Afternoon Division No. 2 To Meet
The afternoon division No. 2 of the Woman's club will meet on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the club rooms.

Evening Division To Meet
The evening division of the Woman's club will meet on Thursday evening at the club rooms at eight o'clock.

Home Guests Of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews
Mr. and Mrs. William Andrews had as their delightful house guests the past week Mrs. E. E. Harris, Miss Katherine Harris, and Messrs. Dick and Fletcher Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Sugart from Elkin. Mr. and Mrs. Sugart have just recently married, Mrs. Sugart being a daughter of Mrs. Harris.

To Honor Mrs. Sibley
Mrs. C. B. Suttle will give a beautiful party on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 in honor of Mrs. Dudley Sibley, of Hartford, Conn., who is being shown many social attentions. As Miss Esther Suttle, Mrs. Sibley was one of Shelby's most popular young girls.

Beautiful Club Dance
One of the prettiest and most enjoyed dances of the season was given on Friday evening by the Shelby Coillion club at the Cleveland Springs hotel. Many charming visitors from North and South Carolina were present, and many pretty costumes were worn. The music was especially good, and quite a number of the patrons and patronesses were present.

Home Back Club Entertains Picnic
By the light of the silvery moon, Shelby's horse back riders rode into the whiteness of a perfect night on Friday and stopped their horses and dismounted at the spring in Belvedere Heights beyond Mr. Will Lineberger's beautiful home, where they enjoyed one of the most delicious and bountiful picnics yet, the first of the early spring. A large number of the members were riding, and the evening was one of pure enjoyment.

Mrs. W. F. Mitchell Entertains Chieora Club
Mrs. W. F. Mitchell's hospitable home was the scene of spring-like banquets on Friday afternoon when the members walked into her spacious hall and delightful rooms and found not only Mrs. Mitchell's smiling greeting, but flowers of spring, beautiful jonquils, hyacinths, snow drops, and flags of exquisite beauty, greeting the members also, with all their fragrant loveliness. The members assembled promptly, and after the roll call and a business meeting, the club hour being changed from 3:30 to four o'clock, the program of the afternoon was taken up. The subject of the afternoon was "Great Galleries of the World." Mrs. S. A. McMurry gave a charming paper on "The Natural Gallery of London." This was followed by a most interesting and enlightening talk on the "Louvre" by Mrs. L. P. Holland, who substituted for Mrs. O. M. Mull. Mrs. W. B. Nix closed the program by giving a beautiful talk on the "Metropolitan Museum of Art." A social hour was then much enjoyed during which Mrs. Mitchell, assisted by her sister, Mrs. L. A. Gettys and Mrs. J. F. Jenkins served a most delicious sweet and salad course.

Mrs. DeWitt Quinn Honors Guests
Honoring Mrs. Rob Laney, of Monroe, and Mrs. Frank Love, of Lenoir, and sharing honors also, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. DeWitt Quinn gave one of the largest and most beautiful bridge parties of the season, at her lovely home on South DeKalb street on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The invited guests were the members of the Lenoir club and a number of friends of the honorees. Mrs. Sibley, of Hartford, Conn., was a most charming guest also. Twelve tables were placed for bridge and two tables for rook. The decorations were most beautiful consisting of spring flowers and Easter lilies. Each table was centered with a lovely crystal vase holding jonquils and lilies. The place cards were most attractive, being handpainted rabbits, and the score card pads were the Easter suggestions with the rabbits painted on them. Each table had for its marker a rabbit, and the most attractive little baskets of green and yellow filled with the candy eggs were used as souvenirs.

At the conclusion of the games, scores were added and Mrs. Oliver Anthony received highest, and was presented with a beautiful crystal vase with a blue base. Mrs. Gerald McBryer made high score for the rook prize, and she was given a handsome handpainted plate. The honorees were presented with the most beautiful hand painted score pads. The Easter idea and motif was carried out most perfectly in the lovely Easter lilies, frozen in shapes of delicious cream. The cake was yellow and iced with green, and the dainty candies and nuts figs were coated with the same colors. A most delicious cooling punch was served. Mrs. Quinn greeted her guests in a lovely printed chiffon frock. Mrs. Rob Laney was handsome in a beige costume and Mrs. Frank Love was stunning in navy blue and black. Mrs. Lynch wore a charming frock of green and Mrs. Sibley was lovely in a sports costume of printed chiffon made two piece with solid blue skirt. Little Miss Esther Ann Quinn the attractive little daughter of Mrs. Quinn, assisted in serving and she wore a dainty little printed chiffon frock.

Music Club To Meet
Mrs. Thad Ford will entertain the Music club Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

Announcements Issued
Handsomely engraved announcements have been issued reading as follows, the participants being a prominent couple with a host of friends in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Dixon announce the marriage of their sister Addie Alexander to Mr. Thomas J. Willis on Thursday, March 17th 1927, Belwood, North Carolina.

At home, Lawndale, N. C.
The bride is the daughter of the late Blanche Alexander of Belwood. She was educated at Davenport college. Recently she has been making her home with Dr. and Mrs. Guy Dixon of Hendersonville, being a sister of Mrs. Dixon. Mr. Willis is a prominent farmer of near Lattimore and a very substantial and highly esteemed citizen. He received his education at the University of North Carolina, taking a post graduate course at Vanderbilt university. They will make their home at the Willis farm after a honeymoon trip.

Converse Gee Club Gives Delightful Program
The Converse College Glee Club composed of beautiful girls gave a most delightful program at the Central auditorium on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The program was composed of choruses, solos, and dancing. The choruses were well trained and the soloists were possessed with sweet and clear voices. The gypsy chorus and the Blue Bonnet chorus, were most effective and the costumes were especially lovely. The violinist was quite talented and Miss Carrie DuPree was a true artist in the Dagger Dance. She is a beautiful girl, tall and lithe and graceful. Mr. Glenn Crowder Gables voice was indeed good and on this occasion it was much enjoyed by all who had the pleasure to hear him. The house was comfortably filled and the members of the Junior class, under whose auspices it came realized a neat sum. Shelby will be glad to have these pretty girls come again.

Hardin-Harmon Announcements

The following announcements have been received:
Mr. and Mrs. James A. Harmon announce the marriage of their daughter Lucy to Mr. William Knox Hardin on Saturday the 19th of March, 1927.

A wedding of much interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Harmon, on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Lucy Harmon, became the bride of William Knox Hardin. The wedding was one of beauty and simplicity, there being no attendants. The bride and groom entered the beautifully decorated living room together and there under an improvised arbor of ferns and spring flowers were met by the Rev. D. P. Waters and the vows spoken.

The bride was charming in her suit of tan with accessories to match. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon and one of Shelby's most talented musicians.

Mr. Hardin is an efficient salesman for Charles L. Eskridge and a young man of splendid character.
Mr. and Mrs. Hardin left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. They will be at home in Shelby.

TRICK NAMES AID FOUNTAIN TRADE

Soft Drinks As Many Sands Of The Sea and All Must Have Appropriate Handles

Do people really like all these queer "concoctions" showered upon us, or are they merely stimulated to order them by the names that appear over soda fountain glasses?

Soft drinks, like race horses and Pullman cars, possess names that have intrigued human imagination since the practice began. A horseman seldom has so many prancing steeds in his stable that he must devote his sleeping hours to conjuring up names for them. A few hours cognition or a chance inspiration usually provides a fitting handle for his two-year-old and his task is thus solved. Pullman cars, though they seem as plentiful as dead Indians, are not turned out in a second as are soda fountain beverages. But consider the plight of those who have fallen heir to the task of quenching the nation's thirst with niftily named "concoctions" since Mr. Volstead decreed that America should go thirsty or run afoul the law. The drinks he must name are as sands of the sea, and his possibilities with syrups, ice cream, sizzling waters, fruits and alleged fruit juices are unlimited.

Requires Genius
The owner and manager of a popular soft drink parlor said he solved the problem through the imaginative and creative genius of a trusted employe. Behind the counter attending to the hurried demands of insistent patrons, stirring a coke, mixing malteds, and jerking sodas all in one breath, this trusted employe did not look as though he had much time for entering into the occult realms of imagination required to conceive handles for his wares. A thirsty neighborhood can consume plenty of funny sounding names on a hot night.
A line-up of soda fountain gems may run something like this: Leaping Lena, Fizz Leaf, Siberian Freeze, Fickle Tickle, Flappers Fizz, Varsity Vim, and Rainbow ter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon and one of Shelby's most talented musicians.

Mr. Hardin is an efficient salesman for Charles L. Eskridge and a young man of splendid character.
Mr. and Mrs. Hardin left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. They will be at home in Shelby.

John, Old Fire Horse, Loses To Motor Truck, Hauls Coal; And Dies
Burlington, Mar. 15.—(INS)—John is dead—an outcast in the great parade of coal haulers. And with him passes an institution.
John was a fire horse—a king in his day. Firemen all over the state, from the coast to the mountains, remember the day he dashed to fame on Cherry street, Winston-Salem with his wagon and jumpers to win a state championship in 30 2-3 seconds.
But that was in 1914. Came a day when the city decided that John's private stall must give way to progress. It was the beginning of a new era—the day of motorized fire-fighting apparatus.
There was a handful that pleaded for John with the thought of putting him on Easy street for the remainder of his life. This thought, however, was passed up, and John was offered for sale. The sale price was small and his transition was quick.
His old friends continued to recognize him for several years—patted the head that drooped down, marks of a five course dinner, but it is popularly considered as a refreshment by devotees of the marble fountains.

Van Metts Elated Over Camp Meet
Raleigh.—(INS)—J. Van B. Metts, adjutant general, is elated over the mobilization of the 30th division at Camp Jackson, S. C. this year.
"As our troops do not have an opportunity to see or mix with large bodies of troops, I feel that the mobilization of the 30th division every few years is a great advantage as well as very instructive to every young man in the Guard."
The adjutant general has written Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, expressing his appreciation for his action brought to bear in the interest of the mobilization of the division.
Shelby is sure to grow when in which to stay.

REYNOLDS KNOWS NOTHING OF KLAN IDEA FOR DRAGON
Asheville.—(INS)—If Z. R. Reynolds, more familiarly known as "Our Bob," is being considered as North Carolina's new Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, he himself knows nothing more about it other than what he's read in the newspapers.
The popular Asheville attorney, and senatorial candidate in the last primary, said all this in a statement to the International News Service following widespread reports that he was being "boomed" for the Grand Dragonship to succeed Judge Henry A. Grady, of Clinton, resigned.

"I know nothing whatever about it, and the report is utterly without foundation." Our Bob declared Judge Grady, who was Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in North Carolina for four years, resigned a few weeks ago after an alleged break with Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans.
The Clinton jurist resigned, he said in a statement issued at the time, because the Imperial Wizard had attempted to have anti-Catholic legislation introduced in the newly-dead General Assembly. Earlier in the week ex-Congressman H. L. Godwin, of Dunn, branded as false reports that he had been offered the office, and in statement issued at his home town declared that in his belief no selection for an Imperial Wizard for North Carolina would be made "until the field is thoroughly reorganized."

Published reports that another "boomlet" was under way for Insurance Commissioner Stacey Wade brought forth the statement from the State officer that the "report is ridiculous, and I'm not even a member of the Klan."
