

HUNDREDS ATTEND RUTHERFORD EVENT

Judge Webb Makes Speech of Dedication, Clyde Hoey Presents Justice Portrait.

Rutherfordton, Nov. 3.—Nearly 1,000 people attended the dedication of Rutherford county's new $250,000 courthouse here today.

Attorney Fred D. Hamrick introduced the speaker of the day, Judge James L. Webb, of Shelby, who delivered the dedicatory address in a most able manner.

After Judge Webb's address short and appropriate speeches were delivered by Solicitor J. W. Pless, Attorneys C. B. McBrayer and Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby.

An oil portrait of the late Judge M. H. Justice was presented to the county by the Justice family to be hung in the court house room.

Rutherford county has had five courthouses built during her history, including the present one.

The fourth hall of justice for the county was built on the present square in 1908, it was of brick construction.

The early part of 1925 the county officials decided that the court house was too small, out-of-date and dangerous.

There is no more attractive or commodious courthouse in the South, for a county the size of Rutherford than one just completed.

Overman Denies He Will Resign

Senator Lee S. Overman, expressing his pleasure at being re-elected Tuesday to the Congress of the United States over his opponent, Johnson Hayes, denied that he had any intention of resigning before completing his term.

Senator Overman was commenting upon a story emanating from Washington to the effect that his health was broken and that it was being freely predicted in the capital that the junior North Carolina senator would not complete his term in office which expires in 1932.

"My health is as good as ever," Senator Overman asserted, and laid the onus for the reports to his political enemies.

Senator Overman was re-elected yesterday by the voters of North Carolina by a majority of more than 100,000 over his Republican opponent.

Catawba's Delegate Married in Shelby

L. F. Klutz, Republican member of the house of representatives from Catawba county, who won over Gus Self, prominent Democrat by a majority of 121 votes, married Mrs. Maggie Lou Cline Turner, widow of the late Charlie Turner, of Cleveland county.

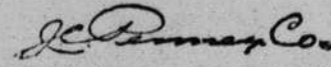

I. C. Griffin says Ichabod Crane was not the only fast rider that lost his head.

Turning Promises Into Actions

When we make a statement about our Store, Merchandise or Service—of value to you ONLY when our words or statements become galvanized into ACTION!

Words are but empty phrases unless they can be backed up by the firm or the individual making them.

Our customers have learned most decisively that promises here DO MEAN SOMETHING real and tangible. We're turning them into action every day, and in so doing, adding to our Nation-Wide Family of Satisfied Customers.
