Literary Division No. 2 Meets.

The Literary division No. 2 of the Woman's club will meet with Miss Elizabeth Ebeltoft, chairman, Thursday afternoon at 4:30. Every member is urged to attend as it is a meeting of great importance.

Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Gardner Dinner Hosts.

Honoring Miss Ruth Pearce the lovely house guest of Miss Elizabeth Webb Mesdames S. R. Riley and O. M. Gardner were dinner hostesses on Thursday evening at Cleveland Springs hotel. The table was prettily decorated with summer flowers and covers were laid for six.

Mrs. Tom Lattimore Honors Miss Pippin.

At her attractive home on Tuesday evening Mrs. Tom Lattimore was the gracious hostess at a rook party honoring Miss Pippin, sister of Mr. Pippin and who will be here this winter, as she will teach at Lattimore. Mrs. Lattimore's home was fragrant with summer roses and other lovely flowers and rook was played at three tables. Attractive little flower score cards were used and when the games were over the hostess served an elegant collation.

Dinner Party for Mr. and Mrs. Springs Borders.

One of the most beautiful and enjoyable dinner parties given this season was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles McBrayer, honoring their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Springs Borders. The home, which is lovely, was most beautiful on this occasion with its wealth of summer flowers. The table was covered with a handsome linen cloth and centering this was a gorgeous silver basket of pink roses. Place cards of roses enhanced the beauty of the table. An elegant and delicious five course dinner was served.

Miss Margaret Bost Honors House Guest.

Miss Margaret Bost honored her delightful young house guest, Miss Jessie Dedmond of Charlotte with a most enjoyable party on Thursday evening. The porch and lawn were attractively decorated with flowers and when the guests assembled progressive conversation was played until nine o'clock then they all went to the moving pictures and enjoyed an especially good production. When this was over, they returned to the hostess home where cooling refreshments were served.

Dinner Parties at Cleveland Springs on Friday Evening.

At the big celebration out at Cleveland Springs a number of dinners with their parties, attended and had dinner at this resort. Gastonia was well represented. Mr. C. C. Blanton had as his dinner guests from there Miss Kennedy, Miss Cornwall and Miss Fan Barnett. Others from Gastonia were Mrs. Nell Warren and guest, Mr. O. F. Mascen and Mr. Denny, Mr. Joe Wray, Mr. Oscar Carpenter and Mr. Kay Dixon. From Kings Mountain were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Baker, and Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter of Philadelphia. Mr. Red Powell, Mrs. Sam Lattimore, Miss Landon and Miss Pattie Roberts formed a congenial party. Quite a number of other out-of-town people dined there that evening.

Mrs. S. R. Riley Honors Mrs. John Labberton.

Mrs. S. R. Riley entertained the S. Washington bridge club honoring Mrs. John Labberton who is the attractive house guest of her sister, Mrs. Oliver Anthony. The party was given on Saturday morning at the Hilliard tea room. Four tables of bridge was played. The tables had for their central decorations crystal baskets filled with white roses and ferns. The score cards were white roses with the greenery and the favors were small crystal baskets filled with candy. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Riley presented the guest of honor with a bottle of perfume and Mrs. Robert Dogget a recent bride, was presented with a deck of cards. For highest score a bridge set was won by Mrs. Oliver Anthony. A tempting ice and salad course was served the members of the club and a few invited guests.

SOCIAL COURTESIES SHOWN VISITORS.

Miss Virginia Bell of Charlotte and Miss Blanche Stokes of Wilson who were the charming guests of Misses Eugenia Holland and Dorothy McBrayer the past week were shown many social courtesies while here among those being the swimming party given by Miss Margaret Morgan at the Kings swimming pool. The guests motored out and after an hour of this delightful sport, returned to town and to the drug store where a delightful ice course was served. Mr. J. McMurry honored them with a most enjoyable watermelon cut on Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday they were dinner guests and attended the dance at Cleveland Springs. They also were honor guests at several of the parties given the past week. They returned to their homes on Thursday.

Dinner Hosts At Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Doggett had as their guests for dinner at Cleveland Springs on Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Springs Borders, of Knoxville Tenn., Mrs. Morgan's mother and sister who are visiting her.

Handsome Invitation Issued.

Handsomely engraved invitations reading as follows have been received in Shelby, the bride-elect being an attractive and popular member of the Shelby graded school faculty, while the groom-to-be is the popular son of Mrs. H. T. Hudson of Shelby:

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Boone Thorn invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter Rubie Logan to Mr. Harry Lee Hudson on Wednesday evening September the second one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five at six o'clock Saint Albans Episcopal Chapel, Kingstree, South Carolina.

Hanrick-Barnett Wedding.

Mr. Cree Hanrick son of Mr. John Hanrick of the Sharon community and Miss Altha Barnett of Ellenboro were happily married last Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's father Mr. Jonathan Barnett at Ellenboro. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Z. D. Harrill. After the marriage, the wedding party went to the groom's father's where a bountiful dinner was served to about 75 guests.

Mr. Hanrick is one of the county's most enterprising young men, a member of one of the thriftiest and most prosperous families of the county. The bride is an attractive and popular young lady who has a host of friends in the two counties, her father formerly living in Cleveland.

September Wedding Secret Until Now.

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Lucy Shuford daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shuford of Lawndale, and Mr. Lawrence Freeman, son of Mrs. Mary Freeman of Greenville, S. C., will be a surprise to their many friends. The marriage took place on September 8, 1924 at Gaffney, S. C., in the presence of only a few relatives, but was kept secret because the bride was teaching.

Mrs. Freeman is an attractive young woman and is loved by all who know her. She finished Piedmont high school in 1924 and has also completed a business course at the Gastonia business college.

Mr. Freeman is a promising young man having many friends throughout the country. He was a student at Piedmont for four years having finished in 1923. He is now a student at Emory university, Georgia.

Mrs. Freeman left Sunday to join her husband in Atlanta, Ga., where they will make their home for the present.

Miss Laughridge Delightful Hostess.

One of the most attractive and original parties given in Shelby in a long time was the "Florida Party" given by Miss Virginia Laughridge on Friday evening at 8:30 at her hospitable home on E. Warren street. On entering the porch, a bower of flowers, you walked in to Palm Beach with its lovely palms and ferns. You were then directed to the "Fountain of Youth", the punch bowl, presided over by Mrs. B. B. Higgins and serving her were Tommy Laughridge and Miss Katherine Dover. From the sweet strains of music beside you knew you were nearing "Miami" and into the dining room you walked and danced in here, in "Miami." This was the most popular place in Florida and the balloon contest was the most unique entertainment of the evening. Balloons were tied to the ankles and the one who danced the longest without bursting the balloons got the prize and Miss Frances Whisnant and Ed McCurry proved the most nimble. When Spark Plug was raffled off Mr. Claude Hoke Thompson proved the most prosperous and Spark Plug became his. At the conclusion of this delightful evening the hostess served delicious ice and sweet course.

While the county agent does not use the same methods practised in the class room, he is a teacher and of great value when used by adult farmers says Director I. O. Schaub of State college.

The county commissioners of Hoke county purchased a car of calcium arsenate for use by Farmers in fighting the boll weevil. By ordering the poison in this way, farmers were saved $792 on the purchase price reports County Agent L. B. Brandon.

MUST CURTAIL POWER BECAUSE OF DROUGHT

Cleveland County Plants Using Southern Power Must Cease Operations One Day Each Week.

Owing to the prolonged and unprecedented drought experienced in Piedmont sections of North and South Carolina affecting the water levels in all streams in this section, the Southern Power Company has issued a drastic curtailment order in the amount of power available for distribution pending an improvement in conditions. Cotton mills and other manufacturing enterprises are requested by the company to co-operate in the curtailment program and a schedule is outlined under which power will be cut off from certain industries for one or more days each week beginning at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning of this week.

Close Here Next Tuesday.

Every textile plant in Cleveland county will therefore close one day each week beginning next Tuesday morning, Sept. 1st at 6 a. m. and continue such a program until rain comes and replenishes the streams of water which are depended on for electric power generation. Cleveland has been placed in Zone 4 along with Rutherford, Lincoln, Catawba, Irrell, Caldwell and Burke counties in North Carolina, Cherokee and Spartanburg counties in South Carolina. When all of these mills will shut down from Tuesday Sept. 1st 6 a. m. to Wednesday morning Sept. 2 at 6 a. m.

The curtailment program asks that power be used only for such purposes as is necessary for strictly public use or for handling of perishable products or for fire protection. A letter from the Southern Power Co., to Mayor A. P. Weathers asks that every economy be used in the town of Shelby by light and power consumers, but it will not be necessary to do without lights in homes and business places. The motors at the city water plant will be used at night instead of during the day.

Zone 5 is the first to institute the curtailment program. This zone is composed of South Carolina counties entirely and they cease operation Wednesday morning of this week until Thursday morning.

Every steam plant the Southern Power Co., has to generate electric power has been running at capacity for some weeks but it has been impossible to supply the demands, so the curtailment program will continue until rains come in sufficient quantities to increase production at the hydro-electric plants.

"Fix this for keeps"

"That's no way to do things! You can keep putting in new bushings till Doomsday and they'll always burn out. Remember this: where there's an effect there's a cause. Bearings don't just burn out unless there's a reason for it and that reason is usually 'not enough oil.'"

It takes years and years of experience to learn all the tricks a motor can play. It takes even more experience to turn out a good reliable motor oil year after year with a uniform high quality. We have been at it from the earliest days of motoring and we are still improving our products. The latest "Standard" Motor Oil is one especially refined for Ford cars. Gives you easy starting, easy stopping and quiet bands. Try it next time you drain your crank case and note the difference.

Picnic Scraps From Farm Celebration

Early Friday morning, the town was surcharged with the electric atmosphere of the celebration. The flags flying, and the steady stream of cars through the town somehow produced a feeling of expectancy like that with which the small boy waits for the circus parade to pass. Clerks and merchants up town caught the spirit, and various windows were decorated with signs welcoming the farmers.

About eleven o'clock, the sky in the north and west clouded up heavily and a strong breeze sprang up. The rain that generally accompanies picnics did not materialize, however, as the sun came out after an hour or so. Only the strong wind prevented it from becoming intensely hot.

Everyone seemed particularly interested in the airplane, although few cared to ride in it. After the first passenger, though, it was easier for the others to make up their minds to take a flight over the city. Molloy had bumpy going for a while, on account of the strong north wind, but the air settled down to a steady breeze, and his take-offs were made in remarkably quick time. Once he made a landing in ground that had several rough places in it and the plane rocked for a second as if she were going over on her nose.

A nest of yellow jackets twenty feet to the left of the platform almost succeeded in breaking the meeting with their sharp stingers. One child was stung and another stepped right into the nest, stirring them up so badly that all the bystanders were glad to give the insects a safe margin. Someone, with more thought than others had shown, roped off a triangle inclosing the place of danger, and tied a sign up with this inscription: "Beware—Yellow Jackets." And they "beware."

Right after Governor McLeod had finished speaking, everyone, especially the children, began thinking about eating. One little boy, about three years old, dressed in short blue trousers and wearing a straw hat tied under his chin, passed the hotel porch, crying as if his heart would break. He kept saying over and over, "I want sump'n 'eat—I want sump'n 'eat." He must have gotten it, for there was plenty of it.

Everybody was just as ready as the child to eat when the time came, and the 197 baskets furnished by the ladies vanished in record time. The sound of the corner calling to "eats" produced a stir all over the grounds, and when the baskets were opened, the crowd around the improvised table-covers was at least three deep.

Miss Landon and Forrest McGill were everywhere at once, or so it seemed. Wherever they were needed, and that was at a thousand and one places, they were ready to help, and as a result, everything went off as smoothly as clock-work.

Governor McLeod and his daughter were universally popular with the people gathered at the Springs. Both were as democratic as anyone could possibly be, and the farmers appreciated it. The executive's speech was straight from the shoulder, and couched in terms that made his meaning plain as well as forceful. Shelby and Cleveland County are sold for Governor McLeod.
