IKE'S TALE

Dear Star Readers:

Christmas is most here, but me and Sal haint got no time to fool with hit like we use to have fur hit keeps us busy to keep a little something to eat these times.

I wish I wuz able to git Sal a new dress fur Xmas as she could have two, and not have to wear one all the time I don't thing thar is anything looks much worse than fur a married woman to wear the same old dirty dress from one Xmas to the next and never change hit to save your life. The women don't do this no whar only at Casar, and Sal is the only one that does this way thar, so fur as I know. Most of the women up in here has got two dresses apiece, and Sal heard tuther day that one woman at Casar has three dresses but hit may not be true fur you can hear anything at Casar hit is so close to the mountains I spent the evening in Andy Warlick's store whar Sal sent me after a bale of snuff tuther day, and hit wuz a most delightful evening as they say. Andy has laid in a lot of Xmas goods that he wants to sell rite now but as soon as he can fur since he put in his order fur 'em the Calendar has come out and said that thar won't be another Xmas till some time in December, 1924. He shore has got the purty things alright, and I would a bought sum of 'em only I didn't have a cent of money and Andy said he didn't want none of my checks fur the banks wouldn't endorse 'em fur him. But thar wuz one thing I did want more than ever and hit wuz a pair of beads fur Sal. Beads look alright on sum women and this pair wud jist fit Sal exactly, I seed, fur she is tall and has a tall neck. The price wuz 5 cents a pair, or two fur 10 cents which wuz cheap enuf. Everybody don't know hit like I do, but on the back of Sal's neck is a wart and hit helps to keep everything she wears around her neck from slipping up or down and is handy anyway.

Well hit took me the whole evening to decide on fixing up my mind fur I didn't know what to do. Five cents to look at hit one way, haint much fur a feller to throw away on his wife, and then again to look at hit in another way hit is fur sum of 'em jist haint worth the 5 cents. I hadn't had no dinner, so along about sun-set my conscience sez that hit wuz my duty to git the beads fur Sal. Then she has been good to me lately anyway. Hits been most a week sence she hit me over the head with a thing but her first, and this is lore than most married men can say behind their backs. Well I wanted them thar beads fur Sal and whar thar is a wife thar is a way as hit has been sed before I've never lacked fur the will. My daddy used to say that I had so much will about me that he'd wished lots of times that he had named me Bill. Well I sez thar till about nite before hit done any good, but when hit did do good it wuz rite now.

Mr Warlick sez at last Look here haint hit time fur you to go home? Like they say when abody goes to courtin' the scale. I sez, Yes, I'll be ready to go jist as soon as you give me them beads fur Sally. He didn't say a word but jist retched up and handed 'em over to me and pinter his finger at the door and sed, Git! And I got too, but as I went home I wuz a feeling about the best I have sence I got over the seven year itch that I ketcht from one of Sal's brothers that time. IKE.

NO PERSON IS CRIMINALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR WRECK

No person was criminally responsible for the wreck of a section of the Twentieth Century Limited, on the New York Central railroad at Forsyth, December 9, when nine persons were killed. Coroner George E. Blood announced Tuesday.

The coroner's verdict was given out after he had received and reviewed the testimony given at the investigation held last week in the New York Central division headquarters at Erie. No further investigation of the wreck will be necessary, Coroner Blood said.

The verdict recommends that the railroad be required to construct forthwith a viaduct or subway at the Forsyth crossing at which many accidents have occurred. Until such structure is built the coroner further recommends that the railroad be required to keep watchmen at the crossing 24 hours a day.
