

ate Items From Lattimore Route 1

(Special to The Star.) Lattimore, Route 1, Jan. 31.—Wedding bells have been ringing in our midst. Mr. Warren Jenkins and Miss Geo. Davis, a lovely and charming young lady were recently married. The bride is the daughter of Mr. George Davis, and is held in high esteem by many friends. Mr. Jenkins, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jenkins is a prominent young farmer of this community.

Mr. S. C. Rayburn, popular section master at Lattimore, has purchased from Mr. W. S. Walker a fine residence and two-acre lot for $6,000. Mrs. Walker has purchased the handsome residence of Mr. C. B. Wilson, where he will reside.

Friends regret to learn that Mrs. Fanny Lee Callahan has been very ill with cancer for some time with little hope of recovery.

Mr. John Willis Jones, of near Lattimore, is seriously ill with pneumonia at this writing. We hope for him a speedy recovery.

We notice Mr. Irvin Philbeck is making preparations to build a nice 5-room bungalow for Mr. G. E. Holland, one of his tenants.

Messrs. C. A. Jones and Aden Powell were in Morgantown one day this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bridges.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius McKinney, of the Toluca section, spent Sunday afternoon and night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hollifield.

Mad dogs seem to be quite numerous in this section, although there has been no serious damage so far, with the exception of the killing of a number of dogs.

Messrs. G. A. Wright and C. F. Jones, of Ellenboro, R-3, spent Sunday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wright, of Mearesboro, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harrill Sunday.

Miss Selma Humphries spent Sunday at the home of her parents.

Giles is Ready To Take on Morrison

Raleigh, Jan. 30.—The state highway commission in executive session late last night carried over its recommendations as to road bonds and left this open until Saturday morning when the budget commission's report was available.

It follows its chief, the governor, in awaiting the latest information.

The highway commission at this session gave Frank Page, a handsome silver service, Attorney Walter Coburn making the speech of presentation.

Senator D. F. Giles, member of the budget commission, tonight told Josephus Daniels, challenged party to the Morrison-Daniels duel, that if Mr. Morrison desires five debates on deficit or no deficit, Giles will meet him.

The McDowell senator was seeking no trouble, but he knows that there is no money left over from Mr. Morrison's reign and if the ex-governor thinks there is Giles will help him to tell the world about it. The governor has a talking man ready to take him on anywhere.

203 Cases Tried By Webb, 18 in Indiana

Greensboro News.

There were 203 jury trials in the western district of North Carolina alone in 1924 as compared to 18 in the district comprising the entire state of Indiana, according to figures announced yesterday by R. L. Blaylock, clerk of federal court.

The figures were compiled as a result of the statement Thursday of Senator Watson, of Indiana, that North Carolina, with two federal districts, does not need a third district. If all of Indiana can be handled by one district, the Indiana senator argues, North Carolina can certainly be handled by two.

But the work of the federal courts in North Carolina is so much greater than that in Indiana that an additional district is needed, the figures compiled by Mr. Blaylock show, he thins. Only 533 cases were terminated in the whole state of Indiana during 1924. In the western district of this state during the same time 1,335 cases were terminated. In the eastern district an additional 790 were finished, giving North Carolina a total number of 2,125 as compared to Indiana's 633.

But the comparison of jury trials, says Mr. Blaylock, is the real comparison, for the jury trials take up the time of the court. While Judge E. Y. Webb was trying 203 cases only 18 cases were tried in the Indiana district.

The average number of jury trials per federal judge each year throughout the country, says Mr. Blaylock, is 69 as compared to the 203 tried by Judge Webb in 1924.

PAINTING Paper-Hanging

It's a known fact throughout this section with most people that painting, room decorating and papering done by WM. HENRY QUEEN

Looks better, lasts longer. Ask those for whom I have painted. There is a secret to the beauty and lasting part of painting. The kind of paint and the way it's mixed with the right painter is the whole secret of a satisfactory job of painting. When you spend your money for painting you want your money's worth and not waste money on poor painting and work. I can furnish high class references from different parts of western N. C., from parties I have painted for that I am honest and will give a square deal. I keep good workmen and try not to bother the people I am painting for no more than I can possibly help. Do not mess nor tear up around a house while painting. You may rest easy if you turn your painting over to me. May cost a little more for me to do your painting but its worth more than it costs. I am a new painter in Shelby, recently moved here from Morgantown but I am no stranger here. Just moved to be more in the center of my territory. I do not reach all work I am asked to do but will do my best this year to reach all work I can. Don't be afraid to write me about your painting. Don't cost anything even if we don't trade.

Anything in the painting line done. W. H. QUEEN, Box 485, Shelby, N. C. Try a Mottled Wall Decoration. It's Fine.

Moves From Fifth To Twelfth Place

Half Dozen States Step Ahead of North Carolina in Farming in One Year.

North Carolina dropped to twelfth place in the value of farm products in 1924, according to a tabulation of crop values of the leading states compiled by the United States department of agriculture and made public through a bulletin just issued by the North Carolina department of agriculture. The value of all crops in North Carolina in 1924, according to the report, was $320,415,000, Texas leading in the list with a valuation of $920,081,000.

In 1923 North Carolina ranked 5th in the value of farm crops, with a valuation of $415,737,000. According to the report the value of farm crops in 1924 was $95,322,000 less than in 1923. This loss, it is said, was largely due to weather conditions. In commenting on the loss the report says: "In spite of adverse weather conditions throughout the year, North Carolina farmers have complained much less than they had reasons for. Our production has decreased greatly, while much of the rest of the South have made good crops. The cotton was hurt perhaps more than any other crop."

"The late spring cold, the June weather, the dry summer in the piedmont and September's disastrous rainy period told heavily at harvesting time. October and November were quite favorable for harvesting. The September delay and shortage of farm labor prevented the harvesting of crops as soon as they should have been out of the fields. The belated farm work also had its effect on fall plowing and planting of small grains. This is quite in contrast to the work a year ago."

"The North Carolina farmers may be depended on to go ahead with the 1925 plans with more optimism than might be expected," the report concludes.

October and November were quite favorable for harvesting. The September delay and shortage of farm labor prevented the harvesting of crops as soon as they should have been out of the fields. The belated farm work also had its effect on fall plowing and planting of small grains. This is quite in contrast to the work a year ago."

Tanner Family To Give Memorial

Forest City Courier.

M. E. Boyer, Jr., Charlotte architect, has completed the preliminary sketches for the community building at Spindale to be erected as a memorial to the late S. B. Tanner and Spencer Tanner, his son.

An old colonial brick dwelling will be the nucleus around which a handsome community house will be built. Together with the tract of land upon which it will stand the place will be presented to the town by Kenneth Tanner, of Spindale; S. B. Tanner, jr., of Charlotte, and Mrs. R. H. Crawford, of Rutherfordton, sons and daughter of the late S. B. Tanner and brothers and sister of the late Spencer Tanner.

The total gift will represent an investment of approximately $75,000. Bids on the work will be invited the middle of February and the building is expected to be opened next fall. The present house, formerly the Spindale Inn, will be remodeled and repaired. At the rear will be added locker and shower rooms, a gymnasium, which will also be used as an auditorium; a kitchen, small dining room, library with shelves for 5,000 volumes; offices for the community work director and a social room. The second floor of the structure will contain an apartment for the director. The community house will be located in the heart of Spindale and will set back 150 feet from the main highway. A splendid old oak grove provides an excellent setting. The building will be 100 feet wide with depth of 160 feet. Mr. Boyer will draw the plans and supervise the construction of work.

IVEY AND KADESH CHURCH HISTORY

N. C. Christian Advocate. Rev. C. S. Kirkpatrick, presiding elder of the Shelby district, raises an interesting question in the following and at the same time gives us some appreciated information. Brother Kirkpatrick says: "I wonder what Methodists in this conference first equipped their country churches with Sunday school rooms. Kadesh church, Belwood circuit, has two very nice Sunday school rooms built 32 years ago. J. B. Ivey, then a country merchant in the community, led in the movement. Inspiration for the movement was received in the Sam Jones meeting at Charlotte. Mr. Ivey is again on the job of building Sunday school equipment—for Hawthorne Lane this time. Does anyone know of equipment of this kind that antedates Kadesh?"

FIRE PREVENTION METHODS FARMERS SHOULD OBSERVE

Dead grass, leaves blown against buildings and fences, accumulations of old lumber and other combustible materials are serious fire hazards. We never know when fire is going to "get out" or when strong winds will blow. A spark and a little neglected rubbish may cause the complete loss of a home or of a barn with its stock, feed, and farm implement equipment.

In old houses, prolonged rains have done injury to shingle roofs and rotted many of them, making crevices for the lodgment of sparks. Such roofs need recovering at once, for the double purpose of preventing leaks and reducing the hazard of fire.

Chimneys should be burned out when the roof is wet. Flues, stove pipes, and chimneys should be examined for cracks that sparks might enter and pass through. Provide an abundance of dry kindling and thus remove the temptation to use oil for starting a fire. This is a dangerous practice that should not be allowed under any circumstances.

And along with precautions against fire, let's also take out fire insurance. If fire should destroy our home, our livestock, our stored products that represent a year's work, or our equipment for next year's work, we should be in a mighty bad fix, even if we have money saved up with which we can replace the losses. But those of us who have nothing put aside and others who are burdened with mortgages and debts, these are the ones that fire will hurt most and the ones also who need fire insurance most. A fire insurance policy gives mighty pleasant comfort. It takes worries from us; we sleep better and enjoy life more, to say nothing of the protection it gives. When we come to consider insurance of any kind it is really co-operation, especially when we are members of a farmer's mutual fire insurance association.—Progressive Farmer.
