

JUST WHO FOUND CHARLIE ROSS?

Apparently There Are More Claimants For the Discovery Than There Have Been For the Name

Hickory Record.

Well, the question of the day is, Who found Charley Ross? Some weeks ago The Charlotte Observer printed a story to the effect that one of its reporters first heard of the claim being made by Dellinger and unearthed the story. Then The Cleveland Star answered that editorially, saying a Star reporter unearthed the whole story and first advanced the theory that Dellinger was the long lost Charlie Ross. Then yesterday The Asheville Times printed a long story under the name of Robert Brunell with the headline "Times First to Learn Identity of Claimant. The story says that The Times made the discovery and obtained the first interview.

Luck saved another from entering claim. When weak reports of the matter reached The Daily Record office there was a man prepared to go to Dellinger's home immediately. He was stopped, though, and in all probability that lucky stay saved this newspaper from entering the list of "Who found Charley Ross?"

Our Landless Multitudes

North Carolina has twenty-two million idle wilderness acres, a hundred thousand vacant town and city lots, and a million three hundred eighty thousand landless, homeless people, town and country. Almost exactly one third of our white farmers and two thirds of our negro farmers own no land. The people who live in rented dwellings in our towns and cities are from two thirds to three fourths of the various municipal populations.

These are the people in North Carolina who own not an inch of the soil they cultivate nor a single shingle in the roofs over their heads. They are fifty two percent or more than half the entire population of the state.

Enduring social structures cannot be built on land ownership by the few and land-orphanage for the many. Civilization is rooted and grounded in the home-owning, home-loving, home-defending instincts.—E. C. Branson.

TWO NEGROES DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Little Rock, Ark., June 9.—Wich R. F. Chusing, fahmber, and other members of her family present as witnesses, while (Vash) Martin, negro convicted of murdering Mrs. Lena Blevins, was electrocuted at the Arkansas State penitentiary at sunrise today. Albert Jones, negro convicted of murdering a negro woman was also electrocuted.

Martin, after being strapped in the chair, admitted slaying Mrs. Blevins but denied knowledge of deaths several other women of which he was suspected.

IF YOUR HEAD ACHES, LOOK INTO A MIRROR

Depressed? Sagging back? Lagging a little? Look into a mirror. What do your eyes say? Tired and strained, eh?

Better have them examined. If you are wearing glasses, do they sag—seem off center and out of true?

In either case come here and let us give you accurately fitted, comfortable and becoming glasses.
