Dr. J. L. White Praises Bryan And Says Minds
Should Not Be Polluted With Evolution Theory

Durham, Aug. 10.—Launching into the evolution-church deep Sunday night at the First Baptist church of this city, Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the First Baptist church of Miami, Fla., and former pastor of the First Baptist church of Raleigh and other churches in this state made a staunch attack upon adherents of the teachings of modernism, and paid William Jennings Bryan as high a tribute as man could bestow upon one not a saint.

Dr. White was an intimate friend of the great Commoner and was associated with him more than nine years in religious work in the First Baptist church of Miami. He gave a number of side-lights on his character, and said that Mr. Bryan proposed to establish a school of Christian education for boys, with a plant in Miami for five months' study during winter and one in Asheville, for four months of summer work. Dr. White said the great Commoner offered to give $250,000, more than half of his wealth, it was said, and to make Dr. White president of the institution. This was planned shortly before the Scopes trial began, and never materialized.

In his sermon last night Dr. White said in part:

"I have come to speak to you on the significance of the Scopes trial, with a parting word of commendation to my friend, William Jennings Bryan. The trial was watched all over the world, reports of it having been published in Berlin, London, Shanghai, and other principal cities of the world. But the reports were not impartial, and as such left their marks in the world's opinion. Each newspaper reporter that went to the trial saw it through his own glasses, and most were pro-evolution."

"At the bottom of all the stir-up is the theory of evolution. Darwin's and other discoveries have made it a working hypothesis, and no scientist will say that it has been proven a fact."

"We all believe in some form of evolution. For instance the rose, various kinds of fruit, and other specimens of the plant world have been, by man's application of scientific laws, grown into wonderful products. And the great growth of man from the time he was turned from the garden of Eden has been a process of evolution in a sense of the word. The coming of Christ had more to do with that great spiritual and educational development than any other force that has ever appeared in humankind."

"But to say that all life ascended from a single cell, as evolutionists would have it, is farcical. It denies the creation of the world as recorded by Moses in Genesis, and it denies that the Bible is the inspired word of God. It places it on a level with all other books of man's imagination."

"We have a right by law to protect our possessions from robbers and thieves. The Bible is one of our most sacred and valuable treasures, but evolutionists would give us no right to protect and preserve it. They would tell our children in public schools that its teachings are mythical, and could be believed by no intelligent person, and so we find that we are paying out tax money to hire teachers to pollute their minds and destroy the foundations upon which our civilization is built."

books of man's imagination.

The speaker said he read in an Associated Press dispatch from New York that the Civil Liberties union raised money with which to defend Scopes shortly after the indictment was returned by the Tennessee jury, and that this union was closely allied with communism.

He said that this organization of communists were constantly taking part in any movement leading to disturbance in religious or political affairs, and that it is ready with its red tentacles to crush the government of the United States whenever the time ripens.

The speaker urged that parents "turn back to the faith of our fathers and teach it to our children, and not let their minds be polluted with this evolution theory."

POULTRYMEN WAR ON RATS
WITH HELP OF POISON GAS

Plans are now being laid for a gas attack on the rats that are causing poultrymen of western Washington a loss of thousands of dollars a year, says an Associated Press dispatch from Tacoma. The United States Biological survey, the experiment station of the State college of agriculture and the poultrymen through their association are co-operating in the warfare.

The method of attack will be to force cyanide into the rat burrows under building floors and foundations. The calcium cyanide, coming into contact with the moisture of the air, forms hydrocyanic acid gas, in a concentration of which no animal can live.

Recently a demonstration of this gas was held on a poultry farm near here under the supervision of Dr. Leo K. Couch, of the Biological survey. On this farm were four buildings housing 3,500 hens and made as nearly rat proof as possible. Rats, however, had burrowed under the cement floors and foundations and through the concrete itself, causing a loss in grain and poultry, estimated at $1,000 a year.

The calcium cyanide was pumped into the burrows and 163 dead rats were taken out. These are believed to be only a part of those killed.

INJURED MOTHER DIES
AFTER CHILD IS BORN

Monroe, Aug. 10.—Mrs. Lewis Courtney died at the Ellen Fitzgerald hospital late yesterday afternoon. A few hours before her death she gave birth to a daughter.

Last Sunday evening a week ago Mrs. Courtney fell from an automobile in which she and her husband and George Griffin and Miss Mamie Courtney and three small children were riding on the Charlotte highway. Her skull was fractured and she never regained consciousness. The baby is still living and appear to be a normal child, despite the fact that the mother died under unusual circumstances. Funeral services were held this afternoon, and interment was in the Midway Methodist church cemetery in Buford township.

CHILD BORN AT BESSEMER
CITY WITH TWO TEETH

Bessemer City, Aug. 10.—A baby boy, with two front teeth, was born about a month ago to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Capps, Dr. George Patrick, the family physician vouches for the veracity of the statement. When the child was a few days old one of the teeth cut the baby's tongue, making it necessary for the doctor to extract it leaving the other one. Yesterday the remaining tooth caused its tongue to become ulcerated and Dr. Patrick took it out. This tooth had quite a bit of root and caused the infant much pain. The baby is growing nicely, and is a fine boy.

GAFFNEY POSTPONES FAIR TO GET REISS SHOWS FROM SHELBY

Gaffney Ledger.
Dates for the Cherokee County fair have been changed from November 3-7 to November 9-14, according to announcement made yesterday by J. B. Johnston, the secretary.

The change was found necessary in order to engage the Nat Reiss Shows, a high class 25-car attraction, for the fair, Mr. Johnston said. Other shows available for the first week in November were not of the class desired, and under the circumstances it was decided to hold the event the following week.

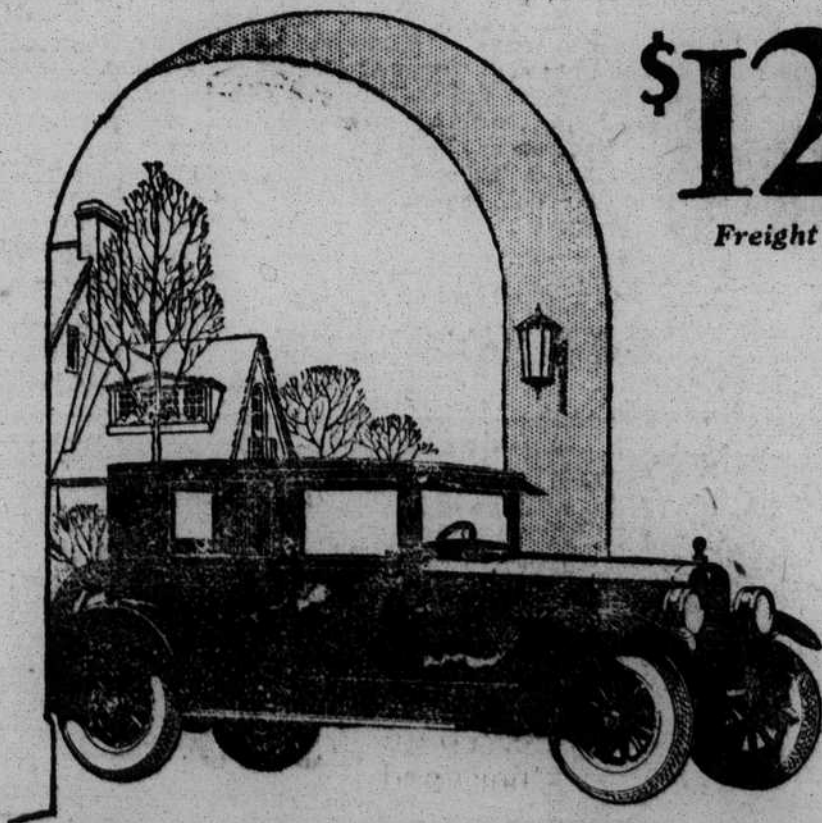

Some men never get converted to optimism no matter how many revivals of business there are.

One of the afflictions of the present generation is too many ways to make money without working.

If folks took as much trouble making pleasure as they do making trouble, it would be hard to improve on this world.
