HIGHS SPLIT EVEN WITH MT. PLEASANT

Lose First Game And Come Back Strong In Second. Wall And Magness Feature.

Playing Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute, the fastest outfit they have faced this season, the local highs dropped the first game Monday to the visitors 11 to 2 in a game featured by the heavy hitting of the junior collegians and the nervousness of the Shelby defense, and on Tuesday turned the tables and outclassed Mt. Pleasant in a 4 to 1 victory, that verged on a shut-out.

Dedmond and Lee were both hit hard in Monday's game and their supporting cast made air expeditions at regular intervals with the result that Shelby looked weak against the hard hitting cadets. Shelby's off day was strengthened by the steady work of Beam, behind the plate, and the hitting of Magness, southpaw outfielder.

R. H. E.
Mt. Pleasant ..... 11 11 1
Shelby ..... 2 6 6
Come Back Strong.

With Wall, master of deceptive delivery, twirling the highs fought out a good revenge Tuesday, out-hitting, out-fielding and out-fighting their conquerors of the previous day. The infield and outer works played a steadier and more determined brand of ball and aided their heavier in working out a two-hit game, the first time the visitors had been so humbled. On the offense the youngsters connected with a deadly regularity, Cline, the club's star, and young Magness leading the barrage, the latter with a triple, and the work of Beam in nabbing airy fouls being again exceptional.

The collegians had a word of praise for Coach Gurley and his team and the best high twirler they have faced. That Wall worked well is evidenced by the Mt. Pleasant-Lenoir College game, in which Mt. Pleasant secured four hits, two more than Wall allowed them.

Play Asheville Friday and Saturday.

With six victories out of seven games the highs are in a mood to battle hard in their two games with the strong Asheville Highs here Friday and Saturday. The attendance is increasing slightly and with the coming of the strong mountain array is expected to be more encouraging. A sale of season tickets will be put on immediately as the club expenses are delivering some deadly uppers to the income sheet.

1,043 SHELBYITES IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Three Churches Have One-fourth of Population in Sunday School. Large Classes for Men.

Shelby has been referred to recently as a "leading Sunday school town," but few people know that approximately one-fourth of the up-town population is in Sunday school every Sunday morning. Approximate figures secured from the Sunday school superintendents of the three leading up-town churches, the First Baptist, Central Methodist and Presbyterian, show that the average total attendance at the three Sunday schools is 1,043. In some instances this is larger, but the figures were based on a general average. With an average attendance of around 1,000 during the winter months Sunday school officials hope to have around 2,000 in regular classes during the summer.

Although showing a good attendance the Central Methodist and First Baptist churches have an attendance considerably below total enrollment. The Presbyterian church with an average attendance of 125 out of a total enrollment of 168 has a remarkable record. With only 171 resident church members, the church has a Sunday school enrollment of 168. The First Baptist and Central churches each have 250 more enrolled than attend regularly. However the total attendance speaks well for the town, considering the population of the section of town covered by the three churches. The number of men in Sunday school is probably the most remarkable part of the Sunday school figures—362 Shelby men and young men are regular members at one of the four Bible classes. These four classes are taught by O. Max Gardner, Clyde R. Hoey, I. C. Griffin and John P. Mull, and the ability of the four as Bible teachers is largely responsible for the attendance.

Approximate figures from the three superintendents are as follows:

Men's	Total	Ave. Classes	Enrolled	Att. Av. Att.
Total	725	450	165
Central Meth.	718	468	165
Presbyterian	168	125	32

SON OF DR. NORRIS ON A JUNGLE TRIP

Son of Rutherford Hospital Surgeon Leaves for Amazon Wilds to Hunt For Strange Birds.

Henry Norris, jr., son of Dr. Henry Norris, of Rutherfordton, left Norfolk yesterday as a member of an expedition of ornithologists for explorations through the jungles of the upper Amazon river in quest of a retinal bird known as the hoatzin, according to word received by his parents.

Mr. Norris is 22 years of age and after completing the work of the Leinen public schools, he left for northern points and finished his education. During the past year he has been a student at the Evans school in Arizona. His parents state that he has never before displayed an interest in being a naturalist.

The creature to be sought, according to scientist, is relic of the prehistoric ages, beginning life as a fish paddling about in the swamps and in advanced stages developed wings and feathers and shedded the aquarian characteristics of infancy.

The expedition is headed by Rodolphe M. de Schauensee and owner of an aviary, containing many rare birds at his home in Philadelphia. His companions are J. H. McGoldrick and Mr. Norris. The trip is being made on the steamship Stephen.

A cameraman is also in the party and pictures of wild birds in their native haunts will be taken. These pictures will be tendered to the use of the educational board of Philadelphia. A studio set will be used for communication with the outside world.

Dr. Norris is a prominent physician of Rutherford county and operates a hospital at Rutherfordton.

H. BECK QUINN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Well Known Citizen And Owner Of Lithia Property To Be Buried Here Today.

Mr. H. Beck Quinn passed away quietly at his home on East Graham street Thursday morning at 3 o'clock following a protracted illness with asthma and his remains will be interred at Sunset Cemetery today, the funeral to be conducted from the residence at 10:30 o'clock by Rev. W. A. Murray, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Quinn was 69 years of age last September. He was born in Shelby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anoymous W. Quinn. On December 12th 1883 he married Miss Quilla Andrews, daughter of the late Dr. W. P. Andrews who survives with one son, Dewitt Quinn, proprietor of the South Shelby Pharmacy, together with three brothers, Lawson who lives at Fordyce, Ark., Cliff of Salisbury, Ben of Gaston, Texas. Another brother, William, went west and has not been heard from in 25 years and he is supposed to be dead.

Mr. Quinn was a tailor by trade and the son of a tailor which profession he followed for many years. About 20 years ago he purchased the Lithia Springs property and conducted the fountain on the Court Square, the waters of which were noted far and wide for their medicinal qualities. Mr. Quinn was a quaint character, noted for his originality of wit and humor. He was one of a quintet of "buddies" often referred to in the Charlotte Observer in writing Shelby's mineral waters and his "spring house" on the square has been a rendezvous for these five—the mill man (J. C. Smith,) the drummer (Joe Barber,) the Norwegian (T. W. Ebbert,) the Major, (S. J. Green) and the waterman (H. B. Quinn.) His fountain was a gathering place for the retired and leisure class and Mr. Quinn was always one of the chief entertainers, his originality of wit and picturesqueness of character, drawing around him a host of admirers from far and near.

The boy left a cut across the top of his head five or six inches long. It was necessary for several stitches to be taken to close the wound.
