Shelby Hospital Placed In Class Of Standards

Because of Its Efficient
Equipment in Care
for Patients, Is Approved by College of Surgeons

In the presence of a great international congress of surgeons and hospital people at Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, Monday, Franklin H. Martin, M. D. of Chicago, director general of the American College of Surgeons, officially announced the list of approved hospitals up to October 1st and in this list appears the name of the Shelby Hospital. Friends of the local institution are gratified over the high recognition which it merits after strict examination into its equipment, care of patients and splendid staff of surgeons and nurses.

Such an honor is sought by all hospitals, but many failed to reach this class to which the Shelby institution has attained. It is now recognized as one of the best equipped institutions in America for its size and the work which it has been doing is winning the attention of the medical profession everywhere.

The list of standard hospitals is the result of the eighth annual Hospital Standardization survey made by the American College of Surgeons, including 2,380 hospitals and in presenting the report Dr. Martin said in part:

"This list of approved hospitals is of general interest. The patient can more intelligently and more safely choose a hospital and a doctor when ill. The young woman with the noble ambition to become a nurse is assisted in her selection of a training school. The recent medical graduate eager for more practical experience seeks the approved hospital for his internship. Federal, state, municipal and philanthropic organizations frequently consult this list in their selection of institutions when rendering financial assistance. Already the American Railway Association has urged their 14,000 surgeons to select for their patient so far as possible hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons. The United States Army, Navy, Veterans Bureau, Public Health Service, and National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers share enthusiastically in this program and the approved hospitals of these groups appear on the list today. The American College of Surgeons appreciates the opportunity to better hospitals of the United States and Canada annually. This movement has now become part of the social and economic life of our people. The requirements are minimal and fundamental. They are applicable to any hospital regardless of size, type or location. Any institution, ethical and honest, reaching the standard is acceptable. The public is therefore asking why certain hospitals are not on the list."

The hospitals whose names appear on the approved list today are those recognized as fulfilling the fundamental requirements for good service to the patient, as assured through (a) efficient staff organization; (b) adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities; (c) trained personnel; (d) complete case records; (e) periodic check-up or medical audit of the clinical work of the hospital.

From the 1925 survey of 2,395 hospitals in the United States and Canada 1564 or 65.7 per cent meet the requirements of Hospital Standardization. In the State of North Carolina out of 49 hospitals surveyed 29 or 59.2 per cent have been accredited and appear today on the approved list as announced by the American College of Surgeons.

FIRST CONFERENCE SCHEDULE FOR CLEVELAND CO. CHURCHES

The first service of the new conference year will be held at St. Paul Sunday morning, November 1st, at 11 o'clock and at Bethlehem at 3 o'clock. The stewards, trustees, Sunday school teachers, and other officers of the church are earnestly requested to be present for the services Sunday. The pastor desires the presence of every member of the church. The public is cordially invited to worship with us. The pastor wishes to express his gratitude to the people of Cherryville circuit for their loyalty and fidelity during the past conference year. Let us join hands under God and go forward to higher achievements than we have hitherto reached. We shall always appreciate the presence of the members of other churches at our services. Especially do we extend an invitation to non-church members to worship with us from time to time. Our church door is always open.

Big Serial Story In Today's Star

A laugh for your spare hours! "Too Much Efficiency," one of the most entertaining serial stories ever written, starts in this issue of The Star. This big story will be carried to completion in the paper and one of the 36 installments will be published in each issue. Start the story today and don't miss a chapter. A synopsis of preceding chapters will be carried in each issue, but it will be better to read it all. Start with today's chapter if you are a subscriber. If not, subscribe at once.

SHELBY TO MEET GASTONIA TWICE

Local Highs Get Toughest Assignment
in Section. Game Here Friday Afternoon with Gastonia.

Two football games with more than the usual interest are scheduled for "Casey" Morris' Shelby Highs for the two coming Fridays. Both games are with Pat Crawford's Gastonia eleven. The first to be played the coming Friday afternoon on the city park here will not count in the state series. However, the game on the following Friday with Gastonia at Gastonia does figure in the state series schedule.

The title series was arranged in Charlotte Tuesday night at a meeting attended by Coach Morris. A game had already been scheduled with Gastonia for the coming Friday and since the first title game with the strong Crawford squad does not come off for another week it was decided to play the game this Friday here. Gastonia is being picked over the state as one of the best bets for the state championship and Morris' boys are naturally up against something plus something more in their first game. With a young and inexperienced eleven to start with the Shelby Highs have not been counted on strongly in the state race and a number of those now playing will be unable to perform in the series games according to a ruling by Rankin. Knowing that the Gastonia crew is labelled for state honors quite a crowd of fans are expected to take in the game here Friday and the series game next Friday, with the view of looking over an eleven of championship calibre. Nevertheless, the machine-like Gastonia squad is not in for a play-day afternoon in either game with Shelby. Morris' lightweight little eleven realizes that it is playing probable champions and intend to give their all in battle.

The State Series
Asheville, Gastonia, Lenoir, Shelby and Lattimore are classed in group four. Lenoir and Asheville meet at Asheville this Friday, and Shelby and Gastonia meet in the first series tilt at Gastonia Friday of next week. Lattimore drew a bye for the first round. In the second round Lattimore will play the winner of the Lenoir-Asheville contest either on November 3 or sixth.

Lenoir, if it beats Asheville, will meet either Shelby at Lenoir, or Gastonia at Hickory on November 13. Shelby, if it beats Asheville or Lattimore on November 14, while Asheville, if it wins its first two games, will play Gastonia or Shelby at Gastonia on November 13.

West Shelby News Of Late Interest

Mrs. N. J. Willis, who has been ill at the home of her son, Mr. Clem Willis, on Blanton street, is reported improving. Mrs. Ruby Thurman and little son, Lesley, accompanied by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Sweatman, of R-6, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Sidney Lee yesterday. Mr. A. W. Heffner has affected a really deal whereby he becomes owner of the new bungalow which was recently erected by Mr. J. W. Silver on North Clerg street. Mr. Heffner is moving his family and household goods into the new house this week. Rev. T. G. McAllister, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church at Carolina, spent a short while at the home of Mr. S. C. Tate yesterday. He was enroute to Charlotte where he was called on business.

ASSAULT CHARGED ON SMALL CHILD

Jim Jones in Jail Without Bond for Alleged Attack on 9-Year-old
White Girl Sunday.

Jim Jones, young white man of Shelby, was remanded to the county jail, following a hearing before Recorder John P. Mull Tuesday morning, without bond to await a hearing next week in Superior court on the charge of criminally assaulting a 9-year-old white girl. The alleged assault is said to have taken place Sunday afternoon at a spring near the little girl's home in Flat Rock, a Shelby suburb. Jones denied the charge.

At the preliminary hearing the little girl took the stand and related the alleged attack in detail to Solicitor Burrus and Judge Mull, identified Jones, termed as a friend of the family. The little girl with her sister and other children were playing at the spring when Jones came along, she told the court. Her testimony regarding the alleged assault was supported in part by the testimony of her mother and Dr. G. M. Gold, physician who examined her. However, her testimony was not to the effect that the complete assault was committed, although the testimony of the physician, regarding bruises and injuries made such a possibility.

Jones is a familiar figure in recorder's court, his name, it is said, having been entered on the blotter several times in connection with liquor, and the little girl in her testimony stated that he carried a bottle at the time of the alleged attack. Several weeks ago Jones up before the recorder on a liquor charge told the court that he was suffering with a dread venereal disease in advanced stages, presumably with the idea of avoiding work on the gang.

The arrest was made by city officers Monday and he was placed in jail and given a hearing Tuesday morning with only a small number of people being aware of what was taking place.

Training School Under Way at Buffalo Church

Congregation Is Pleased With The Leadership of Pastor Rev. H. E.
Waldrop—P. M. Mauney Is Superintendent

Special to The Star:
A training school for Sunday-school workers is being conducted at Buffalo Baptist church this week. The class meets each night at 7 o'clock, and the Sunday School Manual is the text book used.

The people of Buffalo are a loyal band of Christians and are not satisfied with anything less than the best in Sunday school work; as evidenced by the splendid crowds attending the school each night.

Mr. P. M. Mauney is the faithful and efficient superintendent of the Sunday school. Rev. H. E. Waldrop, the beloved pastor is leading these good people in a great way. Mr. Waldrop believes in his Sunday schools, and realizes the strength and importance of a good Sunday school. He is vitally interested in training his teachers as shown by the work he is doing along this line. He has a school planned for Ross Grove, another of his church-fine results from the school to be held in this good church. The Association field worker, A. V. Washburn, has charge of these institutes.

Urges Fall Sowing Of Oats And Vetch

Every farmer in the county who has not already sown two acres of oats and vetch or some hay crop for each horse and cow on the farm should plan to do so at once. Fall hay crops can be sown profitably until the 15th of November or later.

One of the best mixtures to sow for hay is 15 pounds of hairy vetch and two bushels oats and one-third bushel of beardless wheat. The vetch should be inoculated if it has not been grown on the land previously. Inoculation is furnished free by the government. One of the quickest and most effective ways is to use one peck of dirt taken from a field that grew vetch vigorously last year and roll the seed in this dirt after they have been dipped in a solution of equal parts water and molasses. The dirt and seed should then be mixed with the oats and wheat and drilled. Lets have an honest to goodness live-at-home program for Cleveland county this year and raise everything we use that can be raised on the farm for our food and feed.

Hairy vetch leads all other legumes in feeding value for livestock and fertilizing value for the land. The following are tables showing the food and fertilizing value of legumes.

Free Hand

Politicians and job seekers need not ask for a hearing in the new alignment of prohibition forces, says Lincoln C. Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement. President Coolidge has given notice that Andrews is to have a free hand in all appointments.

Mule Is Worth Less Than Dog

Gaffney, October 27.—A good opesum dog is worth $10 more than a young mule in Cherokee County, according to a sign displayed by a trader on the horse swappers' lot here. The sign read: "Good possum dog $50; 3-year-old mule, $40."

NO POWER RELIEF IN RECENT RAINS

Charlotte, Oct. 27.—The only immediate result of the rains in this section and particularly along the headwaters of the Catawba river, with reference to more water for hydro-electric power, will be prevented the immediate extension of the curtailment of two and a half days to three days, according to Southern Power company officials. The rains, while rather general throughout this section of the state, are thought to have been heavier in this county and close around it than in the watershed of the Catawba, it was said, following a survey of conditions yesterday.

Surveys of Friday at 10 o'clock and yesterday morning about the same hour show no appreciable difference in the water supply, the principal ground for encouragement being that there was no loss in water head at the several bodies along the river and the further belief that the ground was fairly well saturated with the rains of the past few days, so that if there should be another good rain soon, most of the water would be surplus and would find its way into the streams.

The comparative records of the larger bodies of water along the river show that, despite the halt of operations for Sunday, the gain in head was even a loss shown in the Great Falls dam from Friday to Monday due to a continued operation of that plant over Sunday, the report showed.

Mountain Island showed the largest gain in the three days, water having been three feet higher yesterday than on Friday. However, the water is still 10 feet from the top of the dam it was said. At the Wateree dam the water gained half a foot, and was 15 feet from the top.

Only Slight Gain.
At the Bridgewater reservoir, where the gain was only three-tenths of a foot, the water is 50 feet below the dam. Several hard rains will be required before this huge reservoir will take on anything like its normal appearance and supply of water.

The curtailment program or two and a half days for all industries, except those that from their nature must continue, such as ice plants, which has been in operation for several weeks because of the low water, will have to continue until more rain falls and gives more head in the ponds, officials of the company said last night. It is possible that the rains of the past two or three days will prevent the extension of the curtailment to three days, certainly for the immediate future, it was believed.

This section is stated to have received something of the edge of the storm that passed over Alabama and other states further south. Wind was high early Sunday morning, blowing limbs of trees and even uprooting one of the large trees on the playground of the South graded school. Trees and limbs in woods beyond the Plaza section were also blown down.

91 In Senior Class At High

56 Girls and 35 Boys in Graduating Class That Establishes Record.
Honor Roll Numbers 59.

A report issued from the office of L. C. Griffin, superintendent of the city schools, shows that there are 91 pupils enrolled in the senior class this year, which offers a representative idea of the increasing school enrollment. Of the number 56 are girls and 35 boys.

The honor roll in the high department of the city schools for the opening month reveal that a total of 59 students attained the honor, 49 of whom were girls. The second division of the 11th grade led with 12 on the roll, while the second section of the eighth grade ranked next with 11. The roll by grades follows:

Grade 8-1: Alex Gee, Robert Gidney, Mary Sue Borders, Mary Frances Carpenter, Minna LeGrand, Mae Ellen McBrayer, Elizabeth Riviere, Mary Reeves Forney.
Grade 8-2: Oakland Morrison, Lula Agnes Arey, Lola Cook, Sara Dellinger, Virginia Hunt, Dorothy King, Ada Laughridge, Ruth Laughridge, Madge Putnam, Alice Sanders, Margaret Vanstony.

Grade 8-3: Mildred Parker.
Grade 9-1: Lucile Bridges, Selma Branton, Horna Kate Bridges, Heien James, Minnie King, Sara Richbourg.
Grade 9-2: Huit Dellinger, Billy McKnight, Lallage Shull, Martha Eskridge, Melva Hamrick.

Grade 9-3: Lee Roy Ledford, Boneta Browning Edna Earle Lee.
Grade 10-1: Margaret Blanton, Kathleen Hord, Charlie Mae Laughridge, Montrose Mull, Jennie Lee Packard, Maude Rollins, Mary Switzer, Lee Wray.
Grade 10-2: Madge Sperling, Jack McGinnis.

MANY DIVORCES ON COURT DOCKET HERE

Almost One Dozen Divorce Cases
Docketed For Term Next Week.
Civil Case Docket

Sessions of Cleveland county Superior court of late months are handling quite a number of divorce cases. The last session disposed of a dozen or more such cases and 11 are docketed for next week.

Alimony, unknown to local courts heretofore in the memory of barristers, will make its entrance next week in the case of Sims vs. Sims, which comes here from Kings Mountain. The case it is said calls for alimony, but not divorce.

The criminal docket so far does not contain any cases of major interest other than the Jim Jones assault charge which was passed up from recorder's court this week. There are quite a number of interesting cases in addition to divorces on the civil calendar, which follows:

Huge Endowment Doubled By Will

Charlotte, Oct. 28.—The $40,000,000 Duke endowment, created by the late James B. Duke last December, will be doubled under provisions of the will of the deceased, it was disclosed by the executors of the estate at a meeting of the trustees of the endowment held in New York yesterday. The information was received in Charlotte from members of the board of trustees of the endowment in New York, and given nation wide circulation over the wires of the Associated Press last night.

Thirty million dollars of the additional $40,000,000 becomes available immediately, with at least $10,000,000 to be added later, making $80,000,000 which will be ultimately available for educational, humanitarian and religious purposes in North Carolina and South Carolina, including hospitalization work, care of orphans and support of aged Methodist ministers.

York Citizen Dropped Dead Here Tuesday

Alex Childers, well known merchant of upper South Carolina, dropped dead here yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock just as he started to step in his automobile parked near the jitney space at the edge of the court square in the business district.

Childers, who formerly operated a store at York, Kingstree and Piedmont Springs in South Carolina, had spent the day in this county in connection with business regarding the sale of his South Carolina property. He was accompanied here by Mr. John Martin of Piedmont Springs, with whom he had been living, and the two had taken dinner at the home of Mr. Fletcher McMurry in the county, it is said.

They came to Shelby in the afternoon in Mr. Childers' Ford coupe and parked at the northwest curb of the court square. Mr. Childers in getting ready to leave started to open the door of the coupe to step in when passers-by noticed him fall to the street, his car keys flying out of his hand. He died almost instantly and before physicians arrived. Mr. Martin, who accompanied him, stated that Childers was not known to be suffering with anything and that he had never heard him complain. His body accompanied by Mr. Martin was taken to Piedmont Springs late Tuesday afternoon and interment will be at Canaan church there.

Mr. Childers, who was 55 years of age, was known to hundreds of upper South Carolina people and since selling his store had been living with Mr. Martin at Piedmont Springs. He is survived by a wife and no children, and has no brothers or sisters living. The sudden death in the business district attracted quite a crowd and traffic around the corner was momentarily slowed up. Childers had visited this county on business several times and was known by a number of people here, and was recognized by them before his identity was definitely learned.

Judge Webb Meant No Disrespect of Court

Greensboro, Oct. 26.—Judge E. Yates Webb, of Shelby, of the United States district court of Western North Carolina today entered a plea of nolo contendere in the court of Justice of the Peace Oris W. Duke, in connection with the charges instituted against him by deputy Sheriff Frank McAdoo charging the judge with having exceeded the speed limit in his automobile in this county a short time ago. He was fined $10 and the costs.

The plea for Judge Webb was entered by Judge A. Wayland Cook, and R. L. Blalock, clerk of the United States court duties. Judge Webb said that the reason he had not settled the matter before was due to the fact that he had been in a hospital and had not been furnished with mail and he assured Justice Duke "I meant no disrespect for your court."

Funeral of Jones Held at Camp Creek

Relatives and friends estimated to number from 1,200 to 1,500 attended funeral services conducted Sunday afternoon at Camp's Creek Baptist church for Columbus Jones, well-known citizen of Gaffney, route 2, who died early Sunday morning following a brief illness, says the Gaffney Ledger. The Rev. W. B. Jenkins, of Avondale, conducted the services. Six grandsons of Mr. Jones served as pall bearers. The burial was conducted by the Masonic lodge of Mooresboro, of which Mr. Jones was a member, with P. S. Courtney, Gaffney funeral director, in charge. Mr. Jones' home was in No. 2 township of Cleveland county, but he was well and favorably known to many Gaffney and Cherokee county people. He was 77 years old.

He leaves the following children: Mrs. Nora McCraw and Mrs. Lucy McCraw, of Gaffney, route 2; Mrs. Blanche Horton, Boiling Springs, Gilbert, Wade and Grady Jones, of Cherokee county. He is also survived by two brothers, J. J. Jones of Gaffney, route 9, and W. A. Jones, of Cliffside.

FIRST LYCEUM PROGRAM AT SCHOOL THURSDAY EVE

The first lyceum program of the season will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Central school auditorium. The number is by Loseff's Russian Orchestral quartet in native costume and a good attendance is expected.
