

This Is The Time To Spray Fruit Trees

Farm Demonstrator Gives the Best Solutions to Use for Peach Trees and Apple Trees.

By R. E. Lawrence. Every apple and peach orchard in the county should be sprayed as it makes the fruit much larger, has a better flavor and will keep longer.

Spray for Peaches. The most important spray for peaches is the cucullio spray which is applied one week after the petals or blossoms fall, to prevent the white worm found in peaches and which causes the peach to rot.

Calyx Spray for Apples. The most important spray for apples is when seven eighths of the blossoms have fallen. This spray is to kill the codling moth egg laid in the apple at this time which worm apples in the fall.

For this spray use three pounds commercial dry lime sulphur to fifty gallons water, add one pound powdered or two pound paste arsenate lead.

A complete spray schedule for peaches or apples will be sent on request.

Mother Of Hughes Lives At Tirzah

The Yorkville Enquirer in "Gone But Not Forgotten," a column devoted to former York people, carries some interesting information on Hatcher Hughes, the newly-famous playwright of New York, who is a native of Cleveland county and whose mother lives at Tirzah, S. C.

"Hatcher Hughes, son of Mrs. M. J. Hughes of Tirzah, and a brother of Bratton Hughes of Rock Hill, is now a professor of dramatics at Columbia University, New York. Prof. Hughes is gaining much fame as a playwright and one of his plays, "Hell Bent for Heaven" is now enjoying a big run in one of the leading theatres of New York. It will be out on the road soon and people of this section may have an opportunity to see it in Charlotte or Columbia. This play stood second in the list of the ten worth while plays on Broadway as judged by Heywood Brown, dramatic critic of the New York World and incidentally the foremost dramatic critic in the United States. Prof. Hughes' play has also received strong praise from other leading critics. The dramatic artist of the New York Herald wrote recently: "one cannot afford to miss it. The play deals with life in the Carolina mountains. Prof. Hughes is a graduate of the University of North Carolina in the class of 1907 and his friends and former acquaintances in this section will be pleased to learn of his success in his chosen field."

UNIVERSITY'S DINING HALL HIT BY A BLAZE

Swain hall the University's dining emporium, where 600 students were boarding, was practically destroyed by fire of unknown origin early Thursday morning. The damage is estimated at $25,000, mostly covered by insurance.

The kitchen and all its valuable equipment, including a large range, worth $3,000, were completely destroyed and the flames from the furnace room made their way underneath the floor of the main building and burst through in a number of places. Firemen were forced to tear up large sections of the floor before they could extinguish the blaze.

Treat Sweet Potatoes.

(Extension Service.) All sweet potatoes should be treated with corrosive sublimate before bedding to prevent black rot which destroys so many sweet potatoes in the county each year.

Soak seed in solution of one ounce corrosive sublimate to eight gallons water for ten minutes.

The potatoes should then be dried and bedded and should then be soaked in a wooden vessel as the solution will corrode metal containers. Care should be taken not to eat or feed any of the potatoes after being treated.

OUR PROGRESSIVE PIEDMONT SECTION

"North Carolina's situation, mid-south", gives it a peculiar advantage in the truck farming business. Its season is earlier than the north, and later than the far south. Thus there is a double market. The even distribution of rainfall throughout the year in the Piedmont region makes truck farming and poultry raising unusually safe and excess of demand over supply makes it unusually profitable. Good roads reduce transportation expenses in supplying nearby markets." - C. R. Barth, in the Greensboro Daily News.

Never worry too much about how late it is because it never is as late as it will be a little later.
