R. H. Graham,

Millionaire Couzens paid an income tax of about $6,000 for 1923. We are now prepared to join with him in his accusations that there is something rotten in the Treasury Department.—Columbia Record.

We have just read something from a man who objects to monuments being erected to dead politicians. As for us, the more monuments of that sort, the merrier, say we.—Columbia Record.

Come to think of it, we are inclined to believe that LaFollette's ruse to make people believe the Republicans had tens of millions of slush funds caused a rush in that direction.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

JOSEY'S OPEN-FORMULA FERTILIZERS — made their appearance in 1924. The Guano is built upon the experience of 14 years. Our policy of giving real information meets the approval of every Agricultural Agent, the leading merchant, and the intelligent farmer.

We want to express our appreciation for the kind reception with which Josey's Open-Formula Fertilizers have met.

We are building Fertilization for every crop. We undertake to build just what the plant needs. Special fertilizers are prepared for all kinds of Truck—Lettuce, Beans, Irish Potatoes, Sweet potatoes, Berries, Cotton, Tobacco, and all general crops.

Write us, stating what crops you wish to plant, and let us suggest the proper fertilizer for it.

MISS BOSTICK TELLS OF MISSION WORK

She Goes to Answer Inquiries From Chinese Who Are Inclined to Worship the True God.

(Special to The Star.)

Today as Mr. Townsend was going in to the country to visit one of the schools, the Bible woman and I took advantage of the car to visit some enquirers, 5 miles in the country. We had never been to this village before and as he sowed up the car for us to get out I said to Mr. Townsend that if there were not a "nigger in the wood pile," they must be genuinely interested to come so far Sunday to attend our services. I said that because so often we find them pretending great interest when they merely want some material help or benefit, so I fear we sometimes grow fearful and doubtful of the ones who are genuinely interested. I felt it was this way in regard to these people today. I did not even know their names when we got in the village to inquire, but as soon as we asked for the ones who were interested in Christianity, we were told who they were and directed to the home of one of the women. I never saw any one more cordial in their greeting, showing they were so glad we had come. We went into the sitting room and began talking, asking the woman to read to us some Scripture texts they had been studying, when some one in the yard called out to come outside so they could all hear. We went in the yard and the two of us took turn about talking and telling them the old, old story that is ever new when the Spirit has opened the hearts of the hearers. We were there over two hours before the car came back to pick us up and twenty or 30 heard the story, and many of them listened with good intent. Some men sat down on the out-edge of the crowd and listened very quietly and politely.

This interest began by a woman visiting her sister who is Christian and lives over 25 miles away, last New Year. She was not well and had just had most of her clothing and money stolen from her home, in broad daylight, so was vexed too. Her sister told her of Christ, and she was soon well. She came back and told an aunt and a nephew and they have been coming to our Sunday services since last spring, walking this five miles and back each Sunday. The nephew, an old man, says he has not missed a single Sunday. The women have missed a few in the very busiest time for you see they have never stopped work for Sunday in their lives before. The old man reads a little and so he has patiently taught these women till they can read the six Scripture tracts and another little book of Scripture teachings.

They had not worshipped idols for some time, but still had them up as they had been waiting for some of us to out before they took them down. So the paper gods were taken out of the two women's homes and also a little mud god, "the ruler of rulers." This sister said she had not burned incense for over three years," but I said, "how is that you only heard last January." "Oh!" she said, "I got angry with these useless gods before I heard and I said I'd have nothing more to do with them." You cannot know the joy we felt in our hearts as we came away from this village. How it encourages us to see such interested ones. They said they would be in for church next Sunday and will come to our meeting next month when we hope to have Mr. and Mrs. Herring with us. Pray for your missionaries and that the Word may thus spread and work.

Joe White Is Buried At Sandy Plains Church

Rutherford Sun.

Mr. Joe White died at his home in Hillsboro, Ga., November 18th of heart trouble and was buried at Sandy Plains Baptist church, near the Rutherford-Cleveland line between Lattimore and Hollis last Friday afternoon, Rev. Z. D. Harrill being in charge of the funeral services. Mr. White was 65 years old. He went to bed on Monday night well as usual and was found dead in bed Tuesday morning. He was buried by the Junior order.

Mr. White left this section of the country about 15 years ago and went to Georgia where he was a successful lumber dealer. He lived in this county many years. He is survived by his widow and several children. He was a faithful member of the church and was a good citizen. His many friends and relatives in this part of the country are grieved to learn of his death.

MAN'S HEART IS FOUND BY ROAD

Wake Forest, Nov. 25.—On a curb by the side of the Capital Highway as it skirts the Wake Forest College campus, Janitor Bobbitt of the Wake Forest Church the other morning found a man's heart. You know how they look—something like your double fists folded together. Mr. Bobbitt admits that he had something of a spooky feeling when he made the discovery. He says, however, that the feeling would have been more pronounced had not the heart been incased in a hermetically sealed jar and preserved in alcohol.
