There is consolation for the reducers. At present prices it is hard to get enough Irish potatoes to make one fat.

More and more British authors are finding a market in America, and not a word about a tariff to protect home scribbles.

Springtime Golf Comes With Snakes

Those backing the advertising program for Shelby have suggested a slogan "Springtime is Golftime in Shelby," and according to W. H. Lyle, professional at the Cleveland Springs club, it must be golftime.

Old-timers used snakes for their calendars and it was usually considered an harbinger of spring when the legless varmints began crawling. Saturday, February 5, some of the caddies at the golf club killed a moccasin trying to hole out on the course. Wherewith the club preys: "If snake time is springtime and springtime is golf time, then it is golfing weather."

If a telephone call to the office of promising business men during the ensuing afternoons find them "out at the farm" or "away on business," just page the Cleveland Springs Golf club.

THEATRES

"The Man Without a Conscience" is the offering at the Webb Wednesday. This picture reveals a highly dramatic story.

"The Man Without a Conscience" is highly dramatic, its recital sticking close to the title in that it tells of the hectic life of a man who rode roughshod over all around in his mad rush for wealth. The basic plot is from a Hungarian novel; the setting is strictly modern and American, the screen version being from the pen of Hope Loring and Louis Lighten.

Thursday the Webb management is introducing a Truart picture to the local theatre goers. Which is to say that a new group of faces will appear on the Webb screen for that night. The title of the piece is "The Virgin," described as a very high class production. This is one of two of these high class pictures the theatre will show.

Wednesday (today) brings "Thunder Mountain" a John Golden success to the Princess. This is a picture from the Pearl Franklin play "Howdy Folks," described as a drama of love in the "Hills of Hate."

"The Great Love" is coming Thursday a Marshall Neilan production of his own story. The most novel and hilarious picture that has been flashed on the screen in a long time! It is the gorgeously entertaining and thrilling film of a young doctor whose romance is interrupted by an escaped elephant.

Thinks Cotton Price Will Go Some Higher

(By R. J. McCarley, H. and B. Beer Agent.)

H. and B. Beer think we are going to have much better times in the cotton market; that interest is going to shift from stocks to cotton and sugar. They are optimistic as to the out-turn and believe that we have been through the worst period.

They suggest that their friends be prepared for an active market in cotton, based on increased consumption and prospects for a normal crop.

With a dollar worth a little over 60 cents, cotton is only selling at an average of 10 cents compared with 1913. Therefore there is hardly any prospect for it to go lower and considerable opportunity for an improvement in prices.

It is time for the brokers to awake to these conditions and inform their friends to be prepared to take advantage of the situation.

HALF BOUGHT

When you buy furniture, a piano, a sewing machine—most anything for your home—you just buy it. It's delivered, put in place, used.

But when you buy plumbing or heating, it's only half bought until it's installed.

And the installation is what makes plumbing or heating well bought or poorly bought.

When you buy plumbing and heating you really buy three things—fixtures, materials, installations. If all three are not right, what you have paid for isn't right.

So, then, buy the best. And insist that it be rightly installed.

Cheap fixtures, cheaply installed, will play tag with your life and your work. And you can't afford that, can you?

PAYING TRIBUTE

There is some tribute that is justifiable.

The payment of taxes or the payments toward a fund for the public good—such tributes are worthy.

On the other hand—

When any man deliberately squanders money—

Or fails to reserve a part of his income for his future needs, he is paying tribute to folly.

We have a Savings Department where interest is paid on balances at the rate of four per cent, compounded each three months.

Pay tribute to whom tribute is due—certainly something is due yourself.
