Colored School.
A. W. Foster, sixth and ninth; R. C. Cabiness, fourth and fifth; Anna Cox, third; Dorcas Williamson, second; Mrs. A. W. Foster, one. Lillie Holloway, home economics.

Introducing New Teachers.
As will be noted there are several new teachers added to the list. These new teachers take places of former teachers who have married and new positions created to take care of the increase in enrollment anticipated for the new year.

Miss Mary Gidney was educated at the Greensboro College for Women and has taught successfully for two years in the Kings Mountain city schools. Miss Gidney comes very highly recommended by Superintendent Irvin and the school authorities in Kings Mountain.

Miss Ruth Dry is a graduate of the North Carolina College for Women and has been teaching for several years in the Concord city schools. She taught this summer in the state approved summer school in Lenoir college.

Miss Sue Norman is a graduate of Salem college and has taught successfully in High Point, Kinston and Winston-Salem. She has spent the summer traveling in California and other western states.

Miss Lucy Hamrick has been for several years a successful teacher in South Shelby, where her work has been very much appreciated by the patrons and school authorities.

Miss Matilda Lattimore graduated from the North Carolina College for Women. Since her graduation, she has taught in the Waco high school. Miss Lattimore made a good record at college and also as teacher in Waco.

Miss Margaret Anthony received her training at Winthrop college and taught successfully at Morganton. She takes the place of her mother who resigned on account of her health.

Miss Grace Reed graduated from Due West College for Women and has taught one year in Saluda. Miss Reed takes the place of Miss Mattinson as grade teacher and public school music teacher in the LaFayette school. Mrs. Connor graduated from Greensboro College for Women and has had a great deal of successful experience in teaching. She was once in the Shelby schools but resigned at the time of her marriage. She taught last year in South Shelby.

Miss Gladys Smith graduated from Winthrop college and for the last four years has taught successfully in the Monroe high school. Her superintendent and board of education recommended her in the highest terms.

Miss Hart Sheridan is a graduate of Lander college and has taught for several years in Rockingham and Statesville. She made a splendid record in both schools and comes to us very highly recommended.

Miss Aileen Gramling is a graduate of the University of South Carolina

Baptized 1800 People in Life

Thursday, following a revival at First Broad Baptist church, Golden Valley township, Rutherford county, Rev. Houston Harrell, an 82-year-old minister, baptized 23 people. At the conclusion of the baptismal rites he announced that the 23rd made a total of 1,800 people he had baptized in his career as a minister, according to information given The Star by Messrs. J. D. and W. R. Page, of that section. This is an unusual number of people for one minister to baptize and is thought to be a record in this entire section, if not the surrounding country.

One of the 23 baptized, was a lady 70 years of age, it is said, who professed religion some 40 years ago, but had not been baptized until last Thursday. The aged minister, who lives near Forest City, is known by older residents here.

200 SHARES FAIR STOCK TO BE SOLD

The 200 remaining shares of fair stock will be sold this week, provided those interested put forth a little personal effort. A "personal contact" drive will be staged and it is expected that the remaining $4,000 will be easily raised. Every fair official, business man, farmer, and citizen of Cleveland interested in the county's first big fair, will this week make of everyone they come in contact a prospective purchaser, with the idea of scattering as much as possible the 200 shares yet unsold.

There are a number of people over the county who have not purchased fair stock, but would do so if asked. It is impossible to make a canvass of the entire county and those who wish a share or more of stock should mail their check to the fair secretary this week, before this allotted amount is raised. Dr. Dorton, secretary of the Fair association, announces that farmers and others too busy to see him personally about fair stock may mail their checks to him or leave them with any bank or business house in town and that stock will be issued. One bank alone last week sold $860 worth of fair stock and with all those interested in the fair putting forth a little extra effort this week all the money needed for the fair should be raised.

Hazel Hunt Case is Continued in Gaston

The case against Hazel Hunt, a medical student and son of Mr. J. F. Hunt, formerly of Casar, now living at Spindale, charging him with running down and killing a small child at Cherryville two weeks ago, was continued Saturday when the preliminary hearing was held. It was decided to refer the matter to the grand jury for investigation as to the responsibility for the accident which resulted in the death of a child which attempted to cross the street at Cherryville in front of a car driven by young Mr. Hunt. John Carpenter, solicitor from Gastonia was present to prosecute Mr. Hunt while Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby had been retained by the defense. Hunt is out on $500 bond.

and has taught successfully in Selma, Clinton, and Lumberton. For the last two years she has been high school principal in the city schools of Lumberton and she has had splendid success as teacher.

Mrs. W. J. Roberts is in no sense of the term a new teacher for she not only has been high school principal of the Shelby high school but has taught for several years as a regular teacher. For sometime Mrs. Roberts has been substitute teacher in the high school and her work was so satisfactory that she has been prevailed upon to accept full time work.

Miss Margaret McKinnon graduated this year from North Carolina college for Women and comes to take the place of Miss Rebecca Cushing. Miss Cushing made such a high record as teacher of home economics that the state department of education promoted her to the position of assistant supervisor of home economics teaching in North Carolina. Miss Cushing is taking a special course in supervision in Columbia University this summer. Miss McKinnon is well qualified to take up the work that Miss Cushing has carried on so successfully.

Mr. Roy "Casey" Morris graduated last June from the University of North Carolina. As is generally known, he holds an enviable record as an athlete and his name is familiar wherever there are people interested in athletics. Mr. Morris comes to take up the work of Mr. Gurley, who has been promoted to the position of coach in Lenoir college.

Further detail notes relative to text books, etc., will be published later.

OPTIMISTIC OVER COUNTY'S FUTURE

Kiwanians Get Bracing Farm Talk, Religious Advice and "Pepping up" About Coming Fair.

The Kiwanis club at the meeting held last Thursday evening encountered a program of variety—one of optimism, religious and boosting the county. Rev. C. O. Smith, Philadelphia pastor vacationing here, furnished the religious features; William Lineberger, the boosting in a county fair talk; and O. Max Gardner, the optimism in the form of a prediction of good crops this year as well as good prices.

Oliver S. Anthony, program chairman for the "dull month" followed his initial plan of a surprise speech meeting, which again met with the approval of the club. Mr. Lineberger in telling how he raised $860 of fair stock in four days urged fellow members to take a little time off, put forth a little effort and help the first fair start off free of debt this fall by seeing that the remainder of the stock is subscribed. "It's easy," he declared, "after the bank devoted its advertising space to selling shares in the fair a number came in voluntarily and took many shares, remarking that they would have done so long before had they the opportunity or the asking. If every man here mentions a share or several shares to the people that come in their place of business this week the remainder of the $5,000 wanted can be sold this week. There are many people in various sections of the county and right here in Shelby who have not been asked to take a share and many of them want to, and will if asked."

Predicts 35,000 Bales.
"A short time ago," Mr. Gardner opened, "there was a rather blue outlook over Shelby and the county—prospects for the cotton crop were not encouraging, but now things have brightened up and if something unlooked for does not yet befall the crops we may look for one of the best years in the county's history, for with a good cotton price and a good crop the entire county will enjoy prosperity. From the present outlook I predict around 35,000 or 40,000 bales and personally would say the price will be around 25 or 30 cents. The people of this county have never been as depressed as residents of other cotton counties and have no occasion to do so now. The brighter outlook is already bracing things up, as it should. Along with more prosperity, we must not overlook one thing—Shelby to continue a normal growth must have more industry, more pay rolls and other sources of employment. These are necessary to the development of any town and Shelby must keep her stride for the next few years. Last year we added some industry and we must not let this year slip by without at least equaling the work of 1923." Mr. Gardner addressed Mr. John R. Dover that the club might call on him to build another cotton mill, and the "Barkis is willin'" reply of Mr. Dover seemed to express the sentiments of the club.

Rev. C. O. Smith in his talk, which was limited by time made it plain to Kiwanis that a preacher can be a good fellow and still stay within his time limit, and moreover he possessed a manner of mentioning religious things that appeals to business men. "Our present-day religion here in America is a 'Sunday suit religion'. We adjust our religious ideas and thoughts with the donning of the Sunday best, when religion, the real religion, should permeate every act of our lives."

Plans for a picnic were again discussed by the club, but further than that it was decided to make it a "family affair," nothing definite was done, although it is likely the picnic will be held within the next two weeks, probably this week.

Former Shelby People Knew of Kid McCoy

Recently press dispatches carried the story of another sensational tragedy in Los Angeles which centered around "Kid" McCoy, famous prize fighter. The next day a dispatch from Gastonia stated that McCoy, who was married almost a dozen times, was married there in 1911 to a Paris woman. The minister who performed the ceremony, Rev. George D. Herman, at one time lived in Shelby, and one of the witnesses, Mrs. Ches Abernethy who now lives in Vidalia, Ga., is the daughter-in-law of Mr. T. H. Abernethy, of this place, and the sister-in-law of Paul Abernethy of The Star.

It is said that McCoy carried a big roll at the time of his marriage in Gastonia and offered to pay a considerable sum to keep the news of his marriage out of the papers but failed to do so.

Molasses making time is about here and O. E. Ford Co., has the cane mills, evaporators and furnaces. Ad

City Subscribers, If You Miss Your Paper

City subscribers will please phone The Star office, telephone No. 11, if your paper fails to come for any reason. We have four small carrier boys, each one covering one of the four wards of the town, inside the corporate limits. They do not know the names of the people very well so now then they overlook a subscriber who should receive a Star each Monday and Thursday afternoon. We have no way of knowing whether your paper reaches you regularly unless you report missing copies to The Star. Complaints will be promptly attended to and the missing copies supplied as soon as possible after the complaint is made.

Don't miss your paper several times before you make a complaint. Phone or call promptly and the carrier boy will be sent to deliver the same.

PETITIONS FOR EXTENDING LIMITS

700 People Sign Asking that Corporate Limits of Shelby be Extended Three-quarters Mile.

Petitions are out for the signatures of voters in Shelby and proposed enlarged territory asking Senator Sam C. Lattimore and Representative J. R. Davis to provide for the extension of the corporate limits of the town of Shelby at the special session of the general assembly. The agitation for extension has been under way for several years and sentiment seems to be strongly in favor of it, but no definite steps were taken until last Thursday night when there was a called meeting of local business men held after the Kiwanis meeting at Cleveland Springs when it was decided to draw up and circulate petitions for the signature of voters, petitioning the representatives from this county to provide for the extension of the town limits a distance of three-quarters of a mile so if favorable action is taken on the petition the diameter of Shelby will be a mile and a half.

The petitions were mailed Monday afternoon to the representatives in Raleigh with 800 or more names. Those who circulated the petitions say that more names could have been secured if they had more time to work.

Old Monazite Plant Destroyed

The old monazite house near the Belmont Cotton mill in South Shelby was destroyed by fire of unknown origin about 5 o'clock Saturday morning. The fire threatened the "shanty" cars occupied by Lem Conner and his Southern railway bridge crew, but the cars were moved away and saved. The old monazite house was a frame building much dilapidated. It contained separator machinery, several electrical motors, desks, etc., the original cost of which was $10,000 or $12,000 and owned by the Carolina Monazite Co., a New Jersey concern which at one time was a domestic corporation with L. A. Gettys in charge, but the charter was surrendered some years ago when the monazite industry in this section was abandoned.

Three Baseball Games Here During Week

Shelby Will Play Gaffney, Bessemer City and Lincolnton. "Lefty" Robinson Succeeds Gurley.

Local fans will this week have the opportunity of witnessing three games on the local park, according to an announcement made Monday. The first game will be on Thursday with Lincolnton furnishing the opposition in the third and deciding game between the two clubs. On Friday, Bessemer City will play here, while the Gaffney, S. C., outfit will return for a game on Saturday. Wednesday the locals will play Gaffney in Gaffney.

Since the departure of Dick Gurley for work connected with his coaching position at Lenoir college, "Lefty" Robinson, well known in semi-pro circles, will manage the local club. Robinson announces that one or two changes will likely be made and a new hurler added to the staff. It is his intention to play four or five games each week, three of them here if possible.

Defeat West Hickory.
In a loosely played game here Saturday afternoon Shelby defeated West Hickory 11 to 5. Bobbles and miscues, by both clubs marked the contest, although at times the game took interesting turns. The hitting of Arrowood, Shelby left fielder, was the lone feature.

MRS. R. C. HICKS BURIED SUNDAY

Wife of Well Known Dentist Dies—Is Buried With New Born Infant in Her Arms—Talented Musician

Mrs. R. C. Hicks, wife of Dr. R. C. Hicks, prominent dentist of Shelby, died Friday evening at her home on N. LaFayette street following an illness of about six weeks during which time she received the most skillful medical attention, the news of her death being learned with great sorrow to her host of friends throughout this and Mecklenburg counties. Her remains were buried Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Sunset Cemetery here, the funeral being conducted by the Central Methodist church of which she was a beloved member by her pastor, Rev. A. L. Stanford, assisted by Rev. Dwight Brown of Gastonia. In her arms was her newborn infant born on Friday morning, making the death a double tragedy. A great crowd attended the funeral services, many friends coming over from Charlotte where she was born November 22nd, 1895 and was a most popular young lady in her girlhood, standing high in social and music circles of the Queen City.

Mrs. Hicks was most talented in vocal and instrumental music and a valued member of Central Methodist Choir where she was often heard in solo parts. Before marriage she taught music in a number of institutions and was admired and loved by all her pupils. On December 20th 1919 she was married to Dr. Hicks and since living in Shelby where her husband practices dentistry, she has endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. She was a member of a number of social and civic clubs and the abundance of floral offerings attested the high esteem in which she was held.

Mrs. Hicks is survived by her husband, a three year old son Robert Shields, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harmon, 1005 E. Boulevard, Charlotte a sister, Mrs. Harris B. Gier, a brother, Paul V. Harmon, all of Charlotte.

The following were active pall bearers; Dr. James McBrayer, Frank E. Hoey, Gene Schenck, Paul Welton, John McKnight, Thad C. Ford, Honorary pall bearers: Earl Honeycutt, W. N. Dorsey, Earl Hamrick, O. Elam, J. D. Lineberger, S. E. Hoey, W. L. Fanning, Dr. Pitt Beam, E. G. Morrison, C. R. Hoey, Carl Webb and Dr. J. R. Osborne.

Flower bearers were: Miss Mary Harris, Mesdames William McCord, Ben Suttle, Gene Schenck, J. D. Lineberger, Jud Jones, Oren Hamrick, W. C. Harris, D. Z. Newton, Jack Palmer, Clyde Short, Frank E. Hoey, Joe Nash and Hugh Mauney.

Fanning Company Increases Capital

Organization Includes Shelby and Hickory Stores With Headquarters in Shelby.

An amendment to the charter of W. L. Fanning and Co., authorized the increase in the capital stock from $50,000 to $100,000 as a result of which the W. L. Fanning and Co., has taken over under the same management the Fanning Department store at Hickory both stores be run with headquarters in Shelby with George A. Hoyle, secretary-treasurer. At a recent meeting of the stockholders W. L. Fanning was elected president, Joe Nash vice president, Geo. A. Hoyle, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Hoyle who has been at Hickory will remain there. D. D. Wilkins and Summie Spangler have also acquired stock in the Fanning company and are actively identified with the business. Both Hoyle and Wilkins are experienced merchants who operated for a number of years in the present location of this store under the firm name of Hoyle and Wilkins, so they feel very much at home.

The Hickory store, one of the largest department stores there was a partnership owned by George Hoyle, W. L. Fanning and H. Craig Harrelson until it was recently taken over by the W. L. Fanning Co., and the two stores will hereafter be operated under the same capital.

It is expected that the local Fanning store will move into new building about September 15th.

MAY BOOK VAUDEVILLE FOR PRINCESS THEATRE

Mr. Enos L. Beam, one of the proprietors of the Princess theatre who is on a business trip to New York and other northern points, has gone in the interest of the theatrical business. He hopes to secure some of the biggest attractions that are coming South during the winter and next spring. While away he will negotiate for a Keith franchise for the winter and spring provided these attractions are not prohibitive in price. At any rate he is looking after the best bookings of pictures that will be available and promises some extra good attractions for the coming season.

Mrs. Ledford Is Oldest Woman

Following the celebration Friday August 8, of the 102nd birthday anniversary of Mrs. Susan Grigg near Three County corners, it was stated that Mrs. Grigg was the oldest woman in the county, but since that time The Star has learned that "Aunt Nellie" Ledford, who lives with her granddaughter, Mrs. Andrew Lee, near Lawndale, is some months older. Mrs. Ledford, the widow of Bob Ledford, an old-time Methodist circuit rider was 102 years of age on January 1, this year, which makes her seven months and eight days older than Mrs. Grigg. Our informant, W. Covington, better known through his 82 years as "Bill," is no youngster himself. Mrs. Ledford injured her hip in a fall some years ago and is unable to walk, but with this exception enjoys good health and has a remarkable memory.

FRANCIS AND WIFE MAKE JAIL VISIT

Not Admitted to Cell Floor. But Converse Briefly With Philbeck From Outside.

Another unusual feature developed in Francis-Philbeck matter last week, when it was learned that Francis and his wife visited at the county jail Saturday afternoon. Just what their mission was is not known, but officers verify the report that Mr. and Mrs. Francis were at the jail for a short time during the afternoon. No officer was present, it is said, and they were not admitted to the jail, it being the desire of Mrs. Francis, it was further reported, to see some of the female inmates. However, not being admitted it is said, that they conversed with Sloan Philbeck from the outside of the jail. Mrs. Francis, others at the jail declared, told Philbeck that they would be back this week, when Deputy Sheriff Jerry Runyans could come along and let them upstairs.

So far Philbeck has failed to secure bond although there are a number of reports that bond will soon be raised. A bond has been prepared in the office of the clerk of court for 10 men to sign and one, Billy Lowery, has already signed on the condition that nine others sign. These nine, according to reports, will be composed of men about Earl and business men of Shelby.

With the exception of the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Francis to the jail where the man charged with eloping with Mrs. Francis is confined, nothing further has developed. Domestic relations in the Francis home at Earl seem to be back on a normal basis, people of the village say.

Morrison Finds Ruby Mine in Rutherford

Mr. E. G. Morrison, prominent local jeweler reports the discovery of a wonderful ruby mine in Green Hill township Rutherford county. He chanced upon the location of the gems when a negro sent him a quantity for examination. On Friday of last week he went to personally inspect the place they were found and there on the surface of the ground he picked up a quantity of red rubies in rough state. He thinks by some prospecting the real vein can be located and some valuable gems unearthed.

Speaking of rubies Mr. Morrison says: "Very few people know what these gems of deep dich red, or better known as the Pigeon blood variety, rank above diamonds in point of value. Ruby is next to diamond in point of hardness. Corundum is the family in which ruby belongs, the violet color being oriental amethyst, the blue variety being oriental sapphire and the red variety being ruby which is the most valuable. The crystals found in Rutherford county are red and some in the rough may be seen at Morrison's jewelry store."

BATHING BEAUTIES ON AT PRINCESS THURSDAY 22.

"The Temple of Venus," the big Otto production featuring Mary Philbin and Phyllis Haver along with hundreds of other bathing beauties will be on at the Princess theatre on Thursday. This is a great scenic story of youth and romance, delightful dancers and bevy of bathing belles. Tuesday, "The Code of the Wilderness," a thrilling picture of the burnt grass country, is the special feature, while Wednesday, the Princess will present Pete Morrison in "Daring Danger" a film you can't help but like.

Mr. Hugh P. Hoyle was a Gaffney visitor Sunday.
Mr. O. E. Ford is visiting at Madison, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wade Gentry.

BAPTISTS TO MEET AT DOUBLE SPRINGS

Kings Mountain Association Date October 1st and 2nd and Meets Where it Was Organized.

The Kings Mountain Baptist association meets this year with the Double Springs Baptist church October 1 and 2 where it was organized in 1851, seventy-three years ago with Rev. Thomas Dixon as its first moderator.

Mr. G. G. Page, clerk of the Kings Mountain Baptist association has just mailed to the clerks of the 40 churches of the association church letter blanks to be filled in and returned to him at Kings Mountain as early as possible. He would like to have all the letters on hand several days before the opening of the session of the association which will be at Double Springs. All church clerks please take notice and look after this matter promptly.

Some Baptist Figures.
The Baptists of the world have increased within the last 135 years from 100,000 to ten millions. Then they were found only in England and America and spoke only the English language. Now they are in practically every country in the world and speak about all the languages.

There are 24,900 churches with 3,494,189 members.

Two thousand two hundred and sixty-three churches with 337,258 members in sixty-five associations. Last year there were 17,787 baptisms. Six hundred and twenty-two churches reported no baptism. The per capita contribution was $10.35 for all objects. There were reported last year 2,159 Sunday schools, with 274,524 members.

In Kings Mountain Association.
Organized 1851 at Double Springs church, Tom Dixon was moderator, J. R. Logan, clerk and D. Pannell preached the introductory sermon. The association now has 40 churches with a membership of about nine thousand.

The enrollment in Sunday schools is less than the church rolls by over 1,500 souls.

The per capita contribution for the church members for all purposes, not listed in the Sunday school finances is about ten dollars. The per capita contribution to Sunday school is nine dollars.

There are more Baptists in this association territory than all other denominations combined. That places the weight of responsibility upon Baptist shoulders.

One third of the white population of Cleveland county belong to the 40 Missionary Baptist churches of this association.

DEPUTY DIXON HAS HOT RACE WITH LIQUOR CAR
Last Thursday night Deputy Sheriff Ed Dixon discovered a new speed limit in his Dodge touring car when he chased a Ford coupe for 12 miles, the fleeing car hitting it up around "60 per" most of time. Owens Walker, of Eastside and S. Carolina, the driver of the coupe, was fined $150 before Acting Recorder T. C. Eskridge Saturday. Walker tossed out most of his cargo but one gallon and a half failed to break and was used as evidence. The toss out was made in the heart of Fallston. Accompanying Deputy Dixon were Messrs. Frank Stamey and M. M. Gantt.
