

Twenty Nine Years Ago

(From The Cleveland Star of April 9, 1896.)

Echoes from the Past.

"The following item from last week's Biblical Recorder will interest the young man's friends in this county:—

"We are glad to note the many evidences of the Lord's approval of the work of Rev. John A. Wray in Millledgeville, Ga. He continues to have overflowing congregations. He is now being aided in a meeting by Rev. J. L. White and many are finding Christ. Brother Wray is building up a reputation for his relentless opposition to the saloon, and his lecture on the liquor question is in demand."

Prof. J. H. Quinn.

"The commencement of the Boiling Springs academy, of which Prof. J. H. Quinn, is principal, took place last Friday night. The exercises consisted of dialogues, recitations, choral sets, etc., and were thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd present. The best of order prevailed and the exercises were a credit alike to the pupils and teacher. Professor Quinn has had a good school at Boiling Springs and has done a good work in the school."

Answered the Roll.

"The county commissioners met Monday in regular session. The board—J. W. Garrett, A. B. Peeler and W. A. Martin—were all present."

"Sorte." Mixed.

"The Republicans of this township met Saturday in Dr. J. H. McBrayer's office to elect delegates to the county convention which meets here April 13. Ten delegates were elected five white and five colored."

Joy-Chasers.

"The following were appointed tax-listers Monday by the county commissioners:

No. 1 Township—W. S. Wood, No. 2—D. S. Lovelace, No. 3—A. E. Bettis, No. 4—W. I. Stone, No. 5—W. H. Moss, No. 6—J. F. Tiddy, No. 7—W. W. Washburn, No. 8—Jas. A. Beam, No. 9—B. A. Baber, No. 10—R. Brackett, No. 11—J. D. Hull.

Little Memory Tokens

"Mr. Jesse Barrett, son of George Barrett, was married last Thursday to Miss Minnie Devine at Waco, Esq. W. H. Moss officiating. They have the best wishes of all their friends."

"Mr. Wm. Crowder was happily married last Sunday to Miss Mary Boggs, the charming daughter of Mr. N. E. Boggs of Toluca. Rev. C. Gower officiating. The Star wishes the happy young couple a blissful journey through life."

"Mr. John Oates and Miss Fannie Baber, of Lawndale, entered the state of double blessedness Sunday at Lawndale. Rev. J. H. Morton performing the ceremony that blended their lives. They begin their new career very auspiciously and it is hoped that they will ever be happy and prosperous."

Jake Didn't Have 'Em.

"An item has been going the rounds of the press to the effect that Jake Sain, a merchant who lives near Mooresboro, Cleveland county, had the smallpox. He caught them from opening second-hand goods from New York. Last week The Star corrected the report by stating that Mr. Sain lives near Sain, Lincoln county. Now we are informed by one of Mr. Sain's neighbors that he never had small-pox at all, but that he did have erysipelas so bad that he had to have his whiskers shaved off and his hair repaired, and he was for a time in a dangerous condition, but he is now well and attending to his business."

Antique Little Stars.

"Rev. J. A. Cook, of the Polkville circuit, preached an interesting sermon in the Methodist church here Sunday night. The large congregation enjoyed his discourse."

"Rev. N. R. Richardson, of Henrietta, preached and held quarterly conference at Elliott's church last Saturday. Rev. R. L. Owenby preached Saturday night and Sunday. The congregation enjoyed three able sermons."

"The prayer service began at the Baptist church Wednesday evening and will be continued until the arrival of Dr. Dixon Tuesday, when two services will be held daily until the following Sunday. The Baptist and the community and county in general are expecting a great revival in spiritual work as a result of Dr. Dixon's visit."

"The Presbyterians are more than pleased with their new pastor, Rev. T. M. Lowry, who is doing a good work here. Mr. Lowry is popular with all classes and greatly loved by those who know him best."

"Rev. C. G. Little, the Methodist pastor, has been indisposed during the past week, but it is hoped he may soon recover his usual good health."

School Closing.

"After due deliberation on the part of the superintendent and teachers of the graded school it has been decided best not to have any closing exercises this year; but to devote the whole time to the very close in earnest work."

"On account of the prevalence of measles and whooping-cough during the past winter a good deal of time has been lost by pupils, and for this reason it has been thought best to devote every moment to earnest application to school work."

"The present session will close on May 8th and the last week of school will be devoted to oral and written examination. Patrons of the school and all friends of education are invited to visit the school and judge of the character of the work done."

What's This?

"The fusion gang were in town Monday."

"The county executive committees of both the Populist and Republican parties met here Monday. The Republicans met in Dr. McBrayer's office—the Populists made use of the court house. Each party appointed a committee of five to confer with the other party relative to fusion. The Republican committee consisted of Dr. J. H. McBrayer, chairman, Amos Davis, T. G. Borders, W. J. Hogue and J. W. Brown."

"The Populists committee was composed of D. J. Hamrick, chairman, J. C. Byers, M. L. Putnam, Monroe Beatty and—Hamrick."

"They conferred. They read resolutions, but did not sign them! The Populists brought resolutions from meeting declaring that they favored fusion on an honorable basis, hereafter to be agreed upon, and then introduced a resolution which was substantially:

Once Upon a Time.

"Mrs. Loola Kendrick Conley has something interesting to say this week regarding her new millinery. It will doubtless be of interest to you."

"Mr. L. G. Eskridge had the misfortune last Saturday to get his finger nearly cut in two. He was chiseling out a mortise, and the chisel glanced with the result above stated."

"Some thief visited Mr. Bailey Eskridge's Sunday night and stole the sweet potatoes he had just bedded. Whoever heard of such ingenious and industrious thieves?"

"Statesville is plucky. Charlotte secured the Presbyterian college, but Statesville proposes to form a company and run a college any way. Why could Shelby not do the same?"

"John Plummer, who was so severely kicked by a mule last week, is getting on nicely. His injuries were not near so serious as were at first thought. We are glad to note his recovery."

A "Blow Up."

"Mr. W. L. Moore, a photographer from Raleigh who has been here several days taking pictures, was very badly injured last Saturday. Mr. Moore was located in the room to the rear of Mr. Ryburn's law office and took pictures by the flashlight process. His brother had sent him some new chemicals, advising at the time to be careful as they were very combustible and telling him to take out an accident policy before he used them. Saturday Mr. Kemper Kendall, wife and little daughter went to have their picture taken. Mr. Moore used this new preparation and it exploded in his hands before he had applied any fire. As a result his hand was horribly mangled the most of the flesh being torn off the bones. Drs. Victor McBrayer and R. C. Ellis dressed the wound. At first it was thought it would be necessary to amputate his hand, but the doctors succeeded in getting it dressed alright, and Mr. Moore is doing as well as could be expected."

"Some fragments of glass or tin struck Mr. Kendall cutting a gash on his shoulder, which was sewed up by Dr. T. E. McBrayer."

Why He Succeeded

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine in Cincinnati, where he was graduated in 1862, was the course which Dr. R. V. Pierce took.

In his younger days he practiced medicine over a large district. It was then the new oil fields near Titusville, Pa. Finally he determined to put up some of his prescriptions in ready-to-use form in order to reach a larger number of families.

He thus early moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary, where he put up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood as well as the Favorite Prescription for women, carefully preparing them from roots, barks and herbs and placed them with druggists everywhere.

During the last sixty years Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists all over the United States than any other medicine. It is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free.

Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

OPINIONS

(From Greenville News.)

There was that story from London the other day, of how George the Fifth by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, was walking among the exhibits at the Wembley exposition; and of how a citizen of Iowa dragging little Henry by the hand spied him; and of how this representative of the New World showed his way forward and stopped George.

"Shake hands with America, King," said he, and the king shook and turned to little Henry and shook again, and what that did to international relations we leave to the diplomats. Says the New York World:

It is like the story of the Prince of Wales on his first trip over here. A newspaper reporter, with a green photographer on his hands, was having a hard time getting a picture. So mopping his brow, he bawled:

"Hey, Prince! Park the royal body over here, will you, so this dumb-bell can get a shot!"

And the Prince laughed and posed as directed. And it is like the story told at Annapolis about the Queen of Denmark. The midshipmen a few years ago were on their summer cruise, and a great ball was given in their honor at Copenhagen. And about half-way through the festivities a midshipman was seen wandering about disconsolately. Finally he approached the Queen, and without formality came to the point:

"Say, Queen," he said, "do you know where I can get a piece of cake?"

And again royalty showed itself to be human. The Queen left her post, found a whole cake and tied it up between two phonograph records for the midshipman to take home.

And it is like that story that came down from New York of how Mrs. Hylan—but it may have been another—was one of those officially welcoming Queen Elizabeth of Belgium on her visit, and of the great to-do at the welcome ceremonies and of all the flim flammery that the city did exhibit and of Queen Elizabeth's turning to Mrs. Hylan and expressing appreciation, together with the remark that somebody had gone to a great deal of trouble. Whereupon Mrs. Hylan—but it may have been another—replied in a burst of confidence:

"Queen, you said a mouthful." And finally, there may be some truth in the views of the Wayne county doughboy who for heroism was awarded a medal by the British high command and in time received the medal by personal presentation of King George. On his arrival his friends in Wayne were asking him this and that and eventually what he thought of the king. "Well," said the citizen of Wayne, "he seems like a right nice feller."

Show a Good Front.

(From Lexington Dispatch.)

The Monroe Enquirer reports that the county agent there is urging farmers living along much traveled highways to "put on a good front" to the public. He would have them improve fields along the main highways to the highest state of production. Homes that are within sight of the passing thousands he would like to see well painted and surrounded by trees, shrubs, or flowers, or all three.

Undoubtedly this is a good idea. Not infrequently the main highways run through sections of country not naturally the most fertile and sturdiest get the impressions from what is by the roadside that it is a mighty poor country they are passing through. On the other hand if there are rich fields and well kept homes by the roadside the reputation of the community is spread far and wide. A double profit thus is gained by that community. Its own living conditions are actually improved and its reputation is enhanced abroad; and surely a good name is to be coveted along with riches, or ahead of them.

One needs only to go abroad on the main highways in this section these days to be convinced that this idea is spreading. Farmers in Davidson county are taking more pride in the beauty of their homes than ever before and several times more painted houses and flowering yards may be seen now on any main road in the country than was the case eight or ten years ago. It is a good thing to keep up, and it ought to be kept up until no traveler from another section will go back and say that North Carolina most of all needs a coat of paint. Paint, flowers and legumes on the fields by the roadside will turn the trick.

Wanted in Shelby.

Gaffney Ledger. Jack Camp, more or less wellknown

Gaffney negro, who was arrested here Saturday night for authorities of Shelby, N. C., where it is alleged he violated the prohibition laws recently, was being held in the county jail here yesterday awaiting his decision as to whether he will consent to go to Shelby without requisition papers. Sheriff Wright said Jack rather demurred against returning to Tarheelia, saying he "hadn't done nothing there." Local officers yesterday prepared to notify the Shelby authorities that Jack was in jail here.

Meeting Troops They Trained.

(From Patterson, N. J., Morning Call.)

When European nations having African colonies, particularly France, brought black troops to the front during the World war they trained these savages in modern warfare and made them effective fighters against the central powers.

Today the revolt of the Riffian tribes in Morocco, the French are finding that instead of facing hordes of untrained tribesmen they are meeting soldiers accustomed to modern war and capable of putting up a splendid fight against the French troops. French warfare has been adopted by the Riffian forces, and in facing the French troops the natives are using all the things they learned in France, and to good advantage.

Many of the black soldiers are veterans of the war against the Spanish, in which they proved their ability to meet Europeans, and it is reported that they are gathering strong supporters from many tribes in the hinterland, and it is believed that the French forces are likely to meet with serious difficulties in the future.

CENTURY OLD DEED FILED FOR RECORD

Gaffney Ledger.

A deed to 133 acres of land on Jones creek, executed December 26, 1825, by Robert Tate, of Hall county, Ga., to James Littlejohn, of Union district, South Carolina, has just been filed here for recording in the office of clerk of court T. M. Caldwell. The deed was written entirely by hand on a sheet of letter paper. Hall sold the property to Littlejohn for $400.

The filing of the document for recording at this time resulted from a trade made between Dr. James L. Jefferies, Spartanburg, and John D. Jefferies, prominent Cherokee county planter, of the Asbury section, involving the property.

A bet is always a sure thing—if not for you, then for the other fellow.

There are times when thinking is not worth much unless you do it quickly.

GULBRANSEN

THE REGISTERING PIANO

YOU'LL Like Gulbransen Music, Too

No happier folks anywhere—no family group more closely knit together—no home life more delightfully congenial and enjoyable than where the entertainment centers around a Gulbransen!

In the tens of thousands of Gulbransen homes—ask the fathers and mothers. Ask the sons and daughters. Young or old, all say the same about it. All have the same warm feeling for it. Good piano music speaks in language everybody loves and understands. There's no age limit to enjoyment of the Gulbransen!

Children take to the Gulbransen naturally, eagerly, enthusiastically. It's so easy to play. To sing their school songs to Gulbransen accompaniment—"Columbia," "Sweet and Low" "Sleep Kentucky Babe"—is such fun. Quickly and easily mastered Gulbransen Instructions Rolls stir their interest in music—encourage and sustain it—where tedious finger practice and long months and years of study only dull it.

Grown-ups prefer the Gulbransen because Registering Piano music is so superior, so distinctive. You play it with so much of musical feeling and expression. The only music you can honestly compare it with is exceptionally fine hand-playing.
