The following delightful guests will be the honorees of the occasion, Miss Flossie Grigg, Miss Margaret Getty's, Miss Louise Anderson, Miss Vivian Hair, Mr. Holly and Mrs. Randolph Logan and Mrs. Dean Duncan.

Officers Capture Still in Burke, Cherrystone Eagle.

Federal Agent E. L. Houser accompanied by Chief Clay Kiser of Cherrystone, made a raid this morning in Burke county about 35 miles from Cherrystone and confiscated a 50 gallon copper still, cap and worm, 6 gallons whiskey and 1,200 gallons of beer.

The still was in operation. A watch man was on a hill some distance from the still and gave an alarm that the officers were approaching. Four men were seen running away from the still but made their escape.

Six Great Events That Happened in April

Paul Revere made his famous ride in 1775.

Washington was inaugurated first president 1789.

Present form of Stars and Stripes adopted 1818.

President Lincoln shot in 1865.

Opening of the Spanish American War 1898.

United States entered the war of the Nations 1917.

April is a fateful month in American History. Note that the United States became involved in five wars in this month.

Dinner Party Beautiful

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Higgins were delightful hosts on Friday evening at their attractive home with a beautiful dinner. The rooms were charmingly decorated with peach blossoms and other spring flowers. The table was exceptionally lovely with its handsome linen cloth. Centering the table was an exquisite crystal bowl filled with the cherry blossoms and greenery. On each end were silver candlesticks holding pink tapers and silver bon-bon dishes holding the pink and green mints. Seated around the table were Mr. and Mrs. Higgins guests who were: Misses Oona Flack, Dovie Sue Harris, Annie Belle Seine and Mr. and Mrs. Phillips of Henriette and Miss Charlie Mae Laughridge. A delicious six course dinner was beautifully served.

The "Looker On" Writes of "All Fool's Day"

Tomorrow is April Fool or All Fools Day as it is sometimes called. The year brings no more welcome month than April, month of springing flowers, trout fishing, baseball and golf. It arrives when winter has out stayed hospitality and becomes an intolerable nuisance. The wary person, however is more than ordinarily alert when he perceives so charming a visitor on his threshold for there is a mischievous sparkle in her eye. Carelessness may lead to complications. Every movement on April he first is perilous. The egg at breakfast may be an unsatisfying vacuum, and the cakes cotton inside, sugar mixed with salt and all these to the chuckling music of "April Fool." All kinds of pranks are played and of course every body professes to regard these simple diversions as extremely childish, but they fail to amuse all save the victim. Practical joking of the April Fool variety is almost as old as life itself. Several explanations have been offered as to the fixing April First as "All Fool's Day." The most probable of these dates the institution back to the reformation of the calendar in 1564. At that time New Year's day was shifted to March 25th to January 1st. Before the alteration, the New Year's festivities lasted eight days ending on April 1st. This final day was one set apart for paying visits and making presents. When the alteration was made muddled headed folk became confused and were easy prey for the sophisticated, who sent them out on fool's errands making calls and carrying gifts on the day of the discarded celebration. Thus the custom became the seed from which April Fooling sprang. Tomorrow be wary and enary lest some one make an April Fool of you in poor Robin's Calendar for 1728 the custom is out into rhyme. No sooner doth St. All's Fools morn approach

But wags ere Phoebus mount his gilded coach.

In phoebes assemble to employ their sense.

In sending fools to get intelligence. One seeks hen's teeth in farthest part of town.

Another pigeon's milk, a third a gown.

From strolling cobbler's stall, left there by chance

Thus lead the giddy tribe a merry dance.

And to reward them for their harmless toil

The cobbler paints their limbs with strapp oil.

Thus by contrivers inadvertent jest.

One fool exposed makes nastime for the rest.

Mrs. Grover Beam Gives Series of Parties.

Mrs. Grover Beam was the delightful hostess on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and again on Tuesday evening at 8 with two beautiful parties suggestive of the Easter season. The attractive home was lovely its decorations of jonquills and ferns. These bright yellow flowers made a cheerful setting for the rainy afternoon. Four tables of bridge was played in the afternoon and four in the evening. The place and score cards carried out the Easter motif and dainty little souvenirs of the Easter season and greetings were given to the guests. When the cards were laid aside Mrs. Beam served a delicious and elegant salad and sweet course.

Miss Jean Best Celebrates Eighth Birthday.

SAFETY FIRST

— PLAIN TALK NO. 7 —

— DRUGGISTS DO NOT ASK A MONOPOLY —
The statement that the "Druggists want a Monopoly" has often been made by some dealers who are handling many of the articles that rightfully belong in the Drug Store and should be sold under the personal supervision of a trained pharmacist. Some of them set up the cry of "WOLF! WOLF!" just as soon as an effort is made to have the pharmacists held directly responsible for the handling of all poisons and medicinal preparations, but their cry is only to create prejudice and in no way meets the issue.

The Druggists do not say that other dealers shall not sell these articles, but that if they do sell them, the druggist believes that they should employ registered pharmacists who are trained to handle poisons and medicinal preparations. NOTHING UNFAIR ABOUT THIS.

If the Druggist who is trained for his business must comply with strict laws, in order to protect the public health, it is rather absurd that he must compete with men who know nothing whatever about pharmacy and who take from him enough business to make the Drug business unprofitable, unless he become a general merchant handling many items foreign to the Drug trade.

Think this over and learn to appreciate your Druggist.
