

Sun Bathing Not The Go For One

Advocating Nude Sun Bathing Put In Jail By London Police

London—Captain Harold Vincent, a reformer, is pondering today on the justice of English law as a consequence of his being fined $10.00 for his too strenuous public advocacy of nude sunbathing for both sexes.

Clad in a Highland kilt of doubtful length and armed with a bundle of literature describing his newly organized "Sun Ray and New Light Society," Captain Vincent read from the preamble of the society's rules as follows: "When applying for membership please submit, if possible, a full length photograph, either completely naked or with slips or bathing costume. Preferential consideration will be given those applicants submitting the complete nude for obvious reasons." The pamphlet went like hot cakes and the crowd grew rapidly.

But about this time someone in the crowd called Reformer Vincent "Mr. Dirty Knees" in compliment to the extensive exposure of flesh between the bottom of his kilt and the top of his son. His argument became personal instead of discursive. Scotland Yard inspectors, attracted by the rumpus, interfered and grabbed the pamphlets and Captain Vincent.

The following day, the judge, apparently at least, knocked the fight out of the New Light Society with his pronouncement, "I find your delinquency or twenty days imprisonment."

Cat Mothers Baby Squirrel As One Of Own Family
The mother instinct proves itself stronger in animals as well as in human beings, as is evidenced in the peculiar freak of nature which is attracting much attention in the Roman section, that of a mother cat befriending a baby squirrel along with the nursing of her own tiny kitten. The cat, squirrel and kittens are apparently living in perfect peace and harmony and have been for the past three weeks, the mother cat so far having shown no partiality in the care of her mixed family.

This strange adoption in the animal family was brought about three weeks ago when Coleman Galloway, of the Pickens road, near Rosman, cut a tree, and on examination, he found a squirrel's nest in a hollow of the tree.

In the nest were two baby squirrels whose eyes were not yet open.

Having heard a story about a cat mothering some young ground-squirrels, Mr. Galloway decided to try the tiny squirrels with one of his cats which had some young kittens. He placed the young squirrels with the cat and the next morning one of the squirrels was gone but the other appeared happy and contented with its foster mother and several litter for adopted brothers and sisters.

The strange family is now in possession of the young son of Dr. Ernest English, of Rosman, and the boy has great fun watching the pranks of this unusual family, all of whom are apparently happy, growing fat and beginning to play.

TEXTILE WORKER IS MILLIONAIRE

Wednesday John B. Bolton, of Philadelphia was dependent on his salary as a textile worker.

Thursday he was a millionaire. Semi-soft collars brought him the sudden wealth. The ring of the alarm clock, however, continues to call him to duty. He answered the call of his alarm clock, and went to work in a Kensington Textile mill as usual.

Bolton perfected a material which would make a collar look stiff, but which is actually soft. He gave his patent to John W. VanHuesen, of Boston, who accumulated an immense fortune manufacturing the new collar. Bolton, however, claims he received nothing and hence brought suit.

Years of litigation followed. Juries in various courts rendered verdicts for $1,314,241 in Bolton's favor. Appeal after appeal followed the case was finally settled out of court and Bolton became America's newest millionaire.

Pastors To Shun Weed In Georgia

Atlanta, Ga.—Young ministers applying for membership in the Southern Methodist conference must take a solemn pledge to abstain from tobacco in all of its forms before their applications will be considered, according to a ruling by the North Georgia Methodist conference, in session here.

The decision was handed down in connection with the application for admittance to membership by a young minister who admitted he used tobacco. Asked if he could give it up, he said he would "try."

This answer, however, was not sufficient with several of the conference members, and the young man finally promised to abstain from the use of tobacco.

The ruling of the conference is an enforcement of a church law enacted some years ago, providing that Methodist ministers shall refrain from the smoking habit.

Dr Dula Trial On In Statesville

Messrs. H. M. Van Sleen and W. B. Morris, jewelers and optometrists of Gastonia, are in Statesville today, attending the trial in civil court of the case of Dr. A. W. Dula, of Lenoir, against the North Carolina optometrical society. Mr. Dula is suing the society for $25,000 and is also suing about 50 members of the society as co-defendants.

The suit, which was first started two or three years ago, was brought about as the result of the expulsion of Dr. Dula from the society for alleged unethical advertising. He was expelled once before and was reinstated. The second time, he brought suit for $25,000 and the case has been continued to the present day. It is being tried in state court.

Legion Banquet Held At Grover

(Special to The Star.) Grover, Nov. 15.—The James I. Neal Post No. 167 American Legion, Grover, observed Armistice day by participating in the exercises held at the school building at one o'clock, program rendered by members of the legion and pupils. Then at 7:30 a community banquet was held in the banquet hall of the new Shiloh Presbyterian church, where there were 108 plates served by the Ladies auxiliary of the church, after which the banqueters were delighted by some speeches, by brother H. B. Rankin chaplain of the Johnson-Lineberger post of Mt. Holly, Miss N. M. Livingston, teacher in the Grover High school, and others. "In Flanders Field" was read by Mrs. Opheia M. Rollins; "America's Response," by Mrs. F. B. Edwards; "The Red Soldier" by Miss Grace Blalock. All present seemed to enjoy the supper and program, very much. The hall was decorated in the colors of our flag and made a beautiful setting for the occasion.

ART OF YOURLING DECLARED TO BE LOST IN SWITZERLAND

Yodling is a lost art in Switzerland. Shepherds and farm hands both alike at American tourists who ask them to yodel. A party of tourists visiting Switzerland recently asked natives for a yodeler. None responded. They all looked puzzled.

Suddenly, just around a bend on the main road, came the thrilling yodel of a perfect yodeler and the tourists hurried to get a glimpse of the performer. He proved to be a lusty American tourist.
