Beautiful Tributes Paid Mrs. L. M. Hull

Beautiful tributes in words, flowers and scripture were paid Mrs. L. M. Hull, one of Shelby's most popular women when she was buried Tuesday afternoon, funeral services being held at the Presbyterian church. There were thirty active and honorary pall bearers and two score of women flower bearers, members of the same clubs with which she worked so harmoniously, forming a double line that extended from the church entrance to the street. Over a half hundred floral offerings were further evidence of the esteem in which she was held and her body was removed from the church, the casket was carried through this long line of flowers and friends. The casket was covered with one solid floral blanket of white and green while the other designs represented the choicest flowers from the leading florists of the country. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. N. McDiarmid pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. T. M. Lowery of York, S. C., and Rev. Zeno Wall of the First Baptist church. The church building was crowded to capacity by the host of friends of Mrs. Hull.

Cotton Sentiment Is Reactionary

(By R. J. McCarley's private wire.) New Orleans, La. Jan. 27.—Liverpool was due down by New Orleans: March, 5; May, 4; July, 4; October, 3; July; New York: March, 3; May, 3; July, 4; October 3.

Compared with last year's stock on shipboard at Galveston yesterday was 53,000 bales against 83,000; at New Orleans 50,000 against 43,000, at Houston 23,000.

Southern spots yesterday were unchanged to 31 down. Texas markets 15 to 20 lower. Sales all told 19,429 bales against 20,267 Monday and 29,907 last year.

In the absence of any demand of consequence for spots in the South, the attitude of Liverpool will likely have much influence on values for the present.

Sentiment rather reactionary for the present.

Dr. Prettyman is much in demand as a speaker in the two Carolinas and Prof. Horace Geigs who has charge of the program Thursday night considers himself fortunate in securing him for this occasion.

A Better Job.

James A. Garfield was nominated at Chicago to be candidate for the presidency. Many ballots were cast before he gained the decision. Through many ballots his name was kept on the list by only one vote. This vote was cast by an old-time friend and schoolmate, a preacher who had been chosen as a delegate to that convention. If this man's (Milton Wells was his name) vote had been dropped, the day after President Garfield's inauguration, he sent this telegram to Milton Wells: "Will you accept the governorship of Arizona?" Mr. Wells replied "I have a better office that I cannot leave. I am preaching here for $600 per year. Milton Wells.—The Way.

Kaiser Wants More.

Berlin.—The ex-Kaiser is not satisfied with his amazing bargain which he has just made with Prussia and the $750,000 he receives. He proposes to ask Poland to settle accounts with him. The ex-Kaiser owns property in Poland and also in Alsace. He will wait and see what happens in Poland before sending a bill to France. The reichstag has discussed a social democratic bill giving the government the right to investigate and settle claims brought by members of former ruling houses instead of leaving the federated states to settle the questions in the ordinary courts. A communist motion advocates appropriation without compensation of all properties belonging to the ex-royal houses. Its rejection is certain.

CLIFFDWELLERS MAY HAVE LIVED IN STATE

Chimney Rock, Jan. 23.—Collier Cobb, geologist of the University of North Carolina, left here today for his home at Chapel Hill after completing examination of strange rock formations existing in this part of western North Carolina, to which his attention had been called. Today he ascended Chimney Rock mountain, scled the dizzy heights accompanied by two guides familiar with that region, gathering scientific data.

Upon the return journey the party explored an underground passage of a tunnel through which it was possible to reach the opposite side of the mountain overlooking Lake Lure En route, Prof. Cobb scanned at a distance what appeared to be the perfect outline rock formation of an ancient village of cliffdwellers.

The eminent geologist expects at an early date to return with scientific instruments and cameras outfit for a weeks journey examining the sheer granite walls which today excited the party as they had made a discovery which may turn back the pages of established history the Indians in Western North Carolina of this region prior to the days of him. This is the same region scanned last year by members of the Chicago geographic society brought here for exploration by the Southern railway.

No Reason for Dying Other Than Old Age

London.—The "New Health Society" intends to revolutionize the standard of physical fitness in Britain.

"There is not the slightest necessity for people to die from disease," says Sir Arbuthnot Lane, England's most distinguished physician, and a founder of the society, "disease never effected a perfectly healthy person."

"Poisoned arrows are not used today to cause death," says Dr. F. H. Belfrage, another founder "Nor do we go about hitting people on the head. There is no reason, therefore, why any one should die except from old age."

These two opinions epitomize the object of the crusade upon which the New Health Society hopes to build up an A-1 nation.

Lord Oxford and Asquith recently emphasized the importance of good robust health by pointing out that Britain spends yearly $50,000,000 on sickness and disability benefits that might be prevented, and that 23,000,000 weeks of work involving wages to the extent of $150,000,000 are lost yearly in the registered trades alone.

Philip Snowden, ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer, estimates the annual loss to Britain through physical weakness at $2,000,000,500. And 80 to 90 per cent of the most disabling forms of illness are due not to malnutrition but to wrong feeding.

"So many of the conditions bringing people prematurely to the grave are preventable," says Dr. Belfrage, "for the disorders of the body which terminate in disease and death are due to our living illogically."

"The body is much like a car. One cannot run a car satisfactorily without proper attention to the oil, the gasoline and the water supply. So with the body the fuel must be the proper fuel and the engine must be kept clean and sweet."

Farmer Has Keen Appetite Since Taking HERB JUICE

Says Nothing Can Equal HERB JUICE As A System Purifier And Pen Producer.

"HERB JUICE has so thoroughly cleaned my system that I feel better than I have in the past ten years. I have a very keen appetite, plenty of vim, now I go about my daily routine with a great deal more pep and determination. It is a wonderful remedy, and in my opinion, no other medicine can equal it as a system purifier and reproducer," said R. F. Glenn, farmer, Route 7, Shelby, N. C., when he called recently to tell the HERB JUICE man of his great success with HERB JUICE. "I had read so much of HERB JUICE," continued Mr. Glenn, "and what it was doing for other people, that I just felt it would be the very thing to put my system in good condition and tone me up generally. I am glad that I was right in so thinking, for I have never found anything that worked such wonders and give such instantaneous relief as HERB JUICE has for me. And I am frankly telling you that your HERB JUICE is all that I expected it to be. No more stomach trouble; constipation gone; liver very active and I have been entirely relieved of that sluggish feeling. I seem to have one hundred per cent more vim and vitality. I sleep wonderfully well at night, arising in the mornings refreshed and ready for my daily task. I think that such a wonderful medicine should be in every home. I expect to keep a bottle on hand all the time, take it when I need it, and will be glad at all times to recommend it to everyone in need of a good laxative and system regulator. I know it will do all that it is recommended to do, hence I have no hesitance in endorsing it as the greatest medicine sold today for such ailments as I had, for I am sure it will give satisfaction in every respect."
