remember Hatcher Hughes, but he is climax. But it is all done with such 1904 or 1905, the Charlotte Observer back. native of the Lawndale section of consummate art as to leave the impublished one of his tales called When he climbed out of the water, moorings as the water from the the county and the fact that he is a pression that the playwright had very Cleveland county citizen lends inter- little to do with things. The plot, like est to the following story about him Topsy, seems to have "just growed" At any rate, it netted the youthful the Greensboro News, Hatcher Hugh- of the people. es promises to be a second Thomas Finally, the play sparkles with sons scattered throughout the state.

New York, Jan. 12 .- The theaterthe second-night audience which upon innately stupid characters. The makes or breaks a play. Granting pungent, homely wit which lends zest that the dictum is true and that it to the whole is unmistakably the wit may be stretched to include the re- of old man Dave Hunt and his grandaction of second matinee audiences, son, young Sid, who didn't know he then Hatcher Hughes, Tar Heel play was a war hero until he read about his idea for "Hell-Bent fer Heaven" producer, have nothing to fear for the fate of "Hell-Bent for Heaven," the high spirited drama of the Caro- Hughes' play than craftsmanship. It mer of the terrible floods in the westlina mountains which hung out its is vision. As the action moves for- ern part of the state. In company tangle could be straightened out.

so on top of the august managerial achieving his own selfish ends. desk when he saw the initial reviews | Incidentally, and without being all is the expressed fear of one reviewer clad mountain slope. that the play would prove too good to attract the public. Box office receipts, however, suggest that the than it gets credit for being. Be that to know that "Hell-Bent fer Heaven"

Owning to the prevailing *theate! shortage, the Hughes play was originally advertised for two special mat. Mr. Hughes called at Mr. Klaw's ofed in for reservations two weeks that he nad just been looking over will be extended indefinitely."

The Play.

Hughes a master craftsman.

takes place in one room in the Hunt the unfinished play.

and the natural expression of the folks who employ it. And you don't Hatcher Hughes' career to date for know what a relief that can be un- "Who's Wno," I should probably be less you have been compelled to lis- gin in somewhat this fashion: ten to the painfully distorted and ar- Native of Cleveland county, North tificial jargon purporting to be south Carolina. Family moved to South ern dialect which is frequently per- Carolina when young Hughes was in petrated upon New York theatergoers his seventh year. He later returned by ambitious young playwrights who to North Carolina to enter the State were born and bred in Yonkers or the university from which he was gradu-Bronx and have never been south of ated with the class of 1907. Followthe Brooklyn bridge. It is a safe bet ing graduation, he taught in the that any Buncombe county mountain- English department of his alms eer could step into the Hunt living mater for two years. The intervening room at any time during the progress year until 1912 were spent in study of Mr. Hughes' play and join in the ing and writing. In 1912 Mr. Hughes conversation without feeling that he became lecturer in play writing a was among strangers. And when all Columbia university in which connecis said and done, that is the acid test tion he has served with conspicuous cere and effective. Again, it is a safe army. with his unconscious but clear-sight-paragraph at a time. Hisself all tuckered out over the job."

Other things being equal, a deftly maneuvered plot is always cause for thanksgiving. In "Hell-Bent fer Heaven," Mr. Hughes shows more than once that he knows the value of stands on the ragged edge of be-

Not many Cleveland county people of complication, of properly placed sity of North Carolina. Along about river and sawm to the other side and course, how houses and even whole clever lines. But Mr. Hughes has not to the Broadway public two years was gathered on the river bank to their spiritual welfare but were unmade Oscar Wilde's mistake of bewise claim that it is the reaction of stowing some of his own brilliance which audience which audience which stowing some of his own brilliance which Mrs. Fiske was starred. At get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at the starred which Mrs. Fiske was starred at the starred which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs. Fiske was starred at get his just deserts in a watery which Mrs.

But there is something vastly big- is a good yarn in itself. ger and more compelling in Mr. It all came about during the sumsign on Broadway a week ago yes-terday.

Is vision. As the action moves for-ward toward its unforseen but irre-sistible conclusion, every line and a lighter camping outfit. Mr. If I speak with conviction it is because on the afternoon of the second dence that the young playwright before the rainy spell set in, deterperformance, I was one of a wrig- from North Carolina has what old mined to climb every considerable gling human queue which doubled Carlyle was fond of calling "the see- mountain peak in western North twice across the fairly capacious ing eye." Or, to garb the same Carolina. And he carried out his prolobby of the Klaw theater bent upon thought in the modern phrase, he gram notwithstanding the fact that i getting tickets before the S. R. O. gets under the skins of his charac- rained 39 cays of the 40 which he had could be shoved up on the bulletin ters because he sees past the outward planned to devote to mountain climbboard. A little later, I was one of show of folks into their secret selves ing. a packed house which smiled and And because he looks deep enough to Nor did his intrepidity end here. chuckled and applauded uproariusly discover hidden motives, he under- When he got ready to make the reduring the first act, and sat tensely stands and sympathizes with actions turn trip he found that every bridgforward upon the edge of its collec- which to the surface observer are in- between Asheville and Del Rio, Tentive seat during the second and third comprehensible, and even intolerable. nessee, had been washed away by the acts wondering how on earth the That is why he is able to depict so rapidly rising rivers. It was imperaconvincingly the mealy-mouthed, tive that Mr. Hughes get back to Apropos of the immediate and de Uriah Heep-ish Rufe Pryor whose Asheville in time to make railway cided success of "Hell-Bent fer Heav- warped brain saw in professed relig- connection t oNew York by a certain en," the dignified Mr. Klaw might be ion a means of making himself solid date. Failing in coffrts to persuade forgiven for cutting a pigeon wing or with God while he went busily about the ferryman to take him across the

of his latest offering in Saturday's didactic about it, "Hell-Bent fer papers. John Corbin's estimate re- Heaven" drives home a salutary lescorded in the Times, is a pretty fair son which all who run may read. sample of the comment of the press; There is no sickly sentimentality "A play of the first order . . . Nov- about the play, but there is plenty of el and interesting. . . . Warmly honest, up-standing sentiment as human and richly humorous." About wholesome and invigorating as the the most pessimistic criticism to date breeze which sweeps down a balsam

Sold by Accident.

In view of the fact that there are much-maligned public, is frequently having to de with the lives of Caroat present three plays on Broadway more appreciative of the real thing lina mountain folk, it is interesting tated upon his astuteness or his Mr. Hughes was on a vacation near luck—in picking a piece which is meeting with such hearty and heart-line. It is equally diverting to learn that it was sold to Mr. Klaw two year later quite by accident.

The sale came about in this wise: inces only. The morning after the fice one afternoon about a year ago first performance, it became appar- to talk over another play of the Blue ent that the public had no idea of al- Ridge section in which the latter was lowing Mr. Klaw to adhere to his an- at that time interested. During the nounced plan. Telephone orders pour interview, Mr. Hughes mentioned ahead. They have continued to pour the first rough draft of a second in with the result that the manage- piece using the same locale. At Mr. ment has been obliged to announce Klaw's request Mr. Hughes briefly that the engagement of the new play outlined the plot and touched upon the theme of the unfinished play. Mr. Klaw was very much interested and Even those among us who are addemanded to see the manuscript mittedly ignorant of the technical which he observed obtruding from the side of play writing can hardly fail playwright's overcoat pocket. Mr. to see why the critics say that "Hell Hughes surrendered the manuscript Bent fer Heaven" proves Hatcher to the producer under protest. The next morning he received a telephone To begin with the play is com- message from Mr. Klaw saying that pact and economical. All the action he was ready to sign a contract for home between 4 o'clock in the after- And the fiction writers would have noon and 9 o'clock at night of a mid- us believe that the young playwright summer day. Thus, the Greek unities must spend weary years and much of time and place are neatly observ-ed, and the audience and scene shift- one heartless producer to another In the second instance, the dialogue depends for its verisimilitude upon idiom rather than dialect. That is, it is true talk—the natural

If I were preparing a sketch of of good dialect in a piece of writing. success to this good day with the ex-The characterization is both sin- ception of two years spent in the bet that the average Buncombe coun- At this point I should probably ty farmer would recognize neighbors grow desperately tired of unem-or kinsmen in likable, hot-tempered broidered facts and revert to type ung Andy Lowry, or the ready and adejctives. At any rate, I know laugh, the ready oath, and the ready I could never sustain the above entrigger-finger, of old man Dave Hunt cyclopedic style for more than a

To resume. Mr. Hughes likes to write plays. nd satisfying confidence in the abil. Mr. Hughes likes to write plays.

ty of the Almighty to look after us He told me himself that he had a mans adequately without "gittin' good time writing "Hell-Bent fer contrast, of a skillfully inserted clue coming so ,the folks who read news must have been a pretty good story. the editor and other prominent per-play which may see production be- laughed Mr. Hughes when I asked fore the dog days arrive.

papers always want to know how he river. Mr. Hughes announced that he him about it, "I think they were all would have to swim it then. The scan terribly disappointed that I escaped As nearly as I can make out, dalized ferryman said it couldn't be with my horse and my life." Hatcher Hughes began his literary done. Mr. Hughes said it could be It was in the course of the return career by writing stories of Blue done. The ferryman maintained that trip to Asheville that Mr. Hughes Ridge mountain life while he was it couldn't be done. To settle the ar- got his idea for "Hell-Bent fer still an undergraduate at the Univer- gument, Mr. Hughes plunged into the Heaven." Everybody remembers, of

"When Buncombe Went Dry." It he informed the ferryman that he swelling rivers crept higher and highwould be back at four in the after- er. noon with his camping outfit which Mr. Hughes says that the thing written by Mildred Harrington for out of something inherent in the lives writer congratulatory letters from he would expect to have ferried that struck him most forcefully at present he is engaged on a third grave. "And to tell you the truth,"

The Home Provsion Co. is now located in the same room with the Piedmont Grocery Co. and is in a position to fill your Grocery, Meat, Poultry, Fish and Oyster orders.

Call 570 and let me personally take care of your meat

> Ernest Johnson Manager of Market. PHONE 570.

A Remedy for Piles

Ask your Druggist (whom you know) what he knows about PAZO OINTMENT as a Remedy for Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. 60c.

For the future

D able development of its natural resources, the South today is taking a new leader- lock Hill ship in the economic progress Marion of the nation.

But this leadership, if it is to be maintained, must have a Blacksburg with No. 38 for more enduring foundation than the possession and exploitation of material things.

The South of tomorrow will be made by the children of today. The boys now in school and attending the churches will be the captains of industry sions a few years hence.

Citizenship is in the making N. C. in the schools and the churche

DECAUSE of the remark- IN SCHEDULE N DIVISION

7:16 a. m. 9:57 a. m. 6:36 p. m. Marion

8:08 p. m.

N, Agent,

and the leaders in the profes- RAILWAY, COMPANY of Passenger Trains at

	110.	Detween	No.	Ar.
7:40a	34	Rutherfordton-Raleigh	34	7:40a
5:47p	31	and Wilmington Wilmington-Raleigh and Rutherfordton	1.31	5:47p
4:50p	15	Monroe-Rutherfordton	15	4:50p
11:02a	16	Rutherfordton-Monroe	16	11:02a

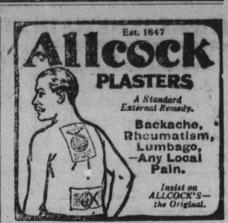

Schedules published as information and are not guaranteed.

E. W. LONG, D. P. A., Charlotte, N. C. or G. SMART, Local Ticket Agent

this time was the number of people Mr. Hughes made his initial bow By 4 o'clock, the entire village who were willing to take a chance on tiring in their appeals to the Almighty to concern Himself with their physical and material well-being. It was this peculiar psychological slant that suggested the character of Rufe Pryor, the central figure and moving force in "Hell-Bent fer Heaven."

> DR. R. C. HICKS DENTIST Office Shelby National Bank Building. Phone 421 Shelby, N. C.

Grocer and Book Seller

FRESH MEATS

Always the choicest, because I select my cattle and hogs and see what I get for my customers. All meats go to you from my refrigerator, which assures quality.

Oysters and game in season.

E. F. McKINNEY

Phone 5.

We Hurry Orders Out.

Every Man's Aim

Should be to own his home. The home owner makes a better man. He does not desert his wife and children, he takes a strong interest in his community. Being permanently locatet, he is a better husband, better father, better citizen, better worker. The purchase of his home arouses his ambition, his thrift and his industry. The strength of small towns like Shelby is rooted in home ownership, and without stretching the truth, it may be said the unrest in large cities is due to lack of home ownership.

The Building & Loan

has made it possible for every man to own his home, it may be small and inexpensive but he can own his home. Your income may be small but you can own your home. It is up to you. No man can afford luxury until his future and the future of his family is amply provided for. It is better to do without luxuries than to be without a home and face old age with an empty pocketbook.

Take Out A Few Shares In This Building & Loan

and put aside a little week by week and you wont be dependent upon friends and relatives. You can own your own home by starting now.

The Plan Is Easy And Simple

Come in and talk to us about how easy it is to own your own home, by paying a small sum week by week.

Tuesday January 22nd

Is Own Your Home Day during Thrift Week. who does not own his home should make the start by taking out Building and Loan shares. Young men should start shares for his future home.

WE INVITE YOU TO START-- .

A WARM WELCOME AWAITS YOU HERE.- OTHERS ARE, WHY NOT YOU? OWN YOUR HOME-START TODAY.

Cleveland Building & Loan Association

Offices With The CLEVELAND BANK & TRUST COMPANY Shelby, N. C.