

Your "Dollars

Do Double

Duty"

When

SPENT

THERE'S ONLY ONE ANSWER TO THE QUESTION:

"Where can I spend my dollars so that they'll not only benefit me personally by purchasing their full value's worth but where, in the course of time, they'll build for a greater community and make me more satisfied with both my neighbors and my surroundings?"

It is---

IN SHELBY

Because—

Here and here only, can your dollars do "Double Duty."

First, they'll always get you the necessities of life at a lower cost than you could buy them for elsewhere. The personal interest our merchants take in each patron to see that he or she is always satisfied—often sacrificing profit—makes it possible.

Secondly, not only do your dollars go farthest, but—by trading

We, the undersigned business interests, always have and always will be strong for anything that is good for the community... But, remember, we need—YOUR CO-OPERATION!

here and keeping those dollars at home—you're contributing to our fair city's PROGRESS and PROSPERITY.

More schools, more churches, better streets, better lighting systems, larger city limits, playgrounds, more industries,—in general a more attractive city—are only possible when every citizen puts his or her "shoulder to the wheel" and "pushes" with their "home spent" dollars.

BOOTLEG KING RIDES TO PEN IN STYLE

Marble walls of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary Friday night housed George Remus, convicted bootleg king of the middle west, and 11 of his associates.

Royalty was recognized by fellow prisoners, for when Remus entered the prison, clogging direct here from Cincinnati on board private car, he was given an ovation to the full extent of prison rules and regulations, the silent waving of arms through grated windows.

The Cincinnati millionaire started service of a two-year sentence for having conspired to violate the Volstead act. He also must pay a fine of $10,000, and at the termination of this sentence will serve one year in a state prison in Ohio.

His associates, Harry Brown, John Gerhum, Charles Wiseman and George Dater, will serve 18 months and pay fines of $5,000 each; Clarence Bell, Ernest Brady, George Killenbeck and George King, 15 months' sentence and fines of $1,000 each; Harry Gardewing and Harry Eoyd one year and one day and pay fines of $1,000 each; Elmer Roth, 15 months sentence and a fine of $500.

Smart Clothes Off.

Flashy diamonds, ultra-modern clothes, walking sticks and spats of the bootleg gang gave way to the wool and cotton grey uniforms of the penitentiary. A smile was on the face of each as the change was made.

Across town from the penitentiary Mrs. Imogene Remus, wife of the bootleg king, was a guest at a fashionable hotel. Mrs. Remus accompanied her husband to Atlanta, and, at the terminal station, with tears streaming down her face, diamond pendants hanging from her ears and a cluster of diamonds on her finger, left him. In her handbag were two diamonds, the property of her husband, given to her by him, at their parting.

Saturday she journeys out to the penitentiary to see Remus, ascertain visiting hour schedules and probably take her departure for Cincinnati. Part of the time, she indicated, she will reside in their mansion, said to be one of the show places of the Ohio city, and the remainder near her husband in Atlanta.

No Millionaire Row.

Remus and his companions Friday night had not been assigned to any prison cells nor had they been given numbers. They were "mugged" and given their first prison bath Friday afternoon.

There is no millionaire row in this penitentiary, prison officials declared, nor are the wealthy recognized. Remus will be given "enjoyable work," the officials added, probably as a chemist, he having, it is understood, been a laboratory worker years ago. "I'm reconciled to my fate, but oh, how I miss my valet," declared the bootleg king, as prison garments were given him in place of civilian clothes. Remus will sweep out his own cell and make up his own bed.

Remus declared that this was his first protracted vacation, and while "I feel the stigma of having lost my citizenship, I will be a good soldier and serve my time." He added that he was in hopes of securing executive clemency.

The bootleg king and his companions are said to have operated on the most extensive scale ever known in the middle west. Remus was said to have owned distilleries and on a raid on "Death Valley Farm," owned by Dater, federal officers are said to have found the distributing point for bootleg whiskey in that section. Those who share prison terms with Remus were said to have been in his employ.

Cherryville Man Is Killed At Edgefield

B. E. Brittain, of Cherryville, was killed at Edgefield early Thursday, when his automobile turned over about three miles from that town.

For several months he had been engaged in the lumber business at Edgefield and had made many friends there. The body was taken back to Cherryville for burial.

Mr. Brittain is survived by his widow, an adopted child and one brother.
