Mother's Circle Meeting Postponed
The Mother's circle which was to have met with Mrs. Durham Moore this Tuesday afternoon has been postponed until later.

South Washington Bridge Club To Meet
Mrs. O. Max Gardner will entertain the members of the South Washington Bridge club and other guests on Saturday afternoon. The hour is 3:30 o'clock.

Circles Meet
The monthly meetings of all the Circles held their meetings this afternoon. Much business was transacted and plans made for Christmas. This second Monday of each month is set apart by all the churches for these home missionary circles and much good is being done in all the churches by all these women.

Miss Mary Mauney Gives Lovely Christmas Party
Miss Mary Mauney was at home to a number of her friends at her attractive home on Friday evening. The rooms were beautifully decorated with Christmas greenery and an air of the holiday spirit prevailed. Music and Progressive conversation whiled away the happy hours and at the conclusion of the evening the hostess served the most elegant refreshments pertaining to the Christmas season.

Miss Lois Wilson Entertains Informally
Miss Lois Wilson entertained most informally and delightfully a number of her young friends on Friday evening. These happy young people enjoyed the evening with music and conversation and when the evening was waning Miss Wilson served delicious refreshments. The home was attractively decorated with Christmas holly and other greenery.

Junior U. D. C. Meet With The Misses Grand
Misses Minna and Elizabeth Le Grand were the charming young hostesses to the Junior Division of the U. D. C. at their lovely home on South Washington street on Saturday afternoon. The rooms were aglow with beautiful Christmas decorations and a large number of the members were present. The program was opened by all the members singing "Sewanee River" Miss Mary Reeves Forney read a most interesting piece and Miss Minna LeGrand read a delightful paper. These papers were about the "Confederate Generals" and were splendidly written and read. Miss Alice Sanders played beautifully an instrumental solo also. Miss Alice Goode King played a charming piece on the piano. Miss Sarah Dellinger gave a delightful reading. After a business session the young hostesses assisted by their mother served the most delicious viands.

Lovely Dinner Given to Masons by Woman's Club
The Woman's club members were hostesses to the Masons of Cleveland lodge No. 202 with a five course turkey dinner on Friday evening in the large banquet hall in the beautiful Masonic temple. The hour was 7:30 and one hundred and eighty-two Masons answered the invitations and were present. The tables were beautifully decorated with Christmas trees glittering with silver and gold trimmings and Santa Claus dressed in the proverbial red suits. These decorations were placed at intervals on the long tables making a brilliant scene. Shelby's famous orchestra "The Sycopaters" played delightful music all during the dinner hour. Receiving the masons in the main hall were Mrs. Fred Morgan the president of the Woman's club, Miss Laura Cornwell and Miss Elizabeth Ebeltoft, chairman of the Literary divisions; Mrs. LeGrand, chairman of the Evening division; Miss Irma Wallace, chairman of the Home Economics division, and Mrs. S. R. Riley, chairman of Music and Arts division. A number of the women out of each division acted as waitresses. When the guests were all seated Rev. Zeno Wall said grace, and the other ministers of the town churches. Mr. A. E. Cline, chairman of board of county commissioners and Mr. Fred R. Morgan were the invited guests. Mrs. Morgan made a most pleasing little talk welcoming the Masons and Mr. Frank Roberts responded in a few well chosen words. At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Clyde E. Hoey spoke brilliantly and charmingly to the ladies of the Woman's club. As usual he had his hearers in a happy humor and held them spell bound. It was indeed a splendid sight to see this large body of men together in friendship's bond, and representing this great organization. It was also a great pleasure for the Woman's club of Shelby to have these Masons as their guests for they have indeed been friends to this body of women and made it possible for them to have one of the most complete and handsomest club rooms in the state of North Carolina.

Chicora Club Postponed
The Chicora club which was to have met with Mrs. W. F. Mitchell on Friday afternoon has been postponed until a later date.

Gerald McBrayer Marries Georgia Girl
Mr. Gerald McBrayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lander F. McBrayer was married September 20th at Gaffney, S. C., to Miss Sara Hubert, of Decatur, Ga., and handsomely engraved announcements were issued Monday by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Pride Hubert. The wedding which took place in September when Miss Hubert was here on a visit to Mrs. Bessie Gray was held a secret until a few weeks ago when it was learned by parents of the bride and groom. The popular young couple had expected to keep their wedding a secret until the young lady finished this year in a Georgia college. The announcement reads as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. William Pride Hubert announce the marriage of their daughter, Sara to Mr. Gerald F. McBrayer on Sunday, September the twentieth nineteen hundred and twenty-five, Gaffney, South Carolina.
Mr. McBrayer has been a student at N. C. State college, Raleigh where he was one of the most popular young men in the student body. He is now employed as salesman at the J. C. Penney company's Shelby store. The bride is a beautiful young lady, very winsome and attractive and a member of a prominent family of Decatur. She arrived here Sunday on a visit to the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lander F. McBrayer on N. LaFayette street.

Mrs. Julius Suttles Hostess At Two Beautiful Parties.
The Yuletide season was beautifully portrayed at the elegant home of Mrs. Julius Suttle in Belvedere heights when she entertained the 20th Century club on Friday afternoon and the Embroidery club on Saturday afternoon. Christmas wreaths hung from the windows and doorways and on the mantel surrounding the old fashioned candle sticks of brass were festooned small wreaths of holly tied with red ribbons. Beautiful growing poinsettias in green flower pots were placed on tables on consoles and on the piano a crystal vase holding deep red carnations and ferns made a charming picture. The dining room table had a most beautiful Christmas centerpiece of holly, pine burs, and gold and silver thistles and at each end of this piece were large red candles embedded in the green. In the lovely solarium the color scheme of green and red was carried out in the decorations of holly and poinsettias and greenery. A delightful program was rendered on Friday afternoon by Mrs. Henry Kendall who gave the "Life of Joseph Hersheimer" and Mrs. George Hoyle who discussed his works. A business session was held and at the conclusion of the program Mrs. Suttle had invited a number of her friends to come in and a rare musical treat was in store for the members and guests. Miss Eugenia Holland a gifted pianist and interpreter of music played superbly "The Valse Etude" by Raff, and "Keyboard Conversation" by Vee Lamp Hurst. This was followed by two charming readings given by Miss Mae Washburn one of Shelby's most talented young ladies. Her selections were "Little Billy's Argument," and "A Christmas Piece." Mrs. Ben Suttle then sang exquisitely, "I Would Weave a Song for You," and "Sealed Orders" by O. Hara and Willoby. At the conclusion of this musical and reading treat, Mrs. Suttle assisted by Mrs. J. D. Linberger, Mrs. Mal Spangler, Mrs. Louis Forney, Miss Gussie Sisk and Miss Nancy Suttle served a most elegant Christmas menu.

On Saturday afternoon the Embroidery club enjoyed the lovely home and the Christmas decorations and after an hour of sewing and happy conversation lovely music was furnished to them by Miss Holland and Mrs. Ben Suttle. The club and other invited guests were also given a rare treat. The delicious menu was served and on Friday and Saturday afternoons the most attractive little Christmas bouquet were given each guest as a souvenir. These were indeed beautiful parties given in Mrs. Suttle's beautiful home.

Missed Good Chance.
Asheville Citizen.)
State Superintendent of Public Instruction Allen probably realizes now that he missed a grand opportunity to keep still when asked his opinion of girl students smoking: "eventually he may hear the end of comment on his reply that eventually all girls' schools will have smoking rooms."

For his own family Santa Claus chooses Gifts That Last

Old Santa judges the worth of a gift not alone by what it costs, but by what it yields—in service and satisfaction. And long ago, he discovered that a dollar goes farther at the jewelry store than anywhere else. For the jeweler deals in imperishables—in gifts that last, like the fidelity of a fine friendship, for as long as life itself! Specializing in jewels, the jeweler sees to it that every article in his stock is truly a jewel. And whether it be for adornment or for utility, it must measure up to Jewel Standards, in craftsmanship and integrity. He who must coddle a lean purse or she who may indulge a fat one, both will find there the gifts they would most like to give—comfortably priced within their respective Christmas budgets. Ask Santa Claus. He knows!

EDUCATE CHILDREN FOR PARENTHOOD

Health education of children should include education for parenthood. It involves developing an attitude of protective care for babies and young children, and later, an attitude of concern for the future welfare of the race. It involves t ehdevelopment of wholesome, healthful social relationships between boys and girls. It implies an intelligent grasp of important knowledge in the fields of home making, care of children, sex education, and eugenics.

In the elementary schools, the children will not be aware of the purpose of many activities which, in the teacher's plan, are developing desirable habits and attitudes related to education for parenthood. For example, a study of the life cycles of animals and plants is a desirable foundation for the understanding of human reproduction that comes with mature years. But the child who is studying the life habit of his pet rabbits is not and should not be aware of this.—Dr. Thomas D. Wood, inHygein for December, 1925.
