four great channels of waste elimination are doing their work as Nature intended. From an examination of your spine we will be able to give you more definite advice as to time required.
