FEDERAL COURTS TO HOLD TWICE YEARLY

Judge Webb Thinks Now He Will Place Five Counties in This District.

Following the passage through both houses of Congress, of a bill allowing terms of Federal court to be held in Shelby, Judge E. Y. Webb stated yesterday that his present judgment is to place Cleveland, Gaston, Burke, Lincoln and Rutherford counties in this district. More counties may be added later. This means that these five counties will send their criminal and civil Federal court cases to Shelby to be tried where two terms will be held annually, the first term to begin in September. The district court in Shelby will facilitate matters for members of the bar, court litigants and witnesses in this section who have heretofore been forced to travel a considerable distance to attend the Federal court in Charlotte or Statesville. It also means that these courts in Shelby will bring about 100 visitors during each term and since by this act, Shelby becomes the legal residence of Judge Webb, many cases will be heard here in chambers out of a regular session of court.

Under the law Judge Webb is required to have his legal residence at some point in the Western North Carolina district where a Federal court is held and since his appointment to the bench he has maintained his legal residence in Charlotte. The creation of this new court in Shelby enables him to make Shelby his legal as well as his real residence. Not having a Federal building suitable to accommodate a Federal court in Shelby, the county commissioners tendered the free use of the Cleveland county court house to the U. S. government as a place in which to hold the courts. The dates for the courts will be determined upon Judge Webb's return from Europe.

Sheriff Dilutes 40-Gallon Haul

The scent of corn liquor, "ol' Noth Ca'ina cawn," will carry almost as far as the eye can see, especially if it is a hot and sultry afternoon, and Monday was such. Pedestrians and motorists anywhere in the immediate section of the court square Monday afternoon tilted their heads and sniffed—and sniffed, for the odor wafted about by the waves of heat brought back memories of the day when "bone dry" was not a part of the American vocabulary and Mr. Volstead was a nonentity. Then the source of the perfumed atmosphere was found—and many there were that found it—40 gallons of the fluid that made the state famous before the advent of good roads and modern schools trickled down the gutter and away. It was the 40-gallon "find" made by officers several weeks ago in the honeysuckle vines on the Prospect road, and the pouring was on the south side of the court square. Once before, many moons back, the officers poured out a haul on the street and as it gushed out of the storm sewer near the Southern tracks a thirsty group made of the gutter a bar and brought into play every extra cup and ladle to be found. Such was not the case Monday, for as the contents of the five-gallon containers was emptied into the street water from one of the nearby hydrants mingled with it. "The street method of dilution," Sheriff Logan calls it.

Two Small Boys Are Bitten By A Mad Dog

A mad dog which frightened the citizens on West Warren street a few days ago, bit James P. Austell, Jr., and Bobbie Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lutz. The dog is understood to have escaped and gone to the Fallston community where it bit other dogs and some cattle. Finally it was killed and the head was sent to Raleigh for examination. A telegram received from the state chemist stated that the dog had hydrophobia so both boys are now taking the Pasteur treatment. J. P. Austell immediately killed his dogs for fear they might develop hydrophobia. It is understood that another mad dog was scouring the community around Zion church the early part of this week and that after it had bitten a number of other dogs and some cattle, it was killed.

We shall never forget a single kindness. Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Humphries. Ad

GIVE ATTENTION TO PLAYGROUNDS

City Fathers to Secure Options on Close-in Vacant Property For Parks and Playgrounds.

The city fathers are giving their attention to parks and playgrounds and at their meeting on Tuesday night of this week Aldermen S. S. Royster and John R. McClure were appointed a committee to secure options on suitable vacant lots close in which the town might purchase and convert into parks and playgrounds for children. Sites will be secured in different parts of town in order that all children might have easy access to the playgrounds. J. B. McCrary and company, engineers of Atlanta, Ga., were awarded the contract to draw plans, make blueprints and specifications for the removal of the septic tank below the Shelby cotton mill which has been a source of complaint to residents living in that vicinity. In order to keep the town cleaner, a whole time man will be put on the street force to operate in the business section all of the time, while on Saturdays he will be given extra help in order to clean the town thoroughly for Sunday. Residents living in the Curtis development on S. DeKalb street petitioned for water, lights and sewerage and the mayor and superintendent of water and light departments will investigate the need and cost and report at a subsequent meeting when action will be taken. Chas. L. Eskridge and C. P. Peeler who maintain gas and oil stations from the curb in violation of an ordinance which went into effect June 1st, asked for an extension of 90 days in which to remove the same. They based their request on the ground that said tanks will not be used for public service but for individual service only and that they are working on a device which enables them to let their tanks stay buried under the sidewalk and force the gas by air pressure to filling stations away from the curb. This request was granted. The chief of police was instructed to notify contractors not to allow building material to occupy over one-third of the sidewalk in order that traffic might not be blocked.

Highs Will Meet Shelby Mill Friday

The Shelby Highs, state champions, will play the Shelby mill club here this Friday, afternoon at 4 o'clock, according to an announcement by Coach Gurley, McKee, southpaw star of the high school club last season, is expected to be on the mound for the mill club, while either Hoyle Lee or Gorge Dedmon will twirl for the champions. The game should be close as the mill club is reported to be of near the same strength of the highs. The proceeds will be used in paying a part of the hospital bill of Max Connor, star player injured in an automobile accident and promoters of the game are expecting a good crowd to turn out as the highs are giving their services free for the benefit of their injured teammate. The club will be held together as much as possible and an attempt is now being made to schedule a number of games with amateur and semi-pro clubs to be played throughout the summer. Proceeds of all the first games will go toward paying the hospital bill. A number of local fans are taking an interest in the suggestion of Gastonia and York that a four club summer league be formed. The towns suggested are Gastonia, Shelby, York and Gaffney and the other towns are of the opinion that the circuit would prove a success.

Revival of Good Roads Hopes.

Charlotte Observer. The Cleveland county link in State highway No. 20, which runs from Wilminston through Charlotte to Asheville, is a mighty crooked affair from Shelby to the Rutherford county line. It is a sample of county location, and as a matter of course, it is to be straightened by the state highway surveyors. Chairman Page estimates a considerable reduction in distance under the new survey. And to be sure, it will be hard-surfaced, in continuation of the black top and white concrete strip between Shelby and the Rutherford line will have first attention in the new program, information which will be cheering to the hopes of the people of Shelby as well as to the traveling public in general. The beauty of the eastern end of this highway between Kings Mountain and Shelby, has inspired the people with renewed good roads enthusiasm.

Exceptional Picture At Princess Theatre

Friday and Saturday, the Princess theatre will present what should be one of the most appealing films of recent months, Tom Mix in "North of Hudson Bay". A drama of the vast white wilderness, the spirit of the northland, the vast still space of the Arctic, permeates every scene of this story of the trail of lost men. A battle of bare hands and sheer grit against the blood-thirsty fangs of an Arctic wolf pack and human vultures in the journey to death make it one of the most thrilling motion pictures ever made. Tom Mix the favorite of movie fans in he-mans drama is at his best in this savage, death-defying picture. The theatre management announces that there will be no extra charges for this special picture for the two days. Monday, Richard Talmadge will appear in "One at a Time", a picture full of action and thrills. The "Ghost City" the special Tom Meighan serial, will also be on.

Shafter C. Hamrick Picks 700 Gal. Beans

Shafter C. Hamrick, one of the most enterprising young farmers of the county is making good as a truck farmer although this is not the only kind of farming he does. On Tuesday of this week he gathered 700 gallons of beans from a half acre patch. This was the first picking and he expects to get 500 gallons on the second picking. Mr. Hamrick planted this half acre in bountiful and black valentines which are prolific bearers. Most of these were sold on the local market and came in just before the average garden beans got plentiful. Mr. Hamrick is gradually going in more and more for trucking and he finds it profitable, especially on early truck. He has several acres in water-melons and cantaloupes. In a few years The Star expects Mr. Hamrick to be a heavy shipper of vegetables to other markets.

Factory Men Are For Co-Op. Marketing

Cotton Manufacturers Endorse the Co-operative Method of Marketing Cotton. The American cotton manufacturers association in session at Atlantic City, May 28, took a strong stand in favor of the cooperative marketing of cotton. The association which is composed of cotton manufacturers of the entire country from New England to Texas adopted resolutions to the effect that cooperative marketing would tend to secure for both the manufacturers and the producers a fair price for cotton. The resolutions follow: Whereas the old method of marketing cotton has permitted an undue pressure on the market at the beginning of the season and has encouraged speculation at various stages later in the season and, Whereas such conditions tend toward violent fluctuations in prices of the staple with attendant hesitation and uncertainty in the dry goods market and, Whereas these evils both in the cotton market and the cotton goods market can only be corrected by an orderly and uniform distribution of the cotton crop. Therefore be it resolved that the cooperative handling and marketing of cotton by its producers can best bring about these results. Resolved further that the American Cotton Manufacturers association in convention assembled this 28th day of May 1924 endorses the cooperative idea of marketing as above outlined to the end that an adequate and uniform supply of cotton may be secured for the manufacturers and at as high a price for the producers as the natural and unrestricted law of supply and demand will permit."

Early Morning Fire In Blanton's Store

The store building and large stock of goods of Blanton & Blanton, South Shelby merchants, were considerably damaged by a blaze of unknown origin about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. The fire broke out in the rear end of the building and was burning fiercely when first detected. The fire truck and firemen were soon at the scene and staged a neat exhibition of fire fighting in halting the flames which had already made a good headway up through the building. The rear end of the building and the goods in that part of the building were ruined by the fire while the merchandise near the front was damaged to a certain extent by water. Just how the fire started seems to be a perplexing problem, it being the supposition of some that it was due to defective wiring. The building and merchandise were insured, it is said. The firm was composed of Messrs. Marvin and Herschel Blanton and was one of the leading stores in South Shelby.

HARD ROAD READY IN 9 WORKING DAYS

Cleveland Springs Company Lets Contract For Hard Road From Highway To Hotel.

The Cleveland Springs Company let the contract Wednesday for a concrete road 18 feet wide from the Shelby-Kings Mountain highway which runs through the hotel property to the hotel. The new road will extend in front of the hotel under the driveway and make the loop, thus facilitating the driving of cars up to the hotel property from the state highway. This work will begin right away and be completed about the time the state hard surface is finished. The water main from Shelby has been put down to Cleveland, making it possible for the home builders to connect with the city water mains. The grading of streets in the new development where many residential lots have been sold, will be started when crops are "laid by" and teams are available. Eight additional rooms have been added to the hotel by utilizing up and down stairs porches at the hotel entrances on the east and south sides. Windows and doors have been put in, the walls plastered and electric lights installed. These additional rooms do not have private baths but connect with rooms that do have these conveniences. Mr. Stearns, a member of the firm of Stearns Brothers who have the contract for the hard surface road between Shelby and Kings Mountain says all the concrete base is finished and that the asphalt top dressing is being put down as rapidly as possible. He says the road will be completed in nine working days although it will take some time to grade and level the ground along the sides of the road.

Mysterious Death Of Hickory Man

Mystery surrounds the death of Walter Smith, white youth, 18, who was found dead Sunday night about 10 o'clock at his home in Highland, near Hickory. Smith was a former employee of the Shuford Mills company, but for several weeks has been out of work. He has been making his home with his mother and step father, his mother being remembered by many as the "Cousin Sarah" who figured in the Glenn Lippard murder case. Smith's mother and stepfather left home about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, it is said, and when one of the neighbors, Monroe Lutz went to the house on an errand. He found Smith's lifeless body sitting upright in a chair with legs crossed. A pistol was found leaning against a trunk. At first it was thought that Smith came to his death by suicide but this theory was later discounted and a coroner's jury was called for a second time to probe into his death. Examination revealed that the bullet had gone through the body, cutting a hole through the heart and lodging in the wall across the room. Death is thought to have occurred several hours before the body was found. Smith's father is said to have been murdered in South Carolina several years ago.

Attends Reunion Of Class Of Year 1884

J. H. Anthony has been back for 40 years to the University of North Carolina where he was graduated in 1884 until this week when he attended a reunion of his class mates. Forty years ago when he graduated there were 87 in the graduating class and at the reunion 19 of these came back this year. He saw his old room mate Lee Love who went from Kings Mountain High School but is now living at Burlington. Some of his mates are now state-wide figures and these men were there, Dr. S. B. Turrentine president of the Greensboro College for Women, Hon. Sam M. Gettys of Hillsboro solicitor and at one time speaker of the House of Representatives of N. C. General Assembly, Hon. Zeb Vance Walsler, lawyer and author of legal books, Hon. Heriot Clarkson now a member of the Supreme Court bench of North Carolina. Mr. Anthony enjoyed his trip and the renewing of old acquaintances. The Norwegian Visits In No. 11 Township. T. W. Ebeltoft, the Norwegian book dealer was "caught" visiting in No. 11 township Wednesday morning of this week. What the merchants call No. 11 is the northern end of the business section of LaFayette St. where Campbell, Palmer, McBrayer, Hull and McCord traffic and trade in the necessities of life. It was a strange sight to see Mr. Ebeltoft so far away from his accustomed haunts and thus caused no little comment. Mr. Ebeltoft's usual "beat" when he does venture out is between the Post-office and his book store. He denies that he confines himself so closely. Now and then he ambles up the streets but his ventures are early in the morning when the younger generation is sleeping. A short time ago Will Roberts took him over to see the new Eagle Roller Mill and again Torrence LeGrand coaxed him in his car for a short ride, but Mr. Ebeltoft doesn't fancy auto riding because it makes him dizzy. Cleveland Man Makes Fine Candy. Mr. J. R. Shuford native of lower Cleveland is at the head of the Rex Candy company, makers of fine candies in Charlotte. Mr. Shuford's factory sells all kinds of candy at wholesale, but his factory recently started up in confining itself to a delicious brand of stick candy. He started in this business on a small scale and is growing rapidly. Gradually he will add new machinery and manufacture other kinds of candies. He reports good business. Mr. Shuford being a native of Cleveland and an experienced business man, Shelby should get behind him and urge him to start a candy factory in Shelby. Everybody in Cleveland count should see the great moving picture "Man's Conquest of Time" at Princess theatre Friday night. Ad

Widow of Late Daniel Poston Passed at Three Score and Ten—Eight Children Survive.

Mrs. Margaret A. Poston, widow of the late Daniel Poston died at her home north of Shelby Monday evening at 9 o'clock following an illness of four weeks during which time she suffered with a kidney trouble and rheumatism. Twenty-nine years ago her husband died and Mrs. Poston was left with a large farm which it was necessary for her to manage. Mrs. Poston was a fine Christian character who lived her religion in her home. Circumstances prevented her in her last years from attending Zion where she held her membership from girlhood, but she was a fine Christian character, admired and loved by all who knew her. No meeting was held Thursday of this week and none will be held Thursday of next week owing the inter-club program of Monday evening. The Forest City and Lincolnton and every member of the local club is expected to be present. Mr. Anthony enjoyed his trip and the renewing of old acquaintances. The Norwegian Visits In No. 11 Township. T. W. Ebeltoft, the Norwegian book dealer was "caught" visiting in No. 11 township Wednesday morning of this week. What the merchants call No. 11 is the northern end of the business section of LaFayette St. where Campbell, Palmer, McBrayer, Hull and McCord traffic and trade in the necessities of life. It was a strange sight to see Mr. Ebeltoft so far away from his accustomed haunts and thus caused no little comment. Mr. Ebeltoft's usual "beat" when he does venture out is between the Post-office and his book store. He denies that he confines himself so closely. Now and then he ambles up the streets but his ventures are early in the morning when the younger generation is sleeping. A short time ago Will Roberts took him over to see the new Eagle Roller Mill and again Torrence LeGrand coaxed him in his car for a short ride, but Mr. Ebeltoft doesn't fancy auto riding because it makes him dizzy. Cleveland Man Makes Fine Candy. Mr. J. R. Shuford native of lower Cleveland is at the head of the Rex Candy company, makers of fine candies in Charlotte. Mr. Shuford's factory sells all kinds of candy at wholesale, but his factory recently started up in confining itself to a delicious brand of stick candy. He started in this business on a small scale and is growing rapidly. Gradually he will add new machinery and manufacture other kinds of candies. He reports good business. Mr. Shuford being a native of Cleveland and an experienced business man, Shelby should get behind him and urge him to start a candy factory in Shelby. Everybody in Cleveland count should see the great moving picture "Man's Conquest of Time" at Princess theatre Friday night. Ad
