Asheville Citizens Ask Clemency For Jail Stormers—Anti-Flirt Law Moving to South Carolina.

(By M. L. Shipman)
Raleigh, February, 15.—A quiet week passed off in Raleigh last week. Practically the only matter of wide-spread interest to take place was the decision of Governor McLean not to extend clemency to the 15 members of the mob which stormed the Buncombe county jail some months ago and who subsequently were arrested. The State Salary and Wage Commission, it became known, may discuss working state employes Saturday afternoons at its March meeting, though a decision to do this is improbable.

Oppose Clemency
The Governor in deciding, over the appeals of more than 6,000 persons, not to extend any clemency to the convicted mob members, took occasion to let it be known that he intends to stamp out mob violence and that those indulging in it may expect to be punished. Mr. McLean's ringing declaration that the law must be upheld and that he will do his best to have met wide-spread approval throughout the State. The statement of Robert R. Reynolds of Asheville, attorney for members of the mob, that the plea of the 6,000 should not have been disregarded and that efforts will continue to have the sentences against the 15 men reduced, has had no effect on Governor McLean. At the same time the executive arranged to co-operate with members of the city administration of Asheville to the end that families of the men should not suffer while the men are jailed.

M. L. Wright, editor of the North Carolina Teacher, declares enough money is wasted in politics to run all public schools nine months a year. He adds that equal educational opportunities in North Carolina are a joke as some communities have all the advantages while others have very few.

Anti-Flirt Law
The anti-flirt law, passed by the last legislature is interesting South Carolina and Secretary of State Everett has been asked to send a copy of the law. The statute prohibits flirting or communicating with the girls at schools of the State. Manifestly an impossibility the law already has become a virtual dead letter in North Carolina.

Commissioner of Agriculture Graham will have issued in the near future a bulletin dealing with insect pests of apple trees and their control. The previous supply has been exhausted. State Prison has appealed to the State Department of Labor and Printing to help in finding work for prisoners.

Col. Willie M. Person decides not to appeal the case he lost with the Tri-State Tobacco Growers Association, but starts another suit in the Superior court of Franklin county against the same organization with the idea of later applying for a receivership. The new case listed 25 members of the association as plaintiffs and Colonel Person as attorney.

Low bids involving an expenditure of around two and one-half million dollars were received by the State Highway Commission during the week for the construction of 58.30 miles of hard surfaced roads and 40 miles of other "construction."

The links proposed are largely in Wake county and the need for them is unquestioned.

Thomas H. Hayes and Raymond J. Anderson, fish stock sellers of New York, are still fighting an effort to bring them back to Brunswick county to answer the charge of fraud in connection with the sale of millions of dollars of stock in the Fisheries Products Company in this section some years ago. Their case is now before a Supreme court justice in Brooklyn, having been appealed from a decision favorable to extradition by Governor Smith. The prisoners are being held on bond for a hearing March 1st.

FLORIDA MILLIONS FIND WAY TO WESTERN CAROLINA

from other states who are creating a real estate market that staggers the imagination. They say that the movement is only in its incipency now, a mere side show, and that the big tent will really spread itself in the spring and summer.

Already Crowded.
"What they are going to do to accommodate the summer traffic and visitors I do not know. The hotels and boarding houses are crowded this winter."

"I do know that the two million dollar Fleetwood hotel in Laurel Park is standing fourteen stories from the ground, with massive steel beams, and is planned for completion in July. The value of this hotel to North Carolina is incalculable, as Commodore Stolz its owner, proposes to establish on its roof one of the highest powered radio stations in America to portray to the world the grandeur of our state."

"This Laurel Park development is irrepressibly superb. There is nothing more splendid than the panorama of beauty spreading before one's eyes from the top of Jump Off mountain. The developers of Laurel Park and Lake Lure have spent millions on these projects and spared nothing that lends to beauty, charm and attraction."

"They tell me that Asheville is the Miami of North Carolina, Hendersonville the St. Petersburg, and Chimney Rock the Coral Gables. As Shelby is the gateway to the mountains we have designated it the Jacksonville of North Carolina."

Good Roads the Cause.
"Back of all this economic real estate revolution is some great cause. I am absolutely convinced that our hard surface roads are the keys that have unlocked North Carolina to become the playground of the nation and opened the door to pleasurable and profitable national investment."

"Speaking of hard surface roads, I stand uncovered in the presence of the Gastonia-Charlotte highway. It is my judgment that the 'Wilkinson Way' is to become the main street between Charlotte and Gastonia, connecting by a straight stretch of 17 1/2 miles the two fastest growing industries in western North Carolina."

The Disconsolate One—The blank city-blank guy I bought this car from was a faith healer, and there ain't any tools in it."

BETTER COWS — BETTER FEEDING.

Six hundred and ninety-eight cream patrons sent cream to The Shelby Creamery Co., in January. The average number of pounds of butter fat sent by each patron was 19 1/2 pounds.

This could be increased greatly if each patron would feed better, take better care of cows, and add better cows to their herd.

A few years ago farmers in Georgia grew cotton—cotton everywhere. What happened? Well you know—but now they are dairying, hens on every farm, making hay crops, growing cotton too. And they are getting back on their feet.

Folks, we must raise our own feed then some, if we are to keep up our record.

We must grow crops other than cotton, crops that will bring cash returns daily, if we are to stay in the lead. Grow all the cotton you can—but don't neglect the COW, the HEN, the SOW, and feed crops, hay corn, pastures, fruits, garden truck, etc., etc.

You have a cash market for your products in Shelby.

Ask your wife— SHE KNOWS

—You may hide your grouchiness from others BUT NOT FROM HER!

If there ever was one to testify to your meanness, grouchiness and low-down cus-siness, she's it, and she knows why. If she doesn't why does she delicately hint about your diet or occasionally suggest that you need a tonic? She knows the best way to a man's heart is through his stomach, and she respects the stomach as the seat of all ills, the beginning of most trouble. A grouch just naturally generates in the stomach and indigestion causes more ill tempers, more mental explosions, more family quarrels than any other domestic issue. Next time the quarrel comes on think of the stomach. There's excess acid there, an evidence of indigestion. Take a spoonful of Anti-Ferment (adults) before each meal. It does the work quickly, soothingly, pleasantly and perfectly. Only 75c at your druggist. He knows.
