Girls, The Skates May Make Coin If You Use 'Em Well

Charlotte.—Girls on roller skates are getting paid for their gambols in Charlotte. They skate the livelong day and then go home tired, for skating, to them, is work, not play.

Their skating rink is the smooth floor of the Western Union Telegraph company's traffic department, located on the ninth floor of the Wilder building. Thither and on over the waxed boards they whirl in the interest of efficiency and speed in the dispatch of telegrams to a thousand destinations.

Yesterday newspaper men strolled through the department, accompanied by R. C. Page, the department's manager, and L. E. Black, commercial agent of the Western Union.

Speedy Array
Everywhere were girls—pretty blondes, brooding brunettes and a few with a touch of auburn—all whirling at breakneck speed in carrying messages from senders' desks to receivers' desks and back to senders' desks again.

The plan for equipping the office messenger girls with roller skates is not a new one Mr. Page declared. It has previously been adopted in St. Paul, Baltimore, New York and other Western Union centers.

One hundred workers are employed in the traffic department it was pointed out, and the need for speeding in handling the daily bulk of wire messages decreed that speed in action be made mandatory. Walking was too slow, and girls can't run the whole day through. Roller skates solve the problem.

Baseball is a development of the New England town ball. In its present form, it was devised by Abner Doubleday at Cooperstown, New York in 1839. Organized clubs first played baseball in New York in 1843.

THIS IS THRIFT WEEK IN NATION

Announcement from the National Thrift committee of National Thrift week (January 17 to 23) bring to mind the fact that there is no topic, either economic or social, that transcends in importance the question of how the personal incomes of people shall be used.

This National Thrift movement, fostered by the Y. M. C. A. and endorsed by 47 of the leading educational, religious, social and industrial organizations of the country, has grown out of the conviction of recognized leaders that the American people ought to be given some practical help in their efforts to master money matters. The program has swept across the nation with amazing results. Those most interested in the country's welfare have been the best workers.

One reason for the success of National Thrift week is that the endeavor has been founded upon an easily understood ideal composed of the following ten points:

- 1.—Work and earn.
- 2.—Make a budget.
- 3.—Record expenditures.
- 4.—Have a bank account.
- 5.—Carry life insurance.
- 6.—Own your home.
- 7.—Make a will.
- 8.—Invest in safe securities.
- 9.—Pay bills promptly.
- 10.—Share with others.
