Hamrick-Wilson Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilson announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret to Mr. Lester Hamrick Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock, July 25th, 1925, at home, Shelby, N. C.

Cecelia Club to Have Called Meeting.

The Cecelia club will have a call meeting at the home of Mrs. P. De Witt Quinn on Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. This will be an important business meeting and all members are urged to attend.

The Time of Day.

The time of day I do not tell,
As some do by the clock;
Or by the distant chiming bell
Set on some steeple rock;
But by the progress that I see
In what I have to do;
It's either "done" o'clock to me
Or only half-past "through".

Entertaining Delightful House Party.

Beginning Monday Miss Rosalind Nix is entertaining a most delightful house party, comprising the following attractive young ladies: Miss Mildred Taylor and Miss Virginia Davis of Tarboro; Miss Frances Handy of Raleigh and Miss Johnnie Powell of Norfolk. Many charming social courtesies will be extended these young visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Dinner Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Blanton had as their guests for dinner on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Twitty, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Oates and Miss Vera Webb Oates, Mrs. G. M. Webb of Alabama, Judge E. Y. Webb and Mr. C. G. Blanton. Mrs. Blanton served a beautiful course dinner at a beautifully appointed table.

Surprise Party.

The many friends of Miss Sarah Burton Jenkins, the popular and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins gave her a most delightful surprise party on Thursday evening celebrating her birthday. They assembled at her handsome home on South Washington street and with music and dancing and elegant refreshments spent a charming time.

Good Pictures The Past Week.

Webb Brothers and Beam Brothers sponsored some of the best pictures at their theatres last week that have been shown here. They are clean and refreshing and on a high order. Movie parties were the social activities of the week, the people taking advantage of this high class amusement.

Bowen-Blacklock Nuptials.

A marriage of much interest to their many friends was that of Miss Ethel Blacklock and Mr. Ben Bowen on July 22nd at the home of W. E. Lowe, of Buffalo, S. C.

Mrs. Bowen is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blacklock, of near Gaffney, S. C., while Mr. Bowen is an prosperous farmer of near Shelby.

After a delightful tour to Chimney Rock and other western points they will be at home after July 28th.

Misses Sophia and Virginia Hunt Joint Hostesses.

Misses Sophia and Virginia Hunt were the gracious young hostesses with a rook party on Thursday afternoon in honor of their brother, Charles Hunt who has come to live with them. Four tables of this interesting game was played in a prettily decorated room, lovely summer flowers being used. At the conclusion of the games a refreshing and delicious ice and sweet course was served to the guests.

Charming Honoree.

Miss Virginia Shepherd, one of Shelby's most attractive visitors was the charming inspiration of a delightful moving picture party seeing "Sally" on Friday afternoon, Mrs. Ransom Cassstevens, being the gracious hostess on this occasion. After the picture they were served refreshments at the drug store. Mrs. Cassstevens guests were: Miss Shepherd, Mrs. Willis McCord, Mrs. Tom Moore, Mrs. William McCord, Miss Jaunita Daniels.

Beautiful Dance Given by Mrs. Hamrick.

At their attractive home on South DeKalb street Mr. and Mrs. Resta Hamrick entertained with a beautiful and informal dance on Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Hamrick's brother Mr. Everett Dellinger. The rooms were attractively decorated and the pink and white color scheme carried out in the flowers and delicious refreshments served during the evening. Cleveland Springs orchestra furnished the music and about 30 couples enjoyed a most delightful evening.

Enjoyable Movie Party.

Miss Edith Farrell sister of Mrs. Frank Sanders, gave a charming movie party on Thursday afternoon honoring Miss Eleanor Levy who is also like Miss Farrell, from Columbus Ga. The play was "Sally" at the Webb theatre and the following young ladies enjoyed this delightful picture: Misses Eleanor Levy, Virginia Hoey, Hattie Gidney, Nancy Suttle, Ruth Arrowood, Mary Reeves Forney, Willie Hoyle, Dorothy King, Alice Sanders and Mrs. Sanders and Miss Farrell. Refreshing drinks were served at the drug after the picture was over.

Miss Alpha Gettys Honors Miss Melver.

Another gracious hospitality to Miss Isabel Hoey's attractive guest Miss Margaret Melver was the lovely morning party given by Miss Alpha Gettys on Thursday at her hospitable home on South Washington street. The broad and spacious veranda was the place of assembling of these attractive schoolmates and four tables of rook was played during the morning hours. The porch was informally and prettily decorated with summer flowers in wall vases, floor baskets, and on tables. Lovely little score cards appropriate to the season were used. When cards were laid aside Miss Gettys served a delicious and elegant luncheon at the four tables.

A Wonderful Woman.

"Two of the most interesting people I met at Blowing Rock," said a Charlottean just down the mountain, "were Miss Emma Frick and her mother, the latter 92 years old very recently, her daughter giving her a birthday party at the Central hotel in Shelby."

"Mrs. Frick is the most remarkable woman at the Rock. She stands between two pinnacles of age, the octogenarian and the centenarian, having passed one and looking toward the other."

"Mrs. Frick was born in Carroll county, Maryland, her family being one of the most prominent in the county. Her husband died in 1885 and the family moved to Shelby. Mrs. Frick and Miss Frick have continued their home there through the years and are beloved and revered by all Shelby. Mrs. Frick's fingers are never idle. She is always knitting or sewing, and mentally attracts old and young."

—O. M. Page, Charlotte Observer.

Most Boys Have Discovered.

(From Boy Life.)

That it pays to be friendly.
That it takes something more than clothes to make a good chum.

That good habits and a good time have never yet been divorced.
That the sun invariably rises on time the day after his defeat; yes, and that it seems to smile, and say: "Another opportunity."

That work gives space to play, and that play gives flavor to work.
That there is an abundance of good thoughts ready to be poured into the hopper of one's mind; one grinds and takes the toll.

That fairness says: "If you expect to be a helpful chum, way don't you get there first?"

That the lions of difficulty that one sees in his path are often fast chained.

That a bit of encouragement will often brace up a discouraged comrade, and help him to tackle a hard proposition with a new zeal.

That lack of real friends usually means lack of friendliness.

That manners are an index of the heart, and must be sincere to be effective.

That ill temper is always a desirable possession—to get rid of.

That high ideals keep his feet out of the mire.

Gaffney Items Of Interest to Shelby

Gaffney Ledger.

John D. Falls and his son, Alvin, of Newark, N. J., who are visiting relatives at Shelby and Fallston, N. C., spent Thursday in Gaffney as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Elmore. Mr. Falls is a brother-in-law of T. J. Alexander, of Gastonia, a former Gaffney citizen before returning home. Mr. Falls will visit Gastonia, Chimney Rock and other North Carolina mountains.

Beginning August 1 the star mail route recently inaugurated from Gaffney to Rutherfordton, N. C., will be extended from Carolen, N. C., through Ellenboro to Forest City, according to information received by Postmaster F. B. Gaffney from the postoffice department. The change will add six miles to the length of the route and will serve a considerably increased number of patrons. Chaney Brackett, who was awarded the contract for carrying the mail, will have his pay increased $310 per year as a result of the change.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Earl, of Earl, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones and little son William, of Marion, N. C., spent last Sunday in Gaffney with Mrs. Earl's and Mrs. Jones's sister, Mrs. H. K. McSwain, on Cherokee avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Sarraat entered tained at a lovely dinner Sunday at their home in the Grassy Pond section. The guests present were Mrs. Columbus Sarraat, Miss Maude Sarraat and Esker Sarraat, of Shelby, N. C., Mrs. L. B. Sarraat, Mrs. Ella Hopper and Miss Louette Sarraat, of Gaffney.

Mr. Collis Jones Is Married in Georgia

(Special to The Star.)

Mr. S. Collis Jones and Mrs. Mary Francis Carter were married July 23rd near Tifton, Ga., by Elder Jas. Gibbs, Primitive Baptist preacher.

Mrs. Carter is a daughter of the late Thompson Hamrick who was reared near Shog Creek in Cleveland county. She was a sister to William Hamrick who kept the county home in Shelby. She married William Carter who died 20 years or more ago.

Mr. Jones and Mrs. Carter are second cousins, their grandfathers being brothers. Her grandfather was James Hamrick and Mr. Jones grandfather was Elijah Hamrick.

Thompson Hamrick left Shelby before the Civil war and settled in Georgia near Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones expect to make Cleveland county their future home.

Mr. Jones married Eunice Wilson Jones his first cousin on July 23, 1878, 47 years ago. She died April 14th, 1924 in Dunn, this state.

REVIVAL MEETING BEGINS AT ZION AUGUST SECOND

A revival meeting begins at Zion Baptist church the first Sunday in August. Rev. D. G. Washburn, the pastor, will be assisted by Rev. A. B. Wood of Burlington, Ky. Mr. Wood has many friends who welcome him to Cleveland county as he is a graduate of Piedmont High School and a son-in-law of Mr. Frank P. Gold. At present he holds a full time pastorate at Burlington, Ky., and is taking his post graduate work at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, being connected with the faculty there.

The Daniels.

(From Salisbury Post.)

The sleeping-car Sirocco will be known as the Daniels in the future. Coming out of a wreck the car went to the repair shops and then it comes out it will be relabeled the Daniels. The new name is in honor of the porter, who was on the company payroll as Oscar J. Daniels. He was black and answered to any name, "Porter" or "George" mostly. The coach was wrecked and heroically the porter sought to and succeeded in saving the lives of more than one of his passengers, and was himself carried to the hospital and died soon after his experience with a burning car. It is said to be the first time that a Pullman car has ever been named for an employee. The Daniels will always give testimony to the bravery of a simple black man who did his duty through it delivered him into the hands of death.
