J. C. McNEELY COMPANY
SHELBY, N. C.

A Dry Region Soaked.

Charlotte Observer.
Until Monday of the present week there had been two pronounced dry sections in piedmont North Carolina. One was around Rutherfordton, and the other around Shelby. Travelers that way Saturday found the farms dry and hard, the grass apparently dead along the roadside, and the cotton and corn, truck and clover in the fields covered with dust. But Tuesday witnessed a transformation in the appearance of things. Water stood in the wayside ditches and in the fields all the way from Hendersonville to a point several miles east of Shelby. It was the first rain Shelby had known since the dry spell set in a couple of months ago, and Rutherfordton had fared about as badly. The freshening-up of the farms by the rain was of remarkable kind and crops that had been about abandoned as a bad prospect, appeared stout and green as if they had never wanted for rain. There is a strip of truck farm along the highway six or eight miles out from Shelby that was particularly revived by the rain. It looked dead and done for Saturday; Tuesday the farmer and his help were hoeing the ground amidst a luxuriant growth of beans and cabbage, tomatoes, corn. He would have sold out Saturday for $25; he would turn down an offer of $150 today.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.
"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.
"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."
Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC-164
