

CHARLOTTE PIANO MAN HERE.

Prof. J. F. Gallery, piano tuner from the Parker-Gardner company, Charlotte, is in town to tune pianos sold by Parker-Gardner company and others. Professor Gallery has been with the Parker-Gardner firm for 18 years and is also an expert player piano man, having worked in piano factories and does work for most of the musical people on his route. He is also a violinist of some note, and those wishing good work on their pianos should address Prof. J. F. Gallery, general delivery, Shelby, Ad. If we could see ourselves as others see us, we'd never speak to them again.—Toledo Blade.

Milt Tolbert Has Exceptional Show

Entire Troupe, Especially Orchestra And Leads, Far Superior to the Usual Tent Shows.

It is seldom that a county or small city paper deals in dramatic criticism, but there are exceptions. Police officers may shoot 10 or 15 dogs a day and still not produce a decent news story but let the hide of one high-priced canine be punctured and a good story is forthcoming. The same applies to tent shows—they come and go—only one in a hundred is worthy of notice, and this one evidently struck Shelby this week. Milt Tolbert's tent show it is called although Tolbert will hear no more applause and for him the curtain has fallen forever. The owner nowadays is a youngster known as Boyd Holloway, the self same youngster that may again make the tent show a favorite because he believes in giving the public their money's worth—clean, high-class and far better than the usual run on small, and even some large, vaudeville circuits.

To begin with Holloway, an exceptional "take" with this audience and a medal decorated veteran of the World War, has an orchestra the gallery will call a "pipin'" or "peach" made up of college boys, a select bunch from Penn State, Auburn, Georgia Tech and other institutions, it contains some of the best jazz artists in the country. Holloway features his programs with a 30 minute concert before shows and skits between with orchestra. Even a low calibre tent troupe would "get over" with that orchestra. The orchestra, however, is not by far the only unusual talent the young owner believes in carrying—the cast from the leads to the extras is of the kind that acts instead of moving and talking marionette fashion. In their first play Monday night, "Sainted Hypocrites and Honest Sinners", several well timed morals were carried, and carried without disturbing the entertaining features. Leonard Morse, as Abe, the janitor, has an exceptional talent and is well worth his berth in speaking and character parts in any class of performance. Near him in the realistic performance is Miss Malone, while Holloway himself in the cue of the wild young brother was the favorite his part demanded of the audience. Selecting stars in the troupe is another matter. Every individual in the outfit would be a star in the ordinary run of tent shows. One of the Auburn boys, who won the crowd with his caroling of "blues" in the main show, exhibited an exceptional knowledge of the original stage "buck-and-wing" dancing during the concert skits. The company plays here the entire week through Friday and Saturday and no tent show in history has been a bigger drawing card. People like clean and high class entertainment even under canvas—Tolbert's "houses" are the proof. If Holloway brings his troupe around this section next year, our advice is a wider canvas and more seats. Shelby wondered at first how a tent show could afford such an orchestra—the first performance was the answer.

NEARLY ALL SWEDISH FARMS ENJOY ELECTRIC LIGHTS

While the utilization of water power for every purpose has been developing rapidly in Sweden during the last two decades, there is a strong tendency at present to convert the turbine power into electric energy for further industrial use. Thus factories are being built hundreds of miles away from the source of their power, and electric current is not only distributed to all parts of Sweden but is exported to neighboring countries as well.

There are now 2,100 large power plants in Sweden, of which about 50 per cent furnish light, heat and power for the country districts. Besides there are several hundred smaller plants using less than 10,000 horse power each. Forty per cent of the Swedish farms now run their household, dairy, and agricultural machinery by electricity, and 50 per cent of the houses in the country districts are lighted by electricity. This is believed to be a record for the world.

NEW MODEL CHEVROLET COACH NOW ON MARKET

The Chevrolet Motor company announces a new model to its line, the Chevrolet coach, which will be the lowest priced coach on the market, say Aray Bros., dealers of Shelby.

This Chevrolet coach, however, differs from most of the coaches on the market in that the rear panels are steel clear to the top, like the other Chevrolet closed models, and is finished in black with gold stripe—the same as Chevrolet sedan.

The door on each side is exceptionally large allowing for easy entrance and exit, while the wide windows, two on each side, afford an extreme range of vision during all seasons and refreshing ventilation in warm weather. The rear quarter windows are the same width as the door windows.

GOLF BALL BARRAGE BAD ON RATTLESNAKE

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 23.—Local golfers have killed wild birds and pigeons with their mighty drives, and it is even said that innocent bystanders have been knocked silly by ill-guided balls, but it remained for Morton Jones, automobile dealer, to set a new record in this line. Playing golf with Judge J. C. C. Black, Hugh P. Saxon and Milledge Lockhart, Mr. Jones sliced his ball on the twelfth tee and when the elusive pill was found behind a shallow declivity it was lying close beside a diamond back rattlesnake which was in the throes of death. The snake measured three feet and had two rattles.

Arab Women Seek Removal Of Veils

Jerusalem—The stubborn conservatism of the Mohammedan custom with regard to the social isolation of the women in Palestine may soon give way before the movement launched by Arab feminists for the removal of the veil. The Holy Land backward in many respects, is behind such Moslem countries as Turkey and Egypt in breaking the shackles holding women in seclusion.

The movement for the enfranchisement of Moslem women in Palestine is of recent origin and is traceable to the influx of people from the west, especially Jewish immigrants coming to settle in their national home.

As the first step towards their emancipation the women demand ecclesiastical sanction for the removal of the dark veil from their faces. If such flying in the face of age-long custom does not win official approval some of the leading Arab women of Palestine are determined to do what their Moslem sisters did in Turkey, where the veil has been entirely cast off, or at least in Egypt where only a light transparent veil is still worn extending from below the nose.

The ban on the public appearance of women has retarded the development of the Arab drama, and it is the hope of the feminists that the admittance of Moslem women to the theatrical stage will follow the removal of the veil.

Arab women of Palestine are keen not only on social emancipation but on participation in politics.

"Take us out of our insulting seclusion and remove from our faces the offensive black cloth, give us our opportunity as free members of a free people, granting us the right to fight with you for our national ideals," says in part an appeal appearing recently in an Arab language newspaper in Haifa. "Then we shall in gratitude sacrifice our jewels, delivering up our gold and precious stones for the establishment of the Arab National bank."

RELATIONS CONFUSED BY FATHER-SON WEDDINGS

Munich, Sept. 24.—The recent weddings of Karl Braun, 25 years old, and his father have started an endless chain of relationships which has got beyond the reach of genealogists and culminated in Braun becoming his father's father-in-law.

Young Braun married a widow of 45 with grown-up children. Shortly after his father, 50 years of age, married the 24-year-old daughter of his son's wife. Genealogists figure that as a result of the two weddings young Braun became his father's father-in-law and that his wife's daughter became her mother's mother-in-law and the step mother of her own step-father.

DRY AGENTS SEIZE LIQUOR CASES BY THE THOUSANDS

New Orleans, Sept. 22.—Dry agents today seized thousands of cases of liquor at Mandeville and Bayou LaCombe, across Lake Ponchartrain from New Orleans, and unearthed, they said a gigantic conspiracy to ship liquor by earloads to the large cities of the south and middle west.

J. H. Hemmingway, said by the officers to be "the brains" of the alleged conspiracy, was arrested as he attempted to leave Prieto's yard in his automobile. He gave his address as Mandeville.

In "detour" the accent is on the last syllable. So many people place it on the d.—Associated Editors. The swell-head germ is nobody's fool. He always manages to pick out an empty one.—Everett Herald.
