The Junior and Senior chapters of the children of the Confederacy held a most important meeting at the Woman's club room on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. Mrs. Hal Tiddy being their efficient leader. Floats were discussed for the fair, and the year's work gone over. Many interesting plans were made and the meeting was most enthusiastic.

Jap Suttle, Farming Hostess
Mrs. Jap Suttle was the charming hostess to the members of the Thursday afternoon club on Thursday at four o'clock. Fall roses and flowers in all their autumnal glory graced the tables, mantel and piano, arranged in bowls and vases, making the rooms lovely and elegant. Four tables of six hand-painted cards were played during the afternoon and much enjoyed. When the cards were laid aside Mrs. Suttle served the most delicious and appetizing refreshments.

Frances Hoyle Entertains
A beautiful party was given by Mrs. Frances Hoyle on Saturday afternoon honoring Mrs. Charles Hoyle, one of Shelby's charming hostesses. The rooms of the hostess's home were lovely with flowers used in beautiful bouquets and attractiveness. Four tables were placed for bridge, and each were bud vases holding fall roses. The most attractive score and place cards were used to flowers were used. When the games were concluded, Mrs. Hoyle was presented with a lovely box of beautiful powder and Miss Dorothy McBrayer shared honors with Mrs. Hoyle. A delicious elegant salad course was served. Miss Hoyle was assisted in entertaining by her mother and Mrs. Fred Fields. She received presents in a lovely afternoon and the honor of the evening in a fall model of a hat, with hat to match.

Rush Hamrick Celebrates Birthday
At the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Grace, little Rush Hamrick, a handsome young son of Mr. Rush Hamrick, celebrated his fifth birthday on Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Master Hamrick had invited a number of his friends, and they assembled promptly on the hour. All the attractive games were played on the lawn and for an hour of happy laughter and happiness the order of the afternoon birthday cake was then cut and the candles snuffed out and the cakes cut in great pieces. Cream, cakes, nuts and other delicacies were then served and as the guests were leaving each was presented with a charming gift. Master Hamrick received numerous presents from his many friends, and the children left in a most happy state of mind.

Music and Arte Department Hold Splendid Meeting
The first fall meeting of the music and arts department of the Woman's club was held at the club rooms on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, having as the hostesses, Mrs. D. Z. Newton and Mrs. Charles Burrus. Most artistic were the arrangements and decorations of the lovely fall flowers, consisting of golden rod in tall pottery vases painted sky blue, and the petunias and asters arranged in charming low bowls, and the yellow golden glow and zinnias in yellow baskets made a charming ensemble. Beautiful potted plants were placed in the hall.

The meeting was called to order promptly by the new chairman, Mrs. George Moore, the other officers being Miss Elizabeth Roberts, vice-chairman, and Mrs. C. B. McBrayer, sec-treas. After the roll call and minutes, a most important business session was held and committees appointed for the fair. The new year book were distributed by Mrs. Frank Hoey, and the club, paid in full, their dues and their quota for the programs and the fair. After the business session, the program was then taken up. The subject of the year being, "Music and Art of the Present Day." Mrs. William McCord had charge of the current events but in her absence they were omitted. Mrs. Louis Gardner then gave a most interesting paper on the "Rise of the Drama" and Mrs. Ben Suttle closed the program by singing and giving a charming synopsis of the early ballads. When the program was concluded, the delightful hostesses served an elegant sweet and ice course. Four new members were voted in, they being: Miss Mary Adelaide Roberts, Mrs. Renn Drum, Mrs. Tom Fetzer and Mrs. Ransom Castevens. A play will be given on November the 19th with local talent, by this club.

Fourth District Officers Held At Cleveland Springs Hotel

Cleveland Springs had the honor to entertain on Friday, the Fourth District meeting of the officers of the Federated clubs of Lincoln, Gaston, Rutherford and Cleveland counties. Fifty of the representative women of these counties attended as officers, and were presided over by Mrs. Chamberlin the president of the Fourth District. These meetings are most important as they discussed the work for the incoming year for the clubs in all the different towns. At eleven o'clock Mrs. Chamberlin called the meeting to order and the women assembled in the parlor of the Cleveland Springs hotel where lovely flowers had been placed in bowls and baskets, making a charming scene. Shelby was represented by eight members. The creed was read by the president and the members and the Lords prayer recited by all.

Mrs. Chamberlin first called attention to the meeting in Forest City on October the 29th, and reminded the members that election of officers would take place at this time. She told what constituted a good president, as at least the qualities they should possess. She also reminded the members that this was a year of importance to all Federated clubs, as the legislature would be in session and much was expected from the legislature to help women in their work. She asked for all clubs to organize new clubs and get new members. A prize will be offered to the club that does the most of this work. The Fire Prevention week was then discussed, which week will be on Oct. 3rd. The state offers a prize of $25 for the best Fire Prevention campaign. The president asks all clubs to write and get in touch with mill owners and corporations and ask them to plant peach and apple trees in each of their employee's yards for this fall. One of the prime reasons of these meetings is to make them more interesting and to get together more plan and mingle. Mrs. Chamberlin asked each one individually to give in a few words, some suggestions which were as follows: To give adequate reports; to write the reports and give facts tersely; not to have the speakers speak too long; make the talks snappy; larger attendance asked; start on time; end on time; more singing; read the reports loud enough for all to hear and read them clearly; appoint reference committee before the meetings;

Before You Decide

The Pilot was the first life insurance company in the country to offer free annual health examinations to its policyholders. Every month scores of examinations are being made, resulting in improved health and not infrequently actually saving lives.

Buying life insurance is really an important matter, and before deciding on a policy or a company be sure that you are taking the right policy with the company that is in the best position to do most for you.

For years the Pilot Life Insurance Company has been able to furnish such life insurance service to the people of North Carolina as would naturally make them prefer the Pilot to any other company.

Before you decide on a company we suggest that you let one of our men show you what this pioneer Carolina Insurance organization has to offer.

Couldn't Read Either

A professor on visiting a Southern city to deliver a lecture was annoyed to find he had forgotten his reading glasses. When ordering his dinner that evening he handed the menu card to the colored waiter who was to take his order.
"Here," said the professor to the waiter, "read this card please, so I can place my order."
The waiter took the card, looked at it for a few minutes and then handed it back, saying, "You'll have to excuse me, sah, but I ain't had much education, neither."

The Scattered Nation

More Jewish people live in the United States than in any other country in the entire world, according to a published statement in The Jewish Tribune by an eminent scholar and statistician. Of the thirteen million Jewish population of the world, figures said to indicate an increase of 150 per cent, David Trietson, the statistician quoted estimates that 4,400,000 reside in the United States while Poland ranks second among the nations in the large concentration of Jewish population with four million and Russia third with 3,600,000. The city of New York alone has an estimated Jewish population of two millions, or five times as many as Warsaw, capital of Poland.

The remainder of the estimated total are scattered all over the earth, for it has truly been for centuries a scattered nation.

American Jews are originally of many and varied nationalities, with German and Polish constituting by far the greatest proportion. Many of them are cultured and talented people of natural business and mercantile talents, they have many brilliant representatives among the literary, artistic and musical talent of America and embrace outstanding scholars, scientists in all lines, orators, barristers, teachers and artists. With naturally quick and acquisitive minds the trend of which, as with other people, is shaped largely by heredity and environment and hardly seriously limited by opportunity, the mass of Jewish-American are not only contributing to the prosperity of the country by creating wealth and inaugurating enterprises, but are entering every avenue of worthy endeavor and winning distinction therein. It is notably true of them that they encourage musical and theatrical entertainments and are contributing many exponents to these phases of art, but it is even more striking true of American Jews that are charitable and philanthropic people and are notable contributors to every worthy cause, to every great charity and many have spread their beneficence widely.

As soon as Jewish immigrants become familiar with our institutions, customs and standards, they usually become law-abiding citizens and enthusiastic supporters of our domestic government and ideas. Many have become great financiers and bankers, still others leaders in philanthropy. In scholarship and men of high standing at the bar. In a business sense, they are outstanding as men of sound judgment, great energy and vision and in this way have been able to become leaders in our commercial and industrial line. Without obtruding their religious views and preferences, they are singularly loyal to their religion and to each other.

America has been the promised land of opportunity of political freedom and of protection against oppression. Hither have they fled from Poland, from Russia, from Germany, from France, from Czechoslovakia, from Jugoslavia and from Spria, the Caucasus and all sections of Europe and west Asiatic countries and found safety, comfort and opportunity in America. Naturally they love the land of their adoption and particularly its tolerance and its friendliness and they have won appreciation, recognition in all lines and business success on their merits and by dint of their untiring and intelligently applied energies.

One of the finest appreciations and tribute ever paid to the Jewish people was bestowed by a North Carolinian, the late Zebulon B. Vance, ripe scholar and great orator.—Greensboro Record.
