Shelby Sidelights

Around Our Town

—By Renn Drum—

ONE FELLOW READ IN THE Star (yesterday) that Henry Ford had made more money in 16 years than any other human and the comment was: "Yes, and he has broken more arms also."

A FAMILIAR LITTLE STREET sign on a Shelby display window has changed. It once read "Riviere's Drug Store" and now it's "Stephenson Drug Company". The passing of the old name removes—under that name at least—one of the best known sport centers in North Carolina. It is related that some time back two college youngsters came motoring through Shelby from their home in Eastern Carolina. On the street they asked someone "Where is Riviere's drug store? We've heard that you can get more facts and figures on baseball and football from the crowd hanging out there than is carried in the rule and guide books of sportdom." They were right, and likewise they could have found a gang about the front that believed in Shelby High football and baseball teams to the bottom dollar and last breath. More football and baseball have been played in that drug store by the Radiator league than on every athletic field in the state.

A. D. JAMES, THE TITIAN haired "ad" man of The Star, who is a genial fellow in the summer-time, tells us that the next modern artist who paints a winter landscape will likely include a flivver steaming all over like a roast turkey at 12 m. Thanksgiving day. Perhaps there will also be in the scene a display window card reading "Radiator alcohol $1 per gallon!"

ONE OF THE HIGH SCHOOL boys here takes exception to the publicity given the fact that far more girls make the honor roll in the Shelby High school than boys. "Of course we're a pretty dumb bunch," he says, "and we spend a lot of our time looking at these smart girls, who are also not hard to look at, but don't forget that there are many more girls in high school than boys. Sure, they're smarter, but not so much as the honor roll figures would indicate."

THESE HARD BOILED POLITICIANS of the other party who think Woodrow Wilson was a heartless cuss because he got us into war just because several score good citizens were sunk with the Lusitania perhaps are holding their tongue in their cheek while Coolidge bawls out Nicaragua and Mexico for the oil barons and Catholic priests. Anyway a reader apparently of the Jeffersonian political faith, sends us the following little jibe from the New York World:

"Onward Calvin Coolidge,
Marching as to war,
With the Mex. Petroleum
Going on before."

TODAY'S FABLE: BOB HORD down to the Blue Ridge Ice Cream company is giving away recipes telling how to make "snow cream" and ice desserts from frozen water pipes.

SOME OF THE THINGS SHELBY folks must wonder about: Where does George Wray learn all his new jokes? Is Clarence Mull in a good humor all the time? How many friends George Smyrnios has? If the barbers ever sold DeWitt Quinn any hair tonic? Why they don't put windshields on the front of present-day "bobber" chairs? What days in the week the pump at the court square fountain works regularly? If the court house clock is ever correct? And why this column is forced upon kind readers?

THE NEXT LITTLE RUN about town is scheduled for Friday if somebody tells us a few new jokes.

UPPER CLEVELAND COUPLE IS MARRIED
(Special to The Star.)

P. S. ALLEN AND CHILDREN
