MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD FOR GALLERT

Barristers and Masons Pay Tribute. Special Court at Rutherford-ton This Week.

Rutherford, June 21.—Memorial services in honor of the late Solomon Gallert were held Saturday night following his death here by the local bar and the Masons. Short and interesting talks were made by W. C. McRorie, N. C. Harris, M. L. Edwards, Rev. J. C. Grier and K. J. Carpenter. Mr. Gallert's body was accompanied by G. Edgar Hill, master of Western Star lodge No. 91, A. F. and A. M., to Wakefield, Mass., for burial. The brother, S. M. Gallert and sister, Miss Doris Gallert of New York city were here to accompany the body to its final resting place. Mr. Gallert was buried beside his parents. The floral offering was large and beautiful.

Judge James L. Webb of Shelby convened the special term of court here Monday to try two embezzlement cases which have been moved here from Henderson county. Many visitors will be here the next two weeks. The jury has been selected and everything is ready for the big trial.

The clerk of court has about 130 pension checks to deliver to Confederate veterans and widows of veterans. They arrived last Monday and amount to about $55 each. The claimant must sign them or designate someone who will. This means that about $7500 will be distributed in the county this month.

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, president of Western North Carolina, incorporated of Asheville, will be the principal speaker at the monthly luncheon of the Rutherford county league of women voters which will meet at the Iso Thermal hotel next Tuesday, June 24, at 1 p. m. in the form of a luncheon.

Logan and Morris' furniture store was entered between Saturday night and Monday morning through an outside stairway to the second floor, a glass being broken out of the transom and a heavy iron bar being removed. A total of $109.25 was taken from the safe, which was not locked. $65.25 in money and $44 in checks. There is no clue as to the guilty party.

The first service will be held Sunday in Spindale's new Baptist church. A special program is being arranged and all former pastors will be present and deliver short addresses. The church is commodious and is the latest thing in beauty and architecture. It cost about $40,000.

Tubercular Cattle. Cattle infested with tuberculosis must soon die in Rutherford county. The county commissioners recently signed a contract with the United States bureau of animal industry and the state department of agriculture veterinary section, to put the campaign on which begins about July 15 and will continue for several months. Dr. J. G. Sallade, assistant state veterinarian, was here and made the arrangements. He interviewed many leading citizens of the county and found the sentiment strong for the campaign.

The maximum amount asked from the county is only $1,000. The cattle infested will be condemned and killed and will be paid for by the state and federal governments, the amount for grade animals not to exceed $50 and not over $100 for registered animals. This is a great forward step and will mean much for the county.

Large crowds are attending the revival at the First Baptist church. Rev. F. A. Bower, pastor of the First Baptist church, Morganton, is doing the preaching while E. L. Woolslang, of Oklahoma City, Okla., is leading the music.

Max Jests McAdoo At N. Y. Convention. The North Carolina delegation made a "good getaway" at the National Democratic convention in New York through a jest of Max Gardner's according to a story in the News and Observer by Jonathan Daniels. The jest was on Mr. McAdoo, for whom the Carolina delegation is instructed, and furnished the fun for Sunday. Mr. Daniels tells it as follows:

"Sunday morning Mr. Gardner and B. B. Grassatt, of Charlotte, met Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo and Theodore Price, editor of Commerce and Finance, in the lobby of the Vanderbilt hotel. The North Carolinians went over and paid their respects to the McAdoos and Mr. Price.

"Won't you gentlemen go to church with us?" McAdoo asked. "No thank you, sir," said Max. "We aren't running for anything."

DISTRICT CONFERENCE AT POLKVILLE CHURCH

Two Hundred Delegates Expected To Attend District Conference At Polkville July 1, 2, 3.

Delegates have been appointed by the various Methodist churches in the Shelby district for the District Conference which convenes at Polkville in upper Cleveland July 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Rev. E. M. Avett is pastor on the Polkville circuit and the visitors will see one of the most modern rural churches in Cleveland county and the handsome new parsonage recently completed by the Polkville church for its pastor, Mr. Avett and his family. Over 200 delegates are expected to attend.

Dr. Forest J. Prettyman will deliver the opening sermon at this conference. The business relating to the churches in the district will be taken up the district composing some forty or fifty churches in the counties of Gaston, Lincoln and Cleveland. Each pastor is an ex-officio member and every one will be present, with Presiding Elder C. S. Kirkpatrick presiding over the meetings.

Honeycutt Starts New Bottling Plant

Coca-Cola Bottling Company Starts New Two-story Brick Building On West Warren Street.

David E. Honeycutt proprietor of the Coca-Cola Bottling company began yesterday the erection of a two story brick building 40x100 feet on West Warren street adjacent the Shelby Grocery company, the building to be the new home of this bottling plant which for the past 14 years has been housed in the J. F. Harris building on West Marion street. The building will have a large basement in addition to the two main floors and will be completed in about 40 days. Material is arriving and ground was broken Monday so the work will be pushed to rapid completion.

Mr. Honeycutt bought the Coca-Cola plant here 14 years ago and since he has owned it, business has been very gratifying. It now has a capacity of 6,500 cases per week, each case holding two dozen bottles. Two thirds of the plant's output is Coca-Cola, while the other third is composed of fruit flavors and sodas. A short time ago new machinery was added which include a Miller hrow washer and two automatic crowning machines, one a Shields and the other a Junior which have a capacity of two cases per minute.

Three trucks and eight men are employed to distribute the plant's output. Mr. Honeycutt having all of Cleveland county and the town of Cherryville as his territory. He says it has become necessary to have larger quarters, hence he has looked forward to owning a home of his own for some time and the building will be hurried along so it can be occupied by the middle of the summer.

JOHNSON ELECTED HEAD OF KIWANIS

Denver, Colo., June 19.—With the election of Victor M. Johnson, of Rockford, Ill., as its international president and the selection of St. Paul, Minn., for the 1925 convention city, the eighth annual convention of Kiwanis International adjourned here today. Johnson defeated John H. Moser of Milwaukee, in the race for the presidency by a vote of 951 to 365.

The selection of St. Paul for the 1925 convention city ended a bitter contest that had been waged during the four days of the convention between St. Paul and Seattle, Washington. J. Walter C. Taylor of Montreal, and Ralph Ammerman, of Scranton, Pa., were elected vice-presidents of the organization under the provisions of the new constitution adopted at the Denver meeting providing for a reduction of from three to two vice presidents with out distinction as to seniority. At the same election Henry C. Heinz, of Atlanta, Ga., was chosen as treasurer for the international organization. The position of secretary is appointive.

HARLEY BRIDGES UNDER CHARGES AT GAFFNEY

Gaffney Ledger. Harley Bridges, of Lattimore, N. C., was brought from Shelby, N. C., to Gaffney Tuesday by Sheriff Jesse G. Wright who lodged Bridges in the county jail under charges of disposing of property under lien. The warrant against Bridges was sworn out by Bob Owens, of Gaffney, it was said. The property alleged to have been disposed of consists of an automobile and a mule.

CORN EAR WORM IS FOUND IN COUNTY

First Found In Palm Tree Section Of County. No Danger To Cotton If Treated.

During the past week the "corn ear worm" also known as the boll worm was reported in several sections of Cleveland county, for the most part, however, in the Palm Tree section of No. 9 township. The pest is very similar to the army worm and is so considered oftentimes when found. Although the worm is reported in the crops of several farmers County Agent Lawrence says that the farmers should not be alarmed as the worm is not as destructive as the weevil and is more easily controlled.

Farmers in the Palm Tree section reporting the corn ear worm included L. E. Lee, John Philbeck, Leroy Ives and A. Y. McMurry. There is generally an outbreak of the worm each season, but a controlling factor is the parasitic fly. The fly lays an egg on the worm, which the county agent, which hatches into a grub that enters and kills the worm. The best and most convenient method of controlling the worm, he further said, is by poisoning with calcium arsenate. "Farmers whose crops are invaded should not become alarmed but use calcium arsenate which will wipe out the pest," declared Mr. Lawrence.

The worm originates in vetch fields and attacks corn and cotton. Webster's International defines the worm as: "The larva of a noctuid moth which devours the bolls or unripe pods of the cotton plant—Also feeds on ears of corn, and on tomatoes, beans, etc."

Highs Defeat Fast Ozark Mill Team

Playing a benefit game here Saturday afternoon the local Highs defeated the fast Ozark mill club of Gastonia 4 to 1. It was the best game the Highs have participated in here this year, the opposing club being made up of semi-pros and college stars including Huffstetler of Washington and Lee, and Torrence of Georgia Tech.

The game was a hurling duel between Hoyle Lee for the Highs and Henderson for the visitors, with Lee having the edge of the battle. The high school star gave up only four scattered hits and whiffed six men, while Shelby touched Henderson for six safeties, half of them being for extra bases. Both twirlers tightened up in the pinches and no runner passed the midway bag until after the fifth frame. Beam, Wilson and Huffstetler led the hitting.

Play Here Thursday

The Highs will meet the Arlington club, of Gastonia, here Thursday afternoon in a game that should draw a large attendance. Last week Arlington defeated the Highs 5 to 0 at Gastonia, but the locals made a good showing and had given Lee errorless support might have won. Two semi-pros well known in his section, Jake Donaldson and Van Pelt, are with the Arlington outfit, and Donaldson is scheduled to pitch here Thursday. Many Shelby fans who have only witnessed the Highs in action during the high school season should see the state champions fight like oldtimers against an experienced outfit like the one to play here Thursday. Hennessee, of last year's squad, is playing second and Connor has been shifted to third with a speedy inner works as a result.

Saturday game: R. H. E. Shelby 4 6 3 Gastonia 1 4 5 Batteries: Lee and Beam; Henderson and Davis.

Charlotte Lions At Cleveland Springs

The number of week-end visitors at Cleveland Springs, Shelby's popular resort, was considerably increased by the special outing there Saturday and Sunday of members of the Lions club of Charlotte. One hundred and eighteen in all, members and friends, were registered at the hotel Saturday evening. The afternoon was spent by the Queen City visitors in a golf tournament, swimming and tennis. A dinner dance was held in the evening, the music being furnished by the club orchestra. The number of couples dancing made it necessary to bring into use the large dining room. Many members of the club with their wives and families remained over for the week end.

With the weather warming up there were probably more guests at the Springs than on any previous week end and the new rooms recently completed were brought into use. It was announced Monday that driveway from the highway around the hotel, which was recently paved and is an added convenience to the resort, would be opened Tuesday or Wednesday.

HOTTEST WEATHER IN SEVERAL YEARS

Thermometer Registers 110 in Glare of Sun's Rays—One Horse Dies from Overheat.

The hottest weather in many years prevailed in this section Thursday, Friday and Saturday, some relief coming last Saturday afternoon when a slight breeze cooled the atmosphere. People watched the thermometers which of course, varied according to location, but the correct temperature should be around 102 degrees. Mr. T. W. Ebeltoft who keeps a record of high and low temperatures is authority for the statement that a high record for several years was established when his "Big Ben" registered 102. Frank Hoey hung a thermometer on a water crate in front of the Cleveland Drug store Friday and it ran up to 110. Of course the glare of the sun and the rebound from the pavement had something to do with this high record, but folks have to move around in the glare of the sun and the reflection from the sidewalks, so they felt the effects of 110 degrees. In shady rooms where the coolest temperature was supposed to prevail, thermometers registered 96 to 98 degrees.

Soda fountains were kept busy serving cool and refreshing drinks in Shelby and both ice plants were delivering as rapidly as possible during the heat wave, but the cooling beverages only served to temporarily relieve the discomforts.

The most frequented place in Shelby was the new Memorial fountain on the court square which was recently completed and is now flowing at four drinking fountains. So popular was the fountain that people had to wait for a drink. Folks came with jugs and bottles to carry the "free and fresh" home to their families.

It was reported that a negro farm hand living on Decatur Elmore's plantation died from overheat while working in the fields on Friday, but this proved to be a mistake. Mr. Elmore says the negro died from tuberculosis. He came home from Chicago a short time ago and has been confined to his bed with this disease.

W. H. Blanton lost a fine black horse Saturday from overheat. The horse was one of a pair which he prized very highly. They were pulling a mower in an oat field when one became overheated and later died from prostration.

Three Good Films At Princess Theatre

The Princess theatre will present three exceptional and entertaining films for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week with a good booking for the remainder of the week. Tuesday, Thomas Meighan in "The Ne'er Do-well" portrays the magnificent story of a man's regeneration. Skillfully told, splendidly played and lavishly produced. The ne'er-do-well that made good with his father and the world and a picture with tense moments and rich romance taken from the Rex Beach novel. A King Vidor production "Wild Oranges," packed with romance and thrills will be shown Wednesday. A kiss in the dark, a raging fire, a thrilling escape and then some is the vivid and exciting story of Joseph Hershmeier who gave the screen "Tol'able David" and the "Bright Shawl." Staged in a savage jungle and with plenty of fight and thrill for the men and enough romance and scenery for women.

Thursday, comes the greatest melodrama of them all, "Nellie," the beautiful model. The intimate life story of a model based on the screen in a photoplay of 1,000 thrills. Dramatic revelations of the elite Fashion Row and the inside story of one of the most fascinating professions in the world, the exotic life and pleasures of a model's career.

MASONIC BUILDING TO COST $100,000

Description of Floor Plans of Handsome New Masonic Temple With Store Rooms, Etc.

Anent the letting of the contract Thursday afternoon for the Masonic building to be erected on the corner of S. Washington and E. Warren streets to cost when furnished and equipped fully $100,000 and to be the tallest building in Shelby with four stories and a basement, the floor plans are, of course, interesting to the public. For some time the question of a Woman's club floor was undecided, because the Masons did not know whether they would provide this long cherished convenience for the women of Shelby, but at last the extra floor was provided and contract let therefor. The Cleveland Lodge No. 202 has 250 members and when the Masonic year closes June 24th the secretary will have the finest report to make to the Grand Lodge that has ever been made by this lodge.

The building will be 60x100 feet, four stories with a basement, erected out of light colored pressed brick with granite trimmings, pilasters extending from the ground to the roof, giving the exterior a beautiful symmetrical appearance. The building will be steam heated, equipped with vacuum cleaning system and electric passenger elevator. The roof will be of Barret specifications.

The basement space is taken up by a boiler room, storage, coal bunker and janitor's office. The ground floor has a lobby on the southwest corner where there is an entrance to the elevator and stairway leading to the floor above. Facing S. Washington street will be a large store room with handsome show windows and plate glass front. Facing East Warren street is another store room about 32x60 feet with harmonizing front.

On the second floor where there was some doubt for awhile as to what it should be used for, is a public library with reading room, toilets, cloak room, banquet hall seating 600, serving room, storage and kitchen served by a sort of public gathering place, but more especially furnished the various women's clubs of Shelby. For many years the women have planned and looked forward to a place such as the Masons are providing out of the goodness of their heart and interest in the wholesome and uplifting things the Shelby women are doing along many lines. This will also be used as a banquet hall for the Masons who serve refreshments at some of their gatherings.

The third floor is divided into halves, one being used as a commandery which has not been organized in Shelby yet, but is expected to be the next Masonic degree offered in this town. The other half is for the Chapter, that step in Masonry above work in the Blue lodge. Along the front of this floor are provided side rooms which afford every convenience in the conferring of degrees.

The fourth floor is devoted entirely to the Blue lodge with library, examining room, preparation room, tiler's office, toilet rooms, etc. The lodge room proper will accommodate 500 people. The seats are elevated. Furnishings will be in keeping with the magnificent building.

There will be a meeting tonight at 7:30 for the installation of officers. C. S. Young is worshipful master, W. V. Metcalf in the west, Carr Cline in the south, J. Frank Roberts treasurer, R. G. Laughridge secretary. The other officers are appointive and will be read out at the installation tonight.

Martin H. Green Is Buried On Sunday

Mr. Martin H. Green died at his home near Rehobeth church in No. 7 township Saturday morning at the age of 69 years following a long illness with a kidney trouble. Mr. Green was a substantial farmer of that section whose passing is learned with deepest sorrow to his many friends. His remains were buried Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Double Springs Baptist church where he held his membership, the services being conducted by Rev. D. G. Washburn. Mr. Green is survived by his wife who before marriage was Miss Laura Goforth and five children: Sam, Frank, William and Howell Green and Mrs. Arthur Crowder.

OPPOSES TAKING FIRE TRUCK OUT OF SHELBY

To the Editor of The Star. What legal or moral right had the town authorities to send the fire truck (only one we have) to Double Shoals to help extinguish a fire, supposed to be the mill, but only a cottage? Should a fire occurred while the truck (which was bought for Shelby only) was out of town, who would have been responsible for damages? Answer: The Town of Shelby, MOST ASSUREDLY. "Property Owner."

GET SENTENCES OF SIX MONTHS EACH

Two Kings Mountain Men Given Road Terms and One Fined in the Recorder's Court.

In county recorder's court Thursday Floyd Wright, aged 33, and Padus Greene, aged 34, both of Kings Mountain, were given six months each on the county roads for manufacturing liquor. Lawrence Ramsey charged with Wright and Green was fined $50 and costs. The three were represented in court by Attorney J. R. Davis of Kings Mountain.

According to the evidence introduced the three defendants with a man by the name of Herndon, all of whom live in Kings Mountain, had been seen by officers going in and out of town and when watched were followed to a still about eight miles southwest of the town. After watching them "make a run" the officers arrested the three upon their return to town. The three plead guilty and Ramsey, only 23 years of age, was fined instead of being sentenced to the roads owing to his youth and on behalf of his father, who, officers say, has been very active against liquor interests.

Kelly Smith Freed. Saturday morning in recorder's court Kelly Smith, a white man of the northern part of the county and formerly of Burke and Rutherford counties was acquitted by jury of the charge of manufacturing liquor. In May Deputy Sheriff John Ramsey and other officers found Smith with two negroes at a still in No. 8 township. Smith and one of the negroes ran but were caught and according to evidence one of the negroes stated that it was his still. Smith's version was that he was passing and had just stopped when the officers arrived. Smith, who was represented in court by Attorney D. Z. Newton, had just completed a 30-day sentence in Asheville from Federal court, a pint of liquor having been found upon him.

Gardner Off To Big Democratic Pow Wow

Max Gardner left Saturday for New York city where he goes to attend the National Democratic convention which meets in Madison Square Garden today to nominate candidates for president and vice president and draw the national Democratic platform. Mr. Gardner is one of the "big four" that is he is one of the four delegates at large from North Carolina, the other delegates being Governor Cameron Morrison, John W. Dawson and Josephus Daniels. In all likelihood Mr. Gardner will be named as chairman of the delegation which will make him spokesman for North Carolina. He received a number of letters before he left from delegates voluntarily suggesting that he accept this honor and pledging their support.

The North Carolina delegates will no doubt vote for McAdoo as long as they see there is a chance for his nomination. Mr. Gardner has received a number of invitations to attend banquets and dinner parties which will be given to the distinguished visitors while in the metropolis and he has also received from the police department a card entitling him to pass the cordon of police who will give him every protection while there.

Mr. Thomas Mode Is Buried Here Monday

The remains of Mr. I. Thomas Mode arrived Monday morning over the Southern from Greer, S. C., and were buried at Sunset cemetery, a short funeral service being conducted by Rev. W. A. Murray and Rev. H. B. Coon of Greer. Mr. Mode died in Greer Sunday morning at 82 years of age. Six months ago his wife died in Shelby while on a visit to her sons and she was buried at Sunset cemetery. The remains of her husband were interred by her side at 10:30 Monday morning. Surviving are four sons, living in Shelby: W. G. Mode, Robert L. Mode, T. O. Mode and Z. V. Mode, while one son J. H. Mode and one daughter Mrs. Lamar Smith live at Greer, S. C.

CATAWBA COUNTY MAN PAROLED BY MORRISON

Governor Morrison has paroled for the remainder of his term, T. E. Lippard, who was sentenced at the July 1923 term of the Catawba county Superior court to 18 months in the county jail. Lippard has served a portion of his sentence but has from time to time received paroles from the executive in order that he could receive treatment in a hospital. The prisoner, it was said, is still in poor health and in need of attention at a hospital. For these reasons, the governor stated that he paroled the man. Bring your sick car to Claude Jones at Kings Place. Adv.

NEW HIGHWAY OPEN TO AUTO TRAFFIC

Motorists Swarm Over Scenic Road With Completion of Link Between Kings Mountain and Shelby.

Cleveland county awoke Sunday morning to find an apparently endless stream of tourists and week-end motorists pouring through the county on the new highway, "N. C. 20" completed just in time for the usual swarm of week-end lovers of the open trail. The completion during the week of the link between Kings Mountain and Shelby of the highway, one of the best scenic roads in North Carolina, means much to the county and almost as much to the outside world as was evidenced by the heavy traffic on the first day the detour signs were removed. The opening was not just from Shelby to Kings Mountain, or Shelby to Charlotte, but one of the longest stretches of pavement in the state, Shelby to Hillsboro and joins the east with the west. Since the arrival of warm weather the annual flock of visitors to the mountain section has been on and the detours and incomplete highway have turned them on other routes than the direct one. Cleveland Springs, Chimney Rock, Hendersonville and Asheville are now at the end of an open and inviting stretch of highway, which will be learned with interest both by the tourists and the people of the countryside through which they pass.

Sunday with the announcement that the road was open tourists herebefore turned by another route were again directed this way and with the Cleveland county people inspecting their new road the traffic was probably the heaviest ever known on any road in the county. The road bordered on each side with sloping and wooded hills or rolling and fertile fields has a semi-mountain lure that will make the link between Bessemer, City and Shelby famous throughout the state. Although the paving has been completed the sides adjoining the pavement has not been graded and is as yet rather dangerous to travel in a heavy traffic where one car may be forced to leave the pavement. Despite this fact the steady "zip" of one speeding car passing another was heard all day long between Shelby and Charlotte. In fact the highway had the appearance of a busy city street with a large number of Charlotte and Gastonia people, motoring to Cleveland Springs adding to the continuous stream.

Wreck on First Day. The first day's travel was marred by a near serious collision just beyond the new concrete bridge over Buffalo creek between a big Studebaker bus on the Charlotte-Shelby bus line and a Ford touring car. Both cars were badly damaged, but reports have it that no one was more than slightly injured. The Ford was said to have been driven by Mrs. Will Logan of Kings Mountain and was coming towards Shelby, the bus going in the opposite direction. One report of the accident said that Mrs. Logan's car ran off the pavement on the right side and that in turning back on the road the cars collided. The Ford was badly smashed up and the big bus was damaged about the front. Only one passenger was said to have been in the bus.

CONTRACTS LET FOR NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL

Presbyterian Church to Spend About $30,000—Little and Dudley Are Awarded Contracts. The Presbyterian church has let contracts to J. P. Little and company for the new Sunday school addition and to J. G. Dudley for the plumbing and the total cost of the Sunday school addition with equipment and furnishings to be about $30,000. Little's contract for the brick addition is $24,800 while Dudley's contract for the plumbing is $2,600. Work will be got right away and be rushed to rapid completion.

For sometime the Presbyterian have been discussing the new Sunday school addition which has been greatly needed. Plans were finally drawn and approved at a congregational meeting, the plans calling for 18 Sunday school class rooms with an auditorium having a seating capacity of 300. In addition to the class rooms the addition will have a pastor's study, ladies parlor, superintendent's office, library etc. Every convenience will be provided to make the Sunday school addition modern and adequate to the needs of the congregation which is showing rapid growth.

Get your gas, oils, tires, tubes, sandwiches, cold drinks, etc., at King's Place. Logan and Champion. Adv. Messrs. Jenks Clary and C. A. Dalton spent the week-end in Boone.
