TAYLOR HARRIS DIES IN HOSPITAL

Beloved Young Son of Shelby Boy, Assistant Cashier at Ella Office, Passes Away.

Thomas Taylor Harris, aged 26 died at the Shelby hospital Sunday morning at 10 a. m. after a six weeks illness of blood poisoning and complications.

Mr. Harris was born in Rutherford county, near Chimney Rock, October 1st, 1900. He came to Shelby in his boyhood and has held a responsible position with the Ella division of the Consolidated Textile corporation for the past nine years, being supply clerk and later promoted to assistant cashier. Through honesty and integrity, he won the highest esteem of his fellow co-workers in the organization and countless friends throughout Cleveland and adjoining counties.

A profession of faith was made to Rev. Rush Padgett, pastor of the Second Baptist church Saturday afternoon, while the pastor was at his bedside.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Harris, two sisters, Mrs. Dixie Wilson, of Chimney Rock and Shelby; Mrs. Burgin Hamrick, of Shelby; two brothers, Walter and Ernest, both of Shelby.

The funeral was conducted this morning at 10 o'clock at the Second Baptist church in South Shelby. Rev. Rush Padgett officiating. PAID PUBLICITY FELD USEFUL TO CHURCH

Kinston, N. F.-Addressing the Eastern district of the International Lutheran Walther league convention here, J. F. E. Nicklesburg, of New York, business manager of the American Lutheran Magazine, advocated more general use by churches of dignified publicity and advertising.

"The things we wear and eat, at home and at the office, the things we use, are the articles most familiar to our mind by persistent advertising," he said. "No matter how good a product may be, unless advertised, its sale is limited. The business world knows it pays to advertise. The church that hides its light under the bushel basket commits a sin of commission."

"Into Her Kingdom"

The splendid and awful dark days of Russia under the old regime is the background, against which the action is set, with MISS GRIFFITH playing the role of the GRAND DUCHESS TATIANA.

The great Star comes into her kingdom, fulfilling the title, by renouncing all the pomp and regal magnificence for motherhood and love.

A great theme—a stirring story—wonderful setting, superb costumes, gorgeous surroundings—and—in the end the conquest of simplicity.

BY ALL MEANS SEE THIS PICTURE.

WEBB THEATRE

A Ship at anchor, fast to its moorings, makes no progress. The waves may lap at her sides, but she remains inert.

A Ship, with a seasoned mariner in its bridge, but with its mighty engines silenced, becomes a pawn of the seas—a helpless thing.

A Ship, with a full head of steam, and ship's officers carefully steering her to a charted course, can encircle the globe, and arrive safely in port again.

The same ship. The same engines. The same crew.

A Man will make no progress until he starts. He will literally be a pawn of fate, if fails to put his whole driving power into his work. He will, even then, not arrive at his goal, if he fails to set a goal and keep it constantly in mind.
