Johnson Hayes Is Federal Judge

Washington.—Johnson J. Hayes, of North Wilkesboro, N. C., was appointed judge of the newly created middle district of North Carolina by President Coolidge.

Appointment of Johnson J. Hayes as judge of the middle district of North Carolina by President Coolidge ends a contest lasting several months before Hayes and Frank Linsay of Boone, who was district attorney for the old western district of North Carolina.

Due to failure of the deficiency appropriation bill to pass it had been expected that the appointment might be delayed as activities of courts were expected to be somewhat curtailed by the lack of funds.

Mr. Hayes who is about 39 years old, is Republican national committeeman for the state and 1926 was a candidate for U. S. Senate.

ASSEMBLES BONES PREHISTORIC MAN

(By Fred J. Walker, INS Staff Correspondent)

Chicago.—The only complete skeleton of a prehistoric man, in the United States now rests in the Field Museum.

It is the Cap-Blanc skeleton of a youth who lived in southwestern France about 25,000 years ago when the cave dwellers first began drawing pictures of mammoths and other ancient animals on the walls of their living quarters.

These pictures comprise the first mammade hint of art so far discovered.

Discovery of the skeleton was accidental according to Dr. Bernhard Lauffer, curator of the Museum's department of anthropology.

"Back in 1911," said Dr. Lauffer, "while workers were excavating in a shallow cave in the Dordogne region of France, one of them found some rubble about two feet below a frieze of horses carved on the wall above. Scientists immediately took over the work and recovered a complete skeleton.

"The bones were covered with small stones and earth. The skeleton was lying on the left side, the left arm flexed, the right elbow resting on the right knee, with the hand covering the face. The legs were drawn up and interlocked. The face was turned onto the left side resting on the chest.

"Apparently the last thing which filled the eyes of the prehistoric youth, who was about 25 years old, was the frieze of six life-like horses, following each other in line, and held to be the most imposing piece of sculpture of the Magdalenian period ever discovered."

Dr. Lauffer said that from the presence and position of the skeleton scientists have evolved a theory that the youth might have been the actual sculptor of the frieze and that finding death near he decided to expire looking at the masterpiece he created or helped to create.

"The cause of the young man's death is problematical," said Dr. Lauffer. "Careful examination failed to disclose disease as the cause. Discovery of an ivory spear head lying on the abdomen of the skeleton suggests the youth might have been fatally injured in a fight or an accident.

"While the skull was crushed by the weight of the large stone, the teeth were left intact. They are perfect in structure and such is their excellence that a dentist, not knowing the antiquity of the skeleton, pronounced the teeth to be as perfect as those of a healthy youth of today."

WILL RECONSIDER GAFFNEY ELECTION

Columbia, April 6.—The senate committee on privileges and elections today recommended that the protest of Ed H. DeCamp against the seating of Dr. W. C. Hamrick as Cherokee county senator succeeding the late Senator Richmond Stacy be referred back to the Cherokee county board of canvassers. The committee recommended that the canvassers be requested to investigate the election and take testimony in regard to the allegations of irregularities filed by Mr. DeCamp.

The senate will take action on the recommendations of the committee on privileges and election later, it was stated. The suggestions contained in the report naturally will not become effective until and unless approved by a majority vote of the senate.

At the hearing held here yesterday D. H. McPherson, chairman of the Cherokee county board of canvassers, testified that the votes cast in the special election held March 22nd have never been counted officially. J. M. Cline and J. V. Price, the other members of the Cherokee county board, were present at the hearing but were not called to the witness stand.

Belwood To Have Only County Team In State Debate

Chapel Hill, April 6.—With the outcome of some of the triangular contests held throughout the state last week yet to be reported, Secretary E. R. Rankin of the High School Debating Union stated today that 57 schools had informed him that their teams won both sides and will come to the University for the finals April 14-15.

Each school entering the finals will be represented by two teams with two debaters on each, which means that a total of 28 debaters may already be considered as entered in the race for the Aycock Memorial Cup.

The annual inter-scholastic track meet and tennis tournament are to be held here at the same time as the debate finals, and entries for the athletic events are being made by the schools now.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC IN HUNGARIAN CITIES BRING MANY ARRESTS

(By International News Service) Miskolcz, Hungary.—Several scores of men, some of them government officials, have been arrested here on charges of operating a white slave traffic center.

The chief of the government employment bureau, Dr. Ferencz Szikszay, who was a prominent leader of the social life of the city, was imprisoned as the chief of the gang.

The arrests have made a considerable stir and resulted in further disclosures that hundreds of girls are sent out of Hungary every year by white slavers who appear to be well organized. Dr. Szikszay opened an employment office here under government protection and in this way got hold of girls, mostly from the country, whom he desired. The investigations are being continued and the government at Budapest has promised to clean up all traces of the traffic in the country at once.

IT PAYS

We are frequently asked if it pays to spend so much time in reconditioning and inspecting our used cars before they are offered for sale. The answer is that a great many of our used car purchasers come back when they want new cars. Doesn't that pay?
